EXISTENCE A PRIVILEGE—NOT A RIGHT

Fraternalities and sororities as a whole have failed to appreciate the fundamental truth that their existence is a privilege—not a right—granted by the college.

The continuance of this privilege is conditional and may be withdrawn whenever the beneficiaries cease to be of aid to the college in the realization of its aims and ideals.

It is high time the fraternities and sororities at Southwestern pause for reconsideration and evaluation of themselves. Too long they have scanned the searchlight of self-criticism.

Southwestern needs and has a right to demand the unqualified cooperation of every organization on its campus.

By directing their energy and activities along lines of self-criticism and constructive service, fraternities and sororities could vindicate themselves, and at the same time, be of material aid to Southwestern.

Stage and Mike

The editor is a happy man. In fact, he is always happy when rehearsals are in progress. And that is what the column is about for this week, an attempt to take the average student back-stage with the Southwestern Players and see what is going on.

First we see Thomas McLemore, pacing back and forth across the stage. He draws himself up indignantly, as only a McLemore can, and we hear him say: "Prof. Lee, when you are addressing me on stage, please, oh please, remember that I am a GENERAL and not a captain."

As the rehearsal continues Henry Mobley gets his cue, dashes out to the center of the stage, and cannot remember a two line speech. Telling the cast to wait a minute, he runs off into the wings, gets his prompt book, and triumphantly comes back reading his lines.

Most amusing of all is the dialect. Dorothy Steuwer makes the most Southern-sounding Yankee wife this side of the Mason-Dixon line. She plays opposite Ralph Brown, who is a Yankee soldier from Vermont.

When Prof. Lee had a group of Northern soldiers sing the song that goes, "We'll hang Jeff Davis to a sour apple tree," that was a bit too much to ask of his art. He just kept quiet until the chorus was reached and then he really whipped it up.

Oh, well. Such are rehearsals in a nut-shell. But if you want to see a really good show, come out to the next presentation of the Southwestern Players. It really is a wow, telling all about the Civil War, with a heart-rending love story going through and through.

A University of Wisconsin prankster took it upon himself to remedy the situation after ex-President Glenn Frank had been removed from office by an eight to seven vote of the regents. He thumb-tacked a "Man Wanted" sign on the ex-president's office door.

SUMMER IS HERE

"Blessings on thee, Little Man, Barefoot Boy with cheeks so tan, With thy rolled up pantaloons And thy merry whistled tune."

It seems that summer has come to Memphis four months early this year. How do I know? Well, Cecil New was seen parading around in his barefeet in the bookstore Wednesday afternoon.

What is this world coming to, anyway? ?

EVERGREEN HALL

The flu is as good an excuse as any for a white hyacinth. . . . But what does it mean, Gracey?

There is a continuous game of bridge going on in the corner room as Shirley, "Mitt", Mary Elizabeth, and Floy, learn from the ground up—Culbertson himself.

Mrs. Rutland seriously objects to Whiteside, Tistadt, and Yearwood using her mattresses to make up gym classes—or was it to keep that school girl figure.

Kate Scott Patterson is quite Medical Minded.

Ha!—a secret—what is the mystery of the alarm clock in closets at three o'clock in the morning? ?

Frances Weaver's love has been transferred to Atlanta. Maybe she won't get sick again soon.

Many of the inmates have taken up the Welch Grape Juice method, but, as yet, no results.

Since when did Sis Owens get to be an artist's model? Just an amateur trying to get along.

What's a little wisdom tooth, "Mit", when she gets flowers and candy.

Thelma Drebelbis' boy friend gets his mail detour fashion through Mama Debelbis in order to make him think she is still in Oklahoma.

When it comes to foreign friends, the faculty has a very able official hostess in Courtney White.

The second floor is quite ritzy since it has two celebrities in one room—you know, England and Warden.

They call her "Angel" because she's no good on earth.

MONA MONKEY

"Sees all evil—hears all evil—prints all evil"

The rattle of skeleton bones brought forth the most attractive on our campus and Waddy West. The Dean of Women was with our angel. Miss Southwestern was out in full force, with Jim Breyspraak beaming. Selby Bobzein is the most stylish. Thelma's old addict discovered Mary Mitchell somewhere, and she found most popular, most interesting. . . . That well-known A.T.O. who was foiled by a K.A. pin must have found too much competition around the blond S.T.A.B. He is now rushing a blond Chi Omega pledge, whose sister is the favorite of our most popular.

Those Sunday nights at the Porter's cabin. . . . Ah-h! Dougherty can tell you. . . . So can a blond Chi Omega pledge, whose little brother is an S.A.E. pledge. . . . What do you know, W. J.? . . . The Orpheum front row was again reserved for Southwesternites: James Watts, Harold Falls, Preston Marion, etc.

Scene: DeSipio's class. Characters: Prof. D. S., Red Bergfield, Red Garrison. Prof.: "Are there any in the class who have not read at least two pages of the lesson?" From the first row comes a hand. Prof.: "What's your name?" "Garrison." Later, Prof.: "Is there anyone in the class who feels he is incapable of understanding the lesson?" A hand from the "G" row. "What's your name?" "Bergfield."

Clara Phillips is all over-cast with Spain and S.A.E. . . . Why does Kate Giuliani wear that S.A.E. pin in her purse every morning? . . . What K.A. from Robb is robbing Hylton Neill? . . . Billy Kelly's Frenchman says they "Swing-it" over there, too. That's the only English word he had learned for a while.

Ward's "Chubby-checks" (Gloria

Mott) tried to crash the gates Saturday night. . . . Ricker tried to do a little good on the sly up at the Claridge, but Al found him and extricated his date from his pal? and from ONE dark corner of the floor. . . . All Evergreen was asked to be S.N.'s Valentine, but then we knew one gal was.

Birmingham-Southern didn't show up, but spectators weren't disappointed. The Lamb-Morris wrestling match ended in a tie? . . . Royalty in our midst before the April Fool elections: Barnard and E. Jones. . . . Lelia, all diked out in red jodphers and Furr, were too late even for the wrestling match.

Pauline has a serious rival. . . . "Nobody else the wide world through Is half so dear to me as you, So, won't you take this heart of mine And be my charming Valentine?"

TIME FLIES, and trains on the railroad fly with it. It is a frequent compliment for watches and clocks to be set according to the passage of the trains.

Yet the years are constantly requiring new schedules to meet the accelerated tempo of modern business. Passengers today must measure their miles by their minutes, and freight must travel at what used to be good passenger-train speed.

The Illinois Central's streamline Green Diamond, for example, makes its daily 588-mile round-trip between St. Louis and Chicago in 590 minutes, including stops. The MS-1 (Merchandise Special, a freight) reaches Memphis overnight from Chicago, after several stops, covering the 527 miles in 830 minutes.

REMINDER . . . To meet new needs in new ways, but with never a sacrifice of ancient virtues—that, I believe, is the greatest achievement to which the railroads can today lay claim.

To maintain schedules under present demands is a challenge to railway stamina and resourcefulness. It is heartening to observe how capably that challenge is being met.

Hobbies: Dr. H. J. Bassett has an indexed collection of nearly ten thousand postcards. No two of them are alike. They represent almost every country in the world. From Italy alone he has collected a couple of thousand. . . . B. T. Hunt has his room literally covered with practically every type of advertising sign in the United States. Large ones, small ones, red, green, and every other color and almost any type can be seen tacked here and there in his boudoir. . . . Did you know that Dr. W. R. Cooper was once the feature member on the tumbling team at Washington and Lee and later was a member of the gymnastic team at Oxford (England)? He once made a bet with a partner that he would be able to execute a back somersault when he passed the half-century mark. He can do that as well as balance very adroitly on his hands. . . . Do you know the professor who was former intercollegiate boxing champion in the heavyweight division?

Campus originality: She grasshoppered through her conversation, alighting on a myriad of subjects, only to be off again without staying long in one place. . . . That prof who flunked me will always be a unique swine (shrine) in the temple of my memory.

Sudden outburst of adolescent thought at the zoo last Sunday: John, they say that them monkeys are our only descendants—that is, that they can be sure of.

Funniest pun of the week: A young lady who could not bear the idea of her romantic young lover's going to Darkest Africa as a missionary said beseechingly, "Oh, please don't go. What can you teach them? How to live for others? I always thought that cannibals did nothing except live for others."

Sudden thought for a description: She sat down at the table, immaculate, signed, sealed and delivered with a special delivery Emily Postage stamp.

ETTELSON WILL SPEAK TUESDAY

Club to Have Corporate Communion

The Rev. Dr. Harry W. Ettelson will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Episcopal Student Club. The talk will be along the line of some problem of interest to college students today. The meeting will be at the home of Miss Janet Tucker, 1523 Goodbar, at 7:30 o'clock on Tuesday night, February 23.

The club will have its first Corporate Communion in the second semester next Sunday morning, February 21, at St. Luke's Church, on the corner of Peabody and LeMaster, at 7:15 o'clock. A breakfast will be given the members of the club by the women of the church in the parish house immediately after the service.

DREAM GIRLS—In a nation-wide poll of undergraduate members of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, Marsha Hunt, brunette Paramount starlet of "College Holiday," won the title of "The Dream Girl of Pi K. A.," over Harriette Haddon, blonde chorus girl in the picture, by just one vote. A total of ten girls were in the contest. The close race run by Miss Haddon has already set her definitely for several future pictures.

PI K. A. PICKS "DREAM GIRL"

Marsha Hunt Wins National Poll

In a national poll to pick the most ideal college girl in the cast of Paramounts' motion picture, "College Holiday," starring Jack Benny, Miss Marsha Hunt was selected by the 76 chapters of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity as most nearly approximating the college man's ideal.

Miss Hunt, a brunette, won by the narrow margin of one vote over Miss Harriet Haddon, a blonde. Miss Hunt, who plays the feminine lead in the picture, will henceforth be known as the "Dream Girl of Pi K. A." which is the name of the fraternity's song.

Miss Haddon, a dancer in the cast, has been signed to a long term contract as a result of the vote. She was favored by 24 of the chapters as against the 25 who picked Miss Hunt. The remaining chapters scattered their votes between eight other girls in the cast. The test was arranged by Harlan Thompson, supervisor and producer of the picture and director for Paramount, who is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha.

A goodwill court in which students will be able to air grievances has been established at Cornell University.

The Broadcast

By SHAPIRO

Scene: a room with a radio. Listener: your critic. Program: the Southwestern Players' production of "Othello," by William Shakespeare. General attitude of the listener: hopeful. Final opinion: disappointing.

To begin with, the play was all right. After all, look who wrote it. Then, the medium was all right. WMC is WMC and the radio is a new one. But the acting . . .

Why have thin-voiced Sam Mays play the obviously heavy part of Iago? Is it possible that a man who is able to plot the death of his friend can be conceived as a person who seems to be afraid to talk above a whisper? And Othello himself—it was really amusing to listen to the love scene. Steve Frazier's typical southern drawl and languid nasal tones do not fit in well with the conception of a character who is impetuous enough to marry a maid without her father's consent.

Desdemona was adequately portrayed by Marjorie DeVall, who showed ability to reveal woman's nature in the short time allotted her. However, the death scene fell flat because of her none too realistic portrayal of a woman about to die. She seemed not to mind enough to raise a well-modulated voice. Polly Jane Cohen, playing Amelia, was also a sufficiently able interpreter until the final scene, when her explanation grew monotonous. Randall MacInnes, cast as Cassio, was well fit to play another in the series of type parts which he has selected—that of a dejected, downtrodden martyr.

Once more it is necessary to reiterate the fundamental concepts of acting—(1) live the character; (2) make the character live. Every now and then the Players give a bit of production in really first class style, remembering and using these principles. But these times are few and far between. Wednesday's production was one of the between.

"I enjoy the comfort a light smoke gives my throat"

"I have smoked Luckies off and on ever since my first term in the Senate 11 years ago, and I have always enjoyed their taste and the feeling of comfort and safety a light smoke gives my throat. I have done a great deal of public speaking, on the floor of the Senate, over the radio and at conferences. Necessarily this results in a strain on the voice. So naturally, in smoking, I have to think of my throat—and I have found that a light smoke is suitable to my throat."

Gerald P. Nye

HON. GERALD P. NYE
U. S. SENATOR FROM NORTH DAKOTA

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke.

Senator Nye's statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

LYNX CAGERS WIN SEVENTH IN ROW

Smith Stars as Birmingham-Southern is Defeated

Gaylon Smith proved that he was a "point a minute man" Tuesday night when the Southwestern Lynx outpointed the Birmingham-Southern cagers 41-29 in the Lynx gym for their seventh straight victory. The Lynx kept the game out of danger at all times, with Smith getting 17 points in the first 17 minutes of play when he was taken out with three minutes to go in the first half.

The Lynx started slowly but gathered speed after Red Garrison, Lynx forward, poured the first field goal through the nets and then followed up with two good foul shots. Levon Self proved to be more than an ordinary sub for big Bob Lee, regular center who is down with the flu. Self was shifted to guard and Lapsley, regular guard, took center. Then Smith began his attack on the Panther basket and in spite of being out the entire third quarter he led the scoring with 21 points to his credit. The score at the first half whistle stood 28-13.

Coach Paul Hug opened the second half for the Lynx with his second team. He explained that the Lynx had three other games this week and he wanted to save his first string. Dunlap Cannon, Jim Breytspraak and Paul Freeman proved to be decent shock troops but Coach Hug decided it was time to put his first string back in when the score stood 33-21 in the middle of the second half. Bill Lapsley did a good job at guard in the second half in spite of having only one more foul to go. He never made the fourth one.

Kenneth Morland, lanky Panther center, was an offensive threat during the entire game. He was the Southern high scorer with 11 points to his credit. Arnold King followed him closely with nine.

Roy Littlefield, substituting for Self at the Lynx center, got for himself what should be a record in fast fouling out. He did a neat job of making four fouls in six minutes of play. Eldridge Mote, Panther forward, wasn't far behind Littlefield when he made four fouls in 11 minutes.

LYNX DEFEAT SEWANEE TEAM

Check Tiger Rally of Second Half

The Southwestern Lynx defeated the Sewanee cagers 34-27 in the Lynx gym Saturday night.

Up until the closing minutes of the game the Lynx had an easy time of it. Sewanee threw a scare into Lynx supporters when Colmore, Sewanee center, led a vicious attack by the Tigers soon after the second half started.

The Tiger rally was not strong enough to overcome the lead piled up by the Lynx early in the game, however. The score at the half was 27-10 in favor of the Lynx.

Gaylon Smith, Lynx forward, was the outstanding man on the floor. He poured 15 points through the nets to be the high scorer of the evening. Bill Lapsley and Clois Neal were very good Lynx defensive men. For the Tigers, Colmore was high point man with ten tallies to his credit. His teammate Keiser was right behind him with nine points.

A peculiar twist was added to the game when Dedman, a Tiger guard, made four fouls in thirteen minutes for an unusually fast foul-out.

Intramural News

The recent volleyball tournament, won by the SAE's, has been complicated by the forfeiting of one of the games played by the ATO team because of the playing of an ineligible man. Consequently, the Sigma Nu's and the non-frats will tangle in the first of the games to be played to clarify the situation, with the winner meeting the SAE's in the final game. The games will take place today and tomorrow at 1:30 P. M.

The College Humor table tennis tournament promises to hold much interest, what with many of the well-known stars of the campus entered. Dunlap Cannon, school luminary, and Cecil New, winner of the tournament held earlier in the year, are expected to hold the limelight.

AND WHY?

Members of two Santa Ana Junior College English classes voted that they would rather meet Cleopatra than any other famous woman in history. Queen Elizabeth polled the next most votes.

ARMY MAN SAYS SCORING UNFAIR

Would Spread Points to Include Passes, Etc.

Asserting that the present football scoring system does not always allow the best team to win, Col. E. A. Hickman, F.D., United States Army, on duty as finance officer of the 3rd Corps Area, has offered a new scoring method.

He suggested that the value of the touchdown and the field goal be reduced from six points to five and from three points to two respectively.

Col. Hickman declared that a team could earn one point for each first down—no matter the excess yardage made, each forward or lateral pass completed and resulting in gain, each forward pass intercepted, each fumble recovered, and each kick that rolled outside within the ten yard line.

The team would also lose a point for fumbling and not recovering or for each fifteen yard penalty inflicted upon it.

FACULTY, STUDENTS HAVE GOLF MATCH

A golf match will be played this afternoon between a faculty and a student team on the Galloway Course.

The faculty team will be composed of Profs. Kelso, Davis, Strickler and Monk. On the student team will be Billy Bethea, Gene Grissom, Louis Chenault, and Woody Butler. The game will be scored according to the points system on match playing.

PING PONG TOURNEY BEGINS NEXT WEEK

With the Ping Pong tournament starting next week, the table in the book store is busy from the time the store opens until it closes. All the sharps are to be seen practicing there every day.

The seeded players will probably be Dunlap Cannon, Cecil New, and Cecil Warde in the above order. But the mediocre players will be there, too.

The winner of the boys' and of the girls' tournament will be given free trips to the National Collegiate Ping-Pong tournament by the owners of College Humor Magazine.

Blackburn College males pulled the wool over their own eyes—wool or cotton, before going to the last dance of the semester. It was an informal "sweater affair" with no suits allowed.
