Gaylon Smith Is Placed On Little All-America Team

Big Back From Beebe Gains National Recognition

LYNX SPARK PLUG

Second Southwestern Player Chosen In Three Years

By THOMAS PAPPAS

Gaylon Smith, Southwestern's triple-threat halfback, was placed on the Associated Press' Little All-America team released last week. The Beebe Bull is the second Lynx player to be chosen for the team in the past three years. Henry Hammond, big, bruising end, was selected in 1936. Hartwell "Kite" Morton, halfback, was given honorable mention the same year.

Smith, noted particularly for his brilliant running, scored 97 points to rank among the nation's leaders in the campaign just ended, and starred as well with his passing and his punting. The big, curly-headed football giant from Beebe, Ark., was the 1938 team's spark plug and main source of inspiration.

Led Team's Attack

Equally adept at smashing the line or ripping over tackle and around end, Smith fired his mates to top speed on more than one occasion and led them to the most successful season any Southwestern eleven has ever had. Constantly watched by opposing teams, Smith, nevertheless, gained ground against them all. Just when it appeared a team had the "Smith situation" well in hand, the fleet back would break out in one of his breath-taking runs to bring the crowd roaring to its feet and shatter the morale of the defensive team.

Characteristic of Smith's courage and determination was the State game of this year. At half-time Southwestern was trailing 6 to 0. Smith, in the first half, had been a thoroughly bottled man. An alert Murray team and a muddy gridiron had combined to hold the powerful 205-pound back well in check.

Began to "Go"

With the start of the second half, Smith began to go. He brushed through the opposing linemen almost at will. Straight down the field to a touchdown he drove. Twice more during the game Smith led the Lynx Cats within reach of the Murray goal only to have bad breaks spoil chances of shattering the 6-6 deadlock, the final score.

The Student Says

QUESTION:

Do you think that the Christmas holidays should be reduced to lengthen the exam week?

ANSWERS:

Judson McKellar, junior: "The holidays must be extended. Only twelve days puts a terrific strain on my love for the Alma Mater. I can stand this strain but judging by the tell-tale decrease in the student body, a great number of others cannot."

Robert Watts, senior: "The ten-day examination period is definitely a progressive step for the college. A slight reduction in the holidays is justified in removing the madhouse examination periods that examination periods have formerly been."

Elizabeth Day, junior: "No, I don't think that the holidays should ever be shortened. In the first place, the dormitory students hardly have any time to stay at home, and in the second place nearly every student wants until the last night to study anyway."

Minna Deen Jones, senior: "I like the idea of having a longer exam period, but I don't want the Christmas holidays to be shortened. Why can't we have both a longer holiday for Christmas and the longer exam period, too?"

ANNUAL FOOTBALL BANQUET, GYM DANCE GIVEN TONIGHT

The annual football banquet will be held at 7 o'clock tonight in Neely Hall, with members of both the varsity and freshman football teams with their dates and a number of students and outsiders attending. Judge John D. Martin will deliver the principal address.

Holly wreaths and bright streamers will decorate Neely Hall. Three team tables will be raised and fifty high school boys have been invited to attend. The principal function of the banquet will be to elect a new captain and alternate captain to succeed Orley Nettles and Gaylon Smith, both of whom are seniors.

A dance will be held in the gymnasium from 9 to 12. Red and black streamers and bright-colored balloons will decorate the gym. There will be three no-breaks and two specials.

Varsity letters will be awarded P. T. Baker, Henry Bergfeld, Tony Canzoneri, J. P. Cavender, Maynard Dabbs, Luke Dawson, Fred Drees, Oney Ellis, Doyle Fuller, Ed French, Charles Lee, Bernard Lockridge, Frank Morgan, Harry Morris, Clois Neal, Orley Nettles, Irving Orenstein, Fred Partin,

Spanish Club Entertains

Mexican Game of "Pinata" Highlight of Evening's Entertainment

The Spanish Club met last night at the home of Prof. M. W. Storn, the faculty adviser of the group, for a Christmas party. Elizabeth Day, program chairman, talked in Spanish on the Mexican celebration of Christmas which is called the "Pasados."

Among the entertainment of the evening was a game of "pinata," the typical Mexican game for Christmas. Gifts and candy were placed in a jar suspended from the ceiling, and as the others sang Christmas carols in Spanish, one member was blindfolded and attempted to break the jar with a stick. A general scramble followed when the jar was finally hit.

It was decided that the club will meet on the third Thursday of each month.

Charles Perry, Robert Porter, Baxter Pouncey, Levon Self, Gaylon Smith, Neal Williams, Rex Wilson, Will Rhea Winfrey and Manager Claude Brown.

Freshman Numerals

Professor Rhodes Signs Manifesto

1,284 Scientists Pledge Selves In Defense of Democracy

Prof. Peyton N. Rhodes, head of the Southwestern Physics department, has recently signed a manifesto with 1,284 American scientists including three Nobel Prize winners, summoning their colleagues to participate in the defense of democracy as the sole means of preserving intellectual freedom and insuring scientific progress. Prof. Franz Boaz of Columbia University, dean of American anthropologists, acted as spokesman for the committee in charge.

"Science is wholly independent of national boundaries," he said, "and races and creeds can flourish only when there is peace and intellectual freedom." "The present outrages in Germany," he continued, "have made it all the more necessary for American scientists to take a firm anti-Fascist stand."

"Our manifesto," Prof. Boaz said, "declares that we scientists have the moral obligation to educate the American people against all false and unscientific doctrines, such as the racial nonsense of the Nazis. The agents of Fascism are becoming more and more active in this country, and we must join with all men of good will in defending democracy today if we are to avoid the fate of our colleagues in Germany, Austria and Italy."

Other colleges represented by the signers are Yale, Johns Hopkins University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, University of Buffalo, Ohio State University, Purdue University and the University of Georgia.

Student Body Petitions Dean For Extra Days

To Be Presented To Faculty At Meeting Tonight

THREE DAYS ARE ASKED

Statistics Quoted To Show Lynx Term Long

Expressing the opinion of the student body, a special committee composed of William Worthington, Thomas McLemore, Herbert Bingham and Henry Mobley, presented a petition to Dean A. Theodore Johnson requesting an extension of the Christmas holidays yesterday morning. The petition may be considered by the faculty at the regular faculty meeting tonight, it was reported.

In drawing up the petition, the committee said: "The Southwestern student body, unanimous in its desire, wishes to request longer Christmas holidays. It is the general belief that the time now allowed for the Christmas holidays is unduly short, and that the intensive work done at Southwestern should make a term longer than other colleges unnecessary."

"While we realize that Southwestern does not pattern her activities by the examples of other colleges and universities, we do feel, however, that the foregoing facts are significant and should be taken into consideration."

"In requesting an extension of the holiday period, the student body asks that the College add Wednesday, Dec. 21, Tuesday, Jan. 3, and Wednesday, Jan. 4, to the days now scheduled, or whatever extra days the College sees fit to grant."

"Since Southwestern has a substantially longer term than many other colleges, and since the work done is more intensive, the student body feels justified in asking for a longer Christmas holiday."

Torch Study Hall Attendance Urged

"Hope For Better Enrollment This Coming Week," Says Wells

"The attendance at the women's study halls held by Torch Society last week have not been as large as we expected," Betty Wells, president of the honorary group of senior women, said. "However, we hope to have a better enrollment this coming week and urge all freshmen women to take advantage of them," she continued.

On Tuesday afternoon from 1:30 until 2:30 o'clock Harriet Pond will coach Chemistry I in Room 102, Palmer Hall. From 2 until 3 o'clock Greek I will be coached by Amelia Plesofsky in Room 104, Latin by Betsy Fowler in Room 106, Mathematics 2 in Room 100 by Sarah Boothe, and any other classes in Mathematics by Erin Gary in Room 100. Ann Ragsdale will coach in Bible from 3 until 4 o'clock in Room 102.

"MORE HOLIDAYS" IS STUDENTS' DEMAND IN POSTER CAMPAIGN

The opinion of the Southwestern student body has been loudly proclaimed this week by the vari-colored posters, some artistically designed and others just signs, that made their very auspicious appearance upon the campus. Most of these posters carried out the "longer Christmas vacation idea" that has come into prominence lately. The success of this sign posting campaign was largely responsible for the "revolution" in chapel Tuesday.

"Longer Holidays or Else" was the title of probably the most original sign of the week. It has been rumored that this particular one originated in Robb Hall. Written in the best propaganda doggerel, it read: Longer Holidays or Else—

The students asked for an extra day, The faculty said "You can't." Is it for them to say "You is" or else "you ain't."

Arise, students, the time has come, For us to assert our rights.

Hat Company Suggests Red Hats For Rebels

Here's an interesting little item! It seems that Dr. Pond recently received a letter from a hat company, suggesting the inauguration of campus-color hats here at Southwestern. The idea was for everyone on the campus to buy and wear a red hat with a black band, with the company furnishing the headwear, of course.

One can easily imagine what fun, or something, it would be, but the most novel twist was received from one of these campus "reds." "This makes it perfect," he hissed, hurling a bomb at Palmer Hall, "what with Billy Kelly's red shirts, and now our distinctive red hat, our propaganda system will sweep everyone into our fold. Viva la Revolution!"

Christian Union Will Give Party

For Underprivileged Children; Red Bergfeld Will Play Santa Claus

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Christian Union Cabinet will hold its annual Christmas tree activity, for the benefit of fifteen underprivileged children. The Christmas tree will be placed in the cloister and loaded with clothes, candy fruit, and toys, all contributed as a social service by various student organizations. The presents will be distributed among the children by Santa Claus himself (Red Bergfeld to you). The children will be given a turkey dinner afterwards. Bruce Crill is in charge of arrangements.

An appropriation of $25 for the Christian Union Cabinet party was approved at the Young Women's Christian Association cabinet meeting Tuesday afternoon in Mrs. Diehl's apartment. The cabinet also decided to postpone the meeting scheduled for next week until the second Wednesday after the holidays.

Discussion of a proposed party for underprivileged children was held but no definite plans were made. The devotional for the meeting was given by Meredith Moorhead.

BINGHAM READS PAPER

Herbert Bingham read a paper on "Propaganda" at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the International Relations Club held Tuesday evening in Prof. M. E. Porter's room in Calvin Hall. The next meeting will be held on the Tuesday following the Christmas holidays. At that time William Murphy will read a paper to the group.

Prof. Walter Miller announced at his regular lecture last Tuesday night in Hardie Auditorium that on Dec. 20, he will give a Christmas talk with twentieth century illustrative slides. He will retrace the steps of Joseph and Mary as they went from Nazareth to Jerusalem, describing the various places along the way in words and pictures.

"Sicily as a Whole" was the topic of Prof. Miller's talk last Tuesday. He plans to renew the discussion of Sicily with a lecture on her chief city, Syracuse, which will be given after the Christmas holidays.

Jo Gilfillan was brought out by S.T.A.B. interactivity last Friday. No other selections will be made until after the Christmas holidays, Betty Wells, president of the group, announced.

How About The Humor Magazine?

Last spring there was some talk of having a campus humor magazine this fall similar to the Louisiana State Pell-Mell, the University of Kentucky "Sour Mash" and others. Plans were made—Brown was to edit it, campus cartoonists indicated readiness to poke fun with vitriolic pens, and everyone in general settled back for a hearty laugh when the first issue should appear.

This year there has been no talk of having a campus humor magazine, similar to the aforementioned publications. No plans have been made, campus cartoonists are wasting their talents sketching during lecture periods—a thoroughly frustrated lot, and everyone in general has forgotten the idea of a hearty laugh.

But we haven't forgotten it. We still think that it would be a good idea. On a whole the campus is too serious or at any rate prepared to find its humor elsewhere—which is perfectly natural since it is not, strictly speaking, our province, or that of the Journal, the literary publication, to furnish humor in any great amounts. The Lynx, the yearly picture book, too, does not place any great stress on humor. In fact, the only solution is a campus humor magazine, put out monthly or once every report period, financed by subscriptions or through the fraternities, or by sales as the football programs and many college papers are.

Such a publication we feel would fill a definite vacancy existing on the campus. There are campus artists who are as good as many professionals and there is certainly a wealth of material to be cartooned and lampooned. There are enough writers who under the capable hands of Brown could turn out humorous stories and features. And there are enough students still capable of laughing despite the European situation and the Wall Street slumps. We still say—How about the humor magazine?

Br-r-r! The Gym Needs More Heat

Though campus agitation for longer holidays becomes more heated, it has been called to our attention that the gymnasium does not share in this enthusiasm, and is lacking in sufficient heating facilities. With intramural basketball and other intramural games scheduled to be played in the gym, the need for more heat is imperative, for both the players and the rooters.

The College has done a splendid job in remodeling the interior of the gymnasium with weatherboarding and paneling. It can hardly be recognized as the dull old "barn" of last year, and it bids fair to become the recreational center of the college, with the newly granted dance privilege, as well as the athletic center. The main thing lacking are adequate heating facilities, a need that should be attended to immediately.

"If you can find something on every page of your morning newspaper that interests you, then you are enormously vital and alive." Dr. William Lyon Phelps, famed Yaleman, gives us a new standard for determining mental alertness.

BILL SAYS: When you write to Santa, by the way, ask for a longer holiday.

Missing Lynx

... From the Campus Chain

This being our special Joyeux Noel number of the Missing Lynx, we feel that first of all, we must wish all our many readers and contributors a veddy meddy Christmas. And this being a time of peace and good will, we even hope that our hecklers and Dot Steuwer have a nice time, too.

Heading our "must have" list in our letter to Santa, we are placing a request for a new simile for professors to use instead of "like Hitler and the Nazis." Everything is like Hitler—conditions in 18th Century America remind them of Hitler and Nazi Germany, ancient Greece reminds them of Hitler, French reflexive verbs bring reminiscences of Hitler, Byzantine art is like Hitler. We pray nightly for a dictatorship in Nyassaland to furnish the pros with a new simile to "clarify" their lectures. And the same goes for Il Duce and Italy.

We hear that the Zetas, headed by the fire-eating Steuwer, were riled last week because we offered a photograph of the Zeta house as the prize for our Corny Joke contest. We assure you, dear Zetas, that no insult was meant. We started to offer a picture of the Chi O. lodge, but who would want one of that?

Corny Joke Department: (Courtesy of Bob Smith).

She: Did you meet your father at the railroad station?

He: Nope. Known him all my life.

Note to the Dining Hall: "The world is never more than three months ahead of famine."—Prof. Walter Miller.

Department of Special Investigation: So many have asked who authored that mellow-drama, "The Bony Stranger Doesn't Ride Again" or "Aren't You Sorry You Came to Chapel," staged last Saturday by the Robb Hall freshmen, that we, after much time and expense, present the blushing author—Bob Stites of Galesburg, Ill.

Neatest Math Trick of the Week: Cleverest of the phenomenal crop of "Know Southwestern Better" posters was one posted by the Science Building. It disappeared early in the day, by wind or sabotage. For those who missed it, Missing Lynx repeats it by permission of the propagandist: Southwestern gives us 12 days—

Average Student sleeps 8 hours per day—Subtract 4 days.

Average Student takes one day to go home and one day to come back—Subtract 2 more days. There are two Sundays which would be holidays anyway—Subtract 2 more days, leaving 4 days.

Average Student could cut classes 4 days without decrease of grade—Subtract 4, leaving 0 days.

So Why Have a Holiday?

Lynx Chat

Little drops of scandal, Little grains of dirt— They may fall on you someday; Watch out or you'll be hurt.

Blue Ribbon to Jane Bray:

An orchid (or should it be an Orley?) to Jané Bray for the prize boner of, not only this, but of all years. It seems Jane was anxious for two All-American players of U. T. to meet our captain. So—wanting to do it right she said: "I'd like for you to meet our captain, Will Rhya Winfrey." A few minutes later another introduction was called for and when Orley asked her what she had called him, Jane draws out very slowly, "Oh, I never could say it—Will . . . Rhea . . . Winfrey!" How could she? But then perhaps she was looking into the future. . . .

Marriage at A.O.Pi Banquet:

The highlight of the A.O.Pi's Founders Day was the skit put on by the pledges. Our poor little heroine was about to wed the villain when in rushed the young hero to save her. The two young lovers were married and lived happily ever after—in the play. (What about this, Betsy and Ed?) Could the villain have been Mac? . . .

Kappa Sig's Founders Day:

Harry Phelan and Lloyd Talley took time out for a coke. (Is that why they call him Snake, Hank?) . . . Looks like Charlie Skinner's signs boycotting Mary Margaret Page did some good—for John Young who seemed quite captivated . . . Wonder if Beth Paine has told Kite about Bobby, for Kite appeared to be enjoying the company of Letty Brooks. . . . Did Catherine Hollinger and Bass Morris give the Griesbeck-Waggener combination their vote of approval? . . . Thought Williford was one of our few "unattached" gals, but it looks like Fred Boehme is now in the spotlight. . . . Thinks one of our more handsome grads, Arnold Hebert, has a serious but Bright outlook on life. Norma seemed sorta happy herself! . . . The dance was a grand success for everyone but "Moose" Wilson who spent the last half looking for his date. By the way, Rex, did "Duck" Womble and Margaret Mason explain their absence?

Romances of the Future:

Now that you've probably seen with whom you are going to the Women's Pan, boys, here's a toast to some new romances! . . . After next Tuesday, we expect to hear Heathie Butler raving over Pete Baker . . . Mary Nell and Ewing may be casting amorous glances at each other again. . . . Prewitt and Marjorie DeVall—whatever could this mean except that they are looking out for Bernadine's and Lapsley's interests? . . . "Pris" Shumaker has evidently had a change of heart as to last year's interest in "Red" Garrison. Don't see her around much, but the secret is out—that blond, blushing and bedazzling McGrady seems to have captured her fancy! . . . Celeste Taylor couldn't let Tobey get ahead of her, so she spoke right up and you see that she and Jack Conn are hitting it off quite well. Here's to better success after the Pan . . . And now happy holidays to you all and a little advice to the boys. . . . Boys, you'd better watch out. Be nice to your date, Don't make her mad. And don't make her wait 'Cause Santa Claus is coming to town . . .

MARRIAGE, PSYCHOLOGY RANK FIRST IN STUDENTS' READING

Hearing in psychology that one could discover a lot about people's hidden interests from the books they read, your snooping reporter hied himself up to the library the other afternoon with the hope of finding out about all those suppressed desires. From the information we got it seems that Dr. A. knew what he was talking about.

Margy Curry has been reading "The Last Puritan." No doubt she was trying to find out if there was one left. Margy says she certainly never had a date with one. Alec Cortner read "We Aren't So Dumb" (??) while Curtis Hurley took out "The Moral Obligation to Be Intelligent." Evidently he returned it unread as we haven't noticed any improvement. "This Is My Story" was Paula Harris' choice. We would like to read your own version of that, Paula.

The most popular book of late is entitled "Marriage." Everyone has been trying to get it without the rest of the school knowing about it, but here's the latest list. Reading it are Sarah Boothe and Tom White, followed by Ki Farnsworth, J. P. Cavender, Virgil McCraney, Virginia Mangum, Billy Donelson, and Virginia Waggener. Sounds serious, folks.

Henry Mobley has read "Mentality of Apes" while Lloyd Parker chose "Apes, Men, and Morons." This must be due to the type people they have been associated with of late. Dorothea Wyatt and Mary Heath Butler are reading "Wives" while Carey Eckert and Annabell Paine took out "Daughters of Eve." Whoops, there goes that fig-leaf. Barbara Dean took out "Farewell to Arms" but we were glad to see that she changed her mind and returned it the next day. Beth Paine also returned "Strategy in Handling People" in a hurry, saying that she knew more about that than any book. "Love-children" was Mary Jane Maxwell's choice, who also read "Come and Get It." Betty Wells read "Alcohol and Men" (why Joe), while P. S. Weaver was interested in "Guiding the Child."

Those of you who have had your eyes on some of the "more interesting" literature in the library need have no worries about taking it out as the editor swears he won't print another of our features.

Rules For Being The Belle Of The Backward Ball

Each year we deem it necessary to give a few pointers on how to be a "Panhellenic Panic." The idea back of this article is not to be humorous, but helpful; so with all impunity, we are able to cite a few examples of how certain boys are coping with the problem.

First, keep this in mind: no matter what you do, be sure plenty of people see it or know about it. Of course, you probably won't be as fortunate as Henry Mobley with the eye of the whole student body focused on your antics, but you might try the individualistic approach of Bob "How about a coke after chapel" Montgomery. Bob Black works out his own little system by giving "en masse" instructions to the freshettes. Bland Cannon probably thinks he can have a wonderful time without using any kind of tactics—and may be can.

Those like Jimmy Powell, Bernard Lockridge and Clois Neal who have steady (off and on) girl friends, are clinging to the hope she will be able to swing the whole sorority. Sam Mays represents a class about which little is known, with his cherry words and bright smile. Even Sam swears it's a "Laugh, Clown, Laugh" pose.

A couple of suggestions, just to throw you off the track: 1. Do not give more than two late dates: the girls might decide to keep them. 2. If you think you can, make up in five days, for how you didn't "make-up" during the past three months, Be Friendly.

Society Notes

By Blanche Fleming

What with the Christmas holidays just around the corner, and that proverbial feeling of "good will toward man" (any man) spreading around, social life is picking up—

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Christmas Party

On Monday the nineteenth, the S. A. E.'s will give their annual Christmas Tree party from 4 until 9 o'clock. The fraternity lodge will be decorated with the traditional holly and, of course, mistletoe, with a giant Christmas tree in one corner of the room. "Ole Santa" will be there in person, played by—well, that's a secret—and will distribute fitting and amusing gifts to each guest.

Members and their dates are: William Belcher with Mary Ann Owens, Gorton Berry with Jeanne Reeves, Bruce Buchman with Peggy Webster, Sam Carter with Jean Erb, Frank Campbell with Nell Porter, Alec Cortner with Ann Tuthill, Bill Donelson with Blanche Fleming, Allen Fisher with Barbara Dean, Jimmy Graebel with Barbara Brown, H. R. Holcomb with Mary Elizabeth Harsh, Rothrock Miller with Jane Graves, Lloyd Parker with Letty Brooks, John Patton with Nancy Caradine, Harry Prest with Margaret Wardlaw, Robert Quindley with Mary Martin Dunscomb, Shepherd Tate with Mary Ware, Jimmy Taylor with Jo Giffillan, William Tyson with Jane Giffillan, Waddy West with Mary Louise Hughes, Tom White with Sarah Boothe, George Humphrey and Mary Mac Hines.

Delta Delta Delta Pine Tree Party

Not content with one party, the Tri-Delts are having two. The first, their annual Pine Tree Party, was given by the Alliance on Wednesday, the 14th complimenting the pledges and active members.

Boughs of pine, the emblem of the sorority, were banked on the balcony, and a gaily decorated pine tree, from which gifts were distributed, stood at one end of the room. A humorous skit was presented by the actives, to complete the evening's entertainment.

This afternoon, Dec. 16, the active members will entertain with a tea complimenting the pledges, patrons, and friends of the sorority. Red carnations in a silver bowl will center the tea table, flanked by red tapers in silver candelabra.

Alpha Omicron Pi Yuletide Party

The A. O. P.'s are having their Yuletide party on Saturday, the seventeenth, with a Christmas tree 'n all the trimmings. The house will be decorated as befitting the season—even to a big holly wreath on the front door. The fireplace will be banked with greenery, and on either end will burn tall red candles tied with bows of white tulle dotted with silver stars.

Near the tree will be placed a large grab bag (like Santa's proverbial sack) from which each member will draw a gift. Another large sack is to contain the presents brought by the members for the two children of a needy family.

At six, supper will be served followed by a skit given by the pledges intended (we hope) to be a take-off of the members, and to top off the evening, there will be an old-fashioned "song fest" around the open fire.

Chi Omegas Exchange Gifts

On Thursday evening at six o'clock the Chi Omegas held an informal party in their lodge. Several days before, each girl had drawn the name of a fellow member, and brought a present to be put on the Christmas tree. Each package had a verse attached suited to the personality of the receiver, but the gifts themselves were brought to be given to the children of a poor family, to whom the Chi O.'s are playing Santa Claus.

Zeta Tau Alpha Entertains Parents

Alumnae and the parents of both members and pledges attended the Zeta Christmas party on Thursday evening. The house decorations centered the large lighted tree under which gifts for the lodge were placed. Santa Claus in his sleigh with "eight tiny reindeer" formed the centerpiece of the table from which refreshments were served.

The officers of the active chapter, and the president of the pledge group, formed the receiving line.

Kappa Delta To Give Party

The Kappa Deltas will hold their annual Christmas party in the sorority lodge on Monday, Dec. 19, from 7 to 8 o'clock. A Christmas motif will be carried out in the decorations throughout the house. A tree will stand near the open fireplace, and holly and ivy will complete the Yuletide scene.

Poinsettias will form the center decoration for the tea table with crimson tapers on either side. Mrs. George Clark Houston and Miss Frances Moss will preside over the silver service, the gift of the Mother's Club. Invitations have been extended to members of the Mother's Club and the alumnae.

ALUMNI OFFICE TO BE MOVED

The Alumni Office will be moved to the office in Palmer Hall, formerly occupied by the bursar, Mr. C. L. Springfield announced Tuesday. The bursar's office and the business office will be incorporated, he said.

Lynx Cats Open Basketball Season With 52-44 Win

Smith and Blakemore Lead With 17 Points Each

LYNX OFFENSE IS GOOD

Neal and Cox Outstanding In Floorwork

With seasoned-veteran Gaylon Smith and sophomore George Blakemore leading the way with 17 points each, Southwestern inaugurated the Lynx Cats' 1938-39 basketball season with a 52 to 44 victory over Arkansas College in Batesville, Ark., Tuesday night.

Southwestern was ahead from start to finish. The score at half-time was 27-17, in favor of the Lynx.

Smith Spectacular

Captain Smith, twice All-Dixie forward, played his usual spectacular game, sinking goals from all parts of the floor. Blakemore, last year's sensational frosh forward, proved adept at crisp shots and tied Smith for high point honors among the Lynx. Kohn Bray, Arkansas College's accurate shooting forward, was high-point man of the night with 21 points, and kept the Southwestern defense on edge at all times.

The Lynx offense was the complete show of the night. Rapid-fire passing and straight, accurate shooting sent the Southwestern team far ahead in the earlier part of the game and the red-and-black withstood Arkansas College's last period stand with ease. The floorwork of Virgil Cox and Toddy Neal of the Lynx and Taylor of Arkansas College was outstanding.

Lineups:

Southwestern	Pos.	Ark. College
Smith (17)	F	K. Bray (21)
Blakemore (17)	F	Estes
Self (6)	C	J. Bray (13)
Cox (12)	G	Taylor (6)
Neal	G	Golden (4)

Lynx Runners Place Second With High Score

Southwestern's six-man cross country team placed second last Saturday in the first annual three-mile cross country run sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. in Chickasaw Gardens. Ole Miss harriers amassed a low score of 22 points for first place with Southwestern far behind with a total of 66 points. The Lynx and the Rebels were the only two full teams entered, with Jackson Y. M. C. A. and several unattached entries completing the field.

Guy Hawthorn, long-legged Ole Miss runner, won the event and the trophy with a time of 15 minutes 45 seconds. Bernard Yaffee, Joe Simpson and Dick Stagers, all of Ole Miss, followed in that order. Fred Myracle slipped into fifth place to break the Ole Miss monopoly. Luke Dawson, in sixth place, scored the Lynx first point.

Hollinger Wins Archery Tourney For Second Time

The women's archery tournament was held Tuesday afternoon in Palmer Hall gymnasium with the result that Catherine Hollinger was crowned champion. This is the second time that Miss Hollinger has received this honor, having won in 1936 also. Runner-up in the tournament was Stella Jones with Ruth Lee in third place.

And so the race for the athletic trophy is on. Twenty-five points go to the sorority to which the winner of first place belongs while the sororities which have second and third places receive fifteen and ten points respectively. Also five points are given for each entrant. As they stand now, A. O. Pi is leading with thirty points, Chi Omega and Non-sorority are second with twenty points each, and Kappa Delta and Tri-Delta are trailing with fifteen points each.

A Peace Council to coordinate the peace activities of all existing campus organizations has been organized at New Jersey College for Women.

A.T.O. Leads Basketball Race

Hearn And Moorhead Spark Alpha Tau's To Seven Court Victories

Alpha Tau Omega, sparked by W. J. "Lilly" Hearn and Bill Moorhead, jumped into the lead in the intramural basketball lead over the weekend. The powerful A. T. O. aggregation boasts seven victories against one loss, that to Kappa Alpha earlier in the season.

Kappa Alpha, led by the inspiring play of Bob Black, John Flaniken and Bill Maybry, set the pace for the first week, winning four games without a loss. The loss of Bob Black, who went out for the freshman team this week, weakened the K. A.'s and Kappa Sigma surprised them with an 18 to 11 defeat. A. T. O. beat Non-Fraternity, 12 to 9, to tie for the lead with K. A. and took the lead by beating Pi Kappa Alpha, 34 to 7.

The accurate tossing of Hearn and Billy Moorhead proved too much for the Pi K. A.'s again Tuesday night and A. T. O. pulled through to win 24 to 21. The A. T. O.'s were trailing at the end of the first half, 13 to 4. They won their seventh straight game Wednesday by defeating K. A., 28 to 14.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon with five wins and two losses holds down second place. K. A. and Sigma Nu are tied for third with four victories and three defeats. Non-Fraternity holds down the fifth spot with three wins and four defeats.

Hearn of A. T. O., with 42 points, leads in individual scoring. Val Huber, Pi K. A., and Virgil McCraney, S. A. E., have a total of 32 points for second place. Billy Moorhead, A. T. O., and William Nakajima, Non-Frats, are tied for third with 31 points.

Bobcats Win By 44 To 21 Score

Freshman Basketball Teams Win Easily Over The Central Warriors, 44 To 21

A larger and more experienced Bobcat basketball team defeated Central High's Warriors, 44 to 21, in the college gymnasium Tuesday afternoon. The Bobcats maintained a comfortable margin throughout the entire game.

In their first game of the season, the young Lynx used every man on the squad. Coach High's charges functioned smoothly and appeared to be in mid-season form.

Southwestern was on top at half-time by a score of 15 to 6. Both teams played defensive ball in the first half with the result that little scoring was done. With the start of the second half the two teams tore the wraps off their best plays and threw goals from all angles of the floor.

Schuyler Reid led Bobcat scorers with 29 points. Bobby Saunders, Fleet Edwards, and Gene Bledsoe were standouts for Central. West, Conn, Gilmer, and Rutherford also showed up well for the Bobcats.

A new club for commuters, called the Jacobus Club, has been formed at Stevens Institute of Technology.

Band Turns To Symphony

Tuthill Says Group Is Handicapped By Lack of Clarinets

Band rehearsals of symphonic music began last Tuesday under the direction of Prof. Burnet C. Tuthill. "Now that the football season is over the band is turning its attention to classical pieces," said Prof. Tuthill. "However, we are handicapped by a lack of clarinets, due to both graduations of former clarinet players and resignation of others who are still on the campus."

One-quarter of the Princeton University freshmen are more than six feet tall.
