Carnival Plans Include Play, Brown Reveals

Fantasy To Be Set In Berlin, On Southwestern Campus

MacINNES TO ASSIST

Dance, Sponsored By Men's Panhellenic To Follow

In an exclusive interview with Ralph Brown, director of the April Fool Carnival, earliest plans for the event were given for publication. Previous to this, details were shrouded in secrecy with numerous rumors about what the theme and costumes were to be.

The costumes, says Brown, are to be truly unique. Everyone on the campus is to come dressed as the reincarnation of what he would like to have been in the past or what he would like to be in the future.

The play, which will follow immediately after the presentation of the Carnival Court, will be a fantasy concerning present day dictators. The first act takes place in a German cabinet room in hunger-ridden Berlin. The settings of the second and third acts are on the Southwestern campus, in the Faculty Room and on the grounds behind Neely Hall.

Between the first and second acts, there will be a chorus sung by ten of the Southwestern waiters. After the second act, a mock radio broadcast will be presented. Jack Conn and Jeanne Reeves will sing and Maynard Dabbs will play the piano to the accompaniment of a jug band.

The gym is to be decorated with Nazi swastikas, hammers and scythes of Russia, the fasces of Fascist Italy, and the symbol of the local New Diehism. A platform for the court will be erected in the north end of the gym, and the play will be given in the southwest corner. Herbert Bingham is in charge of decorations.

After the third act there will be a dance sponsored by the Men's Panhellenic Council in the gymnasium. Definite plans for the dance will be given later.

Henry Mobley, Kappa Sigma, and Kitty Bright Tipton, Chi Omega, will reign over the revels as King and Queen. Other members of the Court will be John McGrady, Sigma Alpha (Continued on Page Three)

The Student Says

QUESTION

Do you think sophomore tutorials should be abolished?

ANSWERS

Harry Phelan, senior: I am firmly convinced that sophomore tutorials are, as they stand, a good thing. I am of the opinion that sophomores are quite capable of carrying the regular nine-hour tutorial and believe that they should be offered to the sophomores.

Virginia Mangum, junior: I think sophomore tutorials should be abolished because a sophomore isn't ready for it and it is a bad approach to a regular tutorial course. Also, it's not quite fair to the professor who has to take up his time with students who don't fully appreciate the value of these courses.

Sam Carter, senior: Definitely not. The sophomore tutorial is a great help to the student, however unpleasant it is to the professor. It is a step toward acquiring a liberal education and enables the professor to know more students personally. My tutorial helped me a great deal and I believe all sophomores should have the opportunity of taking such a course.

William McBurney, junior: "I think that sophomore reading courses should be abolished. With the prescribed two hours per week reading and the half-hour conference, the sophomore rarely manages to touch any one subject more than superficially. Result: time and energy wasted by both student and professor. The soph reading course should either be expanded into a 9-hour tutorial or dropped entirely.

Return Proofs Promptly, Editor Campbell Urges

The entries in the Lynx Beauty Contest will be announced on March 31, Frank Campbell, editor of the annual and director of the contest, has announced. Kitty Bright Tipton is ineligible for entrance in the contest due to the fact that she has been chosen Queen of the April Fool Carnival, and is automatically included in this feature of the Lynx.

All students who still have picture proofs are urged to return them to Campbell or Avery Stratton, official photographer, promptly. All proofs must be in by March 24.

Members of the senior class are asked to hand in a list of their campus activities by the end of next week, Campbell also announced. These lists are to include all activities engaged in and offices held during the four years of college along social, athletic, literary, or dramatic lines.

Drake University Issues Invitation

Southwestern Invited To Enter Candidate For Relays Queen; Winner Gets Trip

DES MOINES, Iowa.—(Special)—Drake University QUAX, junior yearbook, has issued an invitation to colleges and universities which will participate in the Drake Relays, April 28 and 29, to enter an outstanding woman as candidate for Drake Relays queen. Southwestern College has received an invitation. The school must have an entry in the Relays to have a queen candidate.

The queen candidates will be judged from photographs submitted by the yearbooks of the schools they represent and from a questionnaire furnished each school. They will be judged on intelligence, beauty, personality, and poise.

The queen, the sixth to reign over the Relays, will be brought to Des Moines April 28, with transportation as well as all expenses paid while she is in the city. She will reign for two days over the thirtieth Drake Relays, with the 1939 Drake QUAX beauties as her court of honor. Drake women are not eligible to enter the contest.

Marjory Zechiel, of Butler University, the 1938 queen, says of her reign: "The memories of Drake are so lovely and pleasant, I'll never forget the friendliness and hospitality extended to me. No one could have had a more perfect week-end."

Frances Rather, of University of Texas, the 1937 queen, says of her reign at the Drake Relays: "I wish I were able to even half express how much I enjoyed my visit in Des Moines as 'Queen of the 1937 Drake Relays.' The two days there were the most marvelous I've ever spent. I couldn't possibly ever forget it, even if I lived forever."

It is the conductor's hope to include on every program a work by an American composer. His offering Monday night was the Slow Movement from Howard Hanson's 1st Symphony, "The Nordic." It is extremely well scored, particularly for the brass choir, and almost a veritable horn concerto for French horn, so well done by Mr. Hines Monday night. It works up to a tremendous climax and dies down to close with a single major third played by two clarinets.

Critic Finds Symphony Concert Creditable

A unique experience was had Monday night by those who attended the first concert of the newly-formed Memphis Symphony Orchestra. The group of about 60 musicians, professional and amateur, was directed by Southwestern's music director, Burnet C. Tuthill, of whom they should be justly proud. Arriving somewhat skeptical of the group of players on the stage, the audience broke into spontaneous applause after the opening number, Mendelssohn's "Fingal's Cave" Overture, realizing that the orchestra was more than capable. The overture portrays a rolling sea and though the effects of rising and falling waves were not what they might have been in the hands of a more experienced group, the effect as a whole was fine, warranting the applause.

Mozart's Symphony No. 39 in E Flat Major, next on the program, offered the newly-formed group a chance to show its power of contrast. Mozart is perhaps hardest of all composers to perform adequately, for to play Mozart well requires the utmost precision and delicacy, but under the capable interpretive guidance of Mr. Tuthill the orchestra proved that even Mozart's finesse could not prevent a creditable performance. To be sure,

POND REPLACES SIEFKIN

Edward B. Lemaster Chosen Honorary Member

Billy Kelly, president of Phi Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary fraternity, was chosen official delegate to the 13th National O.D.K. Convention and William McBurney, alternate. George Jackson and Prof. R. C. Hon will also attend the convention which is to be held at Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Virginia, on March 23-25.

Phi Circle initiated five new members at 5 o'clock last Wednesday evening. Billy Kelly, president, was in charge of the induction ceremonies, which were followed by a dinner in the Bell Room of Neely Hall.

Membership in the fraternity is limited to three percent of the male members of the student body, to be chosen from the junior and senior classes. The members must have distinguished themselves in scholarship, athletics, publications, or other forms of campus leadership.

KAPPA ALPHA ANNOUNCES

Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Alpha social fraternity announces the initiation of five new members, Robert Black, president of the freshman class and member of the Honor Council; Harry Hill, Clifford Gaither, William Maybray, and John Flaniken, last Friday night in the campus lodge. George Griesbeck, president, was in charge of induction ceremonies.

Symphony Concert Creditable

By the loud ovations received, it was shown that Memphis definitely wants its own symphony orchestra. And certainly the Symphony Orchestra deserves the whole-hearted support and cooperation of the Southwestern student body.

TUTHILL TO DIRECT ST. LOUIS SYMPHONY

Prof. Burnet C. Tuthill, director of music at Southwestern, will direct the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra in his "Pastorale Bethlehem" at their concert Tuesday evening, March 28, at the Ellis Auditorium.

Overture, "Oberon".....Weber
Symphony No. 7.....Beethoven
Pastorale "Bethlehem".....Tuthill
"Death and Transfiguration".....Strauss
"La Valse".....Ravel

Debating Team Holds Practice

Use Question Concerning Use Of Public Funds For Purpose Of Stimulating Business

Practice debates were held last Wednesday night by those trying out for the debating teams. The question argued was "Resolved: that the United States should cease using public funds (including credits) for the purpose of stimulating business."

James Allman and Russell Weiner upheld the affirmative, and Allen Webb and Robert Udelsohn the negative. Also heard were Ralph Alperin debating the affirmative of the question and John Summerfield the negative.

Meetings are held every other day of all those trying out for the teams at 3:30 o'clock in Room 108 of Palmer Hall.

Radio Broadcast Given Over WMC

History Of Southwestern Series Will Present Eighth Episode "Coeducation Fight"

The seventh episode of the Southwestern History Broadcast series, "Campus Characters," was broadcast last Thursday afternoon over Radio Station WMC under the direction of Randall MacInnes and John Cleghorn, WMC program manager. Students taking part in the broadcast were Sheldon Moore as Dr. Shearer, Randall MacInnes as Dr. Wilson, and Frank Wright as Old Barney, with a sustaining cast of Ben Lewis, Mary Ware, O. F. Soderstrom, Marion Keisker, Kate Parker, Thomas McLemore, Paul Buchanan, John Fowler, and James Cogswell. John Quanthy was in charge of sound effects.

Chief among the characters described in the episode was Dr. Wilson, known as the Father of Southwestern, and an incurable punster. Another of the campus characters which older alumni found familiar was Old Barney, an Irishman, who made Southwestern his home when the College was located in Clarksville, Tenn. He sold chewing gum and candy to the original Stewart Hall boys there, and became so beloved that he was cared for by the students when he became infirm.

Next week's script, "The Struggle for Coeducation," has not been cast at present. Students interested in taking part in the broadcasts should see Randall MacInnes.

A "listening audience" survey is being made by Station WMC.

GROUP PRESENTS PLAY

The Ministerial Club will present the play, "Thirty Pieces of Silver," at Galloway Methodist Church on Sunday, April 2nd. The cast will include Tom Duncan, Walter Hall, David Osborne, Bruce Crill, Walter Bader, and James Cogswell.

Show Will Be At Intermission Of Script Dance

Henry Mobley To Be Grand Master Of Ceremonies

PROGRAM IS VARIED

Affair Will Be First Ever Held On Lynx Campus

Featuring an all-student floor show, the first Southwestern Talent Night and dance will be given in the Gymnasium tomorrow night. The event, the first to be held at Southwestern, was suggested by an editorial in the Sou'wester several weeks ago and is under the management of Charles Freeburg.

A number of student talent acts have been prepared for those attending the dance, and the intermission show will start promptly at 10:15 o'clock. A special platform will be constructed in the south end of the Gymnasium near the orchestra stand where Bill Taylor and his Royal Collegians will furnish incidental music.

Among the latest additions to the program is Joye Fourmy, freshette, who will dance, toe or tap, depending on the demands of her audience. In the vocal line, Jane Bray, Kappa Delta torch singer, will render the popular "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," while Jack Conn, winner of several voice contests, will sing "Deep Purple" and several other new songs.

Alec Cortner, Anne Tuthill, and William Bobo are scheduled to play "Flirtation" as a cornet duet with piano accompaniment. From the sublime to its opposite, will be the execution of "Honeysuckle Rose" and other swing numbers by Tom White, local maestro, and his Lynx Cats, Henry Mobley and Walter Scott, on assorted instruments, including a suitcase and shoe brush. Other numbers have not been announced yet.

Master of ceremonies for the evening will be Henry Mobley, noted jokester of the chapel rostrum. The cooperation of the entire student body, by attendance, is urged.

Christian Union Makes New Plans

Report On Conference Queen, Discuss Possible College Fund For Refugees

The Christian Union Cabinet met Monday evening at six o'clock in the Bell Room. Reports were made on the Tennessee Student Christian Conference at Scarritt College, Nashville, attended by Herbert Bingham as presiding officer, Dr. Liston as leader of a discussion group, George Jackson, Mary Louise Hughes, and Marion Dickson. The campus Christian organizations, Y. W. C. A., Ministerial Club, and Men's Bible Class, reported their recent activities.

Plans were discussed concerning the possibilities of raising a fund to bring several European student refugees to Southwestern and pay their college expenses. A committee composed of John Young, Ned Hermann, James Cogswell, and Tom Mobley were appointed to arrange the forthcoming gridiron banquet. The devotional for the meeting was given by James Cogswell.

The Cabinet is also making plans for the Freshman Vesper Service to be held Sunday, April 2nd.

COUNCIL WILL MEET

The Interfraternity Council will meet next Monday night at 9 o'clock in the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity lodge. All groups are urged to have representatives present.

Now Is The Time

To Attend the Talent Night

Some weeks ago in an editorial we described a Student Talent Night held at Loyola University and sponsored by Blue Key, national honorary fraternity. At this time we advocated the staging of a similar affair at Southwestern. Tomorrow night a Southwestern Student Talent Night and dance is being given in the gymnasium.

Since the Sou'wester is sponsoring the affair in a godfatherly fashion, we ask, naturally enough, the attendance of the student body which is essential to its success. But beyond whatever personal interest we may feel, the Talent Night, under this name, is a new experiment on the campus and one well worth the encouragement of the students. That it will bring to the fore hidden talent which is present on any campus and that it will give confidence and experience to the participants as well as amusement to the spectators is obvious.

More intangible but no less valuable is the fact that the Talent Night may develop into an institution breeding the esprit de corps so lacking on the campus in the between-athletic-seasons time. And to the jaded palates of dance-goers, the intermission show with Mobley as master of ceremonies will be a welcome change from the usual script dance.

Formula For Spring—The Ultimate In Campaigns

(There have been campaigns against the quota system, campaigns against noise in chapel, campaigns for a nickelodeon in the bookstore, but this campaign, suggested by the Kentucky Kernel, concerns a matter which gravely affects every student and faculty member of the College.)

"We take pleasure in announcing our vigorous campaign for Spring, beginning with this issue. Winter has been acting up now for quite a few years, and it could be said that it hasn't exactly played "cricket" with Southwestern students. Consequently, after viewing the matter in perspective, we have reached the unbiased decision that Winter is bad, because it is too cold. Summer is bad, because it is too hot. Autumn is bad, because of its hay fever. Therefore, by simple computation, that leaves Spring, which must be good.

After considerable thought, a course of action has been planned whereby Spring may arrive sooner and in all its glory. If we can make Winter blush, the problem is solved. Here is how to go about it: Don't wear an overcoat, get out the white shoes, bring out the brightest Spring colors, remark on what a beautiful Spring day it is. This is bound to make Winter feel mighty silly. But because of its natural coldness. Winter will probably not blush yet. So, to be sure, stand around in your shirt sleeves and make disparaging remarks about how bad Winter was. This will make Winter's ears burn, and from there on it will be easy to get a bonafide blush. To insure the ultimate in blushes, just go bare-footed and take sun baths.

As everyone knows, in a blush the circulation brings heat to the surface. Consequently, the snow and ice will melt. Birds will come out and pick up crumbs left after your picnic on the campus, the trees will sprout leaves to protect the birds from passing pre-meds, grass will grow green with envy of the trees, flowers will shoot up to see what it's all about, result—Spring.

We hope the student body will cooperate in making this campaign a success."

Missing Lynx

From the Campus Chain

For the past week the Sou'wester office has been all a-flutter with preparations for this St. Patrick's Day which is now so draped all over the atmosphere that even the trees are murmuring "The Wearing of the Green." Everything was going "as well as might be expected" when Miss Dorothy Helene Steuwer, a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, arrived late Wednesday afternoon (without her assignments again) and tried to distribute butter SCOTCH lollipops with "Foo to the Irish" on the wrappers. The race riot which followed raged for some time until Miss Steuwer was subdued and left contently eating her own lollipops.

Mistaken Identity Department:

Looking through our exchange we saw in the Cardinal and Cream, Union U. rag, a headline, "Southwestern Group Visits Union Monday Night." It turned out that the group was from the local Alpha Tau Omega chapter who were entertained with "an informal feed" as the C. & C. so informally put it. In the list of those from Southwestern were Jimmie Darr, Ewin Caruthers, Sibly Bilsien, and Tom Molby. A thorough investigation of the registrar's files has failed to reveal any such persons attending Southwestern. The only conclusions that can be drawn are that these names are aliases of prominent members of the local brotherhood who are leading double lives, or that the party was very informal with mispronunciations the mode of the evening.

How True:

HONOR CLIMAXES DILIGENT EFFORTS —headline in the University Echo

And the office boy who works hard and goes to night school becomes president of the firm.

Apparently inspired by Miss Nancy Caradine's brilliant pun on the title of this column last week, we were approached yesterday by a certain Delta Delta Delta who brazenly (Miss Caradine, you may recall, used a macaroon as a go-between) said, "I have lost my last year's annual. It is the Missing Lynx. Ha, ha ha!" Every raucous syllable fell like acid on our sensitive sense of humor, but may we add—the annual isn't all that you have lost, dearie. And also that from this day on we are positively a closed market for all puns-on-our-name and their creators.

Sunday night after dinner we regaled for the eleventh time with the information that Hitler is lead and that all the stories in the newspapers are just plain black lies or that he has a double that is carrying on in his forced absence. The ten previous times the story was forced upon us we managed to gaily laugh it off, but repetition lends conviction and after dinner we are usually in a pliable mental state. In short, it set us to thinking. If Hitler is lead and we've been wasting our invective on a louble for four years, we're pretty mad about the whole thing. What are those foreign correspondents doing over there, we want to know? Sitting around writing their autobiographies? This version claimed that he inadvertently swigged some poison at a banquet and keeled over ten minutes later. Could anything be more logical?

Well, all we've got to say is that if they've been kidding us—if he's been dead and some fish peddler has been scaring Europe with a false mousache, we don't think it's funny at all!

Nothing disturbs us so much, a fellow columnist suggests, as to see a large lady fall down in the street. Somehow when a man falls down, it doesn't seem so disastrous, just sort of comic. But when a woman falls we get the same feeling we get when a horse falls. We cry, "She's down" and rush forth to sit on her head while they unharness her.

Did You Know That:

Fewer than 47 out of every 100 potatoes grown in the world are consumed in the Southwestern dining hall?

Plug of the Week:

The Ole Miss rah-rah boys and gehls, we hear, plan to arrive en masse this week-end for their annual Varsity Show, which advance publicity says compares favorably with the Masque and Wig Show and others. Tickets are being sold for a nominal sum and the audience is requested to bring their own vegetables.

Lynx Chat

At the K. D. dance: Marjorie Moorhead lost in the crowd of stags to the disgust of "Chuck" Guthrie. Jane Bray looked as though she had adopted the "med" school. Ann Bell and Hays Brantley caught in a light shower at intermission. Mary Jane Maxwell dancing "Begin the Beguine" with Him. Paula Harris and Warren Prewitt showing how the leadout should be danced. Visitors from Ole Miss: Ann Bray was following in sister Jane's footsteps; Virginia Esch attracting Bobby DeWar's individual attention; also Ewing Carruthers taken up with a blonde one, Jane Littlepage. "Lollie" Ralph with an orchid and Buddy Miller. "Be" Waggener, escorted by our editor, outdid herself to break all former records of good rushes. Steuwer on her dignity (need we say more). Jean Abel down from Kentucky for the event; funny coincidence that "Red" Thompson got back the same weekend for a visit. Among the rushees was spied Kate May's sister, Caroline; it looked like plenty of others spied her also. We were glad to see "Babe" Black, Southwestern's most attractive of a few years back. Dorothy McGehee, looking very frilly in pink ruffles, was in one of those cute moods that entrances Walker Sandlin.

Heigh-ho, the spittoon twins, Marjorie McElroy and Dorothy Steuwer, who immediately fell in upon arriving the first spring formal brought out all the new white frocks and the moth-ball-smelling tuxes (surprise, the boys are learning to read). Outgoing and incoming presidents, Jane Bray and Jean Walton, in the receiving line. Mary Margaret Wilson has a new line, so listen closely, girls. The idea is to get a freshman. Next, tell him how wonderful he dances (flattery always gets 'em); add these two, smile sweetly, flicker those eyelashes, and throw in a dash of sauce—result, he dances with you every other dance. Our management doesn't guarantee this method—some of the freshmen don't get it. After the last dance of the evening, Jac Ruffin was heard to remark, "The lights went on, and there I was dancing with Gaylon. Was I embarrassed! All the time I was thinking it was Lillie Roberts Walker."

At the Tri-Delt Barbecue: Mary Kathryn McGuire with the orchestra player Phi Chi that has made her scarce on the campus of late. News flash! Jeanne Reeves came strolling in with Gorton Berry. The romance of the week was there: to formally introduced, Kate Weaver and Herman Crowder. Harry Hill trying some kind of a broom trick which put him on a cheap drunk (ditto "Biddy" Scarborough and E. E. Rogers). Incidentally, we hear rather than make a choice Fransioli brought two dates (what a string. Powerhouse of the week). Rowlett Sneed and Norma Bright arrived at parting time. Singing was in order; the Cogswell brothers and the DeVall sisters formed quite a quartet; and oh, what a choral background. Martha Miller and Jac Ruffin won the crocheted bathtub as the best sing-pong players of the evening (Marion Dickson was among the most consistent losers; but she swears it wasn't her fault). H. C. Robertson, Dorothy Stacey and Hope Gallo-way each being quieter than the other. Mary Margaret Page and Dorothea Wyatt dropping in long enough to borrow some kitchen utensils (girls, there is nothing like a few practice meals). Celeste Taylor and Billy Belcher find dancing on a rug is much easier than taking it up.

Special of the Week: We want to devote one paragraph to the departure of Allen "Eat at the Lynx Lair" Deacon Craft. The girls will certainly miss his kind and considerate service. He left a message for Marjorie McElroy, thanking her for her attendance (favoritism will out) at the Lair. But so long, Deacon, we'll miss you. And this brings about best wishes to Bill Bradford, the new manager. Something tells us that the Lair won't suffer while he's manager.

Irish Welfare Group Meets For A Bit Of A Blarney-Fest

A jovial little meeting was held today by the Southwestern Society for the Promotion of Irish Welfare in honor of St. Patrick's Day. At first I had trouble getting in. I was greeted at the door by William O'Nakajima who gave me a suspicious squint and then asked me my name. "William Patrick Murphy," I replied confidently, considering this a mere formality. But imagine my surprise—Webster would have said astonishment—when he replied, "No soundee velly Irish to me." I reeled and clutched at the door for support. Being a strong advocate of reciprocity, I replied, "Well, you no soundee velly Irish to me. Yah!"

"Gottee shamlock?" I was asked. Interpreting this to mean shamrock, as indeed it surprisingly enough did, I showed him my hat in which I was wearing the traditional Irish national emblem. Reluctantly he admitted me, looking as though he wanted to stab me in the back. As a matter of fact, I think he did stab me in the back. Just a minute. Yes, he certainly did.

But passing on, I came to the meeting room where a babbling group of persons was being presided over by Barney Gallagher. "Faith and be jabbers," he exclaimed, "and I wish we was eating." I casually commented to myself that I wouldn't mind a little sip-er, a little bite—myself.

Next arrivals were Billy Kelly and Mary Louise Hughes. (Say, when did that start? Let me see, the crash was in '29. . .) Everyone readily agreed that Kelly was Irish enough, but Hughes, that was another matter. Kelly immediately struck a pugnacious attitude and declared, "Why, we go everywhere together!" He then glared around as though daring someone to disagree with him, which of course, nobody did. Then, swiftly changing his strategy, he puckered up his ugly little face and large droplets of tears began to form in his eyes. It was obvious that he was heartbroken at the thought of being separated from the wee one for even an instant. He presented such an abject picture that everyone agreed to let them both stay. They immediately departed to a nearby corner and began to coo delightedly to each other.

Then came John McGrady and Bud McCraney, both of whom were duly admitted. It apparently escaped notice that they were wearing kilts and that each had a bagpipe ineffectively concealed in his pocket. Oh well, maybe they're Scotch-Irish. Johnny Mac was remarking, "Sure, and I'm hungry. Faith, and I've not had a bite in three days." Bud promptly bit him, saying the while, "Sure, and he asked for it."

Last persons to arrive were Joe Sarafian and Kathleen Fransioli. They were received with suspicious glances by such stalwarts as Flaniken and Kennedy. And indeed, it was significant that when refreshments were served—Irish potatoes, and no, the meeting was not held in the dining hall—that Joe and Kate exclaimed in unison, "What! No spaghetti! Well, how you lika dat?"

After the food, which was bad enough, we were subjected to a discourse on "Little Known Facts in the Life of St. Patrick and Why Can't They Remain That Way." This was given by Doyle Fuller, who hails, conveniently, from Shamrock, Texas.

Included in this painful ordeal was the one about Pat and Mike—darn it, I mean St. Patrick—who, when banishing the toads and snakes from Ireland, chained a monster serpent, telling him to remain there until Monday. Why Monday was selected was not divulged, but it is wash-day, usually referred to by housewives as Blue Monday. (That reminds me of the cow who ate blue grass and moored indigo.) Anyway, the next week St. Patrick passed by and the serpent called out, "It is a long Monday, Patrick, and how's your wife?" St. Patrick replied simply, "Today is Friday, and my wife died in the epidemic of '23."

This cast such a spell over the meeting that it was soon adjourned and everyone left to attend a wake. But faith, I'll have to be getting on. Me mither and fither will be skinning me alive, which, I am told, is quite painful.

"ON WITH THE DANCE"

This is an expression denoting joy. It became popular the early part of the nineteenth century after the publication of Lord Byron's "Childe Harold" part of which is, "On with the dance, let joy be unconfined." And that's the way you'll feel when you don one of the dance frocks at MANGEL'S now specially priced at $6.98. Enchanting chiffons, marquisettes, laces, point de sprites. Just what you need for the Spring dances and priced so low that your allowances can still breath freely.

WINFREY IS CAPTAIN

Southwestern Will Enter Cotton Carnival Meet

Practice for the Spring Track Team will begin on Monday, March 20, 1939, on the cinder path of Fargason Field. Several candidates, anticipating the coming practice, have already started taking work-outs.

First meet on the 1939 program is with Arkansas State College of Jonesboro here on April 4th. Following that meet the Lynx meet Millsaps and Mississippi College in a triangular meet at Jackson, Mississippi, on April 22. On April 29 the Lynx entertain Sewanee with a meet on Fargason Field. May 6 is an open date and Southwestern is trying to schedule Ole Miss or the Maroons of Mississippi State at Starkville for that. Either Ole Miss or State would present a strong foe for the Lynx thin-clads. Southwestern will enter a full team in the Cotton Carnival Invitation Meet on May 12. This meet will be held in Crump Stadium during the week of the Cotton Carnival festivities and should feature outstanding track stars from all over the country. For the first time in several years the Dixie Conference Track Meet will be held in Memphis on May 19 with Southwestern playing host to the visiting teams. By far this is the outstanding sporting event of the entire spring season for Southwestern.

Harold High, coach of the track team, said the new equipment had been ordered and would be ready for us on Monday, Fargason Field will be the site of nearly all of the home meets as well as daily practice sessions.

Among candidates expected to report on Monday are: Orley Nettles, Gaylon Smith, Pinky Falls, Thomas McLemore, Luke Dawson, Hylton Neill, H. C. Robertson, Fred Partin, Bob Foley, Clifford Cast, Schuyler Reid, Leon Underwood, Henry Peek, Bill Anderson, Jimmy Taylor, Bruce Crill, and Will Rhea Winfrey.

Will Rhea Winfrey is the captain-elect of the 1939 team and Hylton Neill is alternate captain. They were both elected at the close of the season last year.

With 6-4 Score Non-Sorority Holds Strong Kappa Deltas

In the closest game of the week the Non-Sorority team held the Kappa Deltas to a 6 to 4 score Thursday afternoon in their second tangle in the Women's Intramural Basketball. Eugenia Carter scored only two points while Elizabeth Day of the K. D.'s and Irene Rhea of the Non-Sorority group scored four points each. Due to a lack of eligible players being present the Kappa Deltas were forced to play with a five-man team, so the Non-Sorority girls obliged them by cutting down their team to five also.

The Chi Omegas walked over the AOPi's with a 37 to 10 set up in the second game of the afternoon. Margaret Jones with 18 points and Mary Ware with 19 points were high scorers. Fourmy, as usual, showed good form-y (o-o-o-o-Pardon!) Friday afternoon the Kappa Deltas were again victorious when they defeated the Tri-Deltas 41 to 9. Carter made up for all things past by leading in the victory with 25 whole points (all by herself, too—with the help of her running-mate, Elizabeth Day).

There's no stopping those K. D.'s. They gave Chi Omega a bad licking Tuesday by beating them 26 to 13. Carter was high-point man (gets monotonous, doesn't it) with 14 points, and "All-Star" Shumaker was second with 10 points. The Chi O's just couldn't seem to get their eye on the basket and substitute Mary Ware just managed to eek out 8 points to be top scorer for the Chi Omegas.

AOPi struggled to a close victory in the second game Tuesday by defeating Tri-Delta 14 to 12. Joye Fourmy with 11 points got top place. It was a great fight while it lasted!

Incidentally, why don't we name our girls' team the "Lynx Kittens"?

Lineups for the games were: Kappa Delta vs. Non-Sorority game—K. D. line-up included Eugenia Carter (2), Elizabeth Day (4), Laura McGehee, Priscilla Shumaker, Dorothy Esch. Non-Sorority line-up, Irene Rhea (4), Marjorie Moorhead, Maxine Allen, Rachel Beasley, Vivienne Birmingham. Subs for the K. D.'s consisted of Dorothy Gregory, and for Non-Sorority, Dorothy McGehee. K. D. won with a 6 to 4 score.

Chi Omega-AOPi game—Chi Omega line-up: Margaret Jones (18), Mary

Ware (19), Beth Paine, Katherine Walker, Harriette Hollis, Adair Tate. AOPi line-up: Jo Meux (6), Mary M. Page, Virginia Mangum, Betsy Fowler, Joye Fourmy, Louise Jennings. Score, 37 to 10 in favor of Chi Omega.

Kappa Delta-Tri Delta game—K. D. line-up: Eugenia Carter (25), Elizabeth Day (8), Dorothy Esch, Dorothy Gregory, Helen Quenichet, Priscilla Shumaker (8). Tri-Delta line-up: Elizabeth Scarborough (7), Celeste Taylor (1), Margaret Ragsdale (1), Marjorie McEllroy, Kathleen Fransoli, Martha Miller. Score, 41 to 9, in favor of K. D.

Kappa Delta-Chi Omega game—K. D. line-up: Eugenia Carter (14), Elizabeth Day (2), Margaret Moyer, Dorothy Gregory, Helen Quenichet, Priscilla Shumaker (10). Paula Harris was the only substitute. Chi O. line-up: Mary Crawford, Margaret Jones (5), Ethel Wetherbee, Cary Eckert, Anne Eckert, Elizabeth Paine. Subs were Mary Ware (8), and Harriette Hollis.

AOPi-Tri Delta game—AOPi line-up: Jo Meux (1), Mary M. Page (2), Virginia Mangum, Catherine Hollinger, Louise Jennings, Joye Fourmy (11), Tri-Delta line-up: Elizabeth Scarborough (7), Margaret Ragsdale (5), Marion Dickson, Marjorie McEllroy, Martha Miller, Marjorie DeVall. Tri-Delta sub was Maryhope Chaney. Referee for all games—Alec Streete.

S.A.E. Continues Victory March

Tom White, Lloyd Parker, Waddy West Defeat All; Bob Meacham Scores

The SAE's continued their intramural winning streak by breezing through all opposition to emerge with the badminton championship. In not a single match were the champions extended to more than two games a match. Standout for the SA's was Tom White, the wizard of the tennis courts.

In the finals White, SAE, defeated Meacham, non-frat, 15-10. In the other game West, SAE, overcame Morrison 15-5. In the semi-finals West, SAE, defeated Robinson, ATO, 15-2. Parker outclassed Cannon by a 15-0 score. In the other semi-final bracket Meacham, non-frat, overcame Huber, PiKA, 15-5, and Bradford, non-frat, defeated Lindsay, PiKA, 15-7.

In an exhibition match at the Hotel Claridge last Friday night the SAE doubles team of Parker and West bowed to the two non-frat stars, Nakajima and Bradford. The score was very close, 17-16. Both were tied at 14 all, then a 3 point match was played. The non-frats grabbed this opportunity to ring up the required three points and captured the honors. A large crowd of Southwestern students attended the game.

Handball Meets In Intramurals

K.A., Non-Frats, Pi K.A., S.A.E. Win First Round Matches In Annual Tourney

The intramural handball tournament got under way Monday of this week. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the Non-Frats, Kappa Alpha, and Pi Kappa Alpha won their first round matches. The Pi K. A. and K. A. teams were the first to reach the semi-finals, with the other two semi-finalists to be decided between Sigma Nu and the Non-Frats in one match and S. A. E. and Kappa Sigma in the other.

Pi K. A. advanced to the second round with a bye. They defeated A. T. O. in two straight matches to enter the semi-finals. The K. A.'s advanced to the semi-finals by virtue of a victory over A. T. O. in the first round and a bye in the second round.

Boxing is scheduled to start Wednesday night, March 22. The plans call for seven weight divisions: 118 and under, 118-126, 126-135, 135-147, 147-160, 160-175, and 175-190. This should be one of the most interesting events in the intramural schedule for the year, especially with Jimmy Powell and Bobby Elder, the Golden Glovers, expected to participate.

All intramural managers are urged to have their entries weighed in by 5:00 P.M. Tuesday. Intramural standings so far this year are:

|-------------|-----|
| S. A. E. | 350 |
| Sigma Nu | 210 |
| Non-Frats | 170 |
| Kappa Sigma | 115 |
| K. A. | 110 |
| A. T. O. | 70 |
| P. K. A. | 45 |

First Round Tennis Matches Completed Early This Week

With warm weather favoring the campus tennis stars all first round matches were completed early this week. The second round matches to determine the eight-man squad are now in full sway. Prof. P. W. Rhodes and Manager Shepherd Tate arranged the matches.

John "Flash" Summerfield continued his short-lived winning streak in beating Johnson Rhem 6-0, 4-6 and 6-4. Robert Meacham, the freshman sensation, beat Waddy West in straight sets, 6-3 and 6-3. Henry Boothe beat Johnny McGrady, 2-6, 6-2, and 6-0. Gene Hardison dropped a close match to Manager Shepherd Tate by the score of 6-2, 3-6, and 6-4. Bob Montgomery won over Bud McCraney, 1-6, 6-1, and 6-0. Hank Walker easily beat Allen Webb in straight sets, 6-2 and 6-0. After beating Webb, Walker continued to remain undefeated by taking Bailey Campbell by the score of 6-2 and 6-1. Other earlier matches included a win by Johnny Rhem over Don Woolsey, 6-3 and 6-1, and Mac DeMere over Bailey Campbell 6-3 and 9-7.

Present indications for members of the eight-man team to represent Southwestern are still somewhat a matter of speculation. Local "tennis railbirds," however, believe that Tom White, Bob Meacham, Waddy West, Bill Murrah, Henry Boothe, John McGrady, Shepherd Tate, and Gene Hardison will compose the team, ranking in the above order. They gave Mac DeMere, Bailey Campbell, "Flash" Summerfield, Allen Webb, Johnson Rhem, the Woolsey boys, Joe Sarafian, Bud McCraney, Hank Walker and Bob Montgomery little chance of breaking into the ranks of the "first team." However, the season has just gotten under way and upsets are numerous. No one can accurately predict the outcome of the present elimination matches.

Matches yet to be played as we went to press late Wednesday afternoon were: Hardison vs. Walker, Murrah vs. Boothe; McGrady vs. West; Montgomery vs. Mac DeMere; J. Woolsey vs. Sarafian; McCraney vs. Campbell; and Webb vs. Rhem. These matches must be played by Saturday, March 18th and all results will be posted on the bulletin board in the Bookstore.

All-Stars Will Give Exhibition Wednesday Night

Intersorority Game Follows Red vs. Black Contest

DIME ADMISSION FEE

Davis, Rhodes Will Oppose Badminton Champs

By PRISCILLA SHUMAKER

The long waited for moment when Southwestern's inter-sorority and inter-fraternity all-stars will appear in exhibition is at last at hand. Next Wednesday night is the date for this gala occasion at which time we shall receive the final decision as to which is the better team, the Red or the Black.

The program for the evening includes two games between four colossal teams, in which will be found the greatest of the great among the lassies and laddies of this worthy institution. Between the two games there will be an exhibition in the art of badminton given by that famous team of Nakajima and Bradford, who won their last engagement at the Hotel Claridge. Their opponents will be none other than those wonders of the courts, that crashing, smashing, killer-diller, our own esteemed Prof. P. N. Rhodes, and his rough and ready partner, that Oxonian who teaches girls their freshman history, Dr. J. History Davis, Ox. A. B.—1492.

The first game will start at 7:00 P.M. when Coach Hug's proteges clash. Members of the Red team are Lilly Hearn, John Gibson, Bill Bradford, Bud McCraney, Bob Stites, Bill Maybry, Bill Kennedy, and John Flanken. The Black team consists of Billy Boothe, Dub Worthington, Jud McKellar, Boyce Johnson, Bill Nakajima, Val Huber, Henry Boothe, and Carroll Maxwell.

The second game, which will be played by Miss Stratman's dimpled darlings, will bring together Ann Eckert, Ethel Wetherbee, Virginia Mangum, Margaret Jones, Rachel Beasley, captain, Eugenia Carter, Elizabeth Day, and Maxine Allen of the Blacks, and Helen Quenichet, Dorothy Steuwer, Ann Potts, Mary Ware, Irene Rhea, Priscilla Shumaker, captain, Joye Fourmy, and Elizabeth Scarborough of the Reds.

Never before have you had the opportunity to enjoy so much entertainment for only one dime, and Coach Hug was heard saying that the entire proceeds would go to charity. Tickets can be bought from any member of the teams or at the bookstore or physical education office.

Two Sororities Elect Officers

The new officers will be installed in two weeks and on March 31, a banquet celebrating the Spring Eleusinian and in honor of the new officers will be held. This banquet will also honor the new members initiated on March 1: Mary Ware, Jane Graves, Annabell Paine, Cary Eckert, Louise Blue, Barbara Dean, Katherine Walker, Mary Crawford, Jean Williamson, and Kitty Bright Tipton.

Alpha Delta Chapter of Kappa Delta also announces the following officers for the 1939-40 session: Jean Walton, president; Margaret Moyer, vice-president; Deola White, secretary; Ruth Lee, treasurer; Anne Bell, editor; and Elizabeth Day, convention representatives. Co-ed In Digest—Inventive Male—Flow Of Mail

"Love always finds a way" or "Courtship under supreme difficulties." That ought to be the title for his tale about a certain Holy Cross college student who was struck with the loveliness of a co-ed pictured in Collegiate Digest. It was love at first sight, as it were.

As the co-ed was not identified in the caption describing the photo, this inventive lover just clipped the picture, pasted it on an envelope and wrote the name and location of the college beneath the clipping. Inside, of course, was a request for an answer, etc.

Yes, believe it or not, Lucille Tru-leau, a student in Mundelein College's skyscraper on the shores of Lake Michigan in Chicago, received the epistle promptly.

And now there's quite a steady flow of letters between the Windy City and Worcester, Mass.

Student Guide Positions Open

Collegians Wanted To Operate Roller Chairs At New York World's Fair

Students interested in working at the New York World Fair next summer for the American Express Concessions, Inc., may secure applications at the Registrar's office, Mrs. James J. Challen, associate registrar, announces. This company will operate the roller chairs on the fair grounds beginning April 30 and continuing through to October 31. A number of young college men are wanted for these positions.

The job will be that of a combination guide and chair operator. Some of the chairs will be electrically driven and the guide will do the driving. In all cases, however, the guide will point out and explain to the patron all points of interest, buildings, exhibits, etc., on the ground.

Boys from the various leading colleges and universities throughout the country will be secured. It is not necessary that applicants be attending college at this time. Those who for financial or other reasons have had to withdraw from college will also be considered.

The Middle American Research Institute of Tulane University is conducting a campaign for funds to reproduce on the Tulane campus the great Maya pyramid in Mexico.

Other members of the club are Peggy Carlross, Laurette Ralph, Paula Harris, Margaret Ragsdale, Marjorie Moorhead, Dorothy McGeehee, Robert Cogswell, Gordon Berry, Jayne Gilfillan, John Young, Mary Ware, and Frances Akers.

Hall To Be Built On Foundation Of Ham Sandwiches

EVANSTON, ILL.—(ACP)—The first building in the world to be erected on a foundation of sandwiches will shortly rise on the campus of Northwestern University.

The building is Scott hall, the new student social center and community auditorium to be erected at a cost of $750,000 as a tribute to Pres. Walter Dill Scott, who will retire next fall. In a very real sense it will be built on a foundation of sandwiches, for a $200,000 Woman's Building fund, which was begun with sandwich sales in 1911, has been turned over to the Scott hall fund by the Woman's Building association.

Determined coeds chose November 29, 1911, as the first of a series of "Sandwich Days" on the campus. On these occasions defenseless male students and faculty members were persuaded by feminine tactics to eat sandwiches for the benefit of a social center for women.

The majority of the Wellesley College freshmen have indicated that they prefer homemaking as a career.

A $6,000,000 expansion program has been announced by Cornell University authorities.

STAB Celebrates Founders Day

Ki Farnsworth To Succeed Betty Wells As Head; Wetherbee Chosen

Members and alumnae of S. T. A. E., intersorority, celebrated their annual Founder's Day with a banquet Wednesday night at the Peabody. The banquet also honored all new members of the organization who have been brought out at Southwestern this year, and the new officers.

Latest addition to the group is Ethel Wetherbee of Greenville, Miss., who was brought out Wednesday morning, Wednesday, as on every Founder's Day, the members appeared on the campus dressed in black with the red badge and small dagger of S. T. A. E. at their belts, instead of the customary red and white costumes, in which they usually appear each Friday.

Betty Wells, retiring president of the group, introduced the newly elected officers. Katherine Farnsworth was chosen president; Elizabeth Paine, vice president; and Dorothy Steuwer, secretary-treasurer. Toasts were given and short addresses made by several members.
