DONELSON HIGH IN FROSH TESTS

McLemore 16th In Nation Last Year

Results of the Classification Tests given to freshmen and transfer students September 16 have produced another crop of "studies" with records that will be hard to live up to.

The first twelve freshmen are:

1. William Donelson
2. Richard Stewart
3. Josephine Daniels
4. John Pond
5. Jamie McNabb
6. David Osborn
7. Priscilla Shumaker
8. Mary Hunt
9. William McBurney
10. Doris Cullings
11. John Woolsey
12. Ralph Bethea

Scores were so close among the last that twelve names were given instead of the customary ten.

Transfer students making excellent scores were Anne Spence and Polly Jane Cohen.

These tests are given in about 250 colleges. They are prepared by the American Council of Education in Washington.

Flash! News from Washington! Results of the final computation of last year's tests shows that Thomas McLemore is in the upper one-tenth of one percent of college students in America. Only fifteen students out of the 56,895 who took tests last year made higher scores.

SANHEDRIN MEN ENFORCE RULES

Prewitt Directs Council In Restrictive Legislation

The Sanhedrin Council, under the capable direction of High Priest Warren Prewitt, has been functioning very effectively so far this semester. The freshmen have been wearing their name-placards and straw hats since Saturday and have been obeying the rules laid down by the council unusually well. Freshmen should realize that the Sanhedrin Council is not just an organization to impose hardships on the freshmen but rather to help the freshmen and acquaint them with campus life. At present the council is considering a new rule which will limit representation at all tower-room meetings to two representatives from each fraternity. The purpose of this change would be to have the meetings conducted in a more orderly manner without losing any of the effectiveness.

The rules of the Sanhedrin Council at present are:

1. Freshmen must wear straw hats until the varsity football team wins three games. These hats are to be worn everywhere that the freshmen go.
2. Freshmen must not walk on the grass anywhere on the campus.
3. Freshmen must speak to all upperclassmen and learn the names of as many of the upperclassmen as possible.
4. Freshmen must carry matches for the use of upperclassmen.
5. Freshmen must know all the verses of the Alma Mater and be able to sing it on any occasion. They must also know the words of the song "Hail, Southwestern, Hail."
6. Freshmen must attend all the home football games.
7. Freshmen must use the south entrance of Palmer Hall upon all occasions.
8. Freshmen must be courteous and respectful to all upperclassmen.

Faculty Adds 5 New Professors; 3 Rhodes Scholars; McIlwaine Back

New Coach And Director of Public Relations Also Take Places On Southwestern Staff

Five new professors, three of them Rhodes scholars, are included in Southwestern's faculty for the session 1936-37. In addition, the coaching staff has taken on a new incumbent; a former professor has resumed active teaching and a newly created post has been filled with a non-Southwesterner.

Mr. F. E. C. Caspari, the new assistant professor of modern languages, is a native of Germany, where he finished the course at the "Gymnasium" at Heidelberg, concluding this training by taking the Abitur examination. After some banking experience in London, he returned to Germany and entered the University of Heidelberg, attending courses on law, political science, and economics.

Appointed to a Rhodes scholarship, Mr. Caspari continued this general course of study at the University of Oxford, England. After one year there he passed the examination required for a Diploma of Economics and Political Science. From Oxford he has the degree of B. Litt. with a thesis on the influence of the Renaissance on the English conception of the state. He has travelled extensively in Germany, France, Italy, Great Britain, and the northern European countries.

A native of Pine Bluff, Ark., Mr. Clarence Pendleton Lee, Jr., is assistant professor of public speaking and director of dramatics. He received the degree of B.A. (cum laude) and M.A. in English from Washington and Lee University. For the last two years of his college course he was on the Dean's List and was elected to Omicron Delta Kappa. He entered the University of Oxford as Rhodes scholar from Arkansas, with senior standing.

Diehl Honored

At the final session of the annual conference of the Church-Related Colleges of the South, Dr. Charles E. Diehl, president of Southwestern at Memphis, was elected chairman of the organization.

Y. W. C. A. DRIVE BEGINS MONDAY

The annual membership campaign of Y. W. C. A. begins Monday, Sept. 28, and all new girls interested are invited to become members. It will also be necessary for all old girls to renew their memberships. Dues per semester are 50c and they may be paid to any of the following girls: Sarah Gracey, President; Elizabeth Cobb, Vice-President; Dorothy Givens, Secretary, and Harriet Pond, Treasurer.

The first regular meeting is planned for Thursday, Oct. 1, and promises to be an interesting one. It will be a supper at the Campus Hearth. Rev. Millard will be the guest speaker.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS FORUM LISTED

Course Under Profs Junkin And Amacker Is Scheduled

Public Affairs Forum will be one of the most interesting courses offered to Southwestern students this year. This course is taught by Professors W. R. Junkin and D. M. Amacker. Text books will be used in the class and notes will be taken during the forum which will form individual text books. Students will be expected to give talks on current public affairs. These talks will be given before the class and will last from one to four minutes. The students will be required to use technical words and expressions.

Current event topics will be divided into domestic and international topics. The domestic events of America, Europe and the Far East will be in the first division. In the second will be international affairs based on balance of power, League of Nations, etc.

C. U. SPONSORS NAME CONTEST

New Hearth On Campus To Be Named

Lynx students will be given a chance to show their skill at the art of name giving next week when the Christian Union Cabinet will sponsor a contest to secure a name for its new campus hearth, the Southwestern Christian Union's latest contribution to the campus.

Contest blanks and rules will be found in the next issue of the Sou'wester, and the contest is to be open to all Southwestern students. A cash prize of five dollars will be awarded to the contestant submitting the most appropriate name.

Dr. Diehl, Robert Armstrong, and Elizabeth Cobb are the judges in the campus-wide contest. Their decision will be final. The name of the contest winner will be announced in the Sou'wester the following week.

The newly-completed hearth is ideally situated on the east side of the campus a hundred yards off North Parkway and lends both beauty and convenience to the campus. It is a permanent structure of stone and in keeping with the collegiate Gothic architecture of the other buildings on the campus.

It is designed for steak-frys and other evening gatherings of campus organizations, and the Cabinet invites all such organizations to make use of its splendid conveniences.

A calendar will be placed in the office of the Dean upon which reservations may be made.

Lynx Sponsors

Miss Rebecca Laughlin and Miss Rose Lynn Barnard have been chosen to be sponsors for Southwestern at the game with Union today.

The sponsors for each home game are selected by the seniors on the football team, each of whom nominates his choice. The selections will be made the week preceding each game played in Memphis.

RED AND BLACK OUT TO AVENGE LAST YEAR'S TIE

Teams To Meet At 8 P.M.
In Crump Stadium

TAPP NOT TO PLAY

Bulldogs' Loss To Ole Miss
Means Little

Southwestern will exhibit a virtually untried edition of the Lynx tonight at 8 P.M. when the Bulldogs of Union tangle with the Lynxcats at Crump Stadium.

In spite of the Lynx's scalping of the Arkansas State Indians, and in spite of the Bulldogs' deep bow to the Ole Miss Rebels, the game is slated to be of doubtful outcome until the final whistle. The Indians could scarcely be considered a test for the Lynx, while the Bulldogs were certainly conserving strength for this week's tussle when they retreated before the assault of the Flood.

Coach Clyde "Shorty" Propst & Co. have called for long drills designed to polish up passing, timing and deception. Improvement in these phases of the game appeared certain yesterday as the Lynx took a warming-up scrimmage.

Coach Propst will depend heavily on passing, counting on Hartwell Morton, Jimmie "Horse" Sasser, and Howard McKenzie to do the tossing. Gaylon Smith will be given plenty of chances to reel off more of his customary long jaunts. McKenzie and Sasser will bear watching when the ball is snapped to them.

After much experimentation, Coach Propst has discovered a speedy combination for the backfield, including Clay Nickells at quarter, Will Rhea Winfrey at full, with Howard McKenzie and Jimmie Sasser at the halves. Winfrey was shifted to full in place of Neal Tapp, who knocked down a shoulder in the Indian game. Tapp will be sorely missed, especially in the capacity of punter and blocker. The punting will be taken over by Sasser and Winfrey. Orley Nettles and Porter Chappell will serve as "kicker-offers," both being expert in the art.

BIBLE CLASS REORGANIZED

Will Meet In Palmer Hall
Sunday Evening

The Men's Bible Class will hold its first meeting of the year in the Social Room of Palmer Hall on Sunday, September 27, from 6:30 till 7 o'clock. The evening's talk will be made by Dr. Shewmaker.

The Bible Class is being thoroughly reorganized with the assistance of Rev. Howie and Professor Gear. The aim is to furnish a program every Sunday evening which will be of peculiar interest to college men. The program for the year will consist of several series of related subjects presented by the best speakers obtainable from the faculty and from men of prominence in Memphis.

Several new features are being added. An open forum will be held after the meetings when desirable, since thought-provoking topics are to be the rule.

A musical program including a song leader, a quartet, and frequent special numbers is planned. The meetings will be prompt, to the point, and brief. All men students, both those in the dormitories and those living in town, are cordially invited to attend.

STUDES FOLLOW FALL; CAN SCHOOL BE FAR BEHIND?

Fall has fallen and studes gather on the campus telling tall tales of their vacation months. Mildred Poindexter seems to have won highest honors during the summer. She walked off with a beauty contest and will go to Dallas in October for her prize. Meanwhile Jack Pilkington is telling her the highlights of the Centennial as he divided his summer between there and Lexington.

Hardy claimed many a Southwestern ed and co-ed. Nell Thompson and Marjorie DeVall arrived minus bag and baggage, there to encounter Hil Lumpkin and Hartwell Morton holding down Wahpeton Inn, and Tommy Mitchell, and Carroll Clear of Carnival fame. Lou Chenault spent a week there but "has nothing to say to the press" concerning his activities. B. T. Hunt and Andy Myers were councilors at the Scout Camp until finding themselves in the midst of a small-sized Spanish rebellion.

The Chi O convention at the Greenbrier drew a number of the campus gals including Nancy Warden, Lib Pearce, Bebe Cavett, High Priestess Price, Claudia Yerger, and Rose Lynn Barnard. Jane Alvis, Frances Flournoy, Sarah Gracey, and Gladys Crump motored to the Zeta convention where they were voted the "Hillest Hill-Billies."

"Bedes" Breytspraak reports a hard-won wrestling match with a W.P.A. truck. Fred Bronson successfully covered two thousand miles on his trip to Canada only to burn out a bearing five miles from Memphis. He turned the tables on some Indiana State cops—caught them "borrowing" peaches from a lonely orchard. Mary Thweatt says a troublesome appendix rather cut up her summer plans so she and Dorothy Morgan covered the home scenes together. Johnny Watts didn't get enough of books during the winter so he ran a library all summer.

Neal Tapp and Henry Hammond had a strenuous vacation keeping their locks that certain fetching blonde shade. Rick Mays met Governor Leche of Louisiana in his evening finery of green pajamas and purple bathrobe. Gwen Robinson tripped off to Niagara Falls—with her boy friend's parents, strange to say, and Virginia Hoshall tried out her Spanish over a Mexican broadcasting station. Bob Montgomery declares he tried to get up a bridge game floating on top of Salt Lake. But the strangest of them all—among the people one of the eds saw while working at the dog races was a Southwestern Bible professor.

The Usual Problem

Again, as at the beginning of every school year, we are faced with the problem of fraternity and sorority rushing. This period of three or four days is anticipated with sighs by all old students and with dread by the majority of new ones. The mention of rushing in any group of students brings immediate expression of the fervent desire on the part of all to have it quickly concluded.

Since this is the general consensus of opinion, why do we find some who seem to be intent on making the worst of a bad job?

Elsewhere in this paper the rules laid down by the Pan-hellenic Council are enumerated for the benefit of all who care to read. However, before we can expect any relief, we must bring ourselves to abide not only by the letter, but by the spirit of these rules as well.

We have been told that this "spitting, spitting and squabbling" during rush-week is the prerogative of the sororities on our campus, but this year when the girls seem to be proceeding more amicably than usual, what happens? The fraternities proceed to take up where they left off and try to go them one better.

Each group desires to have the spirit of quiet-week observed, but every one of them is afraid to trust the other. Each group fears that if it abides by the rules some rival group will not do so and consequently will gain an advantage in the drive for new members which is climaxed by pledging.

Any attempt to curb this situation by rules seems futile and almost contrary to the principles embodied in our honor system. It is much easier to evade rules than it is to violate one's word of honor.

The feeling among our Greek letter societies has always been exemplary except during rush-week. Isn't it possible to extend this good feeling for just one more week? Can't we be gentlemen for an additional four or five days?

An Old Tradition

"Silence is a Southwestern tradition."

So reads a notice on the bulletin board in front of chapel, a notice the significance of which some students seem not to realize. Chapel exercises are periods of worship, just as much as a church service is, and one should act there as one would in church. If not reverence, silence, at least, is not too much to ask of anyone.

Chapel devotions are brief enough to allow anyone to pay attention to them. The amount of reading one can do during that time (usually under five minutes) is little more than negligible, and certainly not worth the disturbance created by rustling leaves and dropped books.

The worst offence, however, is the incessant talking of those who work their vocal cords so hard that they obviously don't give their brains time to function. If everyone thought before speaking, the silence would be sepulchral. It is just thoughtlessness—not deliberate irreverence—that makes the average chatter-box whisper so much, but that hardly makes it any more excusable. Nothing is more annoying to a student trying to take part in the devotionals than to have those on each side lean across in front of him and start hissing like two geese—in more ways than one.

One could scarcely call it respect for tradition, other students, or speaker, not to say for the One whom we are assembled to worship, to act as many of us have been doing these past few days. Rustling paper, frenzied whispers, smothered laughter, and other such disturbances are out of place. They not only can, but should be, stopped. And if the students haven't what it takes to quit of their own accord, steps should be taken—such as, for example, having the monitors mark disturbers absent—to impress upon them that silence IS a Southwestern tradition.

Southwestern Congratulates WMC

The Commercial Appeal Radio Station WMC has long been engaged in serving the Mid-South, and has done its job well. The installation of its magnificent new broadcasting tower marks an outstanding step forward in the career of an outstanding station. On this occasion the student body of Southwestern extends its hearty congratulation to an old friend and wishes it the best of luck in the years to come.

FACULTY ADDS
NEW PROFESSORS

ing. He has the degree of B.A. in English Language and Literature from the noted English university.

Added to the faculty this year as associate professor of economics and business administration, Dr. W. Ross Junkin was born in Ontario, Canada, attended the public schools in Toronto, and received his secondary education at Harbord Collegiate Institute. His undergraduate studies were carried on at Victoria College of the University of Toronto, from which institution he was graduated with first class honors in the Honor Course of Commerce and Finance. He was awarded the S. H. Janes Silver Medal in Commerce and Finance.

After graduation from the University of Toronto, Mr. Junkin was appointed instructor in economics at Cornell University, at which institution he has continued for the past nine years. He holds the degrees of M.A. and Ph.D. from Cornell University.

A native of Louisiana, Mr. David M. Amacker, the new professor of political science, received his A.B. degree from Princeton University and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He was a Rhodes scholar from his native state, completed the Honors Course in Modern History and Political Science, and holds the degrees of B.A. and M.A. from the University of Oxford.

Mr. Amacker has completed the residence work at Columbia University for the Ph.D. degree in political science and modern history. Before coming to Southwestern, he had been a member of the Dartmouth College faculty since 1930.

Newly engaged as assistant professor of modern languages, Mr. Marion E. Porter is a native of Atlanta, Georgia, and was graduated from Washington and Lee University summa cum laude. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mr. Porter has the degree of M.A. from Princeton University, where he was a Herbert Montgomery Bergen Fellow in modern languages, and is to receive the Ph.D. degree from the same institution this fall.

The coaching staff addition is Paul Hug, once All-Southern end at the University of Tennessee, where he was graduated with the B.S. degree. Mr. Hug succeeds John Miller as assistant football coach.

Returning to his old position as associate professor of English is Prof. A. S. McIlwaine, who has been on a leave of absence for two years. During this time Prof. McIlwaine has received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Chicago, with a thesis in the field of American literature.

The combined post of alumni secretary and director of public relations is being filled by Mr. S. E. Howie. Mr. Howie, a graduate of William and Mary, has been for the past seven years pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Tupelo, Miss., and is well known here as conductor of Southwestern's Week of Prayer last March.

EVERGREEN HALL

Familiar sounds are again heard around the premises—cries for Coca-Colas and a bathtub, the constant ring of the telephone, and the "squabbles" over who is going to get the clippings of this social event or that from the newspaper. No one is thinking about anything except pledging, and everyone is wondering who is worrying more, the rushees or the rushers. Anyway, all are looking forward to a peaceful, restful "after-Saturday-night lull." And until after this aforesaid rushing period, I won't tell all the little secrets I know on some of the gals—both new and old.

One thing I'll divulge—though it doesn't seem to be much of a secret around here—there are two new professors on the campus who are making the hearts flutter faster in this dormitory. One senior, as did Dr. Cooper, mistook them for students. More red faces!

She was only a miner's daughters—but oh what natural resources.

School days! School days! Yes, they are here again and, as every year, new faces appear. These new faces are mostly green, but after a year of the Old College Life, the color will fade out. The old hall has been in a stew ever since the first day, but things are beginning to settle, at least everything except Frank Campbell's voice and the night life of our hero, Sir Herbert Cain. A few runts have rented the third floor this year such as Mike Pepper, Bob Lee, Neal Tapp, and others, but we just step under them and keep going.

INDIANS BOW TO LYNX IN FIRST GAME OF SEASON

44-0 Victory Offers Poor Test of Power

SMITH, SASSER STAR

Good Blocking Helps Lynx Run Up Score

The Southwestern Lynx opened their 1936 football season with a decisive 44-0 victory over the Indians of Arkansas State. The onesidness of this score, however, can hardly be an indicator for the remainder of the season.

Judging from the first game we believe that the Lynx will have two men, Smith and Sasser, who will be continual offensive threats to any opposition so long as they have the support of the good open field blocking they received Saturday night.

It was due to the running ability of these two men and the passing of Morton and Nickells that Southwestern scored the major portion of their touchdowns.

The Lynx seemed lacking in driving power, especially when near the enemy goal. This was an outstanding weakness in last year's edition of the Lynx and must be overcome before Southwestern can expect to produce a winning machine.

In the Lynx line such men as Pepper, Parker, Williams, Davis and Captain Houts were a tower of strength, Williams showing up especially well in his blocking of the Arkansas secondary.

Southwestern ..... 12 12 6 14—44
Arkansas State ..... 0 0 0 0—0

Summary: Scoring touchdowns: Southwestern—Smith 2, Sasser, Pepper, Roth, Nichells, Morton. Scoring points after touchdown—pass—Morton to Hammond; Ashley line play.

Knock, knock. Who's there? Arkansas. Arkansas who? Arkansas the Lynx play Saturday—

Well, so did we. But don't think we're going into a song and dance about how the aforementioned Lynx are going to scratch the eyes of a very hospitable Bulldog from down Union way.

It isn't that we don't believe that the Lynx are right; on the contrary, we think they will win—by a close score. It's just that the obvious conclusions in this situation are misleading.

To mention again the Indian game. That was no game. That was a slaughter. Every time the Lynx ran a play it was good for a five yard "push-back" on the part of the Indians. In fact, the captain of the Indian team would stand up as a Lynx play began and holler, "git 'em." Somebody probably told him that he should lead his team. To be specific, the Indian game was no test of Lynx power.

Well, that's one side of the picture. Take the Union game with the Rebels, which the Bulldogs lost, 45-0. Coaches Paul "Polite" Hug and Harold "Chicken" High scouted that one Saturday. They report that they had little to show.

But that doesn't fool "Shorty" Propst & Co. In the first place, the Bulldogs knew that they couldn't possibly turn the Rebels back. They knew that the Lynx game came next week. They knew that Southwestern was scouting them. Ole Miss called the game a breather for the Rebels. We feel pretty certain that Coach Hollingsworth, of the rough puppies, made the game a "double breather"; meaning that he also took it easy.

In short we are pointing out that the Lynx have been overrated; while the Bulldogs are probably a lot better than expected.

HUG REVAMPS PHYSICAL ED.

New Coach Offers Program Of Various Courses

"Physical Education is going to be conducted in an entirely new way this year," said Coach Hug in an interview today. Instead of all the students taking the same type of course, they will be given the opportunity to select the course best suited for them.

There will be four different classes held twice each week. Some of the courses being offered are: tumbling, volley ball, touch foot ball, and a special course in body building for each student.

In the body building courses the student will take the exercises that he needs.

"If a boy comes in with shoulders drooping from hard study I'll give him exercises to straighten his back and fill out his chest," said the new coach. Equipment has been ordered for the new course: arm exercisers, chest and back developers, and weights.

Never before has tumbling been offered at Southwestern. Coach Hug, himself an expert, will conduct all of the classes. The proper use of the gymnasium will also be taught.

Physical Education is going to be one of the most interesting and beneficial courses at Southwestern this year.

CONCRETE COURT MADE FOR NETMEN

Southwestern's new tennis court is the last word in concrete court construction. This new court will not be affected in the least by adverse weather conditions which interrupted varsity practice so often last year.

It's easy to see why so many women prefer Lucky Strike. Luckies are fully packed with long strands of choice tobaccos, round and firm to the very tips. That means Luckies always draw easily, always burn smoothly. It also means no annoying loose ends to cling to lips or mess up the nice things in a woman's purse. And every day more and more women are showing their appreciation by saying "Luckies please".

And freshmen found possessing pledge buttons before 6:15 Saturday night, September 26, will be deprived of his privilege of pledging a fraternity the first semester.

"Tom," said the beautiful co-ed, as she snuggled up to his side in the shady nook, "what do you think of Einstein's theory of relativity?"

LYNX BAND TO BE IMPROVED

Singers Have Tri-Weekly Rehearsals

The 1936-37 edition of the Southwestern band will be a vastly improved one over that of last year. With the addition of the 19 men who learned their instruments last year and the freshmen who entered the band this year great things are expected.

According to Professor Tuthill there are a few instruments belonging to the school which have not as yet been put into use. Any students interested in learning how to play these instruments are requested to see Professor Tuthill between the hours of 10 and 12 on Monday and Wednesday.

Rehearsals of the band will be held in the new music room every morning at 8:30 until the first performance of the band at the Union game next Friday night.

Next Wednesday night the band will hold an election of officers for the coming year. Last year's officers consisted of Harvey Heidelberg, president; Bob Armstrong, vice-president, and Dunlap Cannon, secretary and treasurer.

The Southwestern Singers, also under the direction of Professor Tuthill, started work last Monday, and will hold their rehearsals every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 2:30 P.M. in the music room as soon as it is completely finished. Arrangements are being made by Mr. Howie, Southwestern's new alumni secretary and head of public relations, for a tour in the early spring.

knee, will very likely see service at quarter. He is valuable as a place-kicker, a department in which he was sorely needed last Saturday night.

Coach A. R. Hollingsworth, of the Bulldogs, believes his charges have an even chance of breaking into the win column against Southwestern this year. The Bulldogs have yet to tree the Lynx. They almost did it last year in Jackson when the game with the Lynx ended 0-0. Before that the Lynx had consistently ruffled the Bulldog's hair to the tune of at least 20-0.

According to latest reports, the Union squad has been pointing for the Lynx since the start of football season, and the Bulldog is not handicapped by injuries.

Sponsors for the Southwestern team are Rose Lynn Barnard, a Junior; and Rebecca Laughlin, also a Junior.

Probable lineup: For the Lynx—Hammond and Nettles at end, Davis and Pepper at tackle, Houts and Herbert at guard, and Williams at center. In the backfield will be Winfrey at quarter, Sasser and McKenzie at the halves, and Smith at full. For the Bulldog: Mullins and Butler at the ends, Owens and Perry, tackles; Joffman and Robbins, guards, and Hale (c), center; Alexander, quarter; Dugger and Pechonick, halfbacks, and Phillips, fullback.

voices in the operetta which will be staged by the Southwestern Players as their first production. The first performance of the singers will be in the first Vesper service of the year.

WUA ENTERTAINS FOR NEW CO-EDS

Mesdames Diehl, Johnson Assist

The Women's Undergraduate Association entertained the new women students on the campus Saturday afternoon with a tea in the cloistered hallway of Palmer Hall.

The receiving line was composed of the members of the Board of the Women's Undergraduate Association: Mrs. M. H. Townsend, faculty adviser; Virginia Hoshall, president; Floy White, vice-president; Jane Leavell, secretary-treasurer; Sarah Gracey, president of the Y. W. C. A.; and Kate Giuliani, president of the Women's Athletic Association. Mrs. Charles E. Diehl and Mrs. A. T. Johnson, also members of the Board, assisted in pouring tea.

The table in the cloisters was decorated with a beautiful floral centerpiece and lighted by tall, stately candles. The new fall creations which were worn by those who attended the tea combined with the beautiful setting to make the affair a brilliant one.

A Generous Friend

Supplying refreshments during rush week is always a trial to the fraternities and sororities. This year, when the Southwestern Pharmacy came through with cigars for the boys and candy for the girls, the burden was greatly relieved. All the groups so benefited express their thanks to the donor.

CALVIN HALL

The peace and serenity of Calvin have not yet been restored. We welcome and point with pride to our freshman with one exception: Freshman "Imp" Falls. In Falls we still have the "freshest freshman," but definite and determined action has been taken to curb our menace.

We thank our lucky star that at last the Sigma Nu's are building a house. 'Twill be no end of a relief to walk in without stumbling over the Snake chapter.

SORORITIES TO HONOR PLEDGES

All Men Students Invited To Various Lodges

Following an annual custom each of the five sororities will hold an open house tomorrow night honoring the pledges of the respective groups. Refreshments will be served at each house and all men on the campus are cordially invited to attend the various gatherings.

Those in charge of arrangements are Chi Omega, Bernice Cavett and Elizabeth Pearce; Tri-Delta, Josephine Kinsey and Kate Guillani; Kappa Delta, Gwendolyn Robinson and Betty Ann Lea; A.O.Pi, Ann Jeter and Eugenia Tully; Zeta Tau Alpha, Jane Alvis and Sara Fox Martin.

For hundreds of years the Persians have known the secret of fine flavor. In the dead of night a Persian "melon-diviner" may wake up his wealthy master to enjoy the perfect melon—picked by lamplight at its exact moment of full maturity.

The Secret of Fine Flavor..

Like the Persian melon, the Turkish tobaccos used in Chesterfield are watched day and night.

There is just one right time to take off the leaves...that's when they have ripened to their fullest flavor.

Often the tender ripe leaves are gathered just before the dawn...to preserve the full "spice" and aroma for Chesterfield.

From our own Southland we take mild, ripe tobaccos chock-full of Southern sunshine; then we go 4000 miles to the fertile shores of the Mediterranean for the fine flavor and aroma of Turkish tobaccos. These tobaccos give Chesterfields their milder better taste.

Chesterfields are made by Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. ... and you can depend on a Liggett & Myers product
