Gala Day To Be Celebrated As Grads Return

Kitty Bright Tipton Reigns As Queen Of Homecoming Day

Southwestern is planning to celebrate the largest and most gala Homecoming Day in the history of the school tomorrow, Saturday, November 18, according to Mary Pond, alumni secretary. Three hundred graduates and former students are expected to attend the dinner which will be given in Neely Hall tomorrow evening after the football game.

But festivities will have been in full swing long before that. Plans developed early in the week by Bland Cannon, head cheerleader, and Emmett Kelly, president of the freshman class, called for a bonfire on Friday night under the auspices of the freshman class.

At 12 noon on Saturday, inspection will be made by the judges of the alumni association of the house decorations at the fraternity and sorority lodges. Several novel and entertaining ideas have been worked out, and this year, as last, the winner's name will be engraved. The fraternity or sorority winning the award three times will retain permanent possession. Last year the plaque was won by the Kappa Sigma fraternity. The result of the judging will be announced at the dance Saturday night.

The outstanding event of interest, of course, will be the football game between Southwestern and Clemson, scheduled for 2 o'clock at Crump Stadium. Students are urged to arrive early, for before the game Miss Kitty Bright Tipton, Homecoming Queen, will be presented. She will be rolled onto the playing field encased in a large football, and as she emerges, will press a button and step out in a cloud of white smoke. Miss Tipton was elected Queen by a popular vote of the student body in chapel several weeks ago. She is the third queen to be selected in such a manner, the former two having been Margaret England and Anne Potts.

After the football game, there will be open houses at all fraternity and sorority lodges, at which time everyone will have a chance to see the decorations and enjoy refreshments. The open houses will last from 4:30 to 6:30.

At 6:45 the alumni dinner will be held in Neely Hall. Dr. W. J. Millard, pastor of Evergreen Presbyterian Church, will be toastmaster. Talks will be made by Dr. Charles E. Diehl and Head Coach Ed Kubale. A special dinner at a downtown hotel for Jess Neely, Clemson coach and former tutor at Southwestern, is being planned by several of the boys who played under him when he was here.

The climax of the Homecoming Day celebrations will be the dance in the

Honor Roll Made By Six Students

McBurney And Ruffin Make First Honor Roll With Five A's

Six students—one senior, four juniors, and a freshman—made the honor roll for the first period ending Monday, November 13. Two made the first honor roll and four the second. One of the first honor roll students, Jac Ruffin, is carrying six subjects.

William McBurney, a senior, made A's in English 41, English 53, English 55, German 1, and Bible 51. Jac Ruffin made A's in Greek 51, History 51, Music 1, Biology 1, Latin 51, and a B in German 1.

On the second honor roll were Gladys Moore, a freshman, with A's in Bible 1, English 1, Greek 1, History 1, and a B in Spanish 41; Mildred Noce, with A's in Biology 21, Biology 109, Mathematics 21, Psychology 1, and a B in Chemistry 3; Amelia Plesofsky, with A's in English 107, French 35, History 23, Psychology 1, and a B in Journalism; and Robert Price, with A's in Greek 51, Greek 55, French 41, Music 1, and a B in Philosophy 1.

The Student Says

QUESTION

Do you think Southwestern is lacking in spiritual life?

ANSWERS

Walter Hall, senior: Yes, but I think the condition should be remedied by cooperation with the existing religious organizations on the campus, rather than by creating new agencies to meet the need.

Walter Scott, sophomore: Yes, I do. It is not exactly a lack of spiritual life, but rather a lack of spiritual outlook. This is illustrated by the lack of reverence in chapel. Chapel is just a matter-of-fact service, which we attend, but which we look on as merely routine.

Charles Edwards, sophomore: Yes. I have never seen such a deplorable display of so-called Christian idealism as that which we maintain here at Southwestern.

Walter Bader, sophomore: It isn't correct to say that Southwestern lacks spiritual life. The facilities for religious life are present. There are plenty of religious organizations, but the lack is in a religious outlook in the student body as a whole.

SOUTHWESTERN

THE COLLEGE OF THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY
MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE

November 17, 1939.

To the Alumni and Former Students of SOUTHWESTERN:

We desire to extend a hearty welcome to all of you who find it possible to return for Homecoming Day. We are endeavoring to establish a strong tradition in connection with the return of old students on Homecoming Day because we feel that the occasion should be increasingly emphasized. It gives an opportunity to refresh one's enthusiasm and to live over again to a limited extent some of the experiences of college days.

The outstanding event of interest, of course, is the football game with Clemson University, and you will probably see at that game at Crump Stadium the members of the faculty and staff, to say nothing of the student body. However, we hope that you will meet us a little more intimately on the campus, and that you will find it convenient to have dinner with us at Neely Hall at 6:45 p.m.

CHARLES E. DIEHL, President.

Jackson Speaks To Men's Bible Class

Talks On World Youth Conference; Attendance By Women Is Urged

George Jackson spoke Sunday night to the Men's Bible Class in the band house. He gave a summary of the World Youth Conference which he attended last summer in Amsterdam, Holland. After the talk the club held a discussion on the different religious sects represented at the conference. The group plans to have a talk by Dr. D. M. Amacker next Sunday night.

The Men's Bible Class is composed of students who are interested in promoting the religious life of the college. The officers are: Allen Craft, president; Tom Mobley, vice-president, and Ned Hermann, secretary.

"Deacon" Craft says that he hopes to have more women students attending the meeting. He wishes that they would follow the example set by Annie Few Work.

TUTHILL'S WORK TO BE PLAYED

"Bethlehem," a composition of Professor Burnet C. Tuthill, will be played by the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra at a performance on Sunday, November 26. The information was imparted to Prof. Tuthill in a letter to and conductor.

Memphis Symphony To Present Concert

Will Be Held At Orpheum Theatre On November 21

The Memphis Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Professor Burnet C. Tuthill, will present the first concert of its second season at the Orpheum Theatre on Tuesday, November 21. Miss Eugenia Buxton will be piano soloist. Miss Buxton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Buxton, of Memphis, has studied in Paris and New York, and has played so far this year with the Syracuse and Montreal Symphony orchestras.

The symphony originally grew out of a Southwestern-Memphis College of Music orchestra. Public interest in the group was so high that it was decided to make it into a civic proposition. Now there are twice as many outsiders as students in the orchestra.

The program for the concert will be: "Overture to Russian and Ludmilla," by Glinka; "Piano Concerto Number 1," by Beethoven, played by Miss Eugenia Buxton; "Fantasy Overture, Romeo and Juliet," by Tchaikovsky; "Petite Suite," by Debussy; "Overture, Prince Hal," by David Stanley Smith.

Southwestern students who will play in the concert are Elizabeth Jetter, Anne Tuthill, Willis Ensign, William Bobo, Campbell Sharp, Barney Gallagher; also Hope Brewster, 1936; and Fred Thomas, 1939.

Lynx Roll Of Special Mention

Two more names are added this week to the Lynx Roll of Special Mention. One name belongs to a senior and one to a sophomore. The two men are Doyle Fuller and Jimmy Andrew.

Both men have shown increasingly brilliant play since the beginning of the season. In every game they have played their work has been above reproach. Fuller and Andrew were standouts in the game with Howard last Saturday afternoon both on offense and defense.

Taking them in line of seniority we first come to Doyle Fuller. Doyle, a junior college transfer, came to Southwestern last year as a junior. He hails from Shamrock, Texas, where he was born twenty-two years ago on August 17, 1917. His prep school education was received in the local high school in Shamrock. While in prep school he participated in four sports, lettering in three of them. Fuller played tackle on the football team one year and was weight man on the track team for one year. He was heavyweight boxing champion of the school and was also crowned champ of his district three times. Basketball also took up part of his time until it was disbanded.

After graduation he entered Wesley Junior College at Greenville, Texas. At Wesley he played regular tackle on the football team for two years.

Fuller is one of the biggest men on the squad as he weighs two hundred twenty-five pounds and is six feet two inches tall. Though big, he is not clumsy and awkward in his movements. His experience as a boxer enables him to handle himself easily and swiftly. Doyle is majoring in history and expects to graduate this June.

Next on our list is James Ward Andrew, better known as Jimmy or "Whisky Jim." Jimmy came to Southwestern last year as a freshman from Princeton, Indiana, where his father is connected with the Southern Railroad. He is 19 years old, 190 pounds big and 6 feet high. During his matriculation at Princeton High School, Jimmy excelled in athletics and scholarship. He spent four years on the football team, playing first string fullback. His last year of football was climaxed with his being chosen as fullback on the All-Southern Indiana conference team. Jimmy also played left-field on the baseball team for four years.

Last year Whisky Jim was the best back on the freshman squad. This year, however, the public did not get to see much of him until the Sewanee game when his line-plunging made everyone sit up and take notice. He was even better in the Loyola game, and last Saturday against Howard he gave the best performance given by any Southwestern back this year. Time after time Jimmy took the ball and blasted the Howard forward wall to pieces. A large part of the first downs made by the Lynx must be credited to him. Both of the touchdowns were made by him, as well as the lone extra point after touchdown. His performance so far has been such as to cause some to say that he will someday surpass the fame of Gaylon Smith. Jimmy is also the leading scorer of the Dixie Conference, having accounted for twenty-five points.

Aside from football his favorite sport is hunting. Right now he says that he is not bothered with woman-trouble, but it was heard in the dressing room that he is in love with a little girl in Princeton named Sadie.

Lynx Meet Clemson In Homecoming Game Tomorrow At Crump

Students may secure their reports from their faculty advisers on Monday, November 20, Miss Annie Beth Gary, registrar, announced.

Alumni Dance Tomorrow Night

Bill Taylor's Band Will Play For Gym Affair Saturday Night

According to the best available estimates the largest crowd of the year will be in attendance at the Alumni Dance which will climax Homecoming Day. The dance will be held in the gymnasium. Music will be furnished by the orchestra of Bill Taylor, former Southwestern student. The gymnasium will be decorated with balloons and streamers in Southwestern colors. There will be four no-breaks and three specials. Tickets are available at 75c stag and a dollar couple.

Those attending will be:

Ninth Ranking Tigers Favored To Down Lynx

Improved Home Team Will Try To Stop McFadden, Bryant

Southwestern's fighting Lynx Cats come to the high point of this year's football season tomorrow when they encounter the Tigers of Clemson University. Boasting one of the strongest teams in the nation, the Tigers come to town as topheavy favorites. Having lost only one game this year and that to a strong Tulane team by one point (7-6). Included in their list of victims are Navy, N. C. State, and Wake Forest, whom Duke was barely able to overcome. According to the latest tabulations they are ranked ninth in the whole U. S.

In spite of the Lynx's great improvement experts give them little chance of upsetting Clemson Saturday afternoon. Clemson is equipped with plenty of reserves both in the backfield and the line. Sparking the Tiger attack will be Banks McFadden, All-American triple threat man. McFadden is one of the shiftest runners in the South and probably the best punter. His kicks travel anywhere from fifty to seventy yards. The Tigers have three backfields, each one as good as the next one. All three are exceptionally fast and powerful.

Both the Lynx and the Tiger employ the same formation so the Lynx should not have much trouble getting the hang of the Clemson attack. What will probably count in the end will be the amount of power held by Clemson over Southwestern.

Adding moral support to the Clemson squad will be their picked platoon. This platoon is composed of those men who excel in the military classes which are held at Clemson. It contains about fifty men, including officers. It will go through some complicated infantry drills at the half.

Clemson is the strongest team to play in Memphis this year. That fact alone is enough to bring out a large crowd. But add to that the fact that Saturday is Homecoming Day for Southwestern Alumni. On Clemson's coaching staff are two men who have had former connections with Southwestern. One of them is Jess Neely, now head coach at Clemson, who was formerly head coach at Southwestern. The other is Joe Davis, assistant Clemson coach, who was captain of the Lynx football team in 1924.

Myth

We've all thought for a long time that something ought to be done about it—this business of making the life of today's collegian glamorous and carefree—and at last the Daily Dartmouth of Dartmouth College has done it! We believe you'll give a rousing second to this editorial:

"It's about time somebody tried once and for all to dispel the myth of the carefree college boy. The college boy, people who are out of college, or have never been there, will tell you, lives a life which runs the gamut from pure joy to the ultimate in rhapsodic existence, and the Sunday magazine sections picture him with glass in hand, his lips creased in a gay smile, while a number of beautiful women parade past him like so much beef on the hoof. The motion pictures are doing their level best to prolong the life of this popular fiction, and thousands of young girls who stand on their feet all day behind the counters from Worcester to Oshkosh find their own particular heaven in watching some clean cut god of the Tom Brown species cavort through a land overflowing with evening clothes and exciting football finishes, strewing his fraternity pins behind him.

"The college boy may seem that way at times, and particularly when he begins to reminisce for the benefit of the homefolks during vacation periods, but that is because he is learning that the only way to please is to give people what they expect, and that no one will believe, much less listen to him, if he tries to tell the crowd that he is doing a serious job of going to college, and that he has a lot of things on his mind.

"The fact is that college boys work hard, take a Saturday night off for relaxation, like to sit by the fire and read the newspaper, are ugly or good looking as the case may be, have their domestic troubles with their roommates, get broke, argue with the traffic cop, do or do not like their eggs flopped over, and call Mr. Roosevelt names, even as any average citizen who lives uphill and goes to work on Main Street. To be sure, college boys are young, and they do these things with more spirit, and harder than they will twenty years from now, but the point is that this is what they do, and it's peculiar that nobody wants to believe it.

"Just the same, we hope the day will come when some stranger will tell us that he's working in such and such a place, and we can reply that we're going to college, without catching that 'oh, college boy' look in his eye."

To which me say, "Amen!"—Associated Collegiate Press.

How To Make The Honor Roll

If you want to be an "A" student, take the advice of Harold L. Hoffman, a psychology major at Lenoir Rhyne College.

Here are the five steps to academic success that he recommends:

- 1. Study. Remember that those students labeled "geniuses" really study for their superior marks. 2. Love "all" the opposite sex, not just one of said sex. This tends to create a superior, "I'm all right," frame of mind. 3. Cultivate a liking for your professors and for your studies. Hard to do perhaps, but if at least a neutral attitude is adopted toward each professor and each study, and a sincere effort is made to master the subject, success will be yours. 4. Every college student has someone interested in his success—a father, a mother, a sister, a brother, perhaps a sweetheart, an aunt, or an uncle. Develop an "I'll show you" attitude. Prove to those financial, loving, and/or spiritual backers that you are equal to the task.

5. Be a good "mixer"—put on the old personality with your associates, for creating a favorable attitude in the eyes of your fellow students will make you as an individual happy, light-hearted, and free—desired qualities for a successful student.

Missing Lynx

From the Campus Chain

It was with painful starts of memory that we encountered on Main Street the other day, none other than the legendary Abe Pletchnow—mutilator of four April Fool Carnivals and unanimously-acclaimed Most Loquacious Lubricator in the 1938 graduating class. To those youngsters who do not remember the venerable Abe, be it said that he claims full credit for the sidewalk along the Parkway border of the campus.

While resting on the Robb Hall railing, Jac Covington Ruffin came rolling across the campus, chuckling to himself. Under his arm was a volume of poetry by Gertrude Stein. He raved about Miss Stein.

"If ever there was a genius, it is Gertrude Stein," he said.

That statement interested us, so we went to the library, ran the gauntlet of the librarians, and picked up one of her books. Maybe we picked the wrong poem to read, but the first one we saw was this Valentine chant. We read no further, being convinced that Gertrude Stein is truly a genius.

A VERY VALENTINE

Very fine is my valentine. Very fine and very mine. Very mine is my valentine, very mine and very fine, Very fine is my valentine and mine very fine very mine and mine is my valentine.

Things We Have Always Wanted to Do:

When the light changes to green and the driver behind clamps down on his horn, we have a great desire to pull on our brake, cut off the ignition, get out of the car very deliberately, slowly walk back to the horn-blower and ask him what he wants.

Plug of the Week:

Miss Mary Anne Simonton, of Covington, Tennessee, and Alpha Omicron Pi, recently received one of the smoothest compliments we've heard in many a day. A certain professor approached the gypsy-like Mary Anne, and giving her an apple, said: "If I were Paris, who would you be?" Apparently that pale and wan ghost of chivalry that we have noticed around for quite a while has found refuge in the faculty room.

Incidentally, have the students of Art Appreciation noticed the resemblance of Miss Nell Wright, the Simonton's companion, to the frescoed angels of Fra Angelico.

Being a dyed-in-the-wool Republican, it was gratifying to find a fellow-columnist remarking, "Even if Cal Coolidge did fiddle while the country boomed, we have a kindly feeling for his memory and we had a lot of fun when he ruled."

For once, "Time Magazine," super gossip column, outdid itself for inane cuteness in its jabbering criticism of "Elizabeth and Essex," the rose that bloomed out of the Warner Bros. dump heap. Among campus Philistines sharing this uncomplicated attitude was Mr. John William Young who was wondering how he could even give away passes to it. We say it's Academy Award material and defy all comers.

How to End a Conversation:

When your serious-minded friends ask you the inevitable query, "What do you think of the European situation?" look them straight in the eye, shake your head slowly and say, "It's a mess."—Kentucky Kernel.

Plug of the Week:

We urge all lovers of things dramatic and stagey, to keep eyes wide open for Prof. C. Pendleton Lee's forthcoming production, "Right You Are If You Think You Are," which he hopes will be a repetition of a success of two years ago. All we can say at present is that a combination of Starling Reid, Pat Davis, and Frances Ruffin in any situation should prove amusing.

This is positively the last plea for our Corny Joke Department. If no such gems are forthcoming within the next week, we will, with a sigh of regret, let it perish, and keep the picture of the Chi Omega house for ourselves.

BORN A COUPLE OF CENTURIES TOO LATE Ma: "Sonny, don't use such bad words." Sonny: "Shakespeare did." Ma: "Then don't play with him."

Lynx Chat

Your little lynx pussy has really been havin' a whirl. Every night we find ourselves leaving ye ole penthouse apartment, bedecked with orchids and clad in the latest Parisian creation, for the debutante soirees. Pandemonium still has the impossible task of arousing us in the morning in time to make chapel. We finally remembered this Wednesday to drop by and see Miss Gary about our cuts, and, needless to say, we feel that Dean Johnson will soon be paid a visit.

The Country Club Ball found a good deal of Southwestern present, not to mention those four charming Southwesterners who are being presented this year. . . . The Sigma Alpha Epsilons had their table over which Miss Anne Potts presided with date, Bobby Elder. . . . At the Kappa Sigma table (and isn't it funny how everybody divided up into fraternities) were Miss Hughes with Billy Kelly, who will tell you that Tunica, Miss, is hardly any distance from Memphis. . . . George Jackson, Frank England, and John Rhem have already received our honorary degree, D.D. (Debutante delite). . . . At the K. A. table were Tip and Mary Ware, but we might add that H. C. has now drawn a halo around Mary's picture that he has in his room. Also there were Rowlett and Hepple, McBurney and Ruffin with "Cactus Kate" Ramsey. And we could go raving about Ann Scott's party, and Margot Hamilton's, but there are other bits of dirt around this campus that just have to be thrown, so here goes.

We nominate for one of our most eccentric couples, Bill Baird and Margaret Polk. They sit around and smoke pipes all the time. Well, we won't say all the time. . . . Margaret Bass has been leading a merry race, pursued by Curtis Hurley and Pat Davis. Evidently they haven't heard about your med school friend, Margaret. . . . Curtis, however, is keeping the way open, and whenever he gets ready, he will push Mr. Mobley from Jett's vicinity and take over. At least that's what Curtis says. . . . The prize happening of the dance was Arabia Wooten asking Sam Hill where he went to high school. Sam told her he would be out here in February, and Arabia promised him a date for his first night at Southwestern. And at this time we would like to pause and make a special award: To Mr. Sam Hill a copy of the currently popular recording, "Oh Johnny, Oh Johnny, How You Can Love." For further information see some of our fairer sex.

While Carolyn Carroll and Kate Weaver have been visiting out of town there have been some glum expressions. . . . Julian Nall has evidently let out his secret crush for Cecilia Hill. He's taking her to the next party. . . . Buddy McNeess has been dating up Ann Worton for months ahead of time. But, Buddy, did you know Ann was at the hospital to see a certain freshman football player last week? . . . And at the football game Saturday did you see those members of the sophomore slump come tramping in together, and dateless? We won't go over all their names but it was the regular bunch. And we know you saw Mary Elizabeth Harsh's orchids. . . . Louise Howry has a date with a Clemson boy Saturday. Where does she get all her out of town men? . . . Elizabeth Holder has a football "S", and did you see her dancing the Pan lead-out with Dr. Cooper? When did you become a member of the council, Dr. Cooper? And we are surprised that the student dance committee wasn't functioning around the hat check stand, and about Mr. Ayres attending the dance in a sweater.

Overheard in German class (and for printing this we get a "B" in Dr. Paulsen's course): "In English when we speak of the weather we say 'it is', but in French we say 'it makes'—like 'it makes moonshine.'" (He still wonders why the class laughed.) . . . We also overheard Madeline Brabant saying, "In France, the boys rush the girls; why is it that in America the girls rush the boys?" . . . Minna Potts struck a graceful pose and exclaimed, "Ballerina!" and just then one of the professors opened his door and saw her perched on one toe—imagine his amazement. In case you are one of those who like the exotic type, perhaps it wouldn't be a bad idea to look up Lila Sigrest. . . . Herbert Dawson is now writing love lyrics to some beautiful blonde he met recently. . . . And Nena is happy now that Bob Foley is back.

"Buzz" Slusser and Jane Chilton Adams suddenly remembered that they had met in California three years ago. . . . It's about time. . . . Dorothy Hanna is seriously considering going back there, where the "climate" is better. . . . And we might add that Katherine Miller had a birthday Monday. . . . And why doesn't Sam B. Anderson ever give us a break. . . . Jack Booth has a date with Arabia's little sister for the K.A. steak fry. That coupled with Homecoming, etc., should make next week a glorious one. Until then, g'bye.

Echoes From The Morgue

Three Years Ago This Week—

Billy Betha, James Merrin, Charles Barton, and Lauren Watson were tapped for membership by Omicron Delta Kappa.

Plans for a full-size annual this year instead of the former slim senior yearbook were announced by James Merrin, editor.

Two Years Ago This Week—

Eight students made the honor roll for the first report period, with two making all A's.

Five departmental editors were announced to head the Sou'wester staff. They are William McBurney, Claudia Yerger, Thomas Pappas, Rose Lynn Barnard, and Leslie Buchman.

Southwestern lost to Centre College, 7 to 6, at Crump Stadium, Gaylon Smith scoring the only touchdown for the Lynx.

The Bobcats defeated the State Teachers freshmen 7 to 0.

One Year Ago This Week—

Homecoming Day was celebrated Saturday, November 19. The feature attraction was the football game between Southwestern and Mississippi State, which the Lynx won by a score of 7 to 3. The score came when Bill Little blocked one of Sonny Bruce's punts and recovered over the goal line.

Anne Potts reigned over the festivities as Homecoming Queen. Kappa Sigma won the alumni plaque for the best house decorations and also the award for selling the most tickets to the alumni dance.

The Ministerial Club presented a pageant, "The Broken Christ," before the residents of the Shelby County Home.

Five students made the honor roll, three making all A's.

RUFFIN SPEAKS TO NITISTS
The Nitist Club of Southwestern met in Professor M. E. Porter's rooms in Calvin Hall last night at 7:30. A general discussion followed the reading of a paper by Jac Ruffin, entitled "The Merits of the Crump Political Machine."

Novel House Decorations Will Be Presented By Greek Lodges

By DOROTHY STEUWER
When the Southwestern Lynx clash with the Clemson Tigers tomorrow in the homecoming game, Southwestern's sorority and fraternity row will present a gala appearance, for all of them are holding open house and all will be decorated inside and out. The Zeta Tau Alpha house will be converted into a hospital for the occasion. Outside there will be an ambulance, and two internes will be carrying the Clemson Tiger on a stretcher to the hospital. Inside, the operating table will be ready for the Tiger and all of the Zetas will be dressed as trained nurses. All of the nurses have received instructions to "Hold That Tiger!" The inside decorations will feature a huge football suspended from the ceiling with red and black streamers extending to different parts of the room where pennants with the names of the varsity football players will hang.

AOPi will present a scene of dignity and simplicity. Featured on the outside will be a large formal engraved invitation extending a welcome to alumni from all parts of the country. The letters will be in old English and painted black. It will be partly enclosed in a large envelope, and will be illuminated by a spotlight. Inside, the lodge will be alternately decorated with red and black paper with balloons in the shape of footballs extending from the ceiling. Autumn flowers will be arranged in colorful groups throughout the house, and there will be a blazing fire in the large stone fireplace.

At the SAE house, there will be a miniature football field marked off in the front yard with the Southwestern goal posts at one end. On about the 30 yard line, there will be a big Clemson Tiger straining towards the Southwestern goal post. The tiger will be held back by the eleven iron "links" that represent Southwestern's first team. (The eleven iron Lynx that played against Loyola.) The links will form a big chain which will in turn be held in place by a stake in the middle of the playing field. The interior will be done up in red and black crepe paper. Of course the "Welcome Alumni" idea will be played up.

Outside the Chi Omega house, goal posts with a kettle in the middle with a live goose hanging over it, and above it will be a sign which will read "Cook Clemson's Goose." Inside pictures of three homecoming queens—Margaret England '37, Anne Potts '38, and Kitty Bright Tipton '39, will be hung on the walls. If we win the game, there will be a rampant Lynx cat, but if Southwestern is defeated, there will be a sick, drooping Lynx. Red and black footballs of balloons will hang from the ceiling.

When the judges make their tour of the sorority and fraternity houses to inspect the homecoming decorations they will be taken into Fairyland at the Kappa Delta house, for on the outside they will be met by the Pied Piper, who will be luring, not rats, but eleven Clemson tigers from the Southwestern goal post to a cave. The piper, dressed in black suit and red cape, will carry out the Southwestern colors. On each of the tigers will be a number representing that of one of the Clemson men who will be in the starting line of the game. Behind the tigers will be a goal post wound in red and black crepe paper. Inside the house will be another victor of Fairyland. A giant, dressed in red and black, will be overpowering a dwarf, dressed in the colors of Clemson. Crepe paper streamers and balloons will further carry out the colors of the two teams.

Outside the Tri Delta lodge there will be the head of a huge Lynx cat through which all the guests of this sorority will have to walk to get into the house. Inside black and red streamers will be used as decorations and yellow cysanthemums and a large Welcome Alumni sign will be over the fireplace.

gymnasium Saturday night. It will begin at 8:30 p.m. and music will be furnished by Bill Taylor's orchestra. Taylor is a former Southwestern student. An award will be made to the fraternity selling the most tickets to the dance, the prize this year being an ash stand. The award last year was a card table and it was won by the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Radio Players Give Third NYA Program

Under Direction Of John Summerfield; Broadcast Over WREC

The "Southwestern Radio Players," purely a student organization which is being directed this year by John Summerfield, continued the weekly series of broadcasts in connection with the sixty-day Job Hunt Campaign recently announced by Mr. J. C. Flowers, State Youth Administrator for the Mississippi NYA, by presenting the third program, "Finding a Job," over WREC on Wednesday at 4:15.

The program was presented in the form of a discussion as Cecilia Hill, representing a youth worker on an NYA Clerical Project, questioned Rothrock Miller, representing the Mississippi State Employment Service. During the course of the interview one of Cecilia's questions inquired as to what qualities other than ability and personality were regarded as important in getting and in holding a job. To this question Rothrock replied, "I would say willingness, accuracy, neatness, and courtesy. By willingness I mean the attitude of interest and initiative which is so essential for the maintenance of courage and determination to fight a job through all its difficulties. By accuracy I refer to the habit of doing things correctly and thoroughly down to the finest detail. Neatness means carefulness. It means order and arrangement, systematic procedure, as contrasted with hit-or-miss careless methods. By accuracy, my fourth quality, I mean the thoughtful consideration of the rights and privileges of others."

Arrangements for this series of weekly broadcasts were made by the National Youth Administration for Mississippi, through the assistance of Professor C. P. Lee of Southwestern, primarily for the purpose of aiding Mississippi's NYA youth to secure employment on private payrolls.

Sigma Nu Elects Smith Commander

Chosen To Replace Worthington; Other Officers Elected

The Epsilon Sigma chapter of Sigma Nu, meeting November 6 in their chapter house, elected special officers to serve until the regular election in March. This has been the practice whenever the commander of the chapter graduates at mid-year.

Billy Smith was elected commander to replace William Worthington. Hays Brantley was elected lieutenant commander to fill the vacancy left by Smith, Ed Nesbitt is to replace Brantley in the office of Recorder, and the new post of assistant treasurer will be filled by Jim Holcombe.

Brantley will continue as reporter, Ed Martin as alumni contact officer, and Boyce Johnson as pledge master.

Howard Jinx Broken As Lynx Win 13 To 6

Jimmy Andrew Scores Both Touchdowns; Team Vastly Improved

By DOROTHY McGEHEE

The Southwestern Lynx threw the Howard jinx for a loss last Saturday when they defeated the Bulldogs, 13 to 6, at Crump Stadium. Led by Jim Andrews, the Lynx showed themselves to be the superior team in all respects, but it was a fight to the finish, for the strong Howard team didn't give in easily. Southwestern battled their way up and down the field for 17 first downs, taking in 329 yards. They barely missed tying the game by a split inch decision of the officials that gave the Lynx a first down on the Howard two. With two minutes to go and the ball on the Howard three, Icky Orenstein dove into Howard's left guard and came down right where the line seemed to be. The officials measured but kept everyone in suspense by refusing to give a decision until the players had moved back away from the chain. Finally, Referee Hank Smith rose and waved his arms signifying a first down. Then Andrews carried the ball into the line, but was stopped short. On the next play, he hit just left of Howard's center and fell over the goal line for a beautiful winning touchdown.

Southwestern stayed in the pay-dirt territory most of the time, and in the second half the ball never got back beyond the Lynx 40. But the Lynx got off to a bad start with a 15 yard penalty, an intercepted pass, and a Howard touchdown all in the first quarter. Hause and Zobrosky set up the touchdown with a 58 yard march down the field to the Southwestern four, and Daugherty drove through left guard to mark up six for the Bulldogs. Tackle Doyle Fuller blocked Hause's kick for the extra point and that finished Howard for the day. From then on it was all Southwestern.

The Lynx moved from their 27 to the Howard 26, then Leon Underwood kicked out of bounds on the Howard one and brought a touchdown in Southwestern's grasp. Morgan kicked to the Howard 36. Andrews made a few yards, then Will Rhea Winfrey cut through right tackle and went 17 yards up the field and lateraled to Orenstein when he was tackled by Zobrosky. Icky carried the ball to the 16, then Underwood set up the touchdown on the three. Andrews was over in three plunges to tie the score, 6-6. Orenstein's kick for the extra point went bad and hit the goal post.

The Lynx finished up the first half with the spectacular snatch of an almost-bad pass by Luke Dawson which helped to move Southwestern up to the 10, where Orenstein tried a field goal shot that was far to the left.

In the whole second half, only 50 yards of the field were used, and that the Howard territory. Fuller began the show by blocking Zobrosky's attempted quick kick, but to no avail, because Daugherty intercepted an Orenstein pass on the 23. But Howard couldn't even move five yards and was forced to kick. So Orenstein, Underwood, and Andrews moved the ball to the 10, where Orenstein made another try at a field goal, but it was no good.

The Lynx began the fourth quarter with Underwood dashing up to the 11 on straight shots off-tackle, but Southwestern was penalized 15 yards for clipping, which took them out of close range of the goal line. Then the Lynx paid off. Beginning at Howard's 37, Orenstein passed to Dawson for 10 yards, and Underwood tore through Howard's right guard for 17 yards to the 11. Orenstein went through guard for four yards and Andrews took in three more. Then Icky took the ball and started through but he was hit hard and fell on the imaginary line, bringing on the prolonged measuring. When it was declared over, Andrews calmly made his touchdown and kicked the extra point. Orenstein intercepted a pass from Morgan in the last few minutes and put all hope out of Howard's mind.

Winning this game set Southwestern in the front of the Dixie Conference. However, it is improbable that the Lynx will keep first place, for they have no more conference games

Post Graduation Survey Reveals Varied Pursuits

Seventy-one seniors received degrees from Southwestern last June. Now five months later, information gathered by the Alumni Secretary shows the members of the class of '39 to be engaged in a wide variety of pursuits.

Seventeen members of the class are continuing their studies in graduate schools. Medicine has claimed five of the group. Bill Tyson, Sam Carter, Ed French, and Mac Demere are all enrolled at the University of Tennessee Medical School in Memphis, while James F. Gladney, Jr. is a medical student at Tulane.

Five Enter Law

Five members of the class are now first year law students. D. B. Lewis and George Scott, Jr., are studying law at the University of Michigan, Shepherd Tate is at Virginia, Thomas McLemore at Columbia, and George Gage at night law school in Memphis. Both Tate and McLemore are holders of law scholarships. Alvin Wunderlich is at Ann Arbor along with Lewis and Scott, but is doing graduate work in Business Administration rather than in Law. Herbert Bingham, who has a fellowship at Vanderbilt, is doing graduate work in Public Administration and Economics. James Carpenter is also at Vanderbilt Graduate School working in English. At the University of Illinois Medical School in Chicago, Georgianna Awsumb is studying medical illustration. E. B. Rogers is also reported to be doing graduate work.

Two graduates are now in theological seminaries, Henry Mobley at the Presbyterian Theological Seminary, and H. R. Holcomb, Jr., at the Southern Baptist Seminary, both in Louisville.

Bruce Crill, who was an active member of the Ministerial Club, is to be given a charge when the Methodist Conference meets this month.

Follow Educational Activities

Educational activities have claimed several members of the class. Betsy Fowler is a substitute teacher in the Memphis City School system, Sarah Boothe is gymnasium instructor at Miss Hutchison's School for Girls in Memphis. George Griesbeck is teaching at Christian Brothers College, Memphis, and George Humphrey is teaching at McCallie School in Chattanooga. Walter Hunter is with the Miller-Hawkins Business College in Memphis. Harriet Pond is an assistant in the University of Tennessee Medical School Department of Pharmacology, and Palmer Simpson is now a member of the Chemistry department faculty at Hampden-Sydney College.

Henry Waring, Edith Kelso, and scheduled, and some of the runners-up have.

Altogether the Southwestern team has shown fine co-operation in the last two games. They have played real team football. The line has done excellent blocking and the backfield combinations have clicked neatly. And with such fine men as Capt. Harry Morris and Will Rhea Winfrey to keep them bolstered, they should continue to click off in fine shape.

Real Estate Takes Six

The real estate business in Memphis has attracted six graduates of the Class of '39. Sam Hill and Hylton Neill are with the Van Court Rental Agency, Waddy West with the Galbreath Agency, Mark Hammond with the Memphis Realty Co., and Charles Freeburg is in the real estate division of Marx and Bendorf. Henry Walker, also, is in real estate sales work.

Three graduates are working for credit companies in Memphis, Frank Campbell and Robert Montgomery with the General Motors Acceptance Corp., and Harry Phelan for the Retail Credit Company.

As social service workers, Mary Kathryn McGuire is employed by the W. P. A. and Rachel Beasley by the Travelers Aid Society. Anne Williford is also planning to enter this field of activity.

In the cotton business, Tom White is working for his father, Fred Thomas for the Southern Cotton Oil Co., and Warren Prewitt for the R. H. Allen Cotton Co. in Memphis.

Number Do Sales Work

Ewing Carruthers, Jr., has gone into life insurance with the Massachusetts Mutual, Joe Stuart is a salesman for the Cooper Typewriter Co., Val Huber is a representative for the American Snuff Co., Billy Kelly is at Tupelo, Miss., with the Garrott Ford Agency there. Steve Frazier is doing sales work which takes him over a wide territory around Memphis, and Ralph Brown is in the office of the J. T. Fisher Motor Co. in Memphis.

William Nakajima has joined his father in the baking business in Memphis, Sam Mays is preparing himself to manage a Kress store, Richard Chauncey is in the employ of the Wurzburg Paper Co., Carl Stark is working for Abraham Brothers, packers.

Randall MacInnes and Henry Bergfeld are both with the Bemis Bag Co., MacInnes in Memphis and Bergfeld at Indianapolis. Willard Dawson is working for the Greyhound Bus Company. At Gadsden, Alabama, Robert Watts is in the accounting department of the Republic Steel Corporation. Charles Gardner is reported to be working for a quarry at Gantt's Quarry, Alabama. Lillie Roberts Walker is working in the business office of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. in Memphis. Chester Carden is with J. W. Norris, Inc., morticians, in Memphis.

During the summer, Selby Bezein conducted Manley Tours to the New York Fair. Since that time he has been doing some radio announcing. Jane Bray is doing secretarial work. Claudia Yergler is doing secretarial work for her father, a Memphis lawyer. P. S. Weaver, Anne Ragsdale and Mary Elaine Lipscomb hadn't decided what they were going to do at last reports.

Comment From The Coach.....

The game with Loyola at New Orleans two weeks ago provided an opportunity for our boys to demonstrate their real ability. Their blocking was by far the best of the year and their defensive work far above anything they have exhibited so far. A new combination used in the backfield demonstrated its worth, this being Conn and Underwood at the halfbacks, Jimmy Andrews at fullback, and Will Rhea Winfrey at the blocking back. This same backfield, with one exception, Orenstein for Conn, carried on in the same manner in the Howard game. It is my belief that if continued improvement is shown in our tackling and a little more follow through in our blocking, then we should feel confident of holding our own this coming Saturday. Although Clemson is rated the ninth team in the nation, we feel that our squad has improved far beyond our expectations and it is therefore not out of reason to expect a great deal from them this week.

There's No Great Mystery about Cigarette Tobaccos

THERE ARE FOUR TYPES of tobaccos found in the more popular cigarettes, namely... Bright, Maryland, Burley and Turkish.

ALL THESE TOBACCOS except Turkish (which is bought direct from the planters in Turkey and Greece) and Maryland (which is bought through sealed bids under government supervision) are bought at public auction, just like any other auction where you might have bought in a table or a chair.

AT THE AUCTION SALE the tobacco is piled in baskets weighing from about 100 to 500 pounds and each purchaser buys all of his tobaccos by competitive bidding for the particular piles he wants.

THE CHESTERFIELD BUYERS buy the best of these mild ripe tobaccos for the Chesterfield blend. And it is Chesterfield's Combination... the right amounts of Burley and Bright... just enough Maryland... and just enough Turkish—that makes the big difference between Chesterfield and other cigarettes.

IT IS BECAUSE of this combination that Chesterfields are COOLER, have a BETTER TASTE and are DEFINITELY MILDER. They are made of the world's best cigarette tobaccos. You can't buy a better cigarette.
