Freshmen Elect William Bratton Class President

Carolyn Carroll Secretary; Hooker Vice-Pres.

THREE BALLOTS TAKEN

First Ballot For Secretary Is Invalidated, Held Again

William Bratton was elected president of the freshman class last Friday, defeating Louis Faquin in the run-off. Malcolm Hooker triumphed over Billy Joy for the vice-presidency. In the run-off for secretary-treasurer on Monday, Carolyn Carroll won over Elizabeth Paine.

Steve Frazier, president of the Elections Commission, conducted the nominations Wednesday morning, and the first ballots were cast on Thursday. Run-offs for president and vice-president were held Friday. The votes for secretary-treasurer were invalidated Thursday because of a printer's error in omitting the name of Mary Virginia Craven from the ballots. Voting for this office was held again last Friday, with the run-off on Monday.

Bland Cannon, Bill Murrah, Louis Faquin, Pat Davis, and William Bratton were nominated for the presidency. Candidates for the vice-presidency were Fred Gage, Malcolm Hooker, Gene Hardison, and Billy Joy. Dorothy Fabrin, Susan O'Brien, Elizabeth Paine, Carolyn Carroll, and Mary Virginia Craven were nominees for secretary-treasurer.

Bratton and Hooker are pledges of Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Faquin, of Sigma Nu; Joy and Davis, of Kappa Sigma; Cannon and Gage, of Alpha Tau Omega, and Murrah and Hardison, of Kappa Alpha. Miss Carroll is a pledge of Tri-Delta; Miss Paine, of Chi Omega; Miss Craven, of Kappa Delta, and Miss O'Brien, of Alpha Omicron Pi.

DR. TRACY SPEAKS TO EPISCOPAL CLUB

Gather At Home Of Gracia Allen; Students Get Acquainted At First Meeting

The Episcopal Club held its first meeting of the year Tuesday night at 7:30 at the home of Gracia Allen. Dr. Sterling Tracy addressed the group. Janet Tucker, the new president, conducted the meeting.

Other officers are: Tom Mitchell, vice-president; Katherine McCulloch, secretary; Shepherd Tate, chaplain. Prof. John H. Davis attended the meeting.

The subject of Dr. Tracy's talk was "The Problems of the Young People in the Church Today." He pointed out that it was no longer necessary to try to combine the ideas of science and religion, but to spread religion and preserve the faith and unity of the people.

It was decided to continue having meetings on Tuesday night. The club will hold its next meeting on Oct. 26 at the home of Gracia Allen.

YWCA Installs Members

Candlelight Ceremony Takes Place In Palmer Cloisters

One hundred new members were installed into Y. W. C. A. at the candlelight ceremony held in the cloisters Wednesday night, and the first regular meeting was held after a supper in Neely Hall.

Elizabeth Cobb, chairman of the program committee, was in charge of the program, and Mary Hunt led the devotional.

Three new committee chairmen presented are: Ardelle Livesay, public affairs; Jean Abel, music, and Ruth Nixon, publicity.

PI CHOOSES MISS POWELL

Sarah Powell was brought out last Tuesday as the second new member of Pi inter-sorority. She is a freshman from Memphis and a pledge to the Chi Omega sorority.

Twice A Greek Makes Frosh No Greek At All

At the Syracuse University they have—or rather had—a real fraternity man. In his enthusiasm for the life of a "Greek" he pledged and was initiated into two different organizations.

Apparently the dual affiliation met with complications, for both Alpha Sigma Phi and Sigma Phi Epsilon, the victims, found that he had brought them probation with the Interfraternity Council. Now the enthusiast, a tackle on the football squad, is concentrating his efforts on the gridiron again—minus two pins.

Student Council Picks Who's Who

McDonald, Miss Cobb, Dickson, Mobley, Hill Win Places In National Book

Clark McDonald, Elizabeth Cobb, Henry Mobley, Fred Dickson, and Sam Hill were selected Oct. 7 by the Student Council to represent Southwestern in the 1937-38 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." The council met for luncheon in the Bell Room.

The collegiate who's who is a publication edited by Mr. E. Pettus Randall and published annually by the University of Alabama. It comprises one per cent of the students of each college in the United States.

Clark McDonald, president of the student body, is also president of Omicron Delta Kappa, secretary of Kappa Sigma, and a member of the Honor Council and the Panhellenic Council.

Henry Mobley, vice-president of the student body, is past president of the sophomore class and won the Omicron Delta Kappa cup for the most outstanding sophomore. He is football manager, member of Kappa Sigma, and member of the Honor Council. He was vice-president of his freshman class.

Elizabeth Cobb, secretary-treasurer of the student body, is president of Alpha Omicron Pi, vice-president of the Y. W. C. A., treasurer of the Women's Panhellenic Council, and member of the Christian Union Cabinet.

Fred Dickson, president of the senior class, is president of Chi Beta Phi, president of Kappa Alpha, and vice-president of Omicron Delta Kappa. He is also head cheerleader.

Sam Hill, president of the junior class, is president of the Service Club, president of Kappa Sigma, and secretary-treasurer of the Panhellenic Council. He is a member of the Honor Council.

Hug Conducts Discussion

Sunday School Class Postpones Election Until Sunday

Mr. Paul Hug, director of physical education for men, conducted the first regular meeting of the non-denominational Sunday school class last Sunday in the Music Building.

Because of small attendance, the election of officers was postponed until next Sunday. "The Relation of Religion to Athletics" will be the subject of Mr. Hug's discussion at that meeting.

Mr. B. P. Holloway, dietitian, is co-sponsor with Mr. Hug.

S. A. E., SIGMA NU WILL HONOR PLEDGES AT PARTIES TONIGHT

Two fraternities will honor their pledges at parties to be held tonight from 8 to 12 o'clock in the fraternity lodges. Sigma Alpha Epsilon will entertain with an "Odd" party and Sigma Nu will gather for an informal open house.

The S.A.E. party will be a costume event with a prize awarded for the "oddest" outfit. Johnny White's orchestra will furnish music, and there will be an active and a pledge lead-out. Decorations will be carried out in the fraternity colors, purple and gold.

Active members and their guests are: Robert Ackerman with Emily Draper, Ward Archer with Ann Maury, Leslie Buchman with Ann Jeter, Gerald Burrow with Nan Bloodworth, Frank Campbell with Ann Williford, Douglas Chism with Clara Phillips, Lewis Donelson with Frances Manire, Billy Donelson with Mary Elizabeth Harsh, H. R. Holcomb with Marie Bender, Richard Jones with Rose Lynn Barnard, Judson McKellar with Kate Scott Patterson, Robert Montgomery with Lillian Love, John Patton with Elise Smithwick, Macor Smith with Jeanne Shea, Shepherd Tate with Sarah Powell, Jack Terry with Emily Lee, Ralph Turley with Annie Few Work, Hubert Turley with Anita Falls, William Tyson with Nancy Patton, Walter Wallace with Elizabeth Ricker, Waddy West with Nancy Donelson, Hillsman Taylor with Virginia Jett, Tom White with Sarah Boothe, and DeWitt Spain with Peggy Desommes.

Pledges who will be honored and their guests are: Henry Boothe with Dorothy Turner, Billy Boothe with Elizabeth Carey, Malcolm Hooker with Valerie Montgomery, Taylor Malone with Martha Ann Moore, Buddy Miller with Elizabeth Paine, Sam Carter with Louise Jennings, and Billy Van Dyke with Beverly Williamson.

Among the alumni planning to attend are: Eugene Agnew with Doris Rucks, Harry Webb with Elizabeth Cobb, and Henry Nall with Helen Graham.

Sigma Nu Party To Feature Informality
The Sigma Nu house will be decorated in the fraternity colors, black and gold. Informality will be the keynote with dancing and games as the entertainment. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Among members of the active chapter and their guests are: Jim Breyt-spraak, president, with Elizabeth Jones, Alvin Wunderlich with Marjorie Jennings, William Smith with Susan Williamson, Sam Mays with Martha Moore.

Pledges who will be honored and their guests are: Louis Faquin, president, with Grace Mays; O. E. Bass, vice-president, with Catherine Ramsey; Justice Edrington with Clementine Bowen; Barney Gallagher with Emmaline Mathis; Billy Southworth with Margaret Jones.

Little Rock Train Ready For Trip

150 Will Leave Tomorrow For Southwestern-Hendrix Football Game

Little Rock here we come! Nine o'clock tomorrow morning will find approximately 150 Southwestern rooters aboard the Missouri Pacific special, and about two dozen cars already on the road. Interested Memphians who make the three-hour trip by train to witness the Hendrix game are sure to have their enthusiasm bolstered by the infectious exuberance of the crowd.

A spontaneous pep meeting, supported by the Southwestern band, which will travel en masse, will land an uproarious crew in Little Rock at noon.

After lunch at the Ole King Cole restaurant, a parade of red and black draped cars will start for the stadium. Those who are traveling on the special round trip rail rates which include tickets to the game will return to the train at 6:00 o'clock. A diner-car will provide dinner for a tired and hungry, but still proud group of Southwesternites and supporters.

Those remaining in Little Rock overnight will dine at the Albert Pike Hotel or at the Hotel Ben McGehee. Some will go to the Marion to dance, while others wait for the midnight show at the Pulaski.

PROF. LEE EDITS QUARTERLY

Professor C. P. Lee, director of dramatics and public speaking at Southwestern, has been named editor of the Tennessee Journal of Speech, quarterly publication of the Tennessee Association of Speech. The Journal is published in Nashville.

Hold Homecoming Dance

Clyde Trask's Orchestra Will Play Following Buffet Supper

Announcement has been made of the booking of Clyde Trask's orchestra for the Homecoming dance, Nov. 11, and of additional plans for the reunion.

The dance will be held in the gymnasium at 9 p.m., and presidents of the sororities and fraternities, representative non-fraternity students, and the faculty will be in the receiving line. Southwestern alumni and students, and members of the Southwestern Century and Thousand Clubs and their wives are invited to attend.

Before the dance a buffet supper will be given the alumni in Neely Hall at 6:30, and sororities and fraternities will hold open house for all visitors immediately after the supper.

"Right You Are" Elicits Comment

Campus Thespians Are Baffled By Pirandello Comedy Soon To Be Given

By MARJORIE DEVAL

The play, "Right You Are, If You Think You Are," which is to be produced by the students under the direction of Prof. C. P. Lee on the nights of Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, is causing no end of comment among the would-be actors and actresses of our campus. Those whom your correspondent asked for an opinion answered for the most part with puzzled expressions on their faces.

Kathleen Fransioli: "It's a screwy play, but will be more fun than a little bit." Miss Fransioli is trying for the part of Signora Sirelli.

Sam Mays: "So far so good, but why didn't Pirandello finish it?"

Penny Mielenz: "I like it, but I wonder if it will get over to an audience." Penny would like to have the part of Amalia.

George Jackson pursed his lips, shook his head, and said: "Dumb. It left me sort of . . . , and he waved his hand around and looked vague."

Tony Noce thinks it's very clever and would like the part of Dina.

Steve Frazier and Frank Campbell are both trying for the role of Lamberto Landisi, and Ralph Brown would like to be Poma, the villainous-looking son-in-law. The part of Commendatore Agazzi appeals to Thomas McLemore.

A number of new students tried out for parts. Among them were: Frank England, Susan O'Brien, Jean Abel, Beverly Williamson, Jean Walton, Dorothy Stacey, Sarah Powell, Marian Longenecker, and Jac Ruffin.

The cast chosen by Prof. Lee will be announced later.

Night Classes Under Way

English Literature, German Added; Three Hours Credit Given

Special night classes opened Oct. 5 with the meeting of Prof. C. P. Lee's class in public speaking, and other courses began this week.

Prof. Alexander Boeker started a course in German Tuesday night, and the English literature class under Prof. Lee and the accounting course under Prof. W. Ross Junkin began Monday night.

For a full year's course in each subject three hours of college credit will be given. The classes meet once a week from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

KAPPA SIG PLEDGES ELECT JOY

Kappa Sigma pledge group held its election of officers Monday, Sept. 27, in the Kappa Sigma lodge. Billy Joy was chosen president; Frank England, vice-president; and Pat Davis, secretary-treasurer.

Fred Thomas was elected Grand Master of Ceremonies of the active chapter for the current year.

Christian Union Will Choose 4

Montgomery, Misses Wells, Pond Compose Committee To Nominate

The Christian Union Cabinet held its regular bi-monthly meeting last Monday night in the Bell Room of Neely Hall. Herbert Bingham, president, appointed Harriet Pond, Betty Wells, and Bob Montgomery as a committee to nominate four new members from the student body. Two representatives are to be selected from the freshman class, and the other two from the student body at large.

It was decided that the annual apple sale would begin soon. Profits from the sale of apples will be used in putting on the annual Christmas tree for the needy children of the city.

Henry Mobley, Mary Hunt, Emmie Vida Slaughter, and George Jackson were appointed to plan a social event for the Cabinet some time within the next two weeks.

New members on the Cabinet this term are Emmie Vida Slaughter from the Y. W. C. A. and Bruce Crill representing the Ministerial Club.

Other members of the Cabinet are: Dorothy Givens, secretary; George Humphrey, Betty Wells, Sam Hill, H. R. Holcomb, Henry Mobley, Robert Montgomery, Sam Patterson, Harriett Pond, Elizabeth Cobb, Mary Hunt and Emma Vida Slaughter.

Smarting from last Saturday's 17-6 defeat at the hands of Vanderbilt, Southwestern's Lynxcats journey to Little Rock to clash with the Hendrix College Warriors of Conway, Ark., tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. Though Hendrix is reported to be weak, Southwestern herself is suffering with injuries and the game should be close and interesting.

The Vanderbilt defeat was not only a black mark on the Southwestern slate but also cost the Lynx the services of three stellar ends—Orley Nettles, "Red" Bergfeld and Porter Chappell. Nettles and Bergfeld suffered ankle injuries and Chappell suffered a fractured hand. Added to this, Mark Hammond's knee is still stiff and he will be unable to play against the Warriors.

To combat this loss of four ends, Coach "Shorty" Propst has this week shifted Gus Pitt, halfback, to an end. End Coach Paul Hug has been instructing Pitt in "how-to-play-end" and the Lynx back will open at one of the terminals.

Practically the same line that opened against Vanderbilt will face Hendrix, with the exception of Pitt at end.

BURROW APPOINTS STAFF ASSISTANTS

Campbell, Mobley Are Associates; Sports Editors Chosen

Frank Campbell and Henry Mobley have been appointed assistant editors of the 1938 Lynx, announces Editor Gerald Burrow. As yet the staff is incomplete, but Jack Pilkington and Waddy West have been selected sports editors.

Sam Hill, business manager, has chosen Marjorie DeVal and Robert Montgomery as circulation managers.

"While it is trite to say that the 1938 Lynx will be bigger and better, it is our hope and definite intention to make it both beautiful and unique," says Editor Burrow.

All interested in working on the Lynx should see either Gerald Burrow or Sam Hill.

Artists are now working on the page designs.

The Lynx will be out May 1.

ALPHA THETA PHI MEETS

Alpha Theta Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity, met for luncheon in the Bell Room Wednesday. Members are: Gerald Burrow, president; Lewis Donelson, vice-president; Dorothy Givens, secretary, and Eldridge Armstrong.

The group decided to continue the practice of awarding ribbons to students making the first and second honor rolls.

Who's Who Representatives and Frosh President

What Good Is The Hall Of Fame?

There can be no doubt that leadership in extra-curricular activities at Southwestern is amply recognized. There is Omicron Delta Kappa, there is the collegiate Who's Who, there is the newly begun Torch society, there is the Student Council, there are the numerous honor societies for special fields such as dramatics, scholarship, science and athletics, and there is the Hall of Fame. Yes, the Hall of Fame, that, class, is our bone of contention today.

Now that one glass case has been filled with photographs of the demi-gods who have "made" the Hall of Fame and in spite of the fact that a new case has been bought, we think it a fit time to abolish this superfluity. As Miss Mary Marsh, the librarian, says, that Hall of Fame certainly does keep the sunlight out of the library. And of the benefits of this high-sounding honor, we are not at all sure. Putting photographs of the members in glass cases certainly does not insure their immortality, nor is election to this not-so-coveted place any great inspiration to the development of character. Nor are the members of the "Hall" famous in any ordinary sense of the word.

What this thing does do is to cheapen other campus honors. When there are so many "honor" societies standing around ready to recognize any spasmodic evidence of campus leadership, each individual honor certainly loses caste and prestige.

We are asking then for the abolition of the Hall of Fame on the grounds that it is a misnomer, that it cheapens other campus honors and that it keeps sunlight out of the library, any one of which we consider sufficient reason for its forced demise.

Big Apples To Face Crisis

Tonight a momentous question will be decided on the Southwestern campus. Several fraternity parties will be given and at these parties the issue of big apple or no big apple will face a crisis. Whether the institution will be jeered into oblivion as the Nashville shuffle was last year or whether it will firmly establish itself will be known tomorrow.

In a crisis like this we think some study of the issue should be made before a decision is reached. The big apple marks the most important return to dancing in groups of more than two since the Minuet and the Virginia Reel became passe. Group dancing bases its appeal on "the more, the merrier" idea which surely is substantially true here. It is certainly a fact that group dancing provides clean, wholesome fun as well as exercise. The big apple, too, is definitely a relief from the monotony of the fox trot.

Almost everyone then, we think, will agree that, notwithstanding its quashing of dignity, the big apple is a benefit to the too-often boring institution of dancing.

The trouble comes when the big apples get out of hand. At the University of North Carolina, birthplace of the dance, it has several times had to be stopped to prevent floors from yielding to the irresistible rhythm. The "apple" as it is now called at Chapel Hill has recently been banned by several organizations.

However-difficult it may be in such things as bigappling, moderation is still a virtue.

LETTER TO AN EDITOR

Major Music Co., 1619 Broadway, New York, October 7, 1937.

Editor, The Sou'wester, Memphis, Tenn.

Dear Sir: May we enlist the aid of your publication and your student body in helping us to get some information on the collegiate expression "pitching woo".

We have just written a song called "Let's Pitch a Little Woo". It will be played by all the leading radio orchestras this coming fall season, and in order to facilitate announcers and orchestra leaders in their comment on the number, we are anxious to determine exactly where the expression originated.

At present we are having many conflicting opinions that pace the origin in various colleges throughout the country.

We will be grateful for any help you can offer.

Sincerely, SAM M. NEO & SID PRUSSIN.

Messrs. Neo and Prussin are referred to Robert Montgomery who to our knowledge initiated the W. P. Club at Southwestern.—Ed.

MISS CLAPP EDITS

The editorship of the Progressive Education Association's monthly journal, Progressive Education, has been taken over by Miss Elsie Ripley Clapp. An article by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt outlining the problems faced by education today was carried in the first issue of Progressive Education published under Miss Clapp's editorship. It was published early in October.

Party Line

The Vanderbilt game is over, but the hangovers linger on. Seen among the twelve thousand Saturday afternoon were the two teams and the beauteous sponsors for Southwestern. Of course the girls enjoyed posing for cameramen with Fifi D'Orsay. Asked to give her opinion of Miss D'Orsay in a sentence, Freddie Moore said, "I thought her hat was just darling, even if everybody else didn't, but did you see her dress!" And speaking of sponsors, the team seems to have three real if unofficial ones in Linda Terry, Frances Smithwick, and Dorothy Steuwer.

After the game there were at least three parties. The Army entertained in their campus house from five till eight for the Vandy brothers with music, dancing, and food. A swell party was reported, in spite of the fact that the four S.A.E.'s in Vanderbilt's starting line-up spurned the invitation, and in spite of the presence of a Vandy non-frat boy who had been cleaned out and had no place to go after spotting Macon Smith twelve points on the game. . . . Next door the Kappa Sigs partied during the intermission of the "S" Club dance. Dictator Hill, president of the student body, McDonald, and Secretary-Treasurer Elizabeth Cobb greeted Vandy men, Lynx alums, actives, and pledges with their dates at a punch bowl very trickily molded from ice.

The "S" Club dance was, to say the least, terrific. One girl called it heaven, some likened it to the Black Hole of Calcutta, but to the "S" Club it was a gold mine, since they made enough money to stand those losses which they don't intend to have on the dances for the rest of the year. As for who was there, who wasn't? Highlight of the evening came when the orchestra swung into the Dixie song and the mob sang as if it hadn't been yelling all afternoon. Only the "L" yell was lacking for complete bedlam.

Department of Special Mention: Mamie Parker is indeed the answer to the maiden's prayer—a football hero, and just too cute. . . . Sarah Powell, blond freshette and big-appler expert, was brought out by Pi Tuesday, a surprise to most of those who had "heard the Pi secrets." . . . Elizabeth Jones seems to have pledged Sigma Nu this year in earnest. . . . Professors Lee and Boeker aren't the sensations that Lee and Caspari were last year, although Herr Boeker is giving the coeds less response than did Fritz. . . . Martha Ann Moore, who last year as a freshette had eyes only for an A.T.O. senior, this year is being seen with Frosh Taylor Malone. . . . Gus Pitt almost had to whop H. Bingham the other morning in the dining hall, when the polysyllabic Herbert thought little G. P. was eating too many eggs. . . . Solitary confinement for Jackie Niehuss in Calvin Hall is, or should be, raising his grades. Meanwhile Claudia Yerger bobs blissfully along with Billy Smith. . . . Margaret England and Jeanne Johnson are doing right well in their efforts to take the places of Norma Lee, Kate Galbreath, and Hope Brewster, class of '36 girls who had beauty, brains, and a correctly calculated amount of hauteur. . . . Bursar Springfield proves that he knows his stuff when he announces that students who ride to Little Rock on the special train get tickets to the game for forty cents, whereas those who go over in their own cars must pay a dollar ten. . . . Which brings us to the holiday of tomorrow, which should make Pollyannas of us all.

K. D. PLEDGES ELECT

The newly-elected officers of the Kappa Delta pledge group are, Jean Walton, president; Patty James, vice-president; Gladys Cowen, secretary, and Mary Louise Burkel, treasurer. Other offices that are filled are, social chairman, Jean Christy; social service, Mary Louise West; student activities, Ruth Lee; scholarship, Anne Bell.

Some people make change as though they hated to let go the money.

Critic Hansen Finds Regionalism Healthy; Praises Penn Warren

"An extremely healthy movement" was the pronouncement of Harry Hansen on the subject of literary regionalism last Tuesday. Mr. Hansen, critic and literary editor of the New York World-Telegram, who was in Memphis to speak at the Commercial Appeal Women's Institute, granted an interview to a staff reporter.

"Regionalism is good," he said, "in that it combats the awful power that the New York market holds over writers. If they want to sell they are forced to write of night clubs or Hollywood instead of what is natural to them."

Of Allen Tate and Robert Penn Warren, both former Southwestern faculty members, he spoke highly. About Mr. Warren, in particular, he was enthusiastic. "His criticism is exceptionally fine," said Mr. Hansen, "though he doesn't write enough of it. And I am including one of his short stories in this year's anthology." Mr. Hansen is editor of the O. Henry Memorial Award Anthology of best short stories of the year.

He thinks the high salaries being paid to the editors of the Southern Review at Louisiana State University are an encouragement to good writing and says that the men are not actually highly paid, only relatively so in proportion to the general under-payment of the whole academic profession.

Mr. Hansen is tall, slender, grey-haired and grey-eyed. Fifty-four years old, he graduated with a Ph.E. from the University of Chicago and later served as a war correspondent on the western front.

Asked about the difference of the college students today from those of the last decade, Mr. Hansen said that he finds the present collegians have benefited from the depression. No longer, he thinks, will indifferent students make fortunes as bond salesmen, nor will writers be lured away from literature by the easy money in the merchandising business, simply because there is no longer any of that easy money.

"College magazines," said Mr. Hansen, "are a valuable training ground for future writers. The fault of most of them, however, is that they are not the work of their own locale. In mid-west magazines, I repeatedly find articles written by men in Brooklyn." He agreed with the policy of the Southwestern Journal in limiting its contributors to students and faculty members.

Music Collection Open

Bobo, Gallagher Will Have Charge Of Phonograph

The record collection of the Southwestern music department is now open to the faculty and students in the music building between the following hours: 10 to 12 o'clock, and 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday afternoons, and 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock on Wednesday and Monday afternoons.

William Bobo and Barney Gallagher are the assistants in charge and will be in the building at the stated hours to get the records and play them.

On Other Campuses

The University of Texas claims the distinction of having the only self-supporting student union in the country.

Add new ways of gate-crashing: Sophomores at Purdue rode down the Union dumbwaiter in order to gain admittance to the freshman mixer in the Union ballroom. And then were ejected!

Students dancing to swing music—1200 of them—generate enough heat to warm a two-story house for two days in ordinary winter weather. Enough energy is released to raise a five-ton elephant 32 miles in the air. So sayeth an engineer at the University of Wisconsin.

Three hundred blurry-eyed, underslept Ohio State freshmen congregated in the men's gymnasium upon a Wednesday morning and waited. They waited half an hour for the rest of their class to arrive for freshman convocation. Then one of them looked at his program card to find the meeting scheduled for 8 p.m., not 8 a.m.

The human propensity for taking seats in the back row, prompted Professor Scott at the University of Minnesota to request his students to move forward and use up the front seats. All came forward except one lad who kept his remote seat. "Move down to the front, please," said the prof. "I can't," the boy said, "I tore my pants."

College training is of little use to a railroader, according to Union Pacific officials. It makes it harder for him to endure the monotonous detail he will find in railroading.

Discovering he was a man, the Delta Delta Delta sorority chapter at Butler University struck Joy Lively's name from the rushing list. He had received a number of invitations to parties from sorority chairmen.

Dartmouth College enrollment figures show a gain of just two students over last year.

Sorority pledges at the University of New Hampshire are convinced that the quickest way of losing five pounds in ten days, is to go through "rushing."

A special committee appointed by President Ernest M. Hopkins of Dartmouth will study the organization and procedures of student publications and make recommendations for their improved administration.

The only male enrolled in the home economics course at Purdue University must wear a bright pink powder puff sewed to the top of his freshman cap. He wants to become a dietitian.

Sheer irony—freshman at the University of Michigan are no longer required to wear "pots." But the class of '41 has donned them again in an effort to unify the class in order to win the class games from the sophomores.

"All freshmen must ask permission of a member of the Student Court for every date." This new ruling elicited groans of despair from freshmen at Midland College, Fremont, Nebraska.

The trouble with golf is that a man can't complain if his wife buys a new hat just as often as he buys a dozen balls.

STAFF REPORTER INVESTIGATES REPUTED COFFIN OF DE SOTO

By ANNE POTTS

It sounds fantastic—so was the discovery of America—but it is certainly intriguing.

I went across into Arkansas to an old ramshackle building on the corner of Iowa Street and Highway 64 where lies the supposed body of Hernando DeSoto, the famous Spanish explorer and the first white man to see the Mississippi River. The popular belief is that DeSoto was buried "in the river", but not all historians agree. There is another version which says "DeSoto was buried near the river with his lieutenant." If this account has any truth in it, then the recently discovered coffin may truly contain the body of DeSoto.

2 Coffins

There are two coffins, made of Damascus steel, with virgin silver handles, 14 kt. gold screws, and Egyptian glass, one and one-half inches thick, on the tops. Around the caskets were rotten fragments of cedar wood, all that remained of the burial boxes. An expert has said it takes cedar approximately 400 years to rot, which may lead to the measurement of the time involved.

The first coffin was excavated about a year ago, having been accidentally uncovered by a dog digging in an Indian mound across the river. The excited "discoverers" believed the inclosed skeleton to be DeSoto, but there was not enough proof.

100 Feet From River

Later it was learned that DeSoto had brought two Damascus steel caskets with him from Spain, and that he and his lieutenant were buried near each other in them. This information incited further exploration, and so only four weeks ago the second coffin was located, in the same mound just 100 feet away from the bank of the Mississippi. The caskets had been buried parallel to each other, fifteen feet apart. They are of similar make and design, being six feet long—but the more recently discovered one has a preserved body in it that is believed to be DeSoto. It took six men to lift it, and as soon as it is opened, there will be definite proof one way or the other.

Intramurals

By COACH PAUL HUG

Interest in intramural sports has taken a big jump with the installation of several new ideas. Foremost among these ideas is the presentation of cups to the winners of various tournaments, and to the runner-up and winner of the intramural championship. Some of these trophies are at the book store, while others, not yet delivered, will be added later. All the awards are for team championships and are to be held for one year by the winner.

Trophies will be given for the following sports: Softball; cross country, winner and runner-up; touch football; basketball, round robin league; basketball, elimination tourney; volleyball; boxing; golf; tennis; wrestling; spring softball; track; soccer; three-mile run, winner and runner-up; intramural championship, runner-up; and the big sun gold trophy for the winner of the intramural championship. Additional tourneys for which no cup has been donated include spring and fall horseshoes, basketball free throw, ping-pong, tug-of-war, badminton, and handball, bringing the total of tournaments to twenty-one for the school year.

Rule Changed

A very important change has been made in the eligibility rules. Section 2 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the Intramural Athletic Association has been re-worded to read as follows: "Any man having won his letter in intercollegiate competition is ineligible for further intramural competition in any sport." The object of this change is, of course, to encourage every student to take part in some athletic activity. Heretofore the presence of students well-known on account of demonstrated athletic ability in certain sports has caused other students to feel a certain inferiority and has prevented their taking very active parts in the intramurals. It is hoped that the indicated change will eliminate this unfortunate condition.

The new system of scoring calls for double elimination tourneys in all sports, with the losers in the first round forming a new bracket for the consolation championship. No points are given for losing a game, and the first game won earns five points, the second game won, 10 points, etc. Under this plan all teams but one must score at least five points, and the winner gets but thirty, making it improbable that one team will get so far ahead of the field that it will be impossible for the other teams to catch up. This plan should tend to keep up interest in the race to the end.

Interest Heightens

There is no doubt but that the interest among the competitors has reached a new high, but it is regretted that the student body does not seem interested enough to come to the games. Intramural competition is carried on at 1:30 p.m. practically every day of the week, and since the games are usually over in time to attend the 2:30 class, it is hoped that the number of spectators will increase. The two middle sections on the north side of the bulletin board carry all intramural announcements, standings of fraternities, results of games, drawings for future tournaments, and dates of games to be played.

Watch the bulletin board and come out to see your favorites play.

Body Visible

Through the thick glass window, the body is visible. It is that of a man whose beard and hair are dark. The nose and eyes have decomposed, but the cheeks, chin, and forehead are still in flesh-like shape, and are of a bright pinkish substance; the lining of the coffin is still intact, as is the lace which encircles the glass opening. The whole interior seems to be covered with an oily liquid. The body is incased in a stiff fabric and a leather shroud. There is, on the hand which lies across his chest, a ring which may aid in identification.

The discoverers are awaiting the representative of the Smithsonian Institute of Research who is expected to arrive from Washington this week. Then the casket will be opened, and its contents thoroughly examined. It is hoped that DeSoto's sword and the fabulous 250 lbs. of pearls presented him by his Indian friends will be in the casket with the body.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Jack Fine brings to Memphis, starting today, at the Orpheum Theatre, "Playgirls", arriving with two special cars, and a 90 foot baggage car. This revue is headed by the comedienne, Terry Howard, The Brat, assisted by Jack Talley and two funology feminists, Sylvia and Clemence.

A company of 60, mostly "Playgirls", including Dorothy Martin Four; Hal Monte, matinee idol; Marcella Sherr; Wizard of the Accordion Jerry Coe, with Don Castalano and his Latin-American orchestra; plus a chorus that offers dancing routines, 30 playgirls, all under 20.

"Playgirls" just closed a week's run at the Riverside Theatre, Milwaukee, and follows its engagement here by opening a two weeks' run at the Oriental Theatre in Chicago.

Jack Fine is well known to Memphis, having presented such revues as "Platinum Blonds and Comique Continental" with Playgirls.

This cheer was printed in the Babler of David Lipscomb College in Nashville.

Lipscomb's boys are high-minded; Believe to my soul they're double-jointed.

They play ball and don't mind it—all day long.

Rah! Rah! Rah! Lipscomb, Lipscomb. Rah! Rah! Rah! Lipscomb, Lipscomb. Rah! Rah! Rah! Lipscomb, Lipscomb. All day long.

Can you drive eighty miles an hour with one hand on the steering wheel?

Watch the bulletin board and come out to see your favorites play.

MUSICAL GROUPS OFFER CONCERTS

Beethoven Club, Cortese and Mrs. Angier Present Rates

A series of concerts in three groups will be given this year under the auspices of the Beethoven Club, the Cortese Bros., and Mrs. Martha Angier.

The first on the Beethoven Club list is Richard Crooks, tenor, Oct. 18, to be followed by the Vienna Boys' Choir, Nov. 9; Rose Bampton, soprano, Eugenia Buxton, Memphis pianist, Jan. 4; and the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, April 19.

The Cortese course includes John Charles Thomas, baritone, Oct. 20; the Wagner Festival Singers, a vocal quartet, Nov. 3; Walker Gieseking, pianist, Nov. 23; the Don Cossack Russian Male Chorus, Dec. 2, and Lady Precious Stream, a play, Feb. 15.

Mrs. Angier is bringing Fritz Kreisler, violinist, the Monte Carlo Ballet Russe, and the Salzburg Opera Singers.

Tickets for the performances may be obtained at the business office not later than today.

LYNX WILL MEET HENDRIX COLLEGE

to start a complete "Arkansas backfield"; that is, four backs who are natives of Arkansas. Clay Nickells, Clois Neal, Rex Wilson, and Roy Littlefield will open for the Lynx. Gaylon Smith, ace back of the team and also from Arkansas, will not start unless Propst sends Neal to quarter in place of Nickells.

Hendrix has been idle for two weeks and is gunning for Southwestern. Last week's open date on the Warrior schedule was left open purposely so the Warriors could concentrate on the Southwestern game.

Coach Ivan Grove has been drilling his charges on Lynx plays and progress has been shown. The Warriors are expected to employ a defensive system against the Lynx for in Hendrix's two appearances against Cape Girardeau and Monticello the Warrior offense seemed none too powerful. But Coach Grove has concentrated on improving the Hendrix attack as well as trying to find a defense for the Southwestern plays.

The Warrior offense is built around Co-captains Auburn Smith and Odell Morris, Morton Hutto and Wendall Jackson. Hutto is the real spearhead of the Hendrix attack and may give the Lynx supporters some tense moments. Jackson, out with an injured shoulder for several days, will be in shape to go against the Lynx.

The Hendrix line averages 185 pounds and the backfield 175 pounds. Southwestern will have a weight advantage in the fore-wall, but will be lighter in the secondary.

A member of the dance committee at the University of North Carolina issued the following statement concerning its policy about the Big Apple, current dance craze:

"We decided to take no stand on the issue. If the organization giving the dance okays the Apple, then we will permit it. If it opposes it, we shall enforce its will."

Some of the members said the Apple is "the thing"; others called it "inappropriate."

Nancy Warden Awarded Scholarship At Miller-Hawkins College

Miss Nancy Warden has been given a complete business course by the Miller-Hawkins Business College in the place of Miss Virginia Hoshall, who is unable to accept the scholarship.

Miss Warden is the third "Miss Southwestern" to receive the award, the other two being Miss Lucille Woods, and Mrs. Mac Elder (Miss Sara Elizabeth Gemmil).

Among other former Southwestern students now enrolled at Miller-Hawkins are Miss Woods, Miss Frances Flournoy, and Miss Maxine Halliburton.

Miss Hoshall is now working at the Commonwealth Hospital in Tupelo.

FORMER STUDENTS CONTINUE STUDIES

Last Year's Graduates Are Scattered Through Southeast

For further study in their chosen fields, fifteen former Southwestern students are now attending other colleges and universities. This specialization varies from medical school to a New York art academy.

These students are: Charles Barton, New York University, scholarship in physics; Craig Crenshaw, New York University; Herbert Cain, fellowship in Greek at Duke University; Dunlap Cannon, Harvard School of Law; Wade McFadden, Louisville Presbyterian Seminary; Rick Mays, Memphis Law School; Alfred Page, University of Tennessee Medical School; Curtis Johnson, Law School of the University of Virginia; Catherine Schabel, studying for her master's degree in Spanish at Vanderbilt; Floy White, Memphis Academy of Art; Richard Alexander, Columbia School of Advertising; Joe Bell, Julliard School of Music, New York.

STUDENT COUNCIL HONORS OFFICERS

Keys To Be Presented Student Body Officers About Oct. 20

Student Council officers will be honored in the near future when the College presents them with engraved keys in recognition of their positions.

Clark McDonald, president; Henry Mobley, vice-president, and Elizabeth Cobb, secretary-treasurer of the council, are the recipients.

The keys, selected by the council from the Balfour display in the bookstore last week, are expected to arrive by October 20.

Similar in design to those of Omicron Delta Kappa, the Student Council keys are encrested with a large S and the words "Student Council" are engraved on the body. The owner's name, position which he holds in the council, and the year will be engraved on the back.

The men's keys are worn as watch fobs. The women will hang theirs from necklace-chains.

The school will only present keys to the three officers but other members of the council may purchase the distinguishing key if they wish. Miss Cobb has been placed in charge of additional orders.

HALLIBURTON WILL TALK AT GOODWYN

Other Lecturers For This Season Include Chandler

Richard Halliburton, Memphis adventurer, explorer, and author, will give a lecture at Goodwyn Institute on Jan. 4 entitled, "Seven League Boots." This is one of the regular series of lectures recently announced by the Goodwyn Institute for this winter. Among other items of special interest on the list is a talk by Representative Walter C. Chandler, local lawyer, on Nov. 2, on "Our National House of Representatives."

The series will open on Oct. 19 with an address by Strickland Gillilan, humorist, entitled "Just Among Ourselves." Mr. Gillilan will also speak the following evening on the "Low-down on Washington Highups." Other lectures listed deal with politics, current events, health, spiritualism, and other subjects, making 35 lectures in all, ending in March.

McCORMICK SELECTS NEW BUSINESS STAFF

Brady, Scott, Young, Spence, Freeburg Are Members

W. Ed McCormick, business manager of the Sou'wester, announces as members of the business staff B. A. Brady and George Scott, circulation managers, and the advertising solicitors, John Young, John Spence, Charles Freeburg, Jean Christie, and Mary Louise Crumley.

The offices of advertising manager and assistant business manager will be filled by competitive work between the advertising solicitors. The solicitor who sells the largest number of inches of advertising before October 15, will be appointed advertising manager. The one who sells the most by January 1 will become assistant business manager.

McCormick will recommend the one who has sold the most advertising by May 1 to the Publications Board for business manager during 1938-39.

A few of the freshmen rules appearing in the September 29 issue of the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute semi-monthly paper, the Oracle, are:

All freshmen must carry matches and toothpicks at all times.

The women must wear no make-up for one week except after 6 o'clock at night.

The freshman who loses his cap must wear a sign pinned on his back indicating that he has done so.

At the cry of "Big Apple" in the cafeteria, all freshmen, men and women, are to rise and skip around the table. The men must duck under their tables and remain there until told to come out.

32 Rhodes Awards To Be Made Soon

Candidates For Scholarships To Oxford Urged To Apply At Early Date

Students wishing to apply for 1938 Rhodes scholarships are urged to fill out application blanks and enter them at the registrar's office at an early date. Upon recommendation by the Southwestern faculty committee composed largely of Oxford graduates, the prospective candidates may apply to the state committee. All applications must be in the hands of the secretary of the state committee by November 7, 1937.

Thirty-two Rhodes scholarships are awarded in the United States each year. To facilitate selection of candidates, the nation has been divided into eight main districts and from each of these, four men are selected according to the terms of the will of Cecil Rhodes to attend the University of Oxford. The district selections will be made on Dec. 20, 1937. Southwestern candidates will compete with those from Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Tennessee colleges and universities.

Candidates must be unmarried American college students, male, between the ages of 19 and 25 and must have at least junior standing. The selections are made on the basis of scholastic ability, personality, moral force of character and physical vigor.

The Rhodes scholarships provide for two years study at the University of Oxford, England, with an annual stipend of $2000. If he presents a definite plan of study satisfactory to his college and to the Rhodes trustees, the Rhodes scholar will be awarded a third year.

Members of the Southwestern faculty who are Oxford graduates are Profs. John H. Davis, secretary of the state selections committee; W. R. Cooper, R. P. Strickler, A. P. Kelson, C. P. Lee, D. M. Amacker, and Alexander Boeker.

Southwestern is now represented at Oxford by Rodney Baine, a 1935 arts and sciences graduate.

Marshall Leads Vanderbilt Team To 17-6 Victory

Visitors Attack Too Strong; Hinkle Stars In Line

GAYLON SMITH SCORES

Commodores Gain Revenge Over Fighting Lynx

The churning legs of Bert Marshall, sophomore quarterback, led Vanderbilt to a 17 to 6 revenge against Southwestern last Saturday afternoon before a crowd of 12,000 in Crump Stadium.

Next to his running, Marshall's passing and punting were features of the game. His short bullet passes were completed through the Lynx secondary with uncanny regularity.

The Southwestern line, tackling with force and precision, proved stronger than many had anticipated, though still not strong enough to hold Vandy.

With only 20 seconds to play, Hartwell Morton's pass found Gaylon Smith in the clear, which is and was tantamount to a touchdown against anybody. Until then Morton's fine passes again and again had skidded out of his receiver's hands.

Sports Shorts

By JACK PILKINGTON

The running of Bert Marshall left a sad memory in the hearts of the Lynx, but they all had nothing but praise for the little jack-rabbit from the plains of Texas. Several of the players said that they had two or three chances at him on one play, which is some indication that he was literally all over the field at once. It was the outstanding play of the forward wall which held the Commodores at bay for the first half. The game proved to be a reversal of the forecasts, because the men from whom little was expected came through, and those who were counted on did not do so well. The Vanderbilt players left the field with utmost respect for the Lynx and had nothing but praise for them.

Our picks this week: Alabama will win over Tennessee but after a hard fight; Auburn gets the nod over Miss. State; Tulane will take Colgate; Duke over Georgia Tech; Kentucky is due for their first win against Washington and Lee; L. S. U. Tigers are going to claw the Ole Miss Rebels; Minnesota over Michigan; Nebraska will beat Oklahoma; Vanderbilt will continue her winning streak against Southern Methodist; Southwestern will again hit the win column by taking Hendrix.

Odds and ends: The 12,000 people should have gotten their money's worth last Saturday. . . . Bert Marshall is by far the best back to perform in Crump Stadium. . . . Bick Campbell told me that it was one of the hardest and cleanest games he had ever refereed. . . . Capt. Carl Hinkle said that Southwestern was the best team they had met this year and was heartily supported by his teammates in his statement; he also added that the Lynx should have a birth in the Southeastern Conference. . . . Did you notice the good sportsmanship shown on both sides when after one play where there was a tendency towards unnecessary roughness, Clay Nickells ran over to shake Hinkle's hand? . . . Coach Propst lifted all training rules off the players from immediately after the game until 12:00 last Sunday, which is a good indication that he was pleased with the performance. . . . The line deserves all the credit one can give it for the way which it repulsed those powerful advances. . . . For the information of all the girls who wanted to know the boy in the blue pants in the freshman game last Friday, he was Fred Partin from Meridian, Miss.

K.A. WINS SECOND INTRAMURAL EVENT

Downie, Whittemore Defeat Non-Frats In Finals Of Horseshoes

Kappa Alpha won its second successive intramural championship with a triumph over the Non-Frats in the fall horseshoe tournament held Monday. Sigma Alpha Epsilon repeated as the consolation winner by turning back Sigma Nu.

Spectators got a look at the classiest performer in the meet as Van Downie of Kappa Alpha downed Bill Porter of the Non-Frats in his singles match and later paired with Wendell Whittemore to capture the doubles tilt from Porter and Norman Shapiro.

The S. A. E. duo of Dick Jones and Sam Carter experienced little trouble in winning from Billy Southworth and Louis Faquin of Sigma Nu.

Standings to date:

Kappa Alpha	60
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	30
Non-Fraternity	30
Alpha Tau Omega	10
Pi Kappa Alpha	10
Kappa Sigma	10
Sigma Nu	0

Tennis In Quarter Finals

Cannon-Murrah Match Will Be Main Attraction Ahead

The freshman tennis tournament has reached the quarter finals with the four seeded players intact. Bland Cannon, fourth seeded performer, engages Billy Murrah in what looks to be the best match in the quarter finals. Other matches take place between Faquin, top seeded, vs. Peacock, Hardison; third seeded, vs. Henry Boothe, and Robertson, second seeded, vs. Malone.

The following rules with regards to "walking limits" appeared in the Sept. 15 issue of the Mississippi State College for Women weekly, The Spectator:

Sophomores, juniors and seniors accompanied by men will be permitted to stroll (not to sit) on the campus sidewalks and drives from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday nights. No student is to leave the designated walks or drives.

All-Star Softball Team Is Chosen

Shapiro, Armistead, Whittemore, McCraney, Futris, Mayton, Poll 4 Votes

An all-star team has been chosen by the managers of the seven squads that participated in the recent fall softball tournament. There was no unanimous choice for any position although several players were favored strongly. Norman Shapiro, Eldridge Armistead, Wendell Whittemore, Virgil McCraney, George Futris, and Wallace Mayton polled four votes each at his respective position. The runner-up, Non-Frat, placed five men on the team with Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Kappa Alpha, and Alpha Tau Omega following with two each. The Kappa Sigmas received one place.

The line-up:
Wallace Mayton—Catcher.
George Futris—Pitch.
George Griesbeck—Pitch.
Bill Porter—First base.
Louis Kavelaras—Second base.
Leonard Ellis—Short-stop.
Virgil McCraney—Third base.
John McGrady—Center field.
Johnson Rhem—Right field.
Eldridge Armistead—Short field.
Norman Shapiro—Utility.
