Seeking to regain their winning ways, Southwestern's Lynx Cats barge into battle with Loyola University's Wolves this afternoon in Crump Stadium at 2 o'clock.

Losing a heart-breaking 13-12 decision to Howard College last Saturday, the Lynx were cut short in their attempt to dispel their third jinx in as many weeks. They had beaten Birmingham-Southern for their first victory on Birmingham soil, and then followed this with the first Southwestern victory ever scored on Chattanooga; but they lost out in trying to triumph over Howard for another first victory.

Loyola Grid Team Lacks Experience

(Special to The Sou'wester)
By JOHN F. SCREEN
Sports Editor, The Loyola Maroon
Coach Larry "Moon" Mullins has probably the hardest task in the Dixie Conference this season in trying to put a winning team on the field for Loyola of the South. Inexperience galore can be found on the squad and, added to this, a change in system has made his task only that much harder. Nevertheless Moon has succeeded in producing a team that has managed to look good even though they have won two of their seven starts. The Wolves opened with a 19-0 win over Spring Hill, but the following week travelled to Washington to take a 14-0 beating from Catholic University. The following week Birmingham-Southern downed the Pack by a similar score. Then followed the second and last victory over St. Edward's by 13-0.

DePaul was the next opponent and the Maroon played their best game of the season before 25,000 persons in (Continued on Page 3)

AAUW Continues Scholarship Prize

$50 To Be Awarded To Winner Applications Are Due Before December 1

The American Association of University Women scholarship will be awarded again this year to a junior or senior girl of Southwestern, announces Mrs. Leroy L. Hiding, association's chairman of the scholarship committee. The scholarship is a gift of $50. Applications must be made by Dec. 1, to the chairman of the Scholarship Committee, in care of Mrs. Margaret H. Townsend, dean of women. Last year the scholarship was awarded to Miss Virginia Hoshall.

The scholarship will be awarded on the basis of scholastic attainments, leadership in college activities, and character. This award is the gift of the Memphis branch of the A. A. U. W. and will be continued each year hereafter. The committee will announce the winner by Jan. 1.

Sigma Upsilon Initiates Three

New Group Plans To Reorganize The Old Stylus Chapter Of Fraternity

The Stylus chapter of Sigma Upsilon initiated Gerald Burrow, Norman Shapiro, and Clark McDonald at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Prof. A. S. McIlwaine, associate professor of English, and a member of the club when a Southwestern student, conducted the initiation ceremonies.

Prof. McIlwaine expressed a desire to revive Sigma Upsilon, and said, "We hope to outline a program for the year and also vote on pledges soon."

The Stylus Club of Southwestern was organized in 1920 and is a chapter of Sigma Upsilon, national honorary literary fraternity. Membership is limited to twelve, chosen from the faculty and students who have completed three semesters of college work. The requirements for membership are a high standard of scholarship, literary ability, and congeniality. Students are invited to write essays, stories, or criticisms which are read by the members of the chapter. If the work is acceptable, the contributors are offered membership.

During the past two years, the activity of Sigma Upsilon have lapsed and all active members, including Robert Armstrong, president, graduated last year. McDonald was elected to membership last January, and Shapiro and Burrow were selected the spring before.

Apple Sale Will Continue

Christian Union Has Sold Five Boxes In First Four Days

Five boxes of apples were sold in the first four selling days, Herbert Bingham, president of the Christian Union Cabinet, reported Tuesday. The Cabinet plans to continue the sale until the Christmas holidays and perhaps for a short while after. They will place a box on the campus on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, Saturdays, and in each dormitory on Sundays.

The proceeds of the sale will be used for the annual Christmas tree for poor children or placed in a fund to secure an organ for the chapel. The cabinet will decide definitely on this matter within the next few weeks.

Shapiro Will Read Paper

International Relations Group To Discuss Social Medicine

A paper on social medicine will be read by Norman Shapiro at the next meeting of the International Relations Club next Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Bell Room. Those present at the first meeting were Prof. John H. Davis, Prof. A. P. Kelso, Norman Shapiro, Thomas McLemore, Rothrock Miller, Jac Ruffin, and Ralph Alperin.

All men students interested in international affairs are invited to attend.

FRATERNITY, SORORITY ROWS BREAK FORTH IN COLOR RIOT

Why have fraternity and sorority rows taken on such brilliant hues today? No, it is not Armistice Day nor the football game which are to blame for the riot of color which broke loose this morning. It is Southwestern's first Homecoming Decoration Contest, sponsored jointly by the Sou'wester and the Alumni Association.

The prize, a shield-shaped plaque of straight grained Walnut with the winner's name inscribed on a burnished silver plate, will be presented at the dance tonight to the president of the fraternity or sorority whose decorations are judged most effective. The judging, which is to be done by a special and secret committee of alumni,

HOME COMING DANCE IN GYM TO HONOR RETURNING ALUMNI

Southwestern will hold its first annual Homecoming dance tonight from 9 until 12 o'clock in the college gymnasium. Decorations will be carried out in blue drapes and bunting with gold used in contrast. Adrian McDowell and his Nashville orchestra will play from a band stand erected in the west end of the gym, on either side of which will be refreshment booths.

Features of the evening will be the Grand March led by Margaret England, Homecoming Queen, with George Jennings, captain of the Lynx, and the presentation of a plaque to the fraternity or sorority which decorated its house most attractively.

Members of the Men's and Women's Panhellenic Councils will form the receiving line. They are: James Breyspraak, president, and Steve Frazier, Sigma Nu; Fred Dickson, vice-president, and Hotchkiss Young, Kappa Alpha; Sam Hill, secretary-treasurer, and Clark McDonald, Kappa Sigma; Erskine Falls and James Cadden, Alpha Tau Omega; Jack Terry and Ward Archer, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Val Huber and Maynard Dabbs, Pi Kappa Alpha; Bernadine Taylor, president, and Marjorie DeVall, Delta Delta; Rose Lynn Barnard, vice-president, and Jane Leavell, Chi Omega; Bess Brazell, secretary, and Jane Bray, Kappa Delta; Elizabeth Cobb and Linda Terry, Alpha Omicron Pi, and Lillie Roberts Walker

Bingham To Head State Association

Elected President At Student Christian Conference In Cookeville

Herbert Bingham was selected president of the Tennessee Student Christian Association at the fifth annual Tennessee Student Christian Conference held at the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute in Cookeville, Nov. 5 to 7. Bingham, George Jackson, and Prof. M. E. Porter were the representatives from Southwestern at the meeting. Prof. Porter, assistant professor of modern languages, was the faculty adviser in place of Prof. R. T. L. Liston, who was unable to attend.

The conference this year was composed of delegates from sixteen colleges and universities throughout the state. The organization is sponsored by seven denominational groups and by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Included among the program were addresses, discussion groups, and recreational periods, all designed to provide an inspirational gathering for the leaders of religious life on the various campuses.

Bingham, who is a junior, is also president of the Christian Union Cabinet, member of the Service Club, the Proscenium Guild, and Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debating fraternity.

Y. W. C. A. Takes Hike

Women Students Trek Through Park To Gallery

The Y. W. C. A. sponsored a hike for all women students through Overton Park to the Brooks Memorial Art Gallery yesterday afternoon to see the sculpture exhibit on display there. Hot chocolate and cookies were served in the Bell Room of Neely Hall on their return to the campus.

A. O. Pi Will Give Dance Saturday

All Men On Campus Are Invited To Informal Affair Held At Sorority Lodge

Alpha Omicron Pi sorority will entertain Saturday night from 8 until 12 o'clock with an informal dance in the sorority lodge. The event will honor the sorority's pledge group. The sorority house will be decorated in the sorority's colors, red and white. Block bids have been extended to the fraternities and non-fraternity men are cordially invited.

Members who will attend with their escorts are: Elizabeth Cobb, president, with Harry Webb; Margaret Kyle with Taylor Malone, Mary Thweatt with Charles Blackburn, Martha Ann Moore with John Edwards, Jane Grymes with Charles Fontaine, Martha Ann Kelso with Harris Boyd, Amelia Manogue with George Gage, Jo Meux with Harry Waring, Virginia Waggener with Gene Poulton, Catherine Hollinger with William Bratton.

Survey Discloses Organic Is Hardest

Think your subject is the hardest? It is, if you are worrying over organic chemistry, according to the recent study made by the Bureau of Educational Surveys, New York City. According to the bureau, science courses as a group are a major source of difficulty, with history, particularly ancient, medieval and European not far behind. Study of Shakespeare's plays rates "hardest" of the English literature.

Play Cast Is Changed

Penelope Mielenz Takes Role Of Sarah Powell

Prof. C. P. Lee, director of dramatics, announces that Sarah Powell has resigned from the cast of "Right You Are If You Think You Are." Penelope Mielenz, originally scheduled to play the part of Signora Cini, will assume Miss Powell's part, Signora Sirelli. Kathleen Fransoli will take the role of Signora Cini. The play will be presented Nov. 30 and Dec. 1.

Editor Announces Magazine Theme

Holcomb Makes Journal Plans; Contemporary Authors To Be Featured

Tri-State contemporary authors will be the theme of the 1937-38 volume of the Southwestern Journal, announces H. R. Holcomb, editor. Other members of the staff are: Ward Archer, assistant editor last year, Leslie Buchanan, George Gage, Gerald Burrow, Hillsman Taylor, Edith Kelso, William McBurney, Thomas Pappas, and Maynard Dabbs.

The Journal is Southwestern's literary magazine which usually is published twice a year. The first edition will probably come out before the Christmas holidays, and if not, immediately following. The subscription fee is included in each student's tuition.

The theme will be carried out by interpretive sketches of the works of authors from Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi. Among these will be Allen Tate, John Gould Fletcher, John Crowe Ransom, Caroline Gordon, William Faulkner, and Robert Penn Warren.

Contributions this year will be limited to the Southwestern student body. They will consist of short stories, some satires, and poems. Also, the best freshman theme may be used.

SUPERVISOR WILL DISCUSS HOUSING

J. R. Basiger To Speak Wednesday; Is Guest Of Torch

J. R. Basiger, management supervisor of the housing projects of the United States, will speak on the subject of housing next Wednesday at 4 o'clock, in Room 100 Palmer Hall. His visit to Southwestern is being sponsored by Torch Society, women's honorary leadership group on the campus.

Mr. Basiger, who is from Washington, D. C., is one of the nation's leading authorities on housing. His topic is of international interest as well as national interest at the present for many European countries are now taking steps for better housing.

Torch cordially invites the entire student body to hear Mr. Basiger and to discuss housing problems in open forum following his speech.

Ministerial Club To Meet

Dean Noe Will Speak To Members At Weekly Meeting

Dean Israel H. Noe, dean of St. Mary's Episcopal Cathedral, will address the members of the Ministerial Club at their meeting Monday at 1 o'clock in the Bell Room, it was announced at the last weekly meeting of the club.

Reports were heard from Herbert Bingham and George Jackson about the Tennessee Student Christian Conference which they attended Nov. 5, 6 and 7. It was unanimously decided that the administration be urged to invite the conference to be held at Southwestern next fall.

Bruce Crill reported that the organization had been requested to provide programs at various institutions, and the group decided to care for a family at Thanksgiving. H. R. Holcomb presided with William Bobo giving the devotional.

Band Parades

The Southwestern Band, 40 strong, is opening today's special activities when it marches down Main Street in the Armistice Day parade which starts from Main and Poplar at 10 o'clock. A few hours later, the band will again appear at Crump Stadium, for the Loyola game.

Honor Society Holds Bi-Annual Chapel Service

Mr. Rollow, Mr. Turner Are Also Selected

McDONALD PRESIDES

4 Of New Members Are Juniors, 1 a Senior

Henry Mobley, George Jennings, Herbert Bingham, Gaylon Smith and Ward Archer were yesterday morning selected for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary leadership fraternity. Honorary membership was conferred on Mr. John Rollow and Mr. Norfleet Turner.

Old members are Norman Shapiro, Gerald Burrow, Clark McDonald, Erskine Falls and Fred Dickson. Faculty members are Profs. Ogden Baine, W. R. Cooper, Ralph C. Hon and S. H. Monk.

As is customary in its bi-annual tap services, the fraternity conducted the chapel exercises and the president, Clark McDonald, explained the purpose of O.D.K. New members are chosen twice during the year.

Membership Limited
Membership in this organization is limited to three per cent of the men students in college. The selections are based upon leadership ability, character and activity in campus affairs.

Mobley, a junior, is vice-president of the student body. He was vice-president of his freshman class and president of the sophomore class last year. He is now football manager, a member of the Honor Council and of Kappa Sigma. The Student Council recently elected him to represent the College in the collegiate who's who.

Jennings, a senior, is captain of the football team. He is president of the S Club, a member of the Honor Council and has played in the Lynx backfield for three years.

Bingham Heads C. U.
Bingham, a junior, is president of the Christian Union. He is also a member of the Proscenium Guild, the Service Club and Tau Kappa Alpha, forensic honorary fraternity. He was last week elected president of the Tennessee Student Christian Association.

Smith, all-around athlete, is playing his second year as regular halfback on the football team. He was a forward on the basketball team last year and, (Continued on Page 3)

Student Council Committee Acts

Recommends New Method For Election Of Hall Of Fame Candidates

A special committee of the Student Council, appointed to investigate the Hall of Fame, met at the home of Elizabeth Cobb, the chairman, last Thursday evening, Nov. 4, and adopted a resolution recommending to the Student Council that the members of the Hall of Fame, instead of being elected by the Student Council, be chosen by a special electoral committee consisting of the presidents of the student body and of the junior class and the president of the College. These new members of the Hall of Fame would be selected from a list of nominees submitted by the Student Council.

The investigating committee which reached this conclusion includes Elizabeth Cobb, Steve Frazier, James Breyspraak, Ward Archer, and Sam Hill, with Clark McDonald, president of the Student Council, as an ex officio member. The Hall of Fame is a traditional Southwestern institution, to which the five most outstanding seniors are elected every spring, and their pictures hung in the library.

Welcome Alumni,
Homecoming Is Your Day

To all alumni who are on the campus today we want to extend the heartiest of welcomes. You are our fellow students if not our classmates and you have shown by turning out for Homecoming that you cherish your alma mater as warmly as we.

The Loyola Wolfpack has journeyed all the way from New Orleans to help us celebrate the gridiron festival in Crump Stadium this afternoon. We will enjoy sitting and cheering with you in the stands. After the game, you are all invited to a buffet supper in Neely Hall and at 7:30 o'clock fraternity and sorority houses will be thrown open in anticipation of your visit. At 9 o'clock the orchestra will start to play and we hope none of you will leave without being present at the first gymnasium dance being given of, by and for Southwestern.

Origin and Species
Of Omicron Delta Kappa

By PROF. S. H. MONK

The national honorary society, Omicron Delta Kappa, was founded in 1914 at Washington and Lee University by a group composed of students and members of the faculty. Since that time it has spread rapidly throughout the South and West, where it has established itself as a useful organization on many campuses. From the first the aims of the society were as follows:

1. To recognize men who attain a high standard of leadership in college activities.
2. To bring together the most representative men in all phases of college life and thus to create an organization which will help to mould the sentiment of the institution on questions of local interest.
3. To bring together students and faculty on a basis of mutual interest, understanding, and helpfulness.

These aims in large measure determine the peculiar organizations of the various circles—four members of the faculty form a constant element in the membership, each man serving for a term of four years; student members are elected on a basis of achievement, their number being determined by a fixed percentage of male students in the institution where the circle is located. In bringing together representatives of the student body and of the faculty, Omicron Delta Kappa, wherever it is established, offers a unique opportunity for the exchange of varied views and for common action on the part of the two elements that make up a college. But it remains primarily a student organization, existing for the purpose of fostering ideas that may be of benefit to the college as a whole.

Phi Circle was established at Southwestern in 1927, Dr. Diehl, three members of the faculty, and twelve students becoming the charter members. Since that time it has functioned continuously and has initiated 73 student members, in addition to a number of faculty and honorary members.

Is the Stage Set
For a Literary Renaissance?

The revival of the Stylus Chapter of Sigma Upsilon, we think, is a singularly happy event. Always an outstanding national honorary fraternity, Sigma Upsilon here somehow lost prestige even among its own members and was allowed to die completely last year.

For a college to be utterly without a literary society seems unnatural to us. We know that there is enough talent and interest on this campus to support a capable society and we think that the three who were initiated will provide a fit nucleus for the revived organization. Prof. A. S. McIlwaine, too, is to be congratulated for the initiative he has taken in the revival.

The first concern of the new Sigma Upsilon, we think, ought to be the Journal. This organ has struggled through two very lean years as far as material and interest is concerned; and needs now, if ever, the strong impetus of a literary revival. We have always thought that the literary society and the magazine ought to be more closely related. Could not some sort of merger be effected whereby both the society and the magazine would benefit?

Party Line

In an attempt to drown out the sour notes of the orchestra at the Tri-Delta dance Shirley Scarborough, Lenti, "Little Nell", Breyspraak, Steve Frazier and John Marshall sent forth a melodious interpretation of the "Tri-Delta Moon" . . . Instead of being the "miserable" of the evening, however, the orchestra turned out to be the source of fun. . . . The most popular girl on the floor was a Spearmint sign-board girl that Alec Streets kidnaped. . . . In one corner Grace Mays seemed thoroughly content with Griesbeck's winning smile. . . . Everyone reported for the leadout except Elizabeth Scarborough who was conscientiously working in the kitchen. . . . (P. S., Steve was her helper). . . . Another girl getting quite a rush was the A. O. P. representative, Toni Noce. . . . The likeness of Ed and Lee McCormick has long been a problem on the campus, and it is not that of Geraldine Doss, whose attentions have lately been centered on Ed. When Ed found that he couldn't attend the dance he sent Lee who did more than justice to the McCormick style. This deception caught Geraldine completely unaware, and imagine her embarrassment when she found the wrong McCormick on her line. . . . It looks like the "Tri-Delta Moon" relit the old flame between "Pill" Hubbard and "Kite". . . . In that line of stags forming on the right of Carolyn Carroll it looked like Hylton Neill and Vernon Kerns were trying to gain permanent places. . . . All at the dance were wondering why Rosa Landess and W. J. Hearn failed to reappear after intermission. (What's the matter, "Rip"?). . . . Bland Cannon was trying his best to teach Jane Harsh how to shoot a line. All the time he was baiting the hook for himself!

Another escapade over the week-end was held at the Porter's cabin. . . . The enticing game of the evening was "Sniffles" Here's how it's done: After everyone is seated in a circle—on the floor, of course—it is understood that the use of the hands is not permissible. The object—to pass a tiny piece of paper by the use of your nose only; the results—a very "tempting" game. For to exchange a paper in such manner involves proximity and without contact???. . . . Dick Jones wasn't satisfied with sitting between two girls. . . . he made the rounds. . . . Running a close second was Granville Sherman, who claimed to be new to the game. . . . Couple with the "best cooperation" was Turner and Farnsworth. . . . A late arrival was Virginia Murphy who lost no time in joining in the "sniffing".

It looks like "woman-hater" Smith has at last broken down—he was seen with two different girls within an hour. . . . The one in the lead is Vivienne Birmingham, but we'll have to wait until after his date tonight to know the real winner.

Life At South Bend
In Notre Dame Paper

Two freshmen students were arrested for speeding coming through Ironwood, Mich., home of Ed Simonich and Larry Danbom who did a lot of full-backing last year for the Irish. The judge's "sentence" was unique. Learning the pair were bound for Notre Dame, he said, "Do you think they'll beat Pitt this year?" He was quickly assured they would. "Suspended sentence," said the judge, "until after the Pitt game."

Tommy Jones, a sophomore of Manchester, N. H., was not so fortunate. He was stopped for speeding coming through Batavia, N. Y. Failing to out-argue the magistrate, he finally played his trump card. "But, judge, I'm a college boy," he protested.

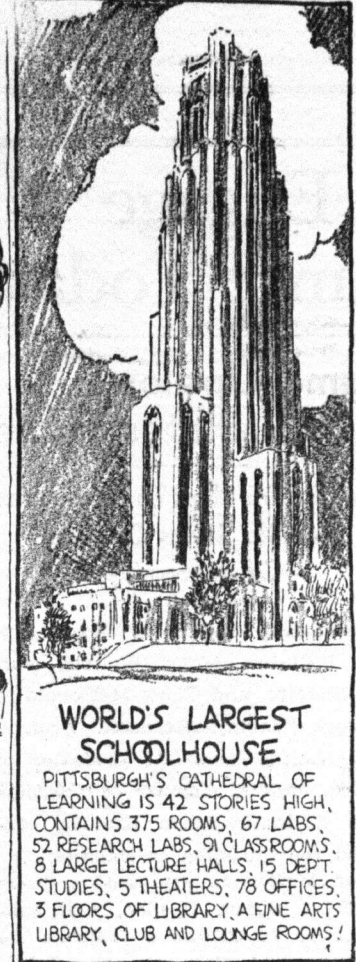

"Ignorance," said the judge, "is no excuse. Five dollars, please."

Correspondence Between
Student and Librarian

Dear Miss Marsh:
As a student of Southwestern I do protest against the nightly disturbances in the library. Talking, laughing, running, etc., cause such a noise that anyone honestly trying to concentrate finds it impossible to do so. Please do anything you can to remedy this situation.

Signed: A Student.
Dear Student:
Thank you for your letter which I found on my desk Friday morning, November 5th. I should have preferred it signed. In general, I think anonymous letters deserve to be ignored, but in this case I'm glad to be able to reply through the courtesy of The Sou'wester.

First, why do you protest against the nightly disturbances only? I protest against the daily, as well as the nightly, turmoil.

As for my doing anything I can, I've called all the student library assistants together and they've promised to try hard to improve the situation. If there is any difficulty they've promised to take down the names of any giving trouble, and to turn them over to me. It's an awfully hard and unpleasant job acting policeman among people who are supposedly mature ladies and gentlemen.

Does student government cease to operate when a student gets to the library? Do you do your part by calling down those who are violating the rules of the library by disturbing others? Do you report them to the assistant at the desk or to me? If each would do his part we might soon have the library conducted as a college library rather than as an undisciplined high school study-hall.

I wish the freshmen could be persuaded to go to the social room or chapel, or to sit on the stairs to work math and study French together. It just can't be done in the library without disturbing somebody. I wish those who come for purposes not in the least academic could be persuaded to huddle in the cloister, or anywhere other than the library.

We in the library are going to try

75 Thousand Now
Receive N. Y. A. Aid

Washington, D. C.—ACP—College students continue to be among the recipients of Federal benefits along with farmers, the unemployed, the aged, the blind and other groups that are on the receiving end of Federal aid.

Of course, the cash that goes to college students is not as much as that which goes to the tillers of the soil and the needy unemployed, but, at that, the young people do pretty well for themselves. Twenty million dollars, the amount the National Youth Administration is this year paying to students, is a long way from small change.

Slightly over $10,000,000 will go to college students and the remainder to high school boys and girls. This $10,000,000, if paid out in the form of scholarships, would provide $500 a piece for 20,000 college students. However, being distributed, as it will be, in amounts of about $15 a month, this sum will help pay the bills of around 75,000 young men and women during the current academic year.

This $20,000,000 allocation for students, however, doesn't satisfy all of them. William W. Hinckley, president of the American Youth Congress, states that his organization will continue to battle for the passage of the American Youth Act.

This proposed legislation, introduced during the last session of Congress, would appropriate $500,000,000 for the aid of young people.

Failure to obtain action last session has not discouraged the Youth Congress, and they will be in there fighting when the next session convenes in January.

hard to improve conditions, but if things do not get better we may have to close the library at night altogether, and if they get no better in the day time I suppose we'll have to let all the work of ordering, classifying and cataloging the new books go while we act as nursemaids for a group of undisciplined, ill-mannered and inconsiderate children.

I should be glad to hear from you again and shall appreciate any suggestions you have to offer.

Yours very sincerely,
MARY MARSH,
Librarian.

Among the freshman rules at the University of Mississippi is one stating that freshman boys and girls should not sit together on the campus, but if they do they must sit at a 90 degree angle—opposite each other.

Students who think that they have strict rules should read of Midland College and be thankful for their privileges. At this Nebraska school all freshmen must have the permission of a member of the student council before they may ask a coed for a date.

At The Orpheum

Starting tomorrow, for seven days, the world's most imitated dancer, Ziegfeldian Beauty, "Faith Bacon" makes her first Memphis and Southern appearance in person.

Faith Bacon brings to the Orpheum Theatre her own revue, offering her two newest dances, the fantasy "Bird of Paradise" and "Leda and the Swan." Assisting Miss Bacon are 33 individualists and 16 Bachelor Girls; the Hollywood Comics, Gifford and Pearl; Vern Wilcox, the "featologists," Three St. John Brothers, Dancing Fashion Plates, Allan and Parker, romantic singer, Paul Bachelor and Variety Stars.

Faith Bacon recently closed her all summer sensational run on the Show Boat at the Great Lakes Exposition.

On the screen the first run musical-comedy starring Eric Linden, of "Ah Wilderness" fame and Cecilia Parker in "Sweetheart of the Navy," assisted by a cast of comedians including Roger Imhof, Don Barkley, Edward Walter, John T. Murray.

MRS. ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will speak to the public of Memphis at 8 o'clock Nov. 20, at the Ellis Auditorium. Her subject will be "The Problems of Youth."

The lecture will be under the auspices of the Nineteenth Century Club and tickets may be secured at the Ellis Auditorium box office.

Hanging Goobers Or Pitching Woo? Take Your Choice

(Reprinted from the Tulane Hullabullo) By DOROTHY TOPPINO

"I pussyfooted a powderhouse fluff for a dance at the tong, but she preferred the pigskins, who have been hijacking the plush fever fraus and leaving us only the pop-eyed pansies and green peas."

Does it make sense to you? If so, you are a unique Tulanian or a "transfer" from the University of Southern California.

When it comes to modern slang, Tulane lags far behind the Men of the West. In a recent compilation of "Campus Cant" at the University of Southern California it was found that to California's collegians, the mystifying quoted paragraph means in our language:

"I tried to make a date with a sorority girl for a dance at the fraternity house, but she preferred the football players, who have been walking off with all the stylish, lively girls, and leaving us only the young women without charm."

And that's the way Tulanians would say it. No slang for them! Observations and questioning prove that collegiate lingo is almost nil here. Outside of a few expressions, such as "goon" and "pitching a little woo" (which, incidentally, the Californians have modernized to "hanging a goober," in referring to the art of osculation), Tulanians and Newcombers seem pretty ignorant of the trend toward the bizarre in speech, which has replaced the desire for the bizarre in dress, so popular in the 1920's.

Without the aid of a translator, "powderhouse fluff" to the students of this campus conveyed only such ideas as a "crazy new ice cream concoction," or "a dame with the constant urge to powder her nose." When it came to "fever frau," they had to revert back to the 19-, or was it 18-something-or-other, for the long-gone "hot mama."

There apparently is no reason for this recent influx of queer slang. To quote a report from Los Angeles:

"Those pedagogues who have dedicated their efforts and their lives to the study of lexicology frankly admit their inability to trace or offer any reason or the trend toward 'English as she is spoke' in some of our higher institutions of learning."

But already it's on many a campus. So, when someone remarks, "Pipe the flight of my latest hot-house bow-wow," remember he merely wants you to know that the girl passing by is his latest dream girl—or words to that effect.

Several students at Louisiana State University are up in the air over the actions of the waiters jerking their plates out from under their noses before they have finished eating, and one freshman student claims that he has lost almost eight dollars worth of food in this manner.

Lynx Cats Engage Loyola

The loss dropped the Lynx from first place to third. There still remains a remote possibility for a tie.

Hampered by rain this week, Coach R. C. "Shorty" Propst has had little chance to put his men through their paces. Dummy scrimmage and signal drill have constituted most of the preparations for today's game.

The Lynx will probably open with the same team that has started the last three games. Only center is doubtful. If Levon Self is not in first-class shape, Harry Morris will open in his place. However, the performance of "Kite" Morton in the closing minutes of the Howard struggle may prompt Coach Propst to make a last minute change and put the pass-flinging halfback in the lineup in place of Jimmy Sasser or Gaylon Smith. Coach Propst was disappointed in Smith's showing against the Bulldogs.

Clois Neal, Rex Wilson and Gus Pitt may see action against the Wolves. Neal has lost some of his excess weight and is in better trim than he has been at any other time this season.

The Lynx record thus far is five wins and three losses in eight games played. After today's encounter with Loyola, Southwestern closes the season against Centre College on Nov. 20.

Students at Ohio State University were charged 21 cents apiece to vote by absentee ballot. The total cost of voting by mail was $175.

Loyola Inexperienced

New Orleans' new Municipal Stadium, but dropped an 18-7 decision. In this game Loyola gained twice as much yardage as the Chicago outfit, but could score only once. Louisiana State's powerful Tigers administered the next defeat by 52-6 and Texas Tech shaded the Wolves 25-6 last Friday night.

It is not hard to find the star of the Loyola outfit. Captain Clay Calhoun has stood out like a sore thumb in every game thus far and enemy coaches and scouts all acclaim his ability. The big fullback is the hub around which Loyola's attack operates to say nothing of the fact that he is constantly busy backing up the line on defense.

The Wolves have their mind set on revenging the defeat handed them last year by Southwestern and Sunday set about the task of preparing for the potent Lynx. They will show Memphis fans a Notre Dame offense in contrast to the Minnesota system which they displayed last season.

Mullins, who played fullback under Rockne for three seasons, will probably start the same eleven which has opened the past three battles. It lines up with Marcus McCann and Stanley Guyer at ends, Jim Peterson and Ed Nordstrom at tackles, Harold Juge and Jim Rooney at guards, Bill Buhler, center, Dan Lyons, quarterback, Mike Casey and Joe Miranne, halfbacks, and Clay Calhoun at full.

The Little Rock Junior College recently had a contest to select a girl and a boy student for the "Apple Dumping" and the "Baked Apple" to preside over their Apple Day festivities.

Bobcats Face Teachers Frosh In Season Final

First Lynx-Tiger Clash In 10 Years

WILL PLAY AT CRUMP

Game Is Scheduled For Monday Night

Resuming athletic relations between the two colleges after a lapse of ten years, Southwestern's Bobcats match claws with the West Tennessee State Teachers College Cubs next Monday night, Nov. 15, in Fairgrounds Stadium at 7:30 o'clock.

Unbeaten in three games thus far, the Bobcats risk their perfect record against a group of STC yearlings who boast a similar unbeaten record and who have shown speed, power and deception in every game this season. The Bobcats have beaten the Union University frosh, Sunflower Junior College, and Northwest Mississippi Junior College. The Cubs have won over the Union frosh, and twice over Northwest Mississippi.

From comparative scores neither team has an advantage. Both teams have outclassed all opposition they have faced and each team boasts a heavy line and a hard-running secondary.

The Bobcats will go into the fray with full strength. Coaches Neal Tapp and "Red" Davis have been drilling the squad hard all this week and are pointing for the contest.

Probable lineups:

Bobcats	Pos.	Cubs
Canzoneri	L.E.	Farino
Connors	L.T.	Blurton
Gage	L.G.	Mabry
Vernon	Center	Matthews
Craig	R.G.	Van Hook

Sports Shorts

By JACK PILKINGTON

The defeat which the Lynx suffered last week was the hardest kind to take; it's mighty hard to be 6 inches away from a potential championship. . . . Howard had the ball for exactly 3 plays during the first 12 minutes of the third quarter which shows the tremendous offense which the Lynx had. . . . Howard has to defeat Southern before they are assured the title. . . . Tulane sure scared the cockiness out of Alabama and let them know that they are far from the world beaters that everyone thinks they are; the slight margin of victory gives the Crimson Tide a better chance to go to the Rose Bowl because California probably figures that they are not as powerful as they appeared to be, and the West Coast teams are afraid of the Red Elephants. . . . The Loyola Wolfpack has not forgotten the beating which they took last year, and they are laying for the Lynx. . . . A Tulane backer said that the Green Wave could beat the Lynx 85-0; the cheering at the game sounded plenty good last week, except after the first Howard touchdown. . . . Wonder why the Lynx did not try a field goal; that three points won exactly 4 games in the last few minutes of play last Saturday, and a two point victory is as good as 5. . . . Morton did not return to last season form; he never lost it; he just hasn't been receiving the blocking he deserves, when he got it you all know what happened. . . . We want to welcome the old grads back to Southwestern today; we want you to see that when beaten in points, we don't ever get beaten in spirit. . . . If you will look at the statistics you will see that the game last week was one time when figures DO lie. . . . Jimmie Sasser should be a cinch for All-Dixie honors, along with Parker and Hebert, because he has been the most consistent good back the Lynx have shown. . . . Will see you all at the Loyola game today and make plenty of noise.

SPECIAL CONCERT TICKETS

Fifty regular $1.10 tickets can be obtained for 75 cents for the Fritz Kreisler violin concert, Prof. Burnet C. Tutill announced in chapel Monday. The concert will be Nov. 16 at the Ellis Auditorium. Those desiring reservations should leave their names and money with Miss Ireys Martin as soon as possible.

Lynx Miss Dixie Conference Title By Six Inches

Howard Outplayed But Not Outscored

MORTON IN COMEBACK

White Wins Game With Two Long Passes

Lacking six inches for a possible Dixie Conference championship, the Southwestern Lynx lost to Howard College at Crump Stadium last Saturday afternoon before a thrill-madened crowd of 7,000 by a score of 13-12.

The Lynx utterly outclassed the Bulldogs from Howard in every way, but two beautiful passes by White and the educated toe of Gann spelled disaster for the Lynx.

The Lynx gained at will through the heavier Howard line until they were within the 5 yard line and then the extra punch which was needed failed to assert itself, as the Birmingham boys held.

Hartwell Morton, who warmed the bench after the first two minutes of the game until the last three minutes, was inserted and almost single handed he led the Lynx on a drive of 64 yards to the Howard 3 yard line where the attack bogged down. The boy who has taken a beating from everyone because of his failure to pass as well as he was expected to, came into the game and dropped three passes into the waiting arms of receivers to make people who thought he was through drop their heads in shame.

The inability of the Lynx to cover receivers in the flat zone led to their defeat.

Gaylon Smith and Jimmie Sasser led the Lynx with their brilliant running, and the line was holding the Bulldogs even.

White, Daugherty and Gann played good all-round games for Howard.

Howard remains unbeaten within the Dixie Conference and is favored for the title.

SOCCER PLAY OFF APPROACHES FINALS

Kappa Sigma Downs Non-Frats While A.T.O. Ties Kappa Alpha

Soccer will fill the intramural program for the next few days. Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Sigma will meet for the right to a berth in the finals. Sigma Nu must turn back the Kappa Alpha and Alpha Tau Omega winner to reach the final round.

In some of the fastest action displayed in the intramural sports this year Kappa Sigma handed the Non-Frats a 4-2 setback. Both teams showed fine team play in their first attempt at the game which has been added to the intramural events for the first time this year. The Alpha Tau Omega's and Kappa Alpha's furnished another exciting tilt as they battled to a 1-1 deadlock. This made it necessary for a play-off game on Wednesday afternoon. Sigma Nu advanced to the semi-finals with a default over Pi Kappa Alpha.

With weather conditions temporarily halting the intramural schedule plans are to substitute some activity in the Southwestern gym when outdoor games cannot be played.
