The Student Says

QUESTION

Do you think the importance of extra-curricular activities is over-emphasized at Southwestern?

ANSWERS

Charles Cable, sophomore: "No. I don't think so. I believe that the experience gained while working outside of the classrooms with other students is of as much value in training one for later life as is the experience gained while working in class."

David Schulherr, senior: "No. There is more to college than just studying. The contacts made in college are important in developing the individual. After all, if one can't live well socially, all of the learning in the world won't be of much use."

Carl Arnoult, sophomore: "Yes. I think they are over-emphasized. If a person takes part in those activities he is suited for, so much importance is attached to these activities that he has very little time to study."

Bland Cannon, junior: "One cannot say the activities themselves are over-emphasized. It is rather the student leaders that are over-emphasized. A few leaders are burdened with all the activities. A more even distribution of activities to students should be attempted."

Billy Belcher, senior: "No. Activities outside of classrooms are very essential to college life. They tend to bring the dormitory and town students closer together."

Charles Guthrie, sophomore: "What activities? Does Southwestern have extra-curricular activities? I haven't found out."

Christian Union Elects Hall New President

Tipton, Miller And Ligon Also Chosen Members

Walter Hall was elected president of the Christian Union Cabinet at a meeting held in the Bell Room at six o'clock last Monday evening. The office was vacated by John Young, who resigned because of other duties. Three other members were elected to the Cabinet, Kitty Bright Tipton from the sophomore class, and Chevis Ligon and Katherine Miller from the freshman class.

In addition to his new office as president of the Cabinet, which carries a seat on the Student Council, Hall also holds the presidency of the Ministerial Club. He is a senior, a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity, and has been active in church and religious work for many years.

In resigning the office, John Young expressed thanks to all members of the Cabinet for the support and cooperation he had received. He declared that he was reluctant to take the step, but that his other duties on the campus indicated that it would be wise.

Kitty Bright Tipton was elected to fill the position left vacant by the failure of Marjorie Moorhead to return to college this fall. Joye Fourmy was also nominated for the office. Among the freshmen, Chevis Ligon was elected by acclamation, while Katherine Miller was chosen over Roberta Wellford and Mary Hunter.

Reports of the religious groups represented in the Cabinet were given, Allen Craft on the Bible Class, Walter Hall on the Ministerial Club, and Marion Dickson on the YWCA. Acknowledgment was made of the signs above the chapel doors, which were printed by David Ruffin and arranged for by Jim Cogswell. Another item of discussion was the establishment of a mission Sunday school in one of the poorer sections of the city. A committee consisting of George Jackson, John McGrady, and Annie Few Work was appointed to talk to Judge Camille Kelley, of the juvenile court, about a suitable location.

McBurney Announces Journal Plans

Possibility Of Two Issues Is Hinted At

Last night the Stylus chapter of Sigma Upsilon, national literary fraternity, met and discussed plans for this year's edition of the Southwestern Journal. Plans for the Journal were carefully dissected by the members and the possibility of two issues this year was looked into.

Prof. McIlwaine's advanced composition class, always a storehouse of material for the Journal, is expected to contribute its usual bit. But this does not mean that the contributors are limited.

"On the contrary," clarified William McBurney, editor of the Journal, "contributions will be called for from the student body in general later in the fall. Possibly the best freshman theme will be printed."

To these same freshmen, let it be pointed out that the Journal is the student literary magazine published to stimulate interest in writing. The magazine accepts short stories, poetry, essays, and plays, if any.

Jac Ruffin, assistant editor, said that the Stylus Club and the Blue Stockings, recently organized women's literary society, will cooperate in making this year's Journal the best Southwestern has seen.

CHOIR SELECTS OFFICERS

Anne Tuthill was chosen president of the choir group for the coming year. Vice-president is Kurt Elias who is in charge of the music and Jimmy Cogswell is also a vice-president and is in charge of the robes. Elizabeth Day was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

AOPi Mothers Honored At Tea Wednesday

Group Entertains With Annual Event At Campus Lodge

Red and white, the sorority colors, were used as the color scheme for the formal tea given in honor of the AOPi mothers Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6 p.m. Mrs. John A. Rollow presided at the punch bowl.

Mothers of the new pledges saw the lodge for the first time. For mothers of active chapter members, it will be their first visit to the lodge since it was redecorated.

Mrs. Charles E. Diehl, wife of the college president, Mrs. A. Theodore Johnson, wife of the dean of men, and Mrs. C. L. Townsend, dean of women, were special guests.

Pledges and their mothers:

Katherine Miller, president, and Mrs. Robert H. Miller.

Cecelia Hill, vice president, and Mrs. W. B. Hill.

Gladys Moore, secretary, and Mrs. Clarence V. Moore.

Mary New, treasurer, and Mrs. Cecil A. New.

Jean Flynn and Mrs. J. L. Flynn, of Hollywood, Miss.

Virginia Heppel and Mrs. Fred C. Heppel.

Elizabeth Hinkley and Mrs. D. R. Hinkley.

Virginia Knowlton and Mrs. James H. Fisher.

Margaret Polk and Mrs. O. B. Polk.

Frances Ruffin and Mrs. Robert Ruffin.

Arabia Wooten and Mrs. Hoyt B. Wooten.

Mary Ann Simonton and Nell Wright, both of Covington, had as their guest Mrs. India Rutland, in charge of the girls' dormitory at Southwestern, where the two co-eds make their home.

June Murphy, of British Columbia, Canada, had as her guest Mrs. Spencer Speed, with whom she makes her home in Memphis.

Other officers of the chapter and their mothers:

Jo Meux, vice president, and Mrs. G. W. Meux of Brownsville, Tenn.

Nancy Wood, recording secretary, and Mrs. J. M. Wood.

Mildred Noce, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Daniel Noce.

Catherine Hollinger, treasurer, and Mrs. O. G. Hollinger.

Members and their mothers:

Mary Elizabeth Douglass and Mrs. G. P. Douglass.

Joye Fourmy and Mrs. C. F. Fourmy.

Jo Gilfillan and Mrs. W. J. Gilfillan, Jr.

Louise Jennings and Mrs. M. A. Jennings.

Virginia Mangum and Mrs. H. H. Mangum.

Dorothy Waller and Mrs. O. F. Waller.

Hester Mosby and Mrs. John L. Mosby.

Nancy Wiselogle and Mrs. C. R. Wiselogle.

Dorothea Wyatt, another active, had as her guest her aunt, Mrs. W. A. Holmes.

Activity Points Will Win Girl Cup

Baby Cap Regulation No Longer In Effect

An achievement award, probably a cup, will be given to the girl with the highest number of activity points at the end of the year by the Women's Undergraduate Society. Every woman student is eligible. Active participation in campus activities will determine the winner. Whether the award will be made by the school or by Annie Few Work, president, has not been decided definitely.

It was also announced that the regulation compelling freshmen to wear baby caps went out of effect yesterday. Other regulations, however, are still in effect.

Peace Secretary Addresses Students

Mrs. Lester Speaks On Anti-War Theme

Mrs. Muriel Lester, the International Secretary of the International Volunteer Service of Peace, addressed the student body of Southwestern at chapel on Wednesday, October 10. Her visit to the campus at the invitation of Dr. Diehl was part of the program of her tour throughout the United States, for the purpose of inspiring and encouraging the youth of America to think, speak, and act against war.

Mrs. Lester has had much experience with social conditions, and has interested herself particularly with youth. The evidence of her work is a foundation in her native London much like Jane Addams' famous Hull House of Chicago. As a member of the I. V. S. P., Mrs. Lester has taken an active part in strengthening the membership of this organization. As International Secretary of the society, she has put aside all considerations of personal welfare to spread throughout the world this society's principles of brotherly love and the recognition of truth in international relations.

Publications Board Holds Meeting

Collection Methods For Annual Discussed

The Publications Board held its first meeting Monday with George Jackson and Billy Donelson, editor and business manager of the annual, also present. Discussion as to the method of collection for the annual was given. Mr. Donelson suggested the plan of collecting individually or by the plan of collecting from the fraternity and sorority groups as was done last year. This latter plan was finally adopted since it was very successful last year. Editor Jackson stated that he intended to have the Lynx ready for distribution at an earlier date than has previously been the case.

The Publications Board was organized in 1927 for the purpose of exercising supervision and control of all student publications, with special reference to their financial management and the soliciting of advertising. All student publications must be authorized by the board, which also apportions the publication fees to the respective publications. All moneys, whether from advertisements or fees, must be turned over to the treasurer of the board, and obligations may be incurred only on its approval. Financial statements must be rendered at the end of each report period by every publication.

Members of the board are Bobby Elder, president; Wm. McBurney, senior representative; Bob Quindley, junior representative; Harry Hill, sophomore representative; Prof. A. S. McIlwaine, Prof. Ogden Baine, and Mr. C. S. Springfield.

SERVICE CLUB ELECTS

Two new members were elected to the Student Service Club at the last meeting. They are Claude Brown from the junior class from the SAE fraternity and Richard Maury from the sophomore class, also an SAE. They replace Malcolm Hooker and Charles Collins, who are no longer in college.

W. W. Worthington, president of the Service Club, announces that the Southwestern student directories will be on sale the latter part of next week. All the names and addresses of the student body were compiled and sent to the printer yesterday.

TWO ATTEND SYNOD MEET

Dr. Diehl and Mr. Siefert attended the meeting of the Synod of Alabama at Dothan, Alabama, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Little, Baker To End Posts; Goodrich Out

Nemecek Aids Pass Defense Preparation

By BOB GOOSTREE

In the face of the 41-0 defeat at the hands of the Old Miss Rebels in the season's opener October 7, the Southwestern Lynx will go on the field Saturday a slight favorite over the Blue and White of Washington and Lee. With the weakness of the Lynx' defense against aerial attack glaringly evident against the Rebs, much revamping of this department has been in progress through the week. Many will be astonished at the improvement in the appearance of the squad tomorrow.

Shifts of players to new positions also marked the week. Bill Little, beginning his 1939 season at tackle, has returned to his old post at end, due to the injury of Red Goodrich last Saturday. P. T. Baker will also make his appearance in that capacity. Just who will fill the vacancies in the line left by Little and Baker is not certain. Ape Cavender, out last week on account of a leg injury, will again be able to play.

Murel Nemecek, freshman coach, was pressed into service as backfield tutor early in the week, to enable Mentor Ed Kubale to devote more time to strengthening the defense against the rain of passes expected from the hands of Dick Pinck, field general for the Old Dominion raiders.

Fresh from a stiff battle in holding a strong Richmond College eleven to a 7-0 win, after tripping Sewanee 9-0, the Generals will unleash a well rounded offense. Passes to Howard Dobbins and Duke Wallington, 6 foot 5 inch ends, are most to be feared despite the Lynx' preparations for attack from the air. The Pinck brothers, Dick and Bobby, will lead the ground attack, while outstanding defense will come from Captain Dick Boisseau, a senior and an All-Southern tackle in 1938.

The football future of Mentor Tex Tilson at the Virginia school will in all probability depend on the success of the Generals in their 1939 season, as he is being dogged by the failure of his teams in the last few years. Riley Smith, famed Alabama All-American back, is the Washington and Lee backfield coach.

The exact caliber of the team which Southwestern will put on the field tomorrow is still an unknown quantity, despite their showing against Ole Miss last Saturday. The Mississippi team is considered by many the dark horse in Southeastern Conference play this season, and the Lynx' trial against them is not believed to be a good test of the Cats' ability.

500 New Hymns For Chapel Use

Were Chosen By Tuthill, Diehl And Mrs. Wolf

Some 500 new hymns, chosen last year by Professor Tuthill, Dr. Diehl and Mrs. Wolf, and ordered last year will replace the old hymns in chapel by the end of the week. The books will be fitted out with copies of the "Alma Mater" by NYA students, for the convenience of those who do not know the words.

In commenting on the musical quality of the new hymns, Professor Tuthill says, "There is a much better musical selection of hymns in this hymnal, and I believe that these will be much better suited to the needs of the college than the old type."

The old edition, now used in chapel, was printed by the same publishing house, the Appleton-Century Company, but no replacements in this edition could be obtained.

Is Anybody Downhearted?

Perhaps you don't like the way we are emphasizing football this year, but we explained our attitude last week and we are still standing by it. This is merely a follow-up on last week's editorial urging athletic cooperation on the part of the student body. We want to reiterate that request, now that the Lynx have gone down to what many call an ignominious defeat. You are bound to know that those boys felt mighty low over the way the game turned out, realizing as they did the importance of that particular game. They are mighty apt to get the idea that many of the students are no longer wholeheartedly behind them, and it is for that reason that we urge every one of you to let those boys know, in classroom and on the campus, in bull sessions and by general attitude, that we are still behind them and that we still wish them well in their endeavors. There is not a shadow of a doubt but that they will always play the best brand of football of which they are capable, and that they will always play it clean. Although it sounds trite, nevertheless it is true that it's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game. If our boys don't win a single game this year (perish the thought) we want them to know that we're still behind them and are proud to be there.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor: There was a lot of trouble going on in the student section at the football game last Saturday, and this is in the way of a protest. Something went wrong in the organization of the seating, and a general mix-up and some hard feeling was going on.

The student section was plainly marked by the red and black decorations, but many students believing themselves in their right places found that they were surrounded by people who were not students.

The most unpleasant part of the trouble came about when late-comers came up with reserved tickets and demanded their seats. Now, of course, they deserved what they paid for. But also the Southwestern students should have fairly good seats. Some of the students would leave their places, but sometimes the other patrons would be obliged to find seats elsewhere. Whenever this happened, discord occurred. Surrounding students would cry, "Stay there. This is the student section." A few of the others would contradict, "You paid for those seats. They're yours." Well, whom can you blame? Neither of them. The fault surely lies in bad organization.

This is not only a distasteful situation for the above-mentioned reasons, but there is another important one. The cheering. After all, the student body is the real cheering section, and real cheering is just what everyone of us wants. But can anyone please volunteer an answer as to how we can make a lot of noise when we're scattered all over the place?

When you're sitting next to two or three other students, but outside of them, practically surrounded by strangers, don't you feel just a little bit silly yelling in their ears when they sit so calmly or titter, "Wasn't Honeymoon in Bali just the funniest thing you ever saw?" We all know that we would yell much louder if we were all together. We wouldn't feel self-conscious and stared-at when we stood up to sing the Alma Mater. We might really put some feeling into those cheers and songs. We'd know every time the cheerleaders wanted a certain yell, because somebody would be sure to nudge you and say, "Hey, you asleep? This is the Little Hand!"

Well, anyway, it's good to get that off the chest. But, seriously, don't you think it would be a good idea to get that all straightened out by next Saturday? Whoever is responsible, please see that 455 seats are plainly marked off for STUDENTS ONLY!

FANNY THE FOOTBALL FIEND.

A Matter Of Honor

The recent loss on the part of two students of a wrist watch and a sum of money brings to mind more forcibly than ever the importance of the honor system and of the moral obligation of the students to uphold it. If you'll remember, each student, when enrolling, signed a pledge to do his part in abiding by Honor Council regulations. That pledge was not an idle one, but a solemn and binding promise to do that very thing. There is not much point in having an honor system which does not work, and we are glad to be able to say that ours here functions with a high degree of success. However, such incidents such as have been mentioned serve warning that perhaps some of us are falling down on our responsibilities. We have no doubt but that the present members of the Honor Council would take action if the situation demanded, but it would be a regrettable occurrence, not to speak of being unnecessary, if we'll all just remember the honor code.

Missing Lynx

From the Campus Chain

Our original idea, we assure you, was to have the article "How to Write Columns and Influence No One" printed intact last week. Instead half of it had to give way to crack-pot rules of "How to Stand Up and Cheer." Not that we mind giving up some of our space, but the fact that our sacrifice was made uselessly. Last Saturday gave no noticeable evidences of screaming enthusiasm. To have been butchered to no avail is what hurts.

Now, your equipment is complete. However, you must establish your reputation. This may be done by the following procedure:

- 1. Cultivate a taste for liquid refreshment. 2. Select the most public tavern for this practice. (Dr. Nick's acceptable.) 3. Invite the queerest person in the tavern to share your beers. 4. Confide in the waitress that you are associating with this person because you are a humanist and must seek ideas for your writings by observing personalities of non-conformists. 5. Drink to excess. 6. When the aforementioned waitress questions your sobriety, admit that you are seeking inspiration for your writings. 7. Prove your statement by scrawling memos on the table cloth with one of your litho crayons. 8. Steal the tablecloth and submit it to the editor of the student newspaper. 9. Call the tablecloth "copy" and the editor "chief." 10. Accept his offer to write a column for his paper. 11. Write a column. 12. Criticize the administrative officials. You are now on your own.

Latest Bulletins of "Man-of-the-Hour" Goostree:

"I am a dilettante," says Freshman Robert Edward Goostree of Clarksville, Tennessee. As confirmation he dashed through Nietzsche and Schopenhauer in four minutes flat, touched knowingly on the opera Don Giovanni, declared that he plays right field in baseball "because that's where no balls come," announced that he will major in English, specialize in journalism, and does not think that he can be compared to Cyrano de Bergerac.

Of Miss Dorothy Helene Steuwer, he says, "Charming girl, but hardly my type."

Miss Steuwer of Zeta Tau Alpha, who faintly resembles Gladys Swarthout with her new hair-do (send the check to our home address, Dottie), when asked for her side of the story merely simpered, broke Worthington's shin with a vicious kick, and quoted from "A Visit from St. Nicholas": "He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf, And I laughed when I saw him in spite of myself."

Funeral Note: "Ding, Dong, the Witch is Dead."

Raised Eyebrow Department: "In this course we don't have any themes, because I don't know how long a theme should be. I think it should be like a woman's skirt, long enough to cover the subject, and short enough to be interesting." (Professorial quote from The Emory Wheel.)

Lynx Chat

This little Lynx pussy is in a nasty, snarling mood, and her bushy tail lashes furiously any time she hears anyone griping about their name being in this hyar column. You see, my little homo sapiens, we have adopted the share-everything attitude, and your latest fox passes should be shared with the others. For instance, that deep, masculine voice booming, "Shut up, down there, darn you. How can I study with you chattering in my ears?" from a dormitory window in the direction of the Y. W. C. A. bread line of last week. After all, how was he to know that a very dignified dean of women was chattering beneath his window... tish! tish! serch manners!

In case you didn't know, Neal Williams, who plays football and has a very nice crop of hair upon his manly chest, was appointed a cabinet chairman along with the rest of the gals. Martha Miller was there to take charge of the music and Neal was appointed to look after Martha... We have been trying to get something on Marion Dickson but according to her quote, "That's impossible for one who leads such a pure and wholesome life as L." We forgot to ask Billy Moorhead about it. They were "Peabodying" Friday night and are also going to the backwards dance. In case you have forgotten, it was Miss Dickson who last year formed that famous organization known as the "Sons of Temperance" (more simply known as the S-O-T group).

We would like to award Mary Ann Simonton the grand chapter award of the Order of Get Yourself a Man Society in recognition of her bringing out of hibernation of hermitism into the realm of datehood two such outstanding examples of immune males as Tom Duncan and David Osborne... Nightly we are expecting to see Betty Ransom drop in to ask the Covington, Tenn., girl how she does it. Says Miss Ransom, "I'm still looking for a male at Southwestern." Line please form on the right. We hear that she's usually in the bookstore at nine on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The vernal equinox and not the autumnal equinox is supposed to provoke such things, but Strother Asquith is unmindful of the inappropriateness of the season when he smiles shyly down at Arabia (Midge) Wooten. What we want to know is just what's the exact status of a certain gentleman left in Mississippi!... Another thing that has us guessing is Mary Ware and "How-ya-gettin-along" Robertson whose frat pin Venn-ded its way homeward. Do you two really commune on such higher planes as cameras and aviation all the time? Miss Mary Heath Butler, who has left our fair college for art school, chuckles (if you can imagine "Heathie" doing anything in such a mild way) and says, "Mary's fooling you-oo, Mary's fooling you-oo." So our stellar sleuths are now on your trail, Ware ole kid. And Mr. Robertson had better keep a watch on his roomie, Bill Baird. Bill has offered to put "Tip" out of the way, fraternity brother or not, if H. C. will come through with a nominal sum... Also in the category of things we'd like to have explained is Anne Potts and Abe Palmer.

Did anybody see John Spence looking for Meredith Moorhead at the football game? In case he's still interested, she was down in the end zones with Ewing Carruthers. And she had a date that night with Bill Meacham, again to the chagrin of Spence. Here he had gone to the trouble to invite her over and only got to see her for an hour. She didn't get to the "S" Club until after intermission. For that matter, neither did Toni Noce, who this week was minus the ear-rings. You boys don't forget, this Bowery dance will be your last chance to be nice to the girls before the Backwards dance. And please don't embarrass your sex in the way you go about filling your no-breaks.

Norma Bright does not seem to be suffering any from lack of competition. Rufus Shivers and Henry Craft are especially noticeable. Norma has done real well in getting someone to fill Mr. Nall's and Mr. Sneed's respective shoes... Monday morning Mr. Tuthill announced to the football players in his Music Appreciation Class that he was dedicating a piece to them, and then he proceeded to play Beethoven's Third. This symphony contains the "Funeral March." Now, Tut, wasn't that adding insult to injury? And right in the middle of the piece, Jeanne Reeves gave a little shriek, and rushed over to a corner of the Music Building just in time to rescue a butterfly from a mean old spider... We've had a complaint from the freshman and sophomore girls that Clay Alexander, Wesley Walker, and Claude Romine never have dates.

Poison oak has again returned to Cecil is so brazen as to admit that he got it in Overton Park... We forgot to mention that at the football game it was a rather embarrassing moment when Jean Venn and Mary Ware and H. C. found themselves sitting together. But H. C. had his supply of Murads on hand so all turned out well... To the increasing number of admirers of Cecilia Hill we add John Rhem... A tip to the wise and wary: All the season's debutantes (including the four at Southwestern) have been presented with couple passes to the Claridge. If the slump (the one made famous by Dean, Fourmy, Turner, etc.) continues, we shall expect at least half the sophomore girls to announce their debuts... Starling Reid is still beaming after seeing Marjorie over the week-end... Rumor has it the Kappa Alphas are having open house just before the Sewanee game.

As we went out of German class the other day, the last thing we heard Dr. Paulsen explaining was that all feminine nouns are neuter... The handsomest upperclassmen as viewed by many of the freshettes is none other than the well known George Jackson. Be-ware. (That's a pun directed at Miss Waggener, in case you didn't catch it)... So, we have done our bitter bit and now we are off for Palmer Hall to have Jane Chilton Adams gaze mysteriously in our palm and tell us someday that we'll have a paper of our own and nasty editors who say, "Well, it's lousy, but we gotta have something," will heckle us no longer. G'bye.

Echoes From The Morgue

Three years ago this week: The Lynx were held to a scoreless tie Friday night by the University of Chattanooga in a game played on a very muddy field. Kite Morton was the outstanding star. Registrar's office lists the enrollment of students as 514.

Two years ago this week: Clark McDonald, KS; Elizabeth Cobb, AOP; Fred Dickson, KA; Henry Mobley, KS, and Sam Hill, KS, were chosen by the Student Council to represent Southwestern in the '37-38 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

William Eratton was elected president of the freshman class; Malcolm Hooker and Carolyn Carroll were chosen vice-president and secretary.

One year ago this year: Anne Potts, Chi Omega, was chosen Queen of Homecoming Day by the student body over Marjorie DeVall. Bob Black was chosen president of the freshman class. Jimmy New and Jeanne Reeves were elected vice-president and secretary.

The Lynx defeated University of Chattanooga Friday by a score of 12 to 6.

Bob Meacham won the freshman tennis tournament in a straight set victory over Billy Montgomery.

Lynx Roll Of Special Mention

This week, in line with our intention announced in our last issue, we are continuing our Roll of Special Mention. We are happy at this time to give special consideration to two outstanding young players on the Lynx eleven, one a backfield star and the other a bulwark in the line. The two men are Bob Foley and Fred Drees.

Foley comes from Moberly, Missouri, where he has lived all his life and attended school. Although he has three older brothers, Bob says he is the only athlete in the family. The junior high school in Moberly carries through the tenth grade, and after completing junior high, Bob enrolled in the junior college there. He had to work his way through, holding down a NYA job for a while and also working in a filling station. But he managed somehow to find a little time to devote to football. He went to the college three years, holding down the halfback post. So well did he perform that he was chosen for two straight years on the all-conference team. His specialty seems to have been pulling games out of the fire with field goals, for on two notable occasions Moberly won games by three points, due to Foley's able toe.

Bob also participated in track work at the college, setting a state record for the broad jump of 22 feet, 8 inches. As a crowning recognition of his ability, the conference eleven at the end of the award for being the most valuable player, a handsome plaque and a gold football. He was first interested in Southwestern by Coach Kubale and Mr. Jackson, president of the Thousand Club, and after investigating it seemed to be a good thing, so he came, along with Fred Ross, also from Moberly.

Foley, tipping the scales at 187 and measuring six feet one, is now playing wingback position for the Lynx his first varsity year. He is an excellent runner, kicker and defensive man. A junior, last Saturday's game was his first in college varsity competition. Commenting on the game, Foley said, "It was pretty much of a nightmare, but we'll do better this week." Speaking of Foley, Coach Kubale had this to say, "Due to his fine defensive ability as shown in practice, he started last Saturday in defensive fullback position, and in spite of the handicap of an injured leg and inexperience, he showed enough to justify our confidence in him."

Fred Drees is one of our many Texas athletes, having been born in Dallas and lived there all his life. He attended Adamson High there, but did not go out for football until his senior year. In spite of this handicap, he was named to the second team in the All-Dallas selections, holding down the guard position.

After this he stayed out of school a year, working for a paint company in the city. He then enrolled at Wesley Junior College at Greenville, Texas, and attracted attention with his capable guardwork there, the result being that he was chosen on the second team when the experts picked the All-Conference eleven at the end of the season. There were a number of Southwestern stalwarts who were there at Wesley at the time, Fred relates, these being Pete Baker, Doyle Fuller, Abe Palmer, and Henry Peek.

Fred became interested in Southwestern through Mr. Jackson also, whose efforts resulted in the Lone Star gridster enrolling at Southwestern. He is at present classified as a junior, and is majoring in history. Drees, six foot, one and one-half, 190 pounds, is a good defensive guard, a hard charger, a good tackler, and is smart in sizing up plays. Speaking of Drees, Coach Kubale says that "he is a steady boy in the line, and didn't disappoint us a bit Saturday. His type of play since then has been the sort to get the boys back in good spirits." Asked what he had to say about the game Saturday, Fred said that "they shouldn't have had more than two touchdowns, but they were really right. We are taking this week's game seriously, and you can count on our doing better."

The Sou'wester is confident that the Lynx will do better this Saturday, if these two boys may be taken as examples of determination and playing ability. We wish them, along with the rest of the team, all the luck in the world tomorrow and in subsequent gridiron battles, and we want to assure them that the student body, if the Sou'wester may speak for it, is sincerely appreciative of their efforts to make Southwestern football an unquestionable success.

Thomas Gray wrote for his mother's tombstone: "She was the mother of many children, only one of whom had the misfortune to survive her."

He who goes from your conversation pleased with himself and his own wit is perfectly well pleased with you.—La Bruyere.

Stylus Club Meeting Held

Prof. McIlwaine Discusses 1940 Journal

Plans for admitting seven new members were discussed at the Stylus Club meeting held last night at 7:30 in 105 Robb Hall. Membership in the literary organization is limited to twelve, and admittance is on a competitive basis. The first of the two annual tapping services will be held November first, according to William McBurney, president.

Dr. Shields McIlwaine, faculty adviser to the club, spoke on the 1940 Journal and urged all members to prepare their contributions at an early date. The proposal to have a joint meeting with the Blue Stockings, women's literary group, was also discussed.

Maynard Dabbs and Fred Thomas, both of whose works appeared in the Journal of last year, were alumni visitors to the meeting last night. Active members of the group are: president, William McBurney; vice-president, Jac Ruffin; secretary-treasurer, William Bobo; Thomas Pappas and George Jackson.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACTS OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912, AND MARCH 3, 1933

Of the Sou'wester, published weekly at Memphis, Tenn., for Oct. 1, 1939.

Before me, a Notary Public, in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared John W. Young, Jr., who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Business Manager of the Sou'wester, and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1933, embodied in section 537, Postal Laws and Regulations, to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

Publisher, Southwestern University, Memphis, Tenn.
 Editor, Wm. P. Murphy, Memphis, Tenn.
 Business Manager, John W. Young, Jr., Memphis, Tenn.

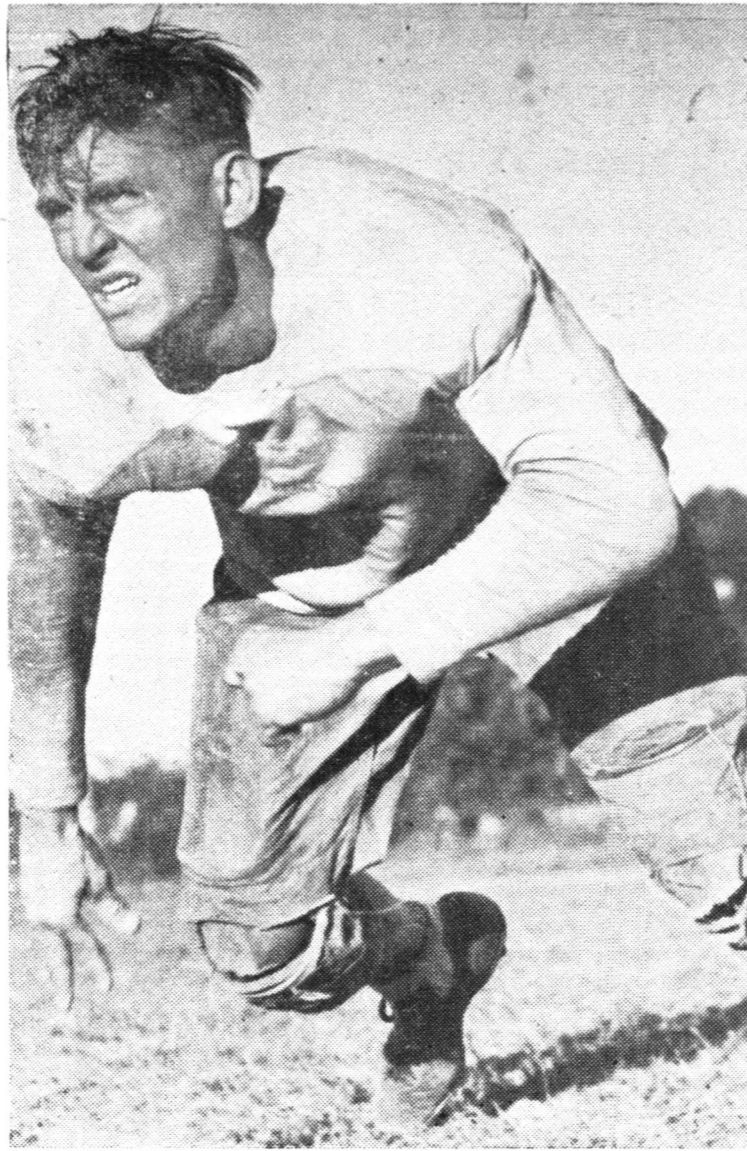

2. That the owner is: Southwestern College, Memphis, Tenn.

JOHN W. YOUNG, JR.,
 Business Manager.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 3rd day of October, 1939.

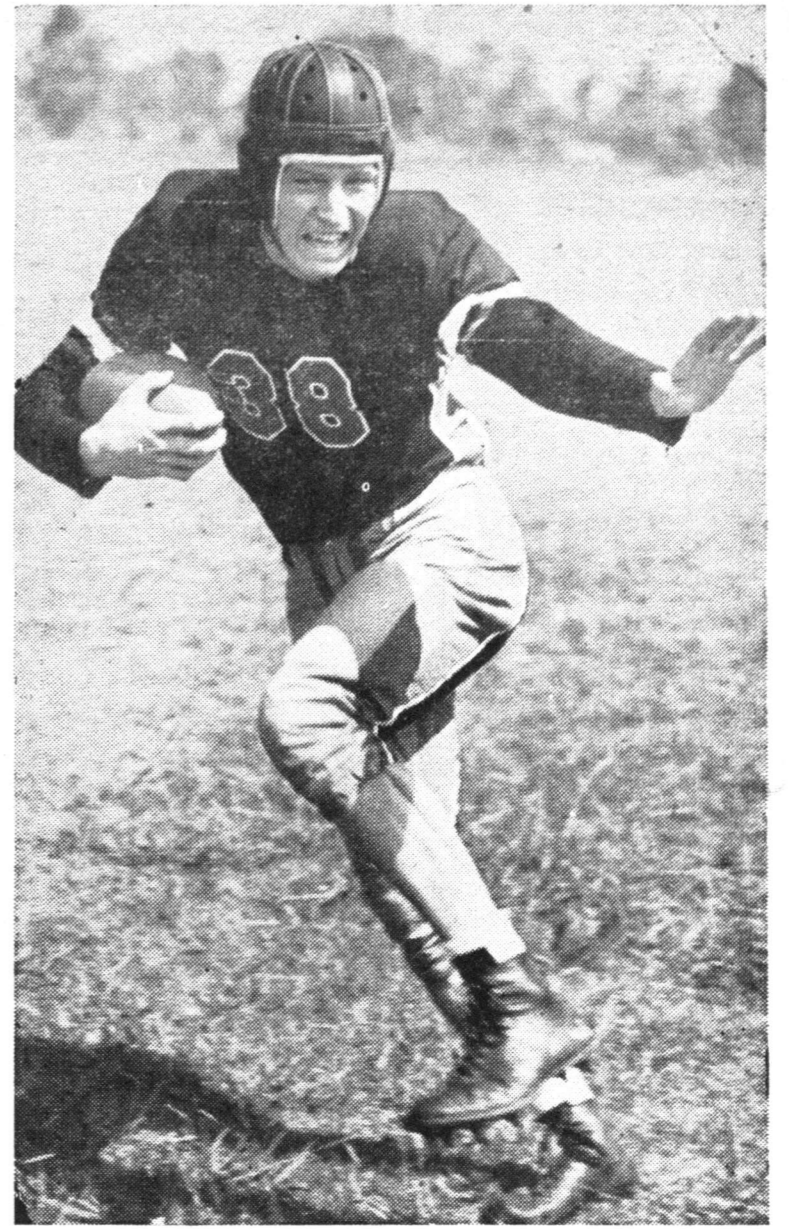

ERMA REESE, Notary Public.

Episcopal Club Holds Meeting

Plans For Steak Fry Arranged

The Episcopal Club met Wednesday night in the Chi Omega lodge. Plans for the year were brought up. A definite program of social work was discussed, and it was decided to help underprivileged children in various institutions of the city. The club plans to have a party on the 19th of October.

The party will include a steak fry at the campus hearth followed by entertainment in the Zeta house. Dorothy Steuwer is in charge of the arrangements, and plans to have a varied program.

The first meeting of the year was held in the S.A.E. house on the 27th of September. William Belcher, president of the club, explained the purposes and aims of the organization, and Dean Hoag of St. Mary's Cathedral address addressed the group.

Bobcats Invade Holmes College October 20

Little Practice Since Win Over Murray Frosh

With one victory already under their belts the Bobcats remain idle this week, but will go down to Goodman, Mississippi, to engage the stalwarts from Holmes Junior College in combat next Friday, October 20.

Despite a very creditable showing against the freshmen from Murray State on Wednesday of last week the baby Lynx cats cannot be absolutely sure of triumphing over the Juniors. Holmes puts out some very good men as evidenced by the fact that several have come to Southwestern and have played good football, an outstanding example being in the person of Ed French, first string back of last year's Lynx.

Coach Nemecek appeared pleased with the Bobcats' showing against Murray. Cocks, Bearden and Beasley showed up well in the backfield and the line play was excellent from end to end. There are twenty-three men on the freshman squad of which quite a few will be welcome additions to next year's Varsity.

The squad has been busy scrimmaging the varsity this week and in helping them polish up on their sorely needed pass defense. Coach Nemecek has been drafted by Kubale to help train the varsity ends and will not devote much of his time to the Bobcats until the first of next week.

The freshmen have two more games after they play Holmes Junior College on Friday. They meet Sunflower Junior College October 27, and Ole Miss Freshmen November 4.

PETE FRIEDEL CUP TO GO TO SPORT WINNER

As everyone knows by now, Southwestern has an Intramural Athletic Association. Very few of you know, however, of the reward that goes to the winner and who donates the reward. Two years ago, Pete Friedel, then manager of the Cotton Boll and now owner of Friedel's on Poplar, being an admirer of Southwestern and its principles, donated a beautiful gold trophy to be given each year to the winner of the intramural race. S.A.E. won the trophy that year and the next (38 and 39). The winner for this year as yet cannot be foreseen nor predicted.

The cup does not become the permanent possession of the organization winning three years straight or for any number of successive years. It is retained only for one year or as long as the group is able to pile up the largest number of points for the whole year.

KELLY PLEDGES SIGMA NU

Emmett "Shipwreck" Kelly, recently elected president of the freshman class, has pledged Sigma Nu social fraternity, it was learned today. Kelly, of Tupelo, Miss., is confined to his bed in Stewart Hall with a knee injury suffered in freshman football scrimmage.

A bit of a wag is C. C. Hurd, mathematics instructor at Michigan State College. On the door to his office is the following injunction:

"Please knock before entering. If you don't give a rap, you won't get an answer."

Maybe the last part of that should have read, "you won't get Hurd."

Rules from the 1860 student handbook of Westminster College that makes us glad we're collegians in 1939: "Attendance on circuses is not allowed, and students are never allowed to be on the streets nor in the stores, about town, except on business, which is to be promptly attended to; nor to be away from their own rooms, except at appropriate times for recreation in some inoffensive and honorable manner."

Sigma Nu Downs SAE's In Softball Finals Friday

KA, Sigma Nu, And SAE Trip Opponents In Tennis Matches

The Sigma Nu fraternity was first to win an intramural title by defeating the SAE's 12 to 8 Friday to win the fall softball title. The game was a hard fought affair, even though the winners led all the way. The Sigma Nu's got off to an early lead and were never threatened. Their attack was led by Don Manning who connected for a homer and tripple. Dub Worthington starred in the field. The SAE's were led by the all around play of Jack Mills and Jimmy Collier.

Intramural tennis started in excellent fashion Wednesday with the KA's defeating the PIKA's, Sigma Nu defeating the non-frats, and the SAE's winning by default from the ATO's. In the KA-PIKA match, Bob Black defeated Paul Buchanan 6-0, 6-1, and Malcolm Hinson took Ryce Russum to the tune of 7-5, 6-0. In the last match between the Sigma Nu's and non-frats John Summerfield defeated Dub Worthington 6-2, 6-0, and Jim Holcombe defeated Bob Stites 6-2, 6-4. In the doubles match the Sigma Nu's won by the score of 7-5, 6-1.

On Friday the Kappa Sigs meet the ATO's, the Sigma Nu's meet the PIKA's, and the non-frats oppose the KA's.

Fifty-Five Enroll In Fencing Classes

Kurt Susskind Is Instructor To Two Groups

Fifty-five girls and boys are attending mixed classes of fencing in the Southwestern gym each week. The classes are being held on Wednesdays from 4 to 6 and on Friday nights from 7 to 9. Mr. Susskind is the instructor of the class. He is the fencing instructor at the Y. M. C. A. and is a member of the International Fencing Club in New York where he was an instructor before coming South.

The class is now being drilled in the correct foot work in fencing. The fencing equipment is new and is the French type of equipment. Mr. Susskind is hoping to have a fencing team that will compete with other Southern colleges. He hopes to have a team ready for competition next year.

Sigma Nu Holds Intramural Lead By Tennis Win

Trim Non-Frats As ATO Defaults To SAE Netmen

Sigma Nu held their lead in the intramural race by winning over the Non-Frats in the first round tennis matches Wednesday afternoon. Their margin over the S.A.E.'s was not increased, however, as the Sig Alphas were winning by default over the A.T.O.'s at the same time.

As it stands today the Sigma Nu's, with 45 points, are 20 points ahead of the S.A.E.'s, who have thus far been able to garner only 25 points.

Having already exhibited a goodly amount of athletic prowess, the Sigma Nu's look like the winners-to-be of the intramural trophy which goes to the organization having the largest number of points at the end of the year.

Intramurals are now held on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 1:30, and so as not to conflict with the 2:30 classes for freshmen and the lab hours for science students which occur mostly on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

The games are free and exciting. All you girls and non-athletes should come on out and add your voices to those of the cheering section and urge your favorites on to victory. The fresh air is good for you and the moral support is helpful no end.

He has a head like a doorknob—anybody can turn it.

LYNX CATS LOSE

Last Saturday the Southwestern Lynx lost to the Ole Miss Rebels by a score of 11 to 0. They will begin their normal schedule this week.

Many Attend YWCA Banquet

Add 80 New Members To Group; Appoint Committees

The annual Y. W. C. A. banquet was held last Friday evening complimenting all old and new members. Marion Dickson, president, did the official welcoming and Annie Few Work, vice president, explained the aims and ideals of the association.

Due to the absence of Anne Tuthill, the entertainment was called off though a fried chicken dinner was enjoyed by all.

Out of the 80 new members, one freshman was honored with an office for the forthcoming year. Tommie Jean Haygood was appointed chairman of social activities.

Other new cabinet members beside Be Waggener, secretary, and Priscilla Shumaker, treasurer, are: Joye Fourmy, chairman of publicity; Harriette Hollis, chairman of social service; Martha Miller, chairman of music; Adair Tate, chairman of public affairs; Mary Ware, chairman of art; Nena Williams, chairman of vespers and devotions.

I would give up all my fame and all my art if there were one woman who cared whether or not I came home late for dinner.—Turgenev.

Snapshot Section To Be In Lynx

Camera Club To Be Organized; Lynx To Be Out May 1

One of the main features of the Southwestern annual, the Lynx, for 1940 will be its snapshot section, George Jackson, the editor, has announced. The purpose of greater stress on the snapshot section will be to cover as thoroughly as possible every phase of campus life. Working toward this will be a photography staff including Bob Paris, Claude Haverty, Irvin Sachritz, Joye Fourmy, Elise Smithwick, Bailey Campbell, Tom Simpson, Walter Hall, and Robert Cogswell.

A Camera Club is also being organized to help in securing snapshots. Geren Baird is temporary chairman and all interested are requested to consult him as to the time of the club's first meeting. As a further incentive, the club is going to sponsor at least one snapshot contest. All students will be eligible to enter.

Plans to date for the Lynx are that it will be out by May 1. Photographers will probably begin taking individual pictures on about November 1, and are to be finished by Christmas. More definite plans for the Lynx will be announced later.

Enrollment Is Swelled To 471

Freshman Class Is Largest With 169 Students

Figures of enrollment for the classes have been released by Miss Annie Beth Gary, the registrar. The total enrollment at present is 471, including special students and students in the music school.

Figures for the classes follow:

The senior class has a total of 71 students, composed of 43 men and 28 women. There are 98 members of the junior class, with 62 men and 36 women. The sophomore class totals 113, with 67 men and 46 women. The freshman class is largest of all, with a total of 169, boasting 105 men students and 63 women.

Special students number 12, 7 men and 5 women. In the special college of music, there are nine students. Complete totals for the college are 287 men students and 184 women students. Figures for the extension school division show 38 men and 8 women, a total of 46.
