West is a senior, member of the Student Service Club, intramural director, and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity.

New Member Brought Out

S.T.A.B. Intersorority Group Presents Dorothy Steuwer

Dorothy Steuwer is the first new member of S. T. A. B. to be brought out on the Southwestern campus this year. A junior and secretary of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, she was chosen queen of "S" Club Day last year. S. T. A. B. is composed of thirteen girls, all brunettes except one blonde. Eight more girls will be brought out by the group during the year. Formed at Randolph-Macon College in 1899, S. T. A. B. is an intersorority group for the purpose of promoting friendly social relations between the sororities.

Each Friday, the members wore white and crimson, the colors of the group. Betty Wells, president of S. T. A. B., is the blonde; other members are Katherine Farnsworth, Elizabeth Paine, and Helen Young.

PROF. AMACKER FINDS HITLER'S DIPLOMATIC BATTLES DECISIVE

"Hitler is already fighting the next World War," said Prof. David M. Amacker, professor of political science, in an address Wednesday night at the Lindsay Memorial Presbyterian Church. "He has already won three vitally important battles, virtually without the firing of a rifle or the sacrifice of a soldier. First, he seized upon a moment of internal confusion and of indecision in England to occupy and remilitarize the Rhineland, thereby rendering a French-English invasion of Germany to support Eastern allies difficult, if not impossible."

"Secondly, alliance with Italy having removed the chief remaining obstacle to the seizure of Austria," Prof. Amacker continued, "Hitler has occupied Austria and entrenched German forces at the Brenner Pass and along the Italian-Austrian frontier. This has given him a military position calculated to crush any attack by Italy or by France, via Italy, through Germany's Alpine-Adriatic gateway on the South."

"Thirdly, the strong natural barrier to the east formed by the Sudeten Mountains and the Bohemian Forest on the northwest and south of Czechoslovakia has been conquered within the last few days, with Great Britain and France so frightened at the prospect of general war and the ruin of Europe that they themselves undertook to compel delivery of the keys of the Czechoslovakian citadel. It is very likely still as true, as when Bismarck spoke, that 'whoever dominates the fortress of Bohemia is master of Europe,' particularly when the conqueror holds as well an impregnable fortified Rhine and the Alpine passes to Austria."

"In a few months the Siegfried Line along Germany's French frontier will be completed and rendered unbreachable. In several years, the training of adequate German reserves and of junior officers will be accomplished; and serious present lacks in certain raw materials will be supplied. The natural resources of the Balkans now lie open to German organization and digestion, and the economic systems of the Balkan States can be geared into that of the Fatherland."

"Effective resistance is no longer possible. For as the Siegfried line closes to France the Rhine gateway, so an unconquered Italy closes the Eastern Mediterranean to an Anglo-French assault on Germany's flank via the Adriatic, the Aegean, or the Hellespont.

In ten or fifteen years, after Germany has digested her new resources, what can prevent the advancing on the Ukraine and the Black Sea and carving out a great middle empire, which may well control Russia and the Near East and cut Britain's lifeline to India?" "The present diplomatic war may become military war in a few years owing to these towering ambitions, and Germany, of course, could in the end meet defeat; but it is certain that she has brilliantly won the first three battles of her vast campaign. Who can say that these may not prove to have been the decisive ones?" Prof. Amacker asked in conclusion.

Homecoming Day Plans Progress

Supper, Open Houses and Dance To Entertain Alumni November 19th

Plans are in progress for the annual homecoming day scheduled for November 19, the day of the football game with Mississippi State College. Included in the program of activities are a buffet supper in Neely Hall, open houses on fraternity and sorority rows, and a dance in the gymnasium sponsored by the Junior Thousand Club, a new organization under the direction of Charles Crump, Southwestern alumnus and Memphis lawyer. For those alumni who do not wish to dance a special program of entertainment is being arranged. A student queen will be selected in the near future to reign over the events of the day.

Walker Wellford, president of the alumni association, is in charge of arrangements. Other officers are, Crawford McGiveran of Clarksdale, Miss., first vice-president; Mrs. Robert Carpenter of Memphis, second vice-president, and Miss Mary Pond, acting alumni secretary under the direction of the Faculty Advisory Committee.

The Faculty Advisory Committee consists of Dr. Ogden Baine, chairman; Dr. W. R. Atkinson, Dr. M. L. MacQueen, Dr. A. S. McIlwaine, and Dr. Samuel H. Monk.

ABSOLUTE SECRECY SHROUDS STUDENT DATE BUREAU

"Princeton did it—why can't we?" is the motto of the newly organized "Escort Bureau" you've heard so much about. Their guarantee is to supply The Man for Any Occasion. For example, if a good dancer is preferred, the services of Ackerman or Parker are at your beck and call; for a football game, Bland Cannon or Coach Kubale are available; for a picnic, any Southwestern boy knows how to picnic!

The principle reason for beginning the Escort Bureau was the idea of giving shy, timid or unimpressive-at-first looking girls a chance to enjoy a fuller college life. The two boys responsible are Lloyd Parker and Bob Ackerman. These enterprising young gentlemen felt that every girl has something to offer, if it's only $2.00 cash, and she should have an opportunity to blossom into a belle. The Bureau functions with absolute

Kubalemen Ready For Battle After Two Victories

Crump Stadium Again To Be Scene Of Game

OPPOSING TEAM HEAVY

Will Launch Aerial Attack If Ground Defense Fails

By THOMAS PAPPAS

Southwestern's Lynx, having slain the Bulldog and the Tiger, moves on down the trail to more formidable foes, the Centenary Gentlemen. Kubale's covetous Cats match strength and wits with the men from Louisiana in Crump Stadium tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Centenary, defeated by Texas Christian, 13-0, and conquerer of Hardin-Simmons, 26-13, is the Lynx Cats' toughest assignment thus far this season. Always a power in Southern football, the Gentlemen are expected to class with the best teams in the country when the season is over, for only six letter men were lost from last year's squad and of these only three were regulars.

Lynx Passing Stressed

Coach Kubale, eyeing the T. C. U. Centenary game, stressed the Lynx aerial attack in practice this week for the second week in succession. Statistics of the T. C. U. game showed that the Horned Frogs made little headway through the Centenary line and it was only through the air route that they gained their victory.

Weaknesses Ironed Out

Weaknesses that cropped up in the 47-0 rout of Sewanee last week were given much attention. The woeful tardiness of the Lynxmen in covering punts and going down under the kick-offs might have proved costly against a stronger team. The mediocre punting was also spotlighted, with Charlie Perry and Gaylon Smith practicing all this week to get off quicker and longer punts. The Lynx blocking was also concentrated on, though the Southwestern blocking against Sewanee was the best a red-and-black team has shown in years.

Southwestern faces Centenary at full strength. Rex Wilson, out for three weeks with an injury, is back in harness and sure to see action against the Shreveport team. Bernard Lockridge, who pulled a ligament in his ankle, is also ready to go tomorrow. The rest of the squad is in fine shape except for a few minor cuts and bruises scattered about.

Heavy Centenary Team

Centenary averages about 200 pounds in the line and 180 in the backfield. Curtis Jones and Turney Vinson, 200-pound tackles, are the bulwarks of the line, and Weenie Bynum and Ed Whitehurst are the main offensive threats for the Louisianans. Bynum is a swivel-hipped triple-threat man, and Whitehurst is a powerhouse full-back.

The Centenary game and the closing game with Mississippi State are expected to prove Southwestern's two toughest contests of the year.

FORMER STUDENT LEAVES FOR INDIA

Marlen Eldridge, special student at Southwestern last year, left for India last week. She will live there and assist her aunt in Y. W. C. A. work.

Sigma Nu fraternity announces the initiation of Boyce Johnson of Memphis Monday night.

How About A Fall Sunday?

There is an old feud between the town and dormitory students. Everyone knows about it, and each group blames the other for being unfriendly. This division has even been carried into the social groups, on the campus and we hear of "an almost exclusively dormitory, or town, fraternity or sorority."

This is unfortunate, but it is natural in a college situated in a large city with an enrollment drawn largely from that city. These students are acquainted before they enter the college. They have their own friends and cliques and feel little need to cultivate the friendship of the dormitory students. These, in turn, feel this exclusion and band together with their fellow boarders. These groups, formed in the freshman year, are strong and often they never lose the idea that the other has deliberately snubbed them. Understand, the purpose of this editorial is not to place the blame on either side, but to review the problem and to offer a possible solution.

Little has been done in the past to make for closer acquaintance, other than the superficial ties of social groups. The Sou'wester is sponsoring a Fall Sunday with the cooperation of the Christian Union Cabinet. The plan is to have every dormitory student invited to dinner in the home of a town student on a Sunday to be specified. With the large majority of town students, this should present no great burden to any one home.

Fall Sunday will give the dorm students a chance to become acquainted with the families of their fellow students, and with the young people themselves. If this Fall Sunday is successful, perhaps it can be repeated next spring. We believe that it will help greatly in breaking down the traditional dorm-town student enmity and in building up a new tradition of friendship.

Speak For Yourself

You have heard students grumble, "Why doesn't the Sou'wester do something about this. An editorial or something?" Probably you have said it yourself. It is always easier to blame others for inefficiency and sluggishness. Why not speak out for yourself and make your complaint heard?

The Sou'wester in its editorial column tries to discuss important campus problems and to offer possible solutions to these. However, it cannot cover every angle of the question. But it is a student publication and should express student opinion. It is your paper and you have as much right to give your ideas on campus subjects as the editor.

To enable you to do this, it is our policy to print letters written to the editor. These letters are welcomed, but not unless they have the real name of the writer attached. Anyone who has an opinion strong enough to make him put it on paper should be willing to sign it.

Surely you have some pet campus topic, something that you think should be improved or commended. Write a letter—speak up for yourselves.

This Time We Fooled You

You thought this was another editorial to abolish something. Well, it's not. In fact this is the kind that everyone likes, because it only says nice things. There are a number of things happening on the campus, but because they are not joltingly bad, they pass unnoticed. So the purpose of this is to pick up the scattered odds and ends and express our approval.

First comes the band. Surely nothing more could be asked in the way of a smart looking band. The march on the darkened field last Friday night with the lighted caps and baton would have done credit to any college in the country. We feel that Prof. Tuthill is doing a fine job.

That the Pep League is really a functioning organization was evidenced by the improvement in cheering and general demonstration at the game. There is still room for improvement and the crying need is for new and better cheers. Let's not give down-town sports columnists another chance to berate Southwestern students on lack of spirit at games.

Along a different line, we notice that one of the long-dead trophies has been taken out of the mausoleum that stands by the library stacks and revived—the Honor Council Plaque bearing the names of the presidents. It is to be hoped that this example will be followed with other momentos of Southwestern's past—the Sigma Upsilon Scholarship trophy, the Alpha Omicron Pi Debating Cup, the Interfraternity Track Meet cup, and others. Certainly the purpose of these was not to collect dust. Why not put them into circulation and use them as incentives for higher scholastic standards, etc. Such was and is their purpose.

Lynx Chat

We wonder what: Bennie Joyner does every afternoon at the football field... what Charles Skinner means dating a certain high school girl so regularly... what Sarah Powell does the days she doesn't come to school to see Henry Mobley... what Ed Nesbitt has against Southwestern girls... Barbara Dean spends so much time with George Humphrey in the library... what so many people were doing posing for atmosphere with their mouths open... what Herman Crowder means by going home instead of to the "S" Club dance... what Margaret Moyer thinks of Freshman Hurley... what Dorothy Waller thinks about what Margaret Moyer thinks... the K.A.'s would do without Sarah Henderson to root for them... what will be stirred up in the way of campus political stink... this is what we heard about Gilmer and Goldberger... We also wonder what Ewing Carruthers is looking for in the way of a campus cutie, he changes so often—now it's Fourmy... what caused the change in the affections of Gorton Berry—could the sponsor idea have bothered him or was it just the freshette?... Seen at the dance: Jack Hamilton dancing the first special with Kitty Bright... Mrs. Holloway promoting big business... Betsy Fowler dancing with Ed-French... Icky Orenstein shining on a swing tune... Lockridge limping around the floor while Betty danced with the competition... Marjorie DeVall getting a big rush... Virginia Samuels from State Teachers taking her share of the stag line... Steuwer without Buddha... Jean Venn with Howard McKenzie... Norma Bright sporting a flaming red dress that seemed to do the trick... Ardeanne Heiskell shooting a good line to the stag line... everybody having fun and acclaiming it as the best dance ever... At the football game: John Flaniken winning the fashion parade with his striped pajamas... the Cogswell in the nightie running him a close second... Bob Black pulling an esquire with a non-matching pair... E. B. Rogers scoring individual honors in the role of drum major... the student body passing all records in spirit... Ki Farnsworth hailing Turner... Bland Cannons red suit... Notes from Evergreen: Betty Cazort stepping out with Orenstein the night of the "S" Club... Mary Ann Owens with an out-of-town date Sunday night... Billy Watson "honey-chile-ing" all the freshettes in the library... Hither and yon: 'Tis always said that the old flame never dies... must be true, too, 'cause Dempsey Morrison was seen with Dorothea Wyatt... W. B. Hunter was quite content at the side of Mary Jane Maxwell... Lillian Love rooted for Sewanee, while Tom White explained the game to Sara Boothe... Betsy Foster mourned the loss of a date who had to sit on the other side of the stadium... Steuwer says this Fuller guy is the answer to her prayers, or so we hear... she might be interested to know (as if she didn't) that her keenest competition seems to be her friend, the Jones girl.

K. D. PLEDGES ENTERTAIN

George Hall and Dolly Dawn Open At Claridge Hotel

George Hall and his orchestra, starring Dolly Dawn, open the 20th Century Room of Hotel Claridge at luncheon tomorrow, October 8.

Favorites of many in Memphis and the adjoining territory, the Hall-Dawn combination gave the Claridge its record business of the summer and it is expected to attract large crowds as the fall season begins.

In 1930 Hall's orchestra was engaged to play at the Taft Hotel in New York City and has remained there during the winter season for the past eight years, breaking all records for long engagements. It was during the same year that he made his debut over this network more than any other band.

The orchestra will play for luncheon daily with the exception of Sunday and Monday and nightly for dinner and supper dancing in the 20th Century Room.

Their engagement here, succeeding Herman Waldman, is set for 15 days.

Revisions Made In Point System

Student Council Outlines Plans For Manual To Be Issued End Of Semester

The Student Council met for its regular bi-monthly meeting last Tuesday at 1 o'clock in the Bell Room of Neely Hall.

Revisions were made in the point system adopted by the council last spring. The president of the Women's Athletic Association is to be included, and the president of Torch, women's honorary society, is to be dropped from the list.

Henry Mobley, president of the student body, outlined plans for the Student Council manual to be issued by the end of this semester. Officers, aims, and activities for each organization on the campus will be included as will reports on varsity athletics, intramurals, and other statistics.

Ralph Brown and Henry Mobley were asked to make preliminary plans for a script for the annual April Fool Carnival to be held next spring.

Fly-Leaf Scribbles

A selected list of books added to the library during September has been posted on the bulletin board in the library. We don't expect a mad rush for all of the books on the list, but there are plenty we'd like to while away a few weeks with ourselves.

Every now and then we feel we're missing something out of life because we don't enjoy reading poetry. We read novels with the greatest of ease, occasionally speed through a biography, and have been known to read a bit of history, political science or economics, but we admit sheepishly we can't read poetry. Understanding Poetry, by Cleanth Brooks, Jr., and Robert Penn Warren seems to have been designed particularly for us. It looks textbookish (after all that's what it is), but the editors seem to attack the problem from the right angle. Mr. Warren, incidentally, was an erstwhile professor of English at Southwestern, and along with Mr. Brooks, is managing editor of the Southern Review, a quarterly magazine received in the library. Southwesterners should watch this magazine with interest, not only on account of its general excellence, but also because occasionally some of our own professors contribute critical articles and reviews to it. Its business manager also is an ex-South-westerner, Albert R. Erskine, Jr.

With the European situation under a little better control we might turn our attention to some recent background material. Now that Austria is no more, and former Chancellor Kurt Schussnigg is under arrest, his autobiography, My Austria, is attracting interest. It is a very readable account of the Austrian political situation as well as a contribution of historical importance.

But if we're a little fed up with Europe's problems we've plenty of our own to worry along with. There's the C. I. O. of course, and C. L. Sulzberger, United Press reporter, gives us Sit Down with John L. Lewis. It sounds like an invitation to relax, but it depends on your point of view whether you relax or not. The sympathetic biography of the C. I. O. leader is deftly described by the New Yorker as "a sketch—superficial, detached, anecdotal, interesting."

There really seems to be no end to books on the South. We think next week we'll just take a handful of them and dispose of them in our own fashion and then ignore the rest, but we can't ignore Allen Tate's The Fathers, which we hope to bring you then.

—Mary Marsh, Librarian.

Lynx Cats Defeat Sewanee Tigers In Easy Victory

Southwestern Scores Twice In First Quarter

SMITH IS SPARK PLUG

Winfrey, French, Bergfeld and Jones Also Score

Southwestern's Lynx Cats bowled over Sewanee's Tigers last Friday night before a crowd of 10,000 in Crump Stadium to annex their second victory of the campaign, 47 to 0. The men from Sewanee were expected to prove a stiff test for the Kubale machine but were buried under an avalanche of Southwestern touchdowns.

With Gaylon Smith running rampant, the Lynx scored seven touchdowns and five extra points. Smith scored three times and Will Rhea, Winfrey, Ed French, Henry Bergfeld, and Harold Jones scored once each. Captain Orley Nettles booted three extra points, with Ed French and Bob Porter adding others.

Smith Opens Scoring
The game was less than four minutes old, when Smith cut back over right tackle and with excellent blocking ran 44 yards to the first Lynx touchdown. Ed French missed the conversion. Before the first quarter was over, Smith had scored again. The big halfback caught a Tiger punt and lugged it back 57 yards down the field to score. French converted.

In the second quarter, a fumble gave the Lynx the ball on the Sewanee 14 yard line. Smith and Winfrey teamed to carry the ball down and Winfrey finally plunged over from the two-yard marker. Nettles booted the extra point. Later in the same period, French took a short, shovel pass from Smith and butted his way for 39 yards and another touchdown. Nettles again kicked goal.

The first time Smith handled the ball in the second half, he cut back over tackle and raced 66 yards to his third six-pointer of the night. Nettles missed the try for point. Then Red Bergfeld intercepted a Sewanee pass on the Tiger 15 and ambled across for another Lynx score. Nettles again added the extra point from placement.

Perry to French
In the final quarter, French took a 27-yard pass from diminutive Charley Perry and ran the ball to the two-yard marker. Harold Jones drove across to the touchdown. Bob Porter, reserve tackle, converted from placement.

It was the same story as the Union game, too much Lynx power in the backfield and too much Lynx power in the line. The team was blocking as a whole and the line yielded only two first downs to the Sewanee men and held them to a net loss of one yard. Captain Orley Nettles at end and Oney Ellis at tackle were the two brightest stars in the Lynx forewall.

Eleusinian Banquet Held

Ideals of Chi Omega Subject of Address by Mrs. Harry Webb

The Fall Eleusinian banquet of the Chi Omega sorority was held Wednesday night in the lodge, with Miss Margaret Hyde, president of the alumnae chapter, in charge.

The principal speaker of the evening was Mrs. Harry Webb, treasurer of the alumnae chapter, whose subject was Chi Omega's ideals. Betty Wells, president of the active chapter, introduced the pledges, who were honor guests of the occasion.

The lodge was decorated in cardinal and straw, the sorority colors, and the program was climaxed by a program of Chi Omega songs, concluded with "Panhellenic Toast," dedicated to the other sororities on the campus.

Frosh Follow In Footsteps Of Brothers, Sisters

I always say, "Thirty days has September, April, June, and Kentucky. All the rest have peanut butter, except New York, which has a centennial next year, maybe." The last time I used that it was Texas, which just shows how time flies and how original I must be to write such a dandy little article on such a brand new theme—freshettes and freshmen whose older brothers and sisters have gone to Southwestern before them. There now, aren't you surprised? Isn't it fascinating, and won't we have ripping fun? If we do, you're an idiot, too.

First, there are the boys, and among these is Richard Maury (he is so) whose brother Po, as we understand it, is a flunkiey on the Maury farm who sits in the sun all day and curses the government. Tip Gaither is carrying right along where Duff left off, whatever that means, and Jimmy Jackson is succeeding sisters Nell and Dorothy, although I'll bet a bowl of soup Jimmy never is a football sponsor. And as for Jimmy and Cecil New—well, that takes care of the boys. Now let's take care of the girls. Ahh!

Rema DeVall is, of course, sister of the student body secretary, Marjorie. And if you never heard Ethel Taylor in the summer operas, you just ask Celeste, who is her little sister, how good she was. While you're wishing to yourself I knew a synonym for sister, figure out how Elizabeth Greer could be both Sarah's big and little sister. Sounds impossible, but it's true.

Next we come to Mary Margaret Page, who follows brother Alfred, who is selling insurance or something of the sort. You go on from here, and I'll stay with Mary Margaret. Jo Gilfillan has joined Jane on the campus, and has already taken one of Jane's standbys away from her. Mary Martin Dunscomb also seems to be on the way to taking sister Elizabeth's place, and the ranks of the Ragsdale family here at school have increased from Virginia to Margaret.

Mary Crawford seems a likely candidate to follow in the footsteps of Eleanor, and there are a few people who wouldn't be disappointed if there could be some one to take her brother, J. T.'s, place. Louise Blue will have to settle right down if she expects to follow the trail of A's that sister Betty left before her. However, we don't imagine Katharine Walker will have much trouble equalling brother Hank's marks. Then there are Cary Eckert, Annabelle Paine, and Dorothy Turner. The former two have sisters Ann and Elizabeth here at school, while Dor-

EGYPTIAN DANCING GIRLS FOUND HIDING IN LIBRARY READING ROOM

Note: This is the first of a series of reports to be made by the Southwestern Investigation Committee on the Library. Their motto is "If the Senate can do it, why can't we?"

There are two schools of thought on the subject of Egyptians current about the campus. The first group holds that Egyptians are old women with gold earrings who read your palm. This, of course, is a fallacy. The second group has learned at the knee of Prof. Shewmaker that the Egyptians were old meanies who made the Hebrew children pile up two-ton blocks of stone just to hear them groan. They go on to say that they finally chased the fleeing Hebrews across the Red Sea, but slipped and were drowned. That, of course, served them right, but is beside the point.

In confirmation of varied rumors, we might say that the Egyptian damsels in question had been skulking around, playing their lyres and lutes, which is against the silence rule. They were found hiding, all five of them, under the atlas case in the northwest end of the main reading room.

This collection of ancient Egyptian paintings (in which the gals were hiding, if you haven't guessed it by now) are reproductions of tomb drawings over 4,000 years old, in full color.

If you had any idea that the Egyptians were a dull and uninteresting people, be prepared to have these ideas laughed out of existence. Here is a collection of popular art, as Prof. Kelso says, the caricature and cartoon that made a hit forty centuries ago.

One capricious noble by the name of Amenhet had the walls of his tomb decorated with musicians at a banquet, one of the earliest harmony trios ever pictured—two women and a man playing a harp, mandolin and a flute. The first negro cake-walk is chosen by Harmhab and elsewhere two children are dancing a step very similar to the Suzie-Q.

Hunters will be interested in the use of the boomerang for killing ducks othy's older brother, Henry, is going to medical school.

I guess that's all, and if anybody is left out, don't blame me. You see, every Tuesday up comes the editor and says there has to be another feature by tomorrow so will I please write something overnight. So, being endowed with little originality and even less scruples, what I really do is to take this article which has already been written by an aspiring (now probably expiring) freshette, mutilate it beyond recognition and hand it to this guy McBurney, and little does the dope suspect. But I know, the author knows, you know, and now he knows. And I hang my head in shame.

ODK To Entertain At Men's Smoker At Parkview Hotel

William Kelly To Be Master Of Ceremonies

MOVIE TO BE SHOWN

Holcomb, Mobley, Bingham, Hill, Smith Are Members

Phi Circle, the Southwestern chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary leadership fraternity, will entertain men students and professors next Friday night, October 14, at 7:30 o'clock with a smoker at the Parkview Hotel, Billy Kelly, president, announced today.

There will be a varied program of amusement with refreshments in keeping with the party. A news reel will be shown, and cigars, cigarettes, cakes, and drinks will be furnished.

The smoker, an annual event, is given to carry out the chief principle of the fraternity, which is to further fellowship among the men students on the campus. Other purposes of Omicron Delta Kappa are to promote a feeling of friendliness between students and faculty of the college, and to recognize leadership ability among the students which is done by electing such students to the fraternity at the bi-annual tapping ceremonies.

Other members of Phi Circle are H. R. Holcomb, vice president; Henry Mobley, Sam Hill, Herbert Bingham, and Gaylon

Vanity of vanities—Southwestern coeds are completely outdone by dusky, sloe-eyed sirens of the Nile. They bought rouge, foundation grease, and hair pomade by the bushel and painted to suit their supply. Reigning over the collection is his majesty, King Tutmosis I with false beard, bracelets, and a plaited fly switch. Apparently all he has to do is receive the homage and tribute of conquered princes and doze in his garden.

It is impossible for the committee to enumerate all the good parts of this collection. So we recommend that the students correct their misconceived notions about Egyptians for themselves. Of course, if you had not ideas about them to begin with, consult your nearest Egyptian love charm dealer.

Tough Schedule Of 7 More Games Faces Lynx Cats

Miss. State Looms Ahead As Main Threat

THREE ROAD GAMES

Loyola, Birmingham-Southern Seek Revenge

Two giants and only one midget lie in the path of the Southwestern Lynx as they tread warily down the schedule. Centenary and Mississippi State are the giants and Millsaps the midget in the seven games that remain to be played.

The Lynx meet the Centenary giant tomorrow night in what may be the making or the breaking of this year's eleven. Centenary, a heavy, powerful, hard-charging team with an experienced man in each position, is rated strongly throughout the nation and if Southwestern wins this game it will be an event almost on a par with the 1936 immortal triumph over Vanderbilt, 12 to 0.

Next Friday night, the Kubalemen cross the state to clash with the Chattanooga Moccasins. Chattanooga last year lost the first game it has ever lost to a Southwestern eleven, and with a strong team on hand this year will be gunning for the Lynx Cats' hides.

The Lynx return the following week, October 22, to entertain the Birmingham-Southern Golden Panthers. The Panthers have been humiliated by Southwestern for two consecutive years and the Birmingham players are out for revenge. Reports from the Magic City say the Panthers, Dixie Conference champions last year despite the Southwestern loss, have an even stronger squad this fall.

On October 23, Coach Kubale leads his Lynx into the lair of the Loyola Wolfpack in New Orleans. Like Birmingham-Southern, the Wolves have been trounced twice in a row by the Lynx and are out for vengeance. Under a new coach and using a new system, Loyola was an in-and-out eleven last year, being routed by Coach "Shorty" Propst's men, 40 to 0. This year, however, the Wolfpack is a victory-hungry eleven and should cause Southwestern plenty of worry. The game is the last night game of the year for the Lynx.

The following Saturday finds Southwestern in Murray, Kentucky, playing Murray State Teachers. The Tutors were S. I. A. A. champions last fall and were rated one of the most powerful of the "little" teams in the country. Murray lost only one game in a 10-game schedule and are reported to be a bigger and improved squad.

The week before the season's finale with Mississippi State, the Lynx tackle the midget in this year's schedule, Millsaps. Millsaps, beaten already this season by Memphis State Teachers, should give Southwestern a breathing spell before they meet Mississippi State.

On November 19, in Crump Stadium, the Cats throw themselves at the Maroons in an attempt to take a huge step forward in Southern as well as national football. The Mississippi State game is the big game of the year for Southwestern and the showing made here may enhance the college's pigskin reputation more than the Vanderbilt victory.

S.A.E. Leads In Intramural Race

Non-Fraternity Group Ranks Second With Fall Softball Victory Tuesday

The Intramural race was well under way this week as champions in two sports were decided and Sigma Alpha Epsilon assumed the lead with a total of 50 points. Non-Fraternity is second with 45 markers and Sigma Nu, third, with 35.

The Non-Frats won the fall softball tournament by beating the Sigma Nus, 11-5, in the finals Tuesday afternoon. Oscar King, Sigma Nu hurler, was in trouble most of the game because of his wildness, while Louis Kavaleras was steady throughout for the winners.

S. A. E.'s Win Horseshoes
The S. A. E.'s won the fall horseshoes championship Wednesday afternoon, defeating the Sigma Nus, two games to one. Carter and Tyson performed ably for S. A. E. and Stites was the mainstay for Sigma Nu.

Touch football opened Wednesday with the Nin-Frats defeating the A. T. O.'s, 24 to 0. William Nakajima and Alec Streete starred for the winners, scoring two touchdowns each. In the second game of the day, Kappa Sigma hit the victory trail with a 12 to 0 win over Kappa Alpha. Billy Kelly's passing and Henry Mobley's snagging were outstanding for the Kappa Sig squad.

Complete standings:

Sigma Alpha Epsilon	50
Non-Fraternity	45
Sigma Nu	35
Kappa Alpha	20
Kappa Sigma	10
Pi Kappa Alpha	10
Alpha Tau Omega	0

Sidelines

By THOMAS PAPPAS
(Sports editor's note: If there is anyone on this campus who thinks he can write this column better than I, let him speak NOW or forever hold his peace.)

Like the turkey that stuck his neck out 'cause the man-with-the-axe had such a kind look in his eye, the perpetrator of this column wants you to know Southwestern will defeat Centenary tomorrow afternoon, 12 to 0.

Now don't blame me if the prediction doesn't come true. It won't be my fault. Blame it on the little pixies, the little elves that haunt the night. Blame it on the weather. Blame it on the fact we don't have any girl cheerleaders. Blame it on McBurney. Blame it on Henry Mobley. Or even blame it on Centenary.

Don't blame me, for falling in love—(No! that's a song.)

Since this is October and since tomorrow is Saturday, I want all the world to know that the lack of student enthusiasm at football games can not wholly be laid at the feet of the student body. Last week, in the middle of the second quarter of the Sewanee game with the Lynx leading by a score of 20 to 0, our very austere and worldly cheerleaders (Messrs. Cannon, Mobley, and Prewitt) called for a cheer. And what do you think they called for? Oh, I'm ashamed to remind you. Yes, it was Fight, Lynx Cats, Fight.

Now perhaps I'm just a fellow who doesn't know anything about art of cheer-leading but it does seem to me that Fight, Lynx Cats, Fight isn't a very appropriate cheer for a team that has the ball in the middle of the field and which is on the top end of a 20 to 0 score. Seems to me that cheer is more of a goal-line-stand cheer. All of which brings me to my point. I think Southwestern needs some new cheers.

Mr. Frank Thomas, head coach at the University of Alabama and a member of the All-American Board of Football, gave our very own little Gaylon Smith a boost in his syndicated football column this week. Said Thomas: "The Lynx have one of the great backs of the South in Gaylon Smith, a strapping 200-pounder, who can do everything a fine back is expected to do. For sheer driving power, Smith has few equals in football this fall."

We-l-l-l, Gaylon should get at least a certificate of honor from the Board this year. And if he can continue the pace he's set in the first two games, we-l-l-l, who knows?

Bobcats Prepare To Meet Ole Miss Frosh

Scrimmage Varsity Team Every Afternoon For Game Due 28 At Como, Miss.

Southwestern's Bobcats, defeated in their opening game, are rounding into shape for their next encounter by scrimmaging the varsity every afternoon. They are scheduled to meet the Ole Miss Frosh October 28, on the Como, Miss., field.

The Bobcats were beaten, 6 to 0, two weeks ago by the Holmes Junior College eleven, Mississippi State Junior College champions. Not discouraged by the setback, the young Lynx's are counting on avenging themselves at the expense of the Ole Miss squad.

A number of the Bobcats are showing fine form. Jimmy Andrews and Leon Underwood are showing up well in the secondary, and Hayes Heaton and Schuyler Reid in the forward wall. Coach Chicken High's team is scheduled to meet the State Teachers College Tiger Cubs at Crump Stadium on November 3, with a game against the Union University Bullpups yet to be arranged.

Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity announces the pledging of Charles Forman and Robert DeWar of Memphis.

Freshmen Tennis Finals Today

Meacham and Montgomery Reach Championship Match After Three Eliminations

Bob Meacham and William Montgomery meet this afternoon at 3:30 on the Southwestern courts in the finals of the Freshman tennis tournament. Meacham and Montgomery survived a field of sixteen to reach the championship round.

Meacham reached the finals with a hard-fought 6-2, 3-6, 6-3 win over Bailey Campbell, Tuesday afternoon. He had previously defeated Robert Stites, 6-1, 6-0, and James Cogswell, 6-1, 6-2.

Montgomery's route to the finals included a first round 6-0, 6-1 victory over Donald Woolsey and a 6-4, 6-4 win over Allen Webb in the quarter-finals. He marched through John Gibson in the semi-finals, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, after a hard tussle.

Bob Black was chosen president of the Kappa Alpha fraternity pledge group last Saturday. Harry Hill was named vice-president and John Flanken, secretary-treasurer.
