STUDENTS GET THAT WORRIED ASPECT AS EXAMS APPROACH

With exams just around the corner, the inquiring reporter decided to delve into the affairs of the "eds" and "co-eds" and find out just what preparations they are making. To his surprise he found that most of the students this year are honestly going to study, and already most of them have acquired that worn, worried look.

Bob Lee sincerely admitted that he had been studying and was going to keep it up until after exams were over . . . then for a big celebration!!! Bright Horton is rather pessimistic in his view. He doesn't expect to pass all his exams so he is only going to study for those which he is sure of passing. That's rather bright, Bright! Billy Smith and Sam Mays can be seen up town every night this week taking in shows so they won't get behind in their Micky Mouse serials, while Al Wunderlich reserves the right to loaf right through his exams. —Good luck, Al!

HENRY OLIVER

BRANTLEY DIES IN OKLAHOMA

Was Southwestern's Oldest Living Alumnus

The Rev. Erskine Brantley, D.D., oldest living alumnus of Southwestern, passed away at his home in Antlers, Oklahoma, Dec. 29, 1936. Not only was Dr. Brantley the oldest alumnus of Southwestern, but he also had the distinction of being the only living alumnus of Stewart College.

Up until the time of his death, Dr. Brantley served as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Antlers, Okla. He, along with Rev. J. C. Coldwell, was the first ministerial student to graduate from Southwestern and in his long years of service to the Presbyterian Church has established an enviable record for himself.

Dr. Brantley was a member of the class of 1873 and was the holder of the cane presented by Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary fraternity, to the oldest alumnus of this institution. This cane has been returned to Southwestern and is now in the hands of Rev. S. E. Howie, Alumni Secretary, who will supervise its reawarding sometime during the coming year.

Austin College conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity upon Dr. Brantley in 1913. Before his death last December Dr. Brantley had reached his 86th birthday.

PI HONORS CHURCHILL

Mary Churchill appeared Tuesday wearing the green and white of Pi inter-sorority. She is the first to be honored following the Christmas holidays by the group. She is a freshette from Memphis and a pledge of the Chi Omega Sorority.

SOUTHWESTERN ALUMNUS GIVEN PROFESSORSHIP

Will Teach at University of Mississippi

STUDYING AT DUKE

Held Angier B. Duke Memorial Fellowship

Henry Oliver, of Union City, Tennessee, who graduated from Southwestern in 1934 with high honors in Economics and Political Science, will take a position as member of the faculty at the University of Mississippi, next semester. He will hold classes in Principles of Economics, Economic Geography, and Property Insurance.

Mr. Oliver has been taking graduate work at Duke University for the past two years. He is the first student in economics ever to hold the Angier B. Duke Memorial Fellowship. This is the best fellowship in the entire graduate school at Duke, and is won through interdepartmental competition.

Dr. Earl J. Hamilton, acting head of the department of economics at Duke, is a personal friend of Dr. R. C. Hon, and gives all of the honors examinations in economics for Southwestern. He stated, in a letter to Dr. Hon, that the money and banking divisions of Mr. Oliver's honors examination paper would have been acceptable on a preliminary examination for his doctor's degree.

It was through Dr. Hamilton's recommendation, after reading the paper, that Mr. Oliver won his first year's fellowship.

While at Southwestern, Mr. Oliver was outstanding in Inter-Collegiate Debating and was captain of the tennis team during his senior year.

LANGUAGE TESTS

Modern Language reading tests will be given at 3:30 p.m. this afternoon in room 104, Palmer Hall, under the supervision of Mrs. Challen, Associate Registrar. Students may satisfy the modern language requirement for graduation by passing an objective test in either French, Spanish, or German.

ARMSTRONG AGAIN HEADS KAPPA SIG

Robert Armstrong was re-elected president of Phi Chapter of Kappa Sigma fraternity at a meeting held Monday night in the lodge. Other officers selected for the second semester are: Charles Taylor, vice-president; William Bethea, Grand Master of Ceremonies; Henry Turner, treasurer; Clark McDonald, secretary; Charles Freeburg, guard; and Andrew Myers, guard.

K. A. HAS BANQUET ON FOUNDER'S DAY

Kappa Alpha fraternity held its annual Founder's Day Banquet Tuesday, January 19, on the birthday of the founder, General Robert E. Lee, in Neely Hall. Dr. A. C. Lewis, former president of the alumni, presided. Elections of alumni officers for the following year were held. Dr. Granville Sherman was chosen president; Col. W. F. Murrah, vice-president; and Lee Hardison, secretary. Billy Armstrong was re-elected treasurer. Around sixty members of the active and alumni chapters attended.

PRESIDENT IN CAPITAL AGAIN

Dr. Diehl will go to Nashville Sunday to fill the pulpit of the Moore Memorial Presbyterian Church. The pastor is the Rev. W. M. MacLeod.

HOWIE SICK

Rev. S. E. Howie, Alumni Secretary and Director of Public Relations, was ill last week with influenza. His condition is favorable, and Miss Olivia Reames, his secretary, expects him to be back the first of next week.

Dr. J. V. Moldenhawer to Conduct Annual Week of Prayer Feb. 2-7; Third Vesper Service to Follow

WILL BE HELD SUNDAY, FEB. 7

Dr. J. V. Moldenhawer, who is the guest speaker for the Week of Prayer, will conclude his stay on the campus with the Vesper Service, which will be held Sunday afternoon, February 7, at 5 o'clock, in Hardie Auditorium. This final service will be the climactic event of Dr. Moldenhawer's series of talks on the campus.

This is the third of the Vesper services held under the auspices of the Christian Union Cabinet, and will be sponsored by the Sophomore Class. Henry Mobley, as president of the class, will be in charge of the program. Dr. W. O. Shewmaker will be the presiding officer.

There are four Vesper services held during the year, with each class taking charge of one. The final service will be held prior to the Easter vacations. The Freshman class will have charge of it.

DEBATING TEAM TO MEET FOES

Opening Date February 10 With Spring Hill

The Southwestern Debating Society has been meeting every Friday night since the holidays under the direction of Prof. C. P. Lee for discussion of various topics preparatory to the selection of a team.

The debate schedule for the spring months is nearing completion, and Mr. Lee announces February 10 as the opening date. Southwestern's team will meet Spring Hill College, from Mobile, on home territory. The question for discussion will be, "Resolved, Congress Should Have the Power to Fix Minimum Wages and Maximum Hours for Industries."

Between the 7th and 15th of March, the team will take a trip, stopping for engagements with Birmingham-Southern, Emory, University of Chattanooga, Sewanee, and Union University. On March 19, Yale will come to Memphis to meet the team. It is possible that sometime during the month Princeton will debate at Southwestern.

On April 9, Emory will meet Southwestern here, to discuss the question, "Resolved, That the Extension of Consumers Cooperative Would Contribute to Public Welfare." During the month, the team will meet two visiting teams: Union and Alabama College, a girls' school.

VALUABLE EDITION ADDED TO LIBRARY

Miss Mary Marsh, librarian, announces the addition to the library of a valuable original edition of the first volume of the works of Zarlino, famous Italian writer on musical composition and harmony. It was published in Venice in 1589 and is the first treatise on harmony ever written. In it Zarlino is the earliest to recognize the chord as such. Written in Italian, it was used as a text book by all the notable composers of the time.

Both Miss Marsh and Professor B. C. Tuthill, director of music, have pronounced this rare copy an authentic first edition. It once belonged to the eminent Elizabethan actor, David Carrington Garrick, and his name is inscribed on the fly-leaf in his own hand writing.

The Sou'wester, on behalf of the staff, the Student Body, and the Faculty, wishes to extend its sympathy to George and Olivia Reames on the loss of their mother, and to George Futress on the death of his mother.

SOUTHWESTERN DRIVE BEGINS

Reinhardt Opens With Talk in Chapel

With a speech in student assembly Monday, Mr. E. E. Reinhardt officially opened the Southwestern funds drive for 1937. Mr. Reinhardt stressed the important effect which a successful student campaign will have on the workers in the regular drive which begins February 4th.

Contribution cards have been distributed to all students through the student council, which group is taking charge of the student campaign. The council is urging that all cards be turned in as soon as possible in order that a complete record of the student campaign may be compiled by the opening of the regular campaign on Feb. 4th. Most of the cards were turned in yesterday.

Mr. Reinhardt in his Monday's speech told why the campaign is necessary, citing the figures of the yearly college budget. The goal has as usual been set at $50,000. Mr. Reinhardt also announced that collections on last year's pledges had been better than ever before.

STUDENTS WILL REGISTER FEB. 11

Fee For Late Registration Will Be Charged

Official registration for the second semester will be held Monday, February 1, from nine until twelve o'clock. Freshmen will register from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m.; sophomores from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., and juniors and seniors from 11 a.m. to 12 noon. Registration for students now in college consists in making any necessary changes in courses through the Dean's office and in paying all required fees in the Bursar's office.

Students who do not wish to return Monday may register in the office any time during examination week. A delayed registration fee of $2.50 will be charged after 5 p.m. Monday.

Students are automatically classified in the same courses for the second semester unless a change is made through the Dean's office. Discontinuing a course as well as beginning a new course constitutes a change. Changes may be made throughout the first week of the new semester free of charge. Thereafter, a fine of $2.50 will be imposed.

Applications for changes involving irregular classification must be made to the Dean in writing. If filed during examination week they will be acted upon by the Classification Committee by noon Friday; otherwise they will be passed on Monday at 8:45 a.m.

A.T.O. ELECTS FALLS

Erskine Falls was elected president of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at a meeting held Monday night in Palmer Hall. Other officers of the fraternity for the second semester will be elected immediately following examinations.

TWO SERVICES HELD EACH DAY

Hardie Auditorium Will Be Scene of Series

Southwestern's Week of Prayer which is held annually under the auspices of the Southwestern Christian Union will be observed this year during the week commencing February 2, and ending with the third Vesper service on Sunday, February 7.

These services will be conducted by Dr. J. V. Moldenhawer, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of New York City and an alumnus of this institution.

Dr. Moldenhawer will conduct two services daily and will be available for personal interviews at any time during his stay on the campus. One of these daily services will be held, as is customary, during the regular chapel service. The night service will also be held in Hardie Auditorium at 7:30 o'clock each evening with the exception of Saturday. These services are a tradition at Southwestern and all students are expected to attend. All friends of the college are invited to hear Dr. Moldenhawer at any or all of the night services.

Dr. Moldenhawer graduated from Southwestern in 1897 and returned to this campus in June, 1929, to make the commencement exercise address for the 54th graduating class. After leaving Southwestern, Dr. Moldenhawer attended Union Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., graduating in 1900. He received the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Western Reserve University of Cleveland, Ohio, in 1922.

Originally from Henderson, Ky., Dr. Moldenhawer was pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Albany, N. Y., before removing to New York City.

RESOLUTION WANTS SAFETY SIDEWALK

Abe Pletchnow submitted a resolution to the student body in chapel Saturday on the need of a sidewalk along North Parkway in front of Southwestern. He stated that the drive is unsafe not only for Southwestern students but also for Snowden School children. John Farley, president of the Student Body, appointed a committee composed of Jimmy Sasser, Mike Pepper, and Pletchnow to investigate the matter. They found that neither the city nor Southwestern is willing to build a sidewalk but that either will supply the labor if the material can be obtained.

WOMEN'S PAN HAS NEW RUSHING RULES

The Women's Panhellenic Council met Tuesday to formulate rushing rules for the second semester. Rushing will be closed from six o'clock Friday, January 28 until Friday, February 5. Rushing will be open Friday and Saturday, 5th and 6th, with hour dates assigned to each of the sororities. The sequence of the dates will be decided upon by lot. Bids will be extended Saturday night followed by pledging in the respective lodges.

Miss Annie Beth Gary, Registrar, states that about ten new women students are expected to matriculate for the second semester.

DEAN JOHNSON ILL

Dean A. Theodore Johnson has been ill since Friday of last week with food poisoning. Mrs. Johnson reports that his condition is improving, but that he probably will not be able to return to his duties before next week.

The "Choir" Situation

When the choir and faculty exchanged places some weeks ago for the purpose of bettering the singing in chapel, we, along with many other students, thought it was a very good idea. We anticipated, with pleasure, this step to improve a part of our chapel service which has long been below standard, but we are sorry to say that this innovation has proved a failure. Not only has the singing failed to improve, but the entire tone and atmosphere has been materially lowered.

The situation would not be so obnoxious if the members of the choir actually sang, but about half of their number do not even open their mouths, and it's general knowledge that opening one's mouth is a requisite of good singing. In addition to this failure to fulfill the purpose for which the change was instituted, the conduct of individuals in the body is lacking in dignity and tends to decrease the reverence which is the ideal of this service.

We do not voice this criticism of what we know was a well intentioned change without deep regret. We feel that theoretically the change was an excellent one and that probably it would have served its intended purpose were it not for the juvenility of some of our students. We are extremely sorry to be forced to make such an accusation, but the reasons for it are very evident during practically every chapel exercise.

Our old practice of having the faculty seated on the stage behind the speaker was by far the better plan, and we hope that it will be readopted in the near future.

Heed This Warning

The chapel period at Southwestern ostensibly lasts from eight-thirty until nine o'clock every morning and that portion of the time remaining after the religious part of the program is completed is devoted to announcements and the business of the Student Body. But, the point we are trying to make is, that the entire thirty minutes is given over to this purpose and not just the first few moments.

The doors are opened at the close of the religious part of the exercises it is true, but this is not done to allow the students to get up and leave although that seems to be the popular conception. On the contrary, the doors are opened to allow any who may have been locked out to enter and receive the benefit of the remainder of the program.

Not long ago a visiting speaker was rudely interrupted and harassed by having students jumping up and walking out while he was attempting to address them on a subject which was of utmost importance to each of them. More recently still, the president of this institution was forced to call to the students and stop the general exodus before he could make an important announcement. Such a condition is intolerable, and unless the students have the courtesy and decency to remedy it themselves, the administration will be forced to take some drastic action.

Stage and Mike

Here is a news article that will interest every person connected with Southwestern. At the close of each year, every radio station in the country that is affiliated with the National Broadcasting Company makes a list of activities during the year and submits it to the New York headquarters in Radio City. Included in the report sent in by WMC was a paragraph on the weekly Southwestern broadcast. The report stated that this broadcast was the most outstanding sustaining program of the year. Considering the fact that Southwestern has only been in the radio field less than a year's time, and that she had to start from scratch, we feel that congratulations are in order. With such an honorable report in the offices of the National Broadcasting Company it has an excellent future if the proper support is given to it. This program will be heard during the examination period.

The Southwestern Players are running a contest in which you can win free tickets to the March show to be given by that group. Prof. Lee is looking for the words to two old songs and is offering two free tickets to the first person bringing in a complete verse and chorus of either of the two songs.

One of the songs is entitled "Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage", and the other is known as "Heaven Will Protect the Working Girl." If you are unable to find the original words to these ditties, it is permissible to compose lyrics to fit the original music. For instance, the only thing the Players can discover concerning the last song named is that it includes the lines, "You can tempt us working lasses with villainous demi-tasses, But Heaven will protect the working girl."

The dead-line for this contest has been set for February 9. As soon as you have either found the original words or else have composed lyrics which will do as well, hand your result to Prof. Lee. Remember, it's the first one in that gets the prize.

ROBB HALL

With the holidays now only pleasant memories, Robb Hall has settled down amid the mud puddles to do some much-needed cramming for the fast approaching exams. Room 206 has become notorious for impromptu KA gatherings and its noisy high-jinks in general have called down the wrath of our guardian of law and order. So far the measles that threaten to blossom into an epidemic in Calvin have stayed away from our door, but several wandering Robbites have been looking at their tongues with some anxiety.

An unexpected appreciation of art has been manifested by the numerous pilgrimages made to view two charcoal drawings that were smuggled in under cover of night. Where is the Committee for the Protection of Public Morals? Not waiting for good weather, the moving season has already begun. Watts and Scott have exchanged rooms, and Billy Lapsley seeks refuge from the Stewart Hall uproar in the peace and quiet(?) of our third floor.

Except for a few bright spots all has been very "quiet on the Potomac" and light bills soar as books are dusted off and explored for the first time in earnest.

"We are wasting time if we indulge in prolonged discussions as to the place of analytical geometry in a freshman curriculum while jails and park benches are being filled by those who need an education which has some meaning in everyday life." Temple University's President Charles E. Beury suggests a waste-basket for the old curriculum.

STUDENT COUNCIL WILL BUILD STEP

The Student Council decided at a meeting held Tuesday in the Bell Room to appropriate funds for the construction of a step leading to the Supply Store. The step will be a big improvement over the steep incline now serving this purpose.

Mr. John Rollow, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, will supervise the construction. Work is expected to start on the step in the near future.

EMBLEM OF UNCEASING CARE "Long life and prosperity!" That is the toast of the New Year. And it is the toast of our American railroads, for—factors other than transportation being equal—their travelers live the longest and their shippers suffer the least from loss and damage. • That well-known motto "Safety First!" is derived from the opening rule in the book of railway operation: "Safety is of the first importance in the discharge of duty." • Railway safety is enhanced by strong track, automatic train control, electric block signals, improved braking, special safeguards on trains, constant inspection and repair of equipment, constant schooling of the men at work. • As a result, on the travel side alone, 99 of the 142 principal American railroads recently completed 15 years with not a passenger fatality in a train accident—this despite the movement annually of hundreds of millions of passengers billions of miles. The Illinois Central is now in its ninth consecutive year of similar safety to passengers. • Protection of freight, as measured by claim payments, is likewise at a high standard, the loss declining in recent years to considerably less than a dollar per revenue car. REMINDER... Safety, like charity, must begin at home if patrons are to be protected in their lives and property. I am especially proud of the fact that thousands of Illinois Central supervisory employes hold cards testifying to years of clear safety records for the men under their direction. J. S. ... By JOHN QUANTHY

"They thought we were going to be easy," said Coach Paul (The Horrible) Hug, Lynx cage mentor, at the half period of the Lynx-Union Bulldog game. And why shouldn't they think so? Hadn't the Bulldogs beaten Howard and hadn't Howard beaten the Lynx to a nub to the tune of 54-19?

But that was in Birmingham. The Lynx like to play to the home town bunch. Of course, the fact that there were hardly any Southwestern students at the game makes no difference. If the Lynx cagers were to hear a yell these days they'd probably faint in their tracks or run home and hide under the bed.

Yes, the Lynx weren't the feministic felines that they were in Birmingham. In fact, they turned, as the proverbial worm, and scratched the eyes of the Bulldogs. Gaylon and Bill Lapsley were particularly adept in the art of scratching, as were Self and Bob Lee.

The Lynx were merely holding their own until the half and Coach Hug took only a couple of sentences to straighten them out. "We're hitting and they're not; so don't give them the ball. When you guards work the ball in to the center, break close to him so that their guard can't get between you and Bob." (Bob Lee was the Lynx center.)

You know what happened—beg pardon, the nine or ten that were there know what happened. Right after the beginning of the second half the Lynx ran up about ten points before the Bulldogs knew what it was all about. Well, to make a short story tasty, the Lynx ended up on the long end of a game that the "critics" were sure they would lose; sort of a Vandy song, second verse.

These same Lynx will go into action against Lambuth tomorrow night in the local "gem"—uh—we mean gym. Coach Hug has given the squad several new plays which looked very good in practice.

Coach Richard Mays and his Bobcats—mostly the Bobcats—looked good in the two games they've played. Bob Learned and W. C. Rowan are particularly agile on the court.

There are about seven freshmen out for the team and believe me we think that is a disgrace to the freshman class. What's the matter with that bunch; are there no athletes among them? There should be more than seven decent basketball players in 116 men. We hope we don't flatter them with that last word.

Oney Ellis who has been studying eyes in Biology lab has been using his optical organs to swell advantage lately. In fact, the jocosse inhabitants of Stewart Hall (where men are men and women are not) have attached to Mr. Ellis the appellation of "The human alarm clock." About six o'clock in the morning he unceremoniously wakes up "Flusie" Littlefield, whose room is conveniently situated on the north side, in order to use that worthy's room to exercise his eyes from. They say that the view from that room is particularly pleasing and helpful to the weary optics.

Murrah Gattis informs us that Southwestern has been invited to send in several yells to the Willes N. Bugbee Co., publishers. These publishers are putting out the second edition of Just Yells, a book of college pep yells. This is the first time that Southwestern has been invited. The "L" yell was sent and will be printed in the book.

PENNSYLVANIA PICKS ALL STAR FACULTY

When sports writers had finished their all-star picking, the University of Pennsylvania faculty took advantage of the lull and did a little choosing on its own account—but not in the sports field.

Given the opportunity of voting for a mythical all-star faculty of ten members from all the history of the world and from any field of knowledge and work, faculty men and women of the University of Pennsylvania selected Dr. Albert Einstein, Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Da Vincin, Shakespeare, Galileo, Newton, Darwin and Pasteur. Dr. Einstein is the only living man included.

Authorities at San Jose College are planning to establish a museum of crime tools for the students of its police school.

HEY, DOCTOR BAINE

Students of organic chemistry at Colby College who study under Prof. Lester F. Weeks have found that tea during an exam makes a test sweeter to take.

During one of the past three-hour exams, some of the students complained that they were too tired to think and write at the close of the test.

"I guess I'll serve tea next time," replied Prof. Weeks.

At the last exam, he and his two assistants passed out steaming cups of tea and dozens of filled cookies.

The invincible has fallen at last! Millions tried, but failed. Then Tony Venit, Vidit, Vincit. Chenault, the Human Gaul, fell before a scientific technique never before witnessed in these parts. The victor emerged from the fray with the shining booty, witness to her overwhelming success.

All other news is dwarfed by that startling event, leaving little of note to record in this chapter of current history.

Poor Kearns is still suffering under Dr. Shewmaker's onslaught. Every class he turns and shouts, "Kearns, shut up," on general principles. But have patience: Murder Will Out, you know. . . . Someone should organize the pipe-smokers into a military unit. F. D. R. could probably employ them to lay smoke-screens and poison gas in the event of a war.

Finne learned his lesson well from P. S. (Power-System) Weaver. He is an accomplished racketeer. Better look for police protection, Billy Marshall. . . . Although this sidewalk business has a concrete principle, the investigation has been abstract, and the investigator says it is hard material and hard to get across to hard-headed students.

Perhaps it would be of interest to Finnie for old times' sake and to P. S. for the future to know that Caroline Carroll has a standing date every Saturday night with Charles King. And judging from the "muscling-in" last Saturday, several other A.T.O.'s are on the job.

What caused the change in Jimmy "woman-hater" Caden . . . Joyce Hart is playing stooge—against Coach Mays . . . The freshman basketball team is planning to elect their sponsor in the near future . . . Howard McKenzie and Betsy Fowler must not have caught the sarcastic note in Dr. Monk's voice when he recited Thomas Moore's famous "Mushy" poem in class.

Mike Pepper, Margaret England, and P. S. Weaver each received letters in Wednesday's mail. Mike strolled across the campus with a smile of rapture; Margaret waved hers gaily in the air and headed for the dormitory; and P. S. proudly exhibited Louise's signature.

Dr. Amacker carries two watches (to make more time, was suggested) . . . A certain professor uses nail polish these days.

Did He Get Fooled!
Dr. Baine felt perfectly safe last year, when he remarked to Dr. Monk during a conversation at dinner, "If you ever get married, I'll buy your wife a pair of shoes." The holidays past, faculty and students again gathered in the dining hall. Dr. Monk introduced his wife to Dr. Baine. Mrs. Monk, "Oh, you're the one who is going to buy me a pair of shoes!" She wears I. Miller's best.

CO-EDS PREFER THE BRUNETTE GIGOLOS

University of Chicago fraternity men are going gigolo to furnish material for the newly established Escort Bureau. To qualify as "dowager-thrillers" bureau men must:

Be physically presentable; have personality and an easy manner; be a gentleman of the Lord Chesterfield type; possess knowledge in at least one social activity—opera, bridge, conversation or ordering from a menu; be a good dancer and be well known on the campus.

The coeds hire more tall brunettes than any of the other types.

Upon being selected to conform with the woman's specifications, the young man meets her at a designated spot and is free to use his own name or a fictitious one. Thereafter he is responsible for the success of the evening.

Elliott Roosevelt, the President's son, has been appointed as a member of the board of directors of Texas A. and M. College.

WINTERSET—MALCO

Here is a film as unusual and as somber as its name—a screen production of Maxwell Anderson's gripping Broadway success. In the process of becoming a motion picture, the poetic lines have been abbreviated, the grim scenery of shadows and cellars enlarged, and "Winterset" has become a more vivid and compelling drama on the screen than it was on the stage.

The picture opens with a brief outline of the electrocution of an idealistic radical for a crime he did not commit. Fifteen years later his son, obsessed by the desire to clear his father's name goes to New York to discover the true murderer. As if drawn by some invisible power, he drifts, one rainy night into the sordid circle that contains the answer to his search. Falling in love with the sister of one of the gangsters, he learns the truth, avenges his father, and only a Hollywood happy ending relieves the grimness of the tragedy.

As the young lovers, Burgess Meredith and Margo repeat their stage performances so highly praised by critics with outstanding and fine portrayals. Eduardo Ciannelli, also a member of the original cast, does an excellent bit of acting as the cold-blooded and sinister Trock.

How "Winterset" will be received by the cinema-going public is still uncertain, but its dramatic appeal, sordid subject, literary background, and the New York theater cast should minimize the possibility of failure. The plot structure, beauty of language, and cynical irony will rate high with thinking audiences.

This is not at all a pleasant film, its tragedy being relentless and unrelieved until the final moments, but it can be recommended as a superior piece of work. You may or may not like it, but everyone should see this daring experiment which may start a new trend in motion pictures. "Winterset" is a modern masterpiece of the screen.

LYNX FIVE WIN OVER BULLDOGS

Lapsley Makes First Goal Of 45-38 Score

With Bill Lapsley leading the way by sinking the initial ball the Lynx cagers completely outplayed and outpointed the Union Bulldogs. They pulled virtually the same trick that the football team pulled when they put the skids under the Vandy grid-ders. The Lynx's "five iron men" plus Bob Lee trounced the highly touted Bulldogs, 45-38.

The Lynx trailed up to the whistle ending the half when the score was tied at 22 all. Up to the half the Lynx were playing good ball individually and on defense, but they could not work the ball in once they got it. "Peaches" Pechonick, the Bulldog star—at least that's what he was supposed to be—was covered as effectually as Cy Williams' bald spot by Gaylon Smith who did quite a bit of starring on his own hook.

During the second half, with a slight change in offense, the Lynx began to pull away from the Bulldogs and were never seriously threatened. Bob Lee, subbing for Levon Self, was a proverbial tower of strength for the home team. Lapsley then fouled out for probably the first time in his life, and Self, coming back into action, proved that he wasn't so bad himself.

As for the Bulldogs, the Lynx had to exert themselves plenty to cover Duncan at forward and Chishlam, lanky center. The five Bulldogs seemed to work smoother together than the Lynx and could make their shots count during the first half, but they didn't get so many in the second period.

| Smith | F. | Duncan |

WANTED—A HOBBY

The only thing for which Earl Wasserman, young instructor at the University of Baltimore, hasn't time is a hobby.

In addition to teaching English classes at three different colleges in Baltimore, Wasserman is working for his Ph.D. at Johns Hopkins University and making a special study of the "Elizabethan Revival."

PLEDGE GROUPS BATTLE TO TIE

Playoff Will Be Held After Examinations

Battling to a 57-57 tie, Tri Delta and Chi Omega pledges are still deadlocked after a three-game tournament. Tri Delta won the first game of the series while Chi Omega won the second 25-19.

After the fast and furious game Saturday afternoon, things are at a standstill. Time out will be taken until Thursday after exams.

Outstanding playing was exhibited by Dot Robinson, Mary Laura Tisdadt, and Jean Johnston on the Tri-Delta side, and by Frances Smithwick, Anne Potts, and Nancy Donelson for the Chi Omega's.

During the half, spectators were entertained by Miss Stratman and Rick Mays, the referee, in a free throw contest. Miss Stratman had the best showing.

These games are forerunners of the Girls' Intramural Tournament which will be held in the spring.

BED DURING EXAMS

I used to go to bed at night
And only worked when day was light,
But now 'tis quite the other way,
I never get to bed till day.

I look up from my work and see
The morning light shine in on me,
And listen to a warning knell—
The tinkle of the rising bell.

And does there not seem cause to weep,
When I should like so much to sleep,
I have to sing this mournful lay,
I cannot get to bed till day?

Definition of a "snap course": A course in which the professor does not check the roll, make assignments, give failing grades, and which is non-existent.

Intramural News

The Kappa Sigs seem to be making a habit of it. They proceeded to go into a virtual tie for the free-throw honors to share or annex outright their sixth title out of a possible half-dozen for the present closing semester. As a result, they pace the pack by a comfortable 400-point margin. They began the streak by taking the fall softball crown, and continued by capturing the cross-country, horse-shoes, touch-football and two basketball laurels.

The nearest competitors, the Sigma Nu's, are far to the rear, with the KA's, SAE's, ATO's, non-frats, and PIKA's finishing in order. But the title is not yet perched in the little house on the drive, and a long schedule for the second semester may play havoc with carefully laid plans.

The high-score men in the free-throw competition have been invited to compete in the annual Tri-State Free-throw Tournament sponsored by the Park Commission. This event will take place at Peabody Community Center tomorrow night at 7:30 P. M. John McGrady, SAE; Bob Learned, SN; Andy Myers, KS, and Wave McFadden, non-frat, who each tossed 16 out of 20 trials through the wicket, will represent the Intramural Association in the event.

Several persons have asked that an all-star intramural basketball team be selected. This practice, in the opinion of the writer, has been sadly abused, and will not be indulged in this year.
