★ ★ ★ ★ What . . . OTHER COLLEGES . . . Are Doing

By The Observer

That college graduates often resemble automata as far as their education is concerned is the bane of presidents, deans, and faculties from Maine to California. To break down the tyranny of formality, of accurate colorlessness, and kindle some sort of creative spirit within the student, colleges have devised a host of plans, ingenious and simple, transitory and permanent. Southwestern has its tutorial reading courses, its visits to Bolivar and the Transients' Bureau; but other institutions have struck out on other paths.

Colgate University has recently announced that it will continue its plan, started in 1935, of sending some dozen of its best social science students to Washington for the first semester to study the government in operation.

At Princeton the latest move has been to excuse juniors and seniors from classes for a week before spring holidays to allow them to do independent reading and finish up their papers and theses, which are now integral parts of the plan of having each student specialize in some field and do a sizeable amount of research for himself. The general plan was begun in 1923, and since that time the number of books checked out of the library have more than doubled. Newspaper files, local and state archives, interviews, and inspection tours are now utilized as source material by the students, and the probable result is an improved technique for attacking future problems on their own initiative.

Harvard, fired by the Supreme Court issue, is going to hold a Student Constitutional Convention on the 150th anniversary of the Constitutional Convention. There, Harvard delegates, representing all forty-eight states, will discuss in serious fashion the question of keeping intact or adjusting mildly or radically to modern economic conditions the American constitution.

Meanwhile in Harvard the freshman choice of majors shows in what direction students' interest is turning. The most significant trend is towards the social sciences and away from English. In line with 40 per cent of upperclassmen who are majoring in the social sciences, 36 per cent of next year's sophomores have elected this field, that is, economics, government, and history. The English majors dropped from 109 last year to 86 this year; Romance languages from 53 to 37; and classics from 20 to 16. "Practical" subjects, such as biology, chemistry, anthropology, engineering, geology, and psychology, showed a slight gain, while other general fields remained about the same. Ten years ago English, dominated the list of majors, claiming nearly a quarter of the whole number. Today it has only 14 per cent, and is beaten by economics with 16 per cent.

The Sou'wester wishes to express, on behalf of the staff, the faculty and the student body, its heartfelt sympathy to Ellie Powell on the death of her father.

TUTHILL'S CHORUS WILL SING MAY 1

The Beethoven Chorus directed by Prof. Burnet C. Tuthill will give its first concert at the Goodwin Institute on Saturday, May 1st, under the auspices of the Beethoven Club. This group of 35 women singers has been rehearsing since January with very favorable results. Tickets will be 50c.

GIVENS, COBB, POND ELECTED OFFICERS

At a recent meeting of the Y. W. C. A. the annual election of officers for the coming year was held with the following results: Dorothy Givens, president; Elizabeth Cobb, vice president; Jane Alvis, secretary; Harriet Pond, treasurer, and Frances Gladney, chairman of the Vespers Committee.

Also during the business session, further plans for the Curling Iron banquet were made, and the date was set for Friday night, May 7th.

Mrs. Joe Clark, executive secretary of the Girl Scouts, spoke to the group on the aims and ideals of the Girl Scout movement. Tentative plans to conduct a ten day conference on the campus during the summer for the training of Girl Scout leaders were made. All girls interested in this conference are asked to see Miss Stratman.

NEWS WRITERS TO SPEAK TO DELEGATES

By WARD ARCHER

Twelve professional newspaper men, representing different departments of the profession, will be speakers and judges at the fourth annual convention of the Mississippi Valley High School Press Association, when it assembles here today.

Mr. George Carmack, Mrs. Dixon Robinson, Mr. Jack Bryan, and Mr. Clark Porteous will discuss separate phases of journalism at the forum this afternoon. Tonight at the convention banquet Mr. W. C. Teague will speak.

The forum tomorrow will be conducted by Mr. Robert Grey, Mr. Robert Talley, Mr. David Bloom, and Mr. Early Maxwell, while Mr. Dayton Moore, Mr. Ewing Johnson, and Mr. Luther Southworth will be judges in the contests for best high school newspapers.

Mr. Carmack, who will lead the discussion on general news this afternoon, has been since 1930 the managing editor of the Memphis Press-Scimitar. A native of Troy, Tennessee, and a graduate of the University of Tennessee, he has been university correspondent for the Knoxville Sentinel and a member of the staff of the old Memphis Evening Appeal.

Mr. Bryan, whose topic will be interviews, now does special assignments and theatricals for the Press-Scimitar. He originally lived in Evansville, Indiana, from where he went to DePauw University in Greencastle, Indiana. Before graduating, in 1924, he was associate editor of the college paper and a member of Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary journalistic fraternity. From 1924 to 1926 he was in China as secretary to Bishop George R. Grose. He took an M.A. at Harvard in 1927 where he was secretary to the professor of English, Dr. Charles T. Copeland. Then for four years before coming to Memphis, he was a member of the staff of the Knoxville Sentinel.

Mrs. Dixon Robinson, the former Mary Allie Taylor, will lead the social news forum. She is associate society editor of the Press-Scimitar where she has worked since 1935. She graduated from Southwestern in 1933 where she was a feature writer on the Sou'wester.

Mr. Porteous, a native of Laurel, Mississippi, will discuss reporting. He was editor of the Sou'wester his senior year here, and holds the college record for the mile run. Working on the Press-Scimitar since 1934, he has covered the Tupelo tornado and a national scoop, the crash of the airliner Southerner.

Mr. Teague, the speaker tonight, graduated from Vanderbilt where he was a Phi Beta Kappa. He worked on the literary magazine Observer there and also on the annual staff. He taught for twelve years in various prep schools and wrote for the Nashville Banner and Tennessean. At present he is a news commentator and chief editorial writer for the Commercial Appeal.

Mr. Maxwell, who will discuss promotion on the Friday forum, is now promotions editor of the Commercial Appeal. A Memphian, he edited the Tech High Technician in 1923 when it was adjudged the best high school paper in the United States. He was earlier editor of the Central High paper and manager of the Memphis professional football team.

Mr. Bloom, the sports editor of the Commercial Appeal, will talk on sports writing. A native of Memphis, he attended the University of Virginia where he wrote for the paper. He has for 12 years covered thoroughly every Southwestern sport.

The radio editor of the Commercial Appeal, Mr. Robert Gray, will have as a subject in the Friday forum radio and newspaper. A graduate of Mississippi College in 1932, and the Missouri University journalism school, he has written for the Clarksdale Daily News, the Jackson, Mississippi, Clarion Led-

AD CONTEST

The winners of last week's Ad-Watching contest, sponsored by the Sou'wester are John Farley, Leroy Kirby, and Dub Worthington. The contest will be continued each week for the remainder of the school year. The prize is one pass to a downtown theater to the first three students turning in a COMPLETE list of misspelled words to Ed. McCormick.

1. All answers must be in by Tuesday at 1:00 P.M.
2. The members of the business staff of the Sou'wester staff are excluded from the contest.

MONK, McQUEEN WRITE ARTICLES

Will Appear in Literary and Mathematical Journals

Professors M. L. McQueen, professor of mathematics, and S. H. Monk of the English department, will have articles published in mathematical and literary journals respectively during the coming months, it was announced today.

One of Professor McQueen's publications will appear in the Tohoku Mathematical Journal, published by the Tohoku Imperial University at Sendai, Japan. It is titled "Plane Sections Through a Line L1 of a Surface." The other, a paper read at the annual meeting of the American Mathematical Society meeting in Chicago last month, will appear in the Journal of the American Mathematical Society. It is a joint paper, written by Professor McQueen and Professor E. P. Lane of the University of Chicago, and is entitled "Surfaces Whose Asymptotic Curves Are Twisted Cubics."

Professor Monk's contribution will be included in the summer issue of the Southern Review, published at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana. It will be a review of some of the critical books written in the past few years. Among the books to be considered are Beach "The Concept of Nature in 19th Century Poetry"; Barnard, "Shelley's Religion"; Lowes, "Essays in Appreciation"; Hillhouse, "Waverley Novels and Their Critics"; and Watkins, "Johnson and the English Poets Before 1660." The last named author was a professor in Southwestern during the year 1927-1928.

PROF. C. P. LEE TO DIRECT PLAYERS IN MORAL DRAMA

"Everyman" To Be Given
May 11, 18, 19

FINAL PRODUCTION

Expensive Costumes Have Been Designed

By CLAUDIA YERGER

The play, "Everyman," to be given by the Southwestern Players, under the direction of Professor C. P. Lee, on May 17, 18, and 19, is the final production of the college year.

"Everyman" is one of the most justly celebrated of all the old English dramas. A popular morality play of the fifteenth century, it is based upon an earlier Dutch story of the same title. It has achieved unusual popularity in modern times, since its revival in Austria and Germany by the Austrian playwright, Hugo Von Hofmannsthal.

The scene is represented by a simple stage setting suggesting the world at large. The theme of the play is the summoning of Everyman by Death, and the story tells of how God "sendeth death to summon every creature to come and give account of their lives in this world." Everyman finds that no one of his friends except Good Deeds will accompany him.

The elaborate costumes, designed by Professor Lee and executed by the Memphis Costume and Regalia Company, will be an outstanding feature of the play. A number of the costumes will be exact reproductions of medieval dresses, and some were designed originally for the characters. One unique dress has a skirt composed of fifteen yards of material, richly brocaded.

The play will be presented on the campus, just north of Palmer Hall. Work on the large open-air stage is progressing rapidly. Several of the scenes will require trick lighting. The success of scenes representing angels in heaven and Death will depend entirely upon the lighting effects.

Rick Mays, a recent addition to the previously announced cast, will join Strength, Beauty, Knowledge, and the other abstract characters as Fellowship.

"Noah's Flood," which was to have been given as a "curtain-raiser," has been cancelled, due to difficulty in casting.

During the 1936-37 session, Professor Lee has selected plays which did not require expensive stage settings. Through this economy he has acquired a large supply of equipment, worth around $250.00, which includes spot and foot lights, a portable stage, costumes, curtains, and material for back-drops. With this supply available for use next year, any money may be used in the future for royalties. A play by Dion Boucicault, a nineteenth century playwright, will probably be selected for the first performance of next year. It will be either "After Dark or Neither Maid, Wife, Nor Widow", or "Streets of New York or Poverty Is No Crime."

KA'S CHOOSE HEADS FOR YEAR 1937-1938

The election of new officers for the Kappa Alpha fraternity for the year 1937-1938 was held at the regular meeting, Monday evening, April 26. Those elected were: Hotchkiss Young, president; Fred Dickson, vice-president; Wendell Whittemore, second vice-president; William McBurney, secretary. Other officers chosen were William Maddox, P. S. Weaver, Mac DeMere, Hank Walker, and John Conway.

HIGH SCHOOL PRESS DELEGATES

Welcome to Southwestern for the fourth Mississippi Valley High School Press Association convention. We hope that you will find your stay here in Memphis a pleasant and a profitable one.

As guests of the college, we invite you to visit any or all of our buildings and to make yourselves entirely at home on our campus. We wish you to feel free to call on any member of the faculty or student body to assist you in any way possible.

The program has been arranged solely for your benefit and instruction, and we believe that you should be able to learn much about journalism at this meeting. Again we invite you to make yourselves at home. We heartily welcome you.

OUR CHAPEL SERVICE

From time to time during the past months we have called attention deplorably to the conduct of the students during the chapel program. We have reminded them of the nature and purpose of this service and asked their aid in making it all that it should be. Now, largely due to the plan introduced by the Christian Union Cabinet, a noticeable improvement is evident in the conduct and spirit of the chapel service.

In a letter to the editor printed elsewhere in this paper, the Senior class has commended the program improvement. Having made so favorable a beginning, it would be exceedingly bad to lapse back into the old evil of misbehavior and thoughtlessness.

We would like to make a suggestion which we think will prove worthy of notice by all of us in the future. The most noticeable disturbance at present is the flurry occasioned by the replacing of the song books under the seats after the singing of a hymn. Perhaps we should have said "during the singing of a hymn," because invariably, the last bar or two of the song is disturbed by a widespread bending over followed by numerous loud thumps as the books hit the bottom of their respective holders.

FORMER HEADS OF SOU'WESTER ARE PROMINENT IN NEWS FIELDS

By MURRAH GATTIS

There have been numerous Sou'wester editors who have made noteworthy progress in their journalistic pursuits after leaving college. It is impossible to give complete data concerning all of them; but most of these have advanced to such enviable positions that their names need only be mentioned and one will know who they are and where they are employed at present.

Perhaps the man who has made the greatest name for himself in the newspaper world is Harper Leech, who graduated in the class of '04 and was the editor of the Journal while in college. After leaving college he worked up to become editor of The Memphis Press from 1911-16. Then he became Washington correspondent for Scripps' papers; after a few years he edited the Denver Express for two years. For a number of years after 'his work out west he worked as a "free lance" reporter. He has written a fine assortment of pamphlets on journalism, a collection of which is now in the library. At present Mr. Leech is on the executive board of the Commercial Appeal.

Luther Southworth, who is one of the judges for the MVHSPA program now being held, is on the copy desk of the Press-Scimitar. He was the only editor of the Sou'wester for four years. When Southwestern came to Memphis from Clarksville, the editor was too busy with other work to edit the paper also. So Freshman Southworth became the self-appointed editor. He had been working for the Press-Scimitar before he entered college; so his experience gave him an advantage over other students. He held the editorship for four years, 1925-29.

John Russell Cross, '21, has made a record for himself as a cartoonist. For the past eight years he has been on the staff of The Nashville Banner and the Tennessean. He is also making noteworthy progress in commercial advertising.

Clark Porteous, the editor in '33-'34, is now general assignment reporter on the Press-Scimitar. He has made a remarkable record for a young reporter, and at present holds the highest position that a reporter can have. He is another of the speakers on the convention program.

Thomas Fuller is the youngest of former journalists who have achieved success in the newspaper world. He was the editor of the paper last year while a junior; now, while still attending classes, he is filling the position of rewrite man for the Commercial Appeal.

Jimmie Meadow, '35, is now head of the publicity department at the University of Mississippi. Perhaps no one has made a name so quickly after leaving college. He assisted Editor George McLean on the Tupelo Journal, and this paper made such noticeable strides toward perfection that the editor was recently acclaimed by the Nation for outstanding journalism.

No student can be too proud of these men who are now the eyes and ears for great newspapers. Other editors have followed journalism for a while, but they did not make it their life work; this was written to show our appreciation of what Lynx alumni have done in journalism; so there is no need to mention others. We give credit where credit is due: to men who have "achieved fame on mortal soil."

SIX INDUCTED BY ALPHA THETA PHI

Dinner, Dance At Peabody Compliment New Members

Alpha Theta Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity, initiated six new members last night. Following the ritual service in the Jacobean Room at Hotel Peabody, the new members were complimented with a banquet and dance. The new members are Gerald Burrow, Louis Donelson, Dorothy Givens, Eldridge Armistead, James Henderson, and Wave McFadden.

Dr. S. H. Monk, who founded the fraternity when a student at Southwestern, was an honored guest at the banquet, held in the Pompeian Room. Dr. O. W. Hyman, dean of the University of Tennessee Medical School, was guest speaker. The table was decorated in black and red, with a centerpiece of spring flowers in a silver epergne.

Following the banquet, members and guests went to the dance in the Samover Room. Officers of the fraternity and dates were: Herbert Cain, president; Frank Oliver Goodlett, secretary-treasurer; John Farley, executive chairman, with Virginia Jett; Douglas Johnston, social chairman, with Ann Potts.

The new initiates and guests were Mr. Burrow with Betty Foley; Mr. Donelson with Frances Manire; Miss Givens with escort; Mr. Armistead with Betty Wells; Mr. Henderson with date; Mr. McFadden with Ann Roper.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Starting Saturday, May 1, the Orpheum Theatre offers its patrons a week's engagement of that famous stage attraction, Revue Folies d'Amour direct from a series of engagements in the leading cities of the United States and Canada carrying a star studded cast of international artists including the Novelle brothers, those two funny birds; Wilfred Dubois, jongleur extraordinaire; Sid Walker, maestro of mirth direct from a series of picture engagements, Les Curries, dance stylist in the smart manner; Milton Blakely, golden voiced tenor whose silver tones have thrilled thousands over the air lanes; Mlle. Janis Janice, gay French soubrette; Mlle. Louise Glenn, petite ballerina; Mlle. Sally et Bobo, whose act will delight all children from six to sixty and many others.

That isn't all, next are the Parisian Melodians who not only are lovely to look at but who offer a sterling variety of that latest rhythm craze, "Swing Music," in a series of arrangements made especially for them by Earl Hines, Fletcher Henderson and Fats Waller.

No expense has been spared to make Revue Folies d'Amour the most lavishly staged, gorgeously costumed revue touring the picture houses today.

JOURNAL WILL BE OUT MAY 15

All Contributions Due By End Of Week

The Southwestern Journal is scheduled to appear on May 15, Frank Oliver Goodlett, editor, announced today. All contributions must be in before the first of next week.

The 1937 issue of the Journal will present a wide variety of subjects, making it entirely different from the Journals of the past years. Formerly the articles in this publication dealt only with poetry and the discussion of literature. However, the current issue will contain not only short poems but also short stories and articles on local and college history. There will be a number of humorous features written by Southwestern students. Heretofore only material of a serious nature has been published in the Journal, but Goodlett feels that more interest will be excited if the spring issue is spiced with Southwestern wit and humor. This will present quite a contrast to the uniform seriousness of former issues. Another change that has been made is in the size and cover of the Journal; these are to be entirely different.

All students who have not submitted manuscripts that they intend to should do so before the first of next month.

Letters to the Editor

April 27, 1937.

Dear Editor: The senior class has this morning met and passed by a unanimous vote the following resolution which I forward to you.

Resolved that: The senior class approves wholeheartedly the chapel improvement program recently inaugurated by the Christian Union Cabinet. We feel that with the cooperation of the student body this will be a lasting and valuable improvement.

Respectfully, WM. BETHEA, President, Senior Class.

CHOIR TO MAKE TRIP TO TUPELO

Will Sing At Service On Sunday, May 9

An overnight trip to Tupelo, Mississippi, where they will sing at a service Sunday, May 9, has been arranged for the members of the Southwestern choir by Rev. S. E. Howie, alumni secretary and director of public relations. There will probably be one or two en route stops. The acceptance of this arrangement will depend upon the attendance at rehearsals until that time. Says Prof. Tuthill, choir director, "I will not hesitate to cancel the trip at the last minute if the interest of the choir members does not enable us to do our best work when representing Southwestern on the road."

Plans are also being considered for the presentation of a number of campus concerts by the Southwestern band during May. Definite dates for these concerts will be announced in the near future.

We can't make ourselves happy by making others unhappy.

Chi Beta Phi Show To Be Held Tonight

Bugs, snakes, frogs and the myriad inhabitants of the biology laboratory will be seen around the science building tonight at 7:30 P.M. when Chi Beta Phi, national scientific fraternity, entertains the public with another of its scientific shows. This, the third, is the current series of demonstrations, will be devoted to the exposition of biological phenomena.

Among the exhibits in the show will be collections of invertebrate animals, insects, frog, pig and human embryos, several series of microscope slides made and in the making, plant collections, and a "Chamber of Horrors." This last will consist of some of the more spectacular of biological features.

Several reels of movie film will be shown during the course of the evening, and a lecture and exhibit of a collection of snakes and amphibious animals from all over the Mid-South will be featured. This last will be given by Malcolm V. Parker, Southwestern, '36.

REGIONAL TRACK MEET TO BE AT FARGASON FIELD

Competition Begins At 2 P.M. Saturday

20 SCHOOLS COMPETE

Qualifying Trials Will Be In The Morning

By J. P. QUANTHY

Fargason Field will be the scene of the annual West Tennessee Regional Track Meet to be held Saturday at 2 P.M. Preliminaries in the running events and other qualifying trials will be held Saturday morning beginning at 10.

Athletes from over twenty schools will gather at Southwestern as the guests of Tech High School and the Lynx. Last year, at the meet held at Covington, Tech High of Memphis won with Central High of Memphis placing second.

According to Coach Harold High, mentor of the Yellowjacket defending champions, the Tech boys do not have as good a chance of winning the meet again as they did last year. "I hope we win," he said; "but it will be a much harder job than it was last year." Tech has one outstanding star however, J. C. Ray, who will bring in points certainly. Ray ran the quarter in 52 seconds to help win the district meet, held at Whitehaven last week, for Tech. Ray also runs a fast hundred and 220. Todd in the low hurdles and Keltner in the discus and shot are likely to help Tech along considerably.

Memphis Central High and Whitehaven are strong contenders for the title this year. Central finished next to Tech, with Whitehaven placing third in last week's District Meet. Billy Joy is the start sprinter for the Central Warriors, winning the district title in the 220 yard dash. Tommy Harrison and Bill Kinsey, Joy's teammates on the Warrior team, both placed second in the pole vault and quarter, respectively, in the same meet.

Whitehaven had two winners, Al Moore in the high hurdles; and Prentis Lewis in the pole vault, in the District Meet. Jimmy Blakely, a surprising sophomore, has good form for the Tigers in the mile. Stonewall Van Hook is Whitehaven's choice in the broad jump and high jump.

The Whitehaven Tigers are coached by John Barnes, recent Lynx star in the pole vault and high jump. "My boys folded up a little in the District Meet, but we can depend on them Saturday," he said.

Other Shelby County schools besides Whitehaven to enter the meet are Germantown, Collierville, Bartlett, and Millington.

Ripley and Covington consistently send a powerful team to the meet. Other Tennessee schools to enter the meet are Alamo, Union City, Fulton, Dyersburg, Jackson and Brownsville.

CHI O'S LEAD VOLLEY BALL

The girls' intramural volley ball tournament is approaching the end, with the Chi Omega team in the lead, so far undefeated. Each team, with the exception of Tri-Delta, has played four games and has one more to play. Zeta Tau Alpha and N. Y. A. hold second place, with two wins and two losses. Tri Delta has won two games and lost one. Kappa Delta and A. O. Pi have each won one game and lost three.

MINNESOTA Z-MAN GETS GIRL

Advertisement Brings Results in a Big Way

The Z-man at the University of Minnesota got more than he expected when he ran this add in The Minnesota Daily:

Wanted—Girl for fraternity party Saturday. Blonde, 5 feet 5 inches, good-looking, good dancer. Gl. 2133, "Z."

Reporters phoned Gladstone 2133 time and again in an attempt to get the lowdown on the Z-man, but the line was busy.

"He was sort of nice looking," was all the girl who took the ad could supply.

And the Z-man got his girl. "They kept the telephone pretty hot," he admitted, and complimented The Daily for getting out and reaching the public.

"I've found out that girls in Minnesota are more skeptical than girls in Montana. I had a hard time convincing some of them it wasn't a gag. They just called up to shoot the bull a while. I'm always willing to do that, of course, but I was really sincere about getting a date for the party. Everything's fixed up now, though," he said.

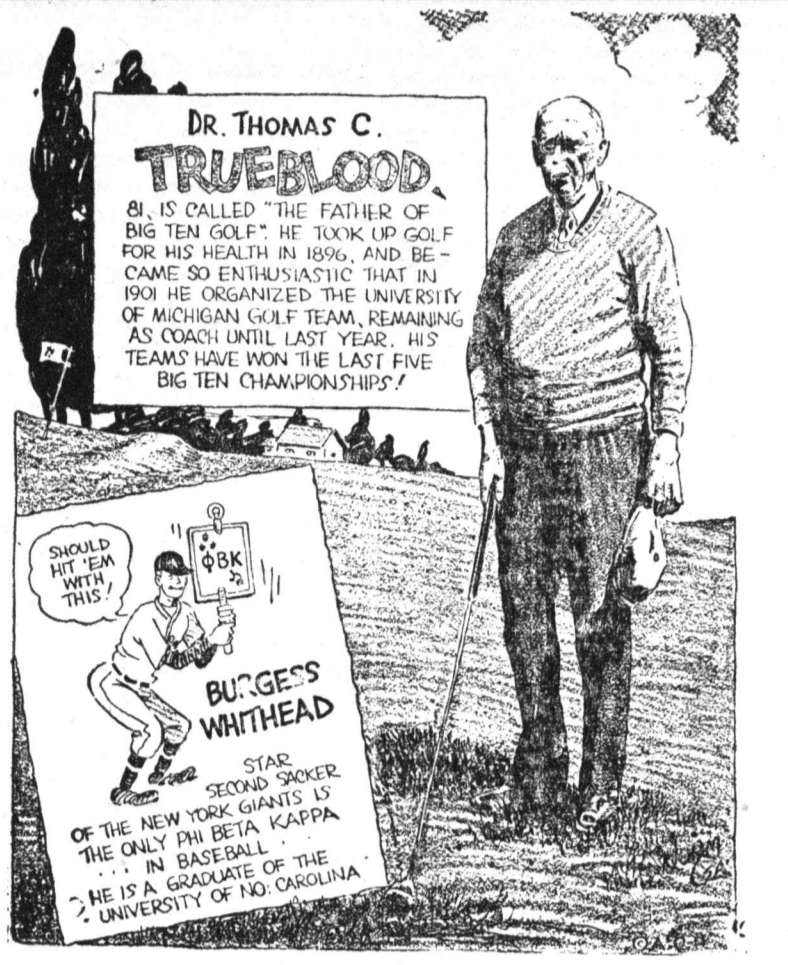

"Hope you have a nice time," put in the reporter.

"Yeah, I think I will—she's got a car."

The first annual Mississippi Valley High School Press Convention was held March 2 and 3, 1934. The idea of having such a conclave was originated by Dr. A. S. McIlwaine with the approval of Dr. Chas. E. Diehl, president of Southwestern, and Dean A. T. Johnson. Conducted under the sponsorship of the Press Club and directed by Clark Porteus, editor of the Sou'wester, and Dr. McIlwaine, the first convention was a great success. Fifty-one delegates were present representing twenty-eight high schools in Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama, and Kentucky.

Paul Pierce, editor of the Greenville, Miss., "Pica", was elected president; Mary Maxwell Lynch of Pine Bluff, Ark., was chosen vice-president, and Felder Heflin of Memphis, secretary-treasurer. Miss Lynch's paper, the "Pine Cone", received the first prize donated by the Commercial Appeal. David Bloom of the Commercial Appeal staff and Editor E. J. Meeman and Luther Southworth of the Press-Scimitar were featured speakers.

The second year of its existence, the convention was held March 29 and 30, 1935. Jimmie Meadow, editor of the Sou'wester of that year, and Prof. C. G. Siefkin conducted the meeting. Dr. McIlwaine was at the University of Chicago working on his Ph.D. degree. The attendance doubled with a hundred and ten editors and staff members present. Andrew Meyers, editor of the Tech High "Yellow Jacket", and present Southwestern track star, was elected president. Josephine Abbott of New Albany, Miss., and Jo Whittlesey of the Knoxville "Blue and White" were chosen vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

The Greenville "Pica" again won first place among the Class "A" papers, with the New Albany "Maroon and White" winning in the supplement division. Entertainment features included a tea given by the Women's Panhellenic Council and a meeting with the Stylus Club of Sigma Upsilon, honorary literary society. Many delegates remained Saturday night to witness the gala April Fool's Carnival, an annual Southwestern fete.

Last year the convention was held May 2 and 3 under the supervision of Tommy Fuller, editor of the Sou'wester, and Prof. Siefkin. Ted Northington of the Commercial Appeal and Clark Porteus of the Press-Scimitar and former Sou'wester editor, were featured speakers. Discussion groups were held in which the delegates actively participated. These groups, after much heated argument, passed a resolution by which the 1936 convention went on record as believing that high school papers should be absolutely free from faculty supervision. A committee composed of Elizabeth Hurley of the Central "Warrior", Harold Burson of Humes High, Archie Martin of McComb, Miss., and Margaret Wilson of Clarksville, Tenn., drew up the resolution.

This year Lauren Watson, editor of the Sou'wester, and Dr. McIlwaine, the original sponsor of the convention, are in charge of arrangements. As Dr. McIlwaine jokingly phrases it, "his baby has bounced back in his lap." The 1937 convention is expected to be even larger than the previous ones and to further promote interest in and the quality of high school papers.

TRACK, LITERARY MEET HELD HERE

Contests In Music, Drama and Athletics

The annual West Tennessee High School Literary and Track Meet will be held at Southwestern on May 1. Southwestern will be host to the musical and academic division, which begins at 9:30 and will close before 1:00 o'clock. The track division, with Tech High School as host, will be held in the afternoon on Fargason Field.

The music and dramatic events will take place simultaneously. The music events, which will be held in Hardie Auditorium, include piano, cornet, trombone, clarinet, saxophone, tuba, baritone, and three chorus contests: Girls, boys, and mixed. The dramatic events include declamation and two expression contests: dramatic and humorous. Typing contests will be held for first and second year typing students at Tech High School. Transportation will be furnished to Tech by Southwestern. This event begins at 10:00 o'clock.

All types of merit will be fully recognized by the judges, who have been secured by Professor Burnet C. Tuthill and Professor C. P. Lee, of Southwestern, and Mr. J. L. Highsaw, of Tech High School. It has been decided to award certificates instead of prizes in recognition of excellence in the academic events.

The Southwestern Service Club will furnish guides on the campus to direct contestants to the places at which their events will take place. The Service Club will also direct parking on University to prevent confusion.

Participants in all events are appointed by the principal of each high school in the regional division of West Tennessee, who have the privilege of selecting one entrant from each school to take part in each of the various contests.

Nothing will ruin an interesting intellectual argument quicker than the arrival of a pretty girl.

SCIENCE GROUP TO MEET HERE

Dr. Bircher, Of Vanderbilt, Will Preside

Southwestern will be host to the fortieth meeting of Tennessee Academy of Science May 7-8, 1937. The session will be presided over by Dr. Louis J. Bircher, of Vanderbilt University at Nashville, Tennessee.

Speakers on the programs will be eminent scientists from various colleges in Tennessee. Freed-Hardman College, George Peabody College for Teachers, the University of Tennessee Medical School, Vanderbilt and Southwestern will be represented. Among the demonstrations listed will be one by Malcolm V. Parker, Southwestern graduate of 1936, on the reptiles and amphibia of Reelfoot Lake.

There will be three regular sessions during the meeting—two on Friday and one on Saturday. In addition there will be a special physics section, on Friday afternoon.

The officers of the Academy, in addition to Dr. Bircher, are: Dr. Peyton N. Rhodes, Southwestern, vice-president; Dr. John T. McGill, Vanderbilt, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Jesse M. Shaver, Peabody, editor.

Sportspotlight

By JOHN QUANTHY

The Lynx are taking a pause as far as sports are concerned this week. And whether it refreshes them or not, I don't know; but I do know that it refreshes my memory concerning a minor observation at the Tulane-Lynx tussle in tennis. Were there something more important to elucidate about, it—I mean the observation—would in all probability be overlooked. But there isn't . . .

So it happens that the tennis playing of one Tom White, of the Lynx, is brought up for inspection. First, let me say that the playing of said Tom White may usually be okay. If it wasn't so he wouldn't be on the team. That is the "usual" playing of Tom White.

But I happened to watch the doubles match where White and Macon Smith were playing two Tulane racquetmen. Well, to put it simply, I think that White would have made the mummy of King Tut look like Micky Mouse with ants in his pants by the way he moved around over the court. To me he seemed simply not to give a darn; it seemed as if he could use a little of the iron that the twelve Lynx pigskinners are supposed to be made of. It seemed to me—and to several other spectators that were watching that particular match—that White had already made up his mind that they were going to lose and that he was acting accordingly.

Yet Macon Smith tells me that White can turn back the men just below him on the Lynx team in straight sets. But in a deluge of words Smith goes on to explain White's weakness. Boiled down it simply amounts to this: White hasn't got the speed for passing shots at the baseline and he hasn't got the overhead game needed at the net. Therefore when playing with Smith, there is at least one opening on the court. For contrast, take Dunlap Cannon. Cannon is fast and shifty enough to get from the baseline to the net in a flash. When at the baseline, his passing shots are good; when at the net his overheads are hard and accurate.

So you see, it may be that I am all wet when I say that White wasn't trying Monday. Well, perhaps White is a pretty good actor; it may be that he only LOOKED like he was bored with the whole thing.

By the way, Woody Butler displays the essence of sportsmanship on the tennis courts. It was a close one that hit just outside of Butler's court. "Out," said the umpire. "I think it was in," said Butler. The spectators agreed with the umpire; so Butler had to be content with winning the point.

Fargason Field will be the scene of the annual West Tennessee Regional Track Meet Saturday. Some twenty

7 INTRAMURAL AWARDS GIVEN

One Man Selected From Each Fraternity

Selection of the winners of the individual intramural awards for the 1936-1937 season is announced by the Intramural Board today. The winners are Andy Myers, Kappa Sigma; Preston Marion, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Wallace Mayton, Alpha Tau Omega; Wendell Whittemore, Kappa Alpha; and Douglas Johnston, Pi Kappa Alpha. The Sigma Nu and the non-fraternity winners have not yet been selected. Norman Shapiro, student intramural athletic director, will also receive one of the awards.

Each competing group in the Intramural Athletic Association selected one of its members, presumably the most valuable to the group in intramural athletics, as the recipient of the honor. These men will receive either a sweater or a coat, similar to the ones awarded in past years. It is expected that they will be presented before the close of the semester instead of during the following semester, as was the custom.

Inflated promises are usually followed by deflated performances.

high schools will send their star athletes to dig up the cinders in running events and throw the weights around. For those who are interested in a close meet, this particular one should satisfy them completely.

As for me, I will string along with last year's winners, the Tech High Yellowjackets. But Memphis Central, Whitehaven, Ripley, Union City and one or two others, may easily stage what we call—at least we'll certainly call it that if it happens—an upset.

WOMEN'S TENNIS MATCHES BEGUN

The girls' tennis tournament is entering its second week, with two more weeks to run. Under the new step-ladder arrangement, each girl must play two games per week, challenging one of the two girls either above or below her name. By this system, each girl endeavors to reach the top of the ladder or to hold her position. If any girl fails to play both of the required two matches each week, she is automatically dropped to a position below the girls who have played. The tournament ends on May 8, when the girls on the top eight rungs of the ladder play for the championship.

TEXAS STUDENTS REVENGE ON PROF

Old Man Opportunity beating a knock-down tattoo couldn't even get a certain University of Texas professor to open the door once the bell has rung and the class has begun.

Likewise, all late students are barred. They might just as well go home as try to force the locked door.

Annoyed at his unusual procedure, members of the class burned inwardly and waited for a chance to get back at him.

"We'll have an exam during our next lecture meeting," announced the professor not long ago.

On the day of the test, all the students were in their seats long before the ten o'clock bell rang. But no professor. Two minutes passed. Hurried footsteps sounded in the corridor, but before they stopped at the door, one of the revenge-seekers had turned the lock.

Ignoring the pounding, students stayed in their seats. Five minutes later they all went home.

Improvement is usually the last resort.

CATS MEET OLE MISS TENNISERS

Lynx Must Change Policy To Get Results

The Southwestern tennis team will meet the University of Mississippi on the Southwestern courts Saturday. This will mark the fourth start of the Lynx this year. The "Ole Miss" team is unusually strong and will keep the Lynx Cats fighting for every match. Despite the strength of the Mississippi team the Lynx will be favored to win due to the showing made against Tulane.

Despite the recent setbacks the Lynx have a much stronger team than generally considered. Much has been said about the strength of the teams of the past. This is all true. In the past five years the Southwestern team has been defeated three times: twice by Tulane and once by Sewanee. This strength won them recognition over the entire south. Since then times have changed. Tennis has progressed to such an extent in recent years in the colleges of the country that it has been accepted as a major sport. This means that the college tennis players of today are aided in their tuition just as football players are. For this reason the good players are being sought out by tennis coaches of the large schools. This explains why we have no more first class players who have been seasoned by competition since an early age, such as Dick Dunlap, Barefield, Cannon, etc., who enter Southwestern. These men have been sought out by the larger colleges. Unless Southwestern adopts this policy the teams representing the Lynx will slip into mediocrity and soon will be unable to represent Southwestern on equal terms with their competitors.

Despite the defeat by Tulane the

COWS' PICTURES IRK COLLEGE COEDS

Morgantown, W. Va.—(ACP)—Photographs of cud-chewing milch cows instead of those of sixteen lovely coeds competing for the title of Miss West Virginia looked up at readers of the Shampain, humorous publication of West Virginia University.

Sizzling with anger at Editor Frank Neill's picture substitution, females held three hectic indignation meetings within the 24-hour period after the magazine was distributed.

The whole controversy hinged on the fact that in order to cast a vote for the beauty queen, a choice of one of the sixteen, a student would have to purchase a copy of the Shampain.

Editor Neill ran the cow photographs because the coeds and their dean, Ruth E. Noer, objected to the publication of the girls' pictures as "commercialization of beauty."

Fellows who honk horns in front of sorority houses, who ignore opinions of girls qualified to give them, and who wear dirty cords or neckless sweaters without ties are the peevish coeds at Oregon State College, or anywhere else for that matter.

Good criticism encourages good work.

Lynx team is on the up and up. Cannon and Butler are always strong. Smith has been improving with each match and looks like a pretty good bet. White is beginning to settle down. All in all the team is much stronger than at the beginning of the season and should win all of its remaining matches.

LYNX DEFEATED BY GREEN WAVE

Tulane Netters Win Five Matches To One

The Southwestern tennis team was defeated by the Green Wave of Tulane last Monday by the score of five matches to one on the Southwestern tennis courts. Despite the superior opposition the Lynx team fought every inch of the way.

Dunlap Cannon, playing in the key position of the Lynx team, was defeated by Ernest Sutter of Tulane by the score of 6-2, 6-4. Woody Butler of the Lynx was taken by Abrams 6-4, 6-3.

The lovers of paradoxes will be pleased to learn of the peculiar match between Macon Smith of the Lynx and Doyle of the Green Wave. Doyle won the match by the score of 6-3, 0-6, 6-4. The peculiarity lies in the fact that Smith, in trying for an upset, won more games than Doyle, for Smith won thirteen and Doyle won twelve. This match was the closest of the singles encounters.

Tom White was overshadowed by Westerfield 6-1, 6-3.

The doubles were marked by the only Lynx victory. Cannon and Butler defeated Cheng and Westerfield in a brilliant three set match. Smith and White were defeated by Doyle and Phelps, 7-5, 6-3.

Curiosity makes people interesting and successful.
