5 Open Houses Tomorrow Will Honor Pledges

Rush Week Closes Tonight After Gay Whirl

PLEDGING AT 2 P.M.

Varied Program of Parties This Year

Culminating three days of rush teas, swimming parties, spaghetti suppers, and informal dances, each of the five sororities on the campus will hold open house at the respective lodges tomorrow afternoon from 4:00 until 6:00 o'clock in honor of their new pledges.

All fraternity men and their new pledges and all non-fraternity men are cordially invited to attend. Men and women who are being rushed by the Greek letter fraternities and sororities will receive bids at 2:00 o'clock.

Rushing for women students began at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when each sorority entertained with a tea. The teas on Thursday afternoon, which were given from 2:00 until 6:00 o'clock, were especially unusual and attractive.

Kappa Delta went collegiate, featuring cherleader's megaphones, footballs, and pennants. Chrysanthemums, the traditional football flower, adorned the tables and mantelpiece.

A black and white mode pervaded the Chi Omega house, with carnations and other white flowers effectively placed in black vases. Formal tea gowns of black and white were worn by members, and refreshments in the predominating colors were served from a lace-draped table.

An international atmosphere filled the Tri-Delta lodge, where tiny flags of the United States, Mexico, France, and England waved gaily from the walls. A red and white motif will be carried out in the flowers and refreshments.

Autumn leaves and flowers in brilliant hues of gold and brown formed the setting for the A. O. Pi tea. Tall yellow tapers in brass candelabra glowed by a centerpiece of yellow roses on the tea-table.

Zeta Tau Alpha's annual sailor tea presented a table covered in blue cellophane, on which a silver ship sailed realistically. At one side of the room stood a brass binnacle, effectively directing guests to the table.

Fraternity rushing, beginning with individual rush dates Wednesday noon, featured dinner and swimming parties and numerous informal gatherings. Col. J. Walter Canada entertained Kappa Alpha members and rushes with a dinner party Wednesday night at his country home near the airport, followed by a smoker.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon complimented a number of rushees Wednesday night with a swimming party at the Nineteenth Century Club pool. After the swim, the group gathered at the fraternity house on the campus for a spaghetti supper.

A series of buffet suppers and smokers at the homes of Leslie Stratton and several other prominent alumni were featured in the A.T.O. rush program.

The new Sigma Nu house on the campus was the scene of dancing and informal suppers each night. Charles Edward Thomas, editor of the fraternity magazine and president of the Association of Editors of all fraternity publications, was a popular visitor during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trinner will compliment Pi Kappa Alpha and their guests with a buffet supper tonight at their home, as a final get-together before pledging.

Kappa Sigma members have entertained extensively through the week with a number of barbecues and informal dances.

The Women's Panhellenic Council drastically altered sorority rushing rules this fall with the inauguration of the quota system, which limits the number of bids each sorority may issue to an equal percentage of the new students.

Fall Bulletin Appears

McIlwaine, Southworth Co-Authors Of Journalism Issue

The Southwestern Bulletin for September, published last week, has taken the form of a handbook of journalism. Dr. A. S. McIlwaine, associate professor of English, and Luther Southworth, former editor of the Sou'wester and now member of the Press-Scimitar staff, are co-authors.

Tuthill Directs College of Music

Affiliation With Southwestern Announced Last Year Becomes Fact

The Memphis College of Music began the fall term last Saturday for the first time as an affiliated college of Southwestern with Prof. Burnet C. Tuthill as director.

The cooperative plan between the colleges was announced last year but is only now being extensively utilized. Students at the College of Music may take their academic work required for the music degree here and Southwestern students majoring in music may take advanced courses at the College of Music.

Thomas Gorton, M. Mus., a graduate of the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, has come here from Riverside Junior College in California to teach piano. The other addition to the faculty is Otto Kar Cadek, the concert master of the Birmingham Symphony orchestra who, beginning next Monday, will come to Memphis once a month to teach advanced courses in violin.

The enrollment of the College of Music has increased greatly, according to Prof. Tuthill, who hopes for steady growth in the institution.

All Southwestern students who play string instruments are invited to join the College of Music string orchestra which will meet for the first time next Tuesday night at 7:30.

SOUTHWESTERNERS TRAVEL AFAR DURING PAST SUMMER VACATION

While most of us filled a chair at the dinner table and caught up on our whittling while vacationing at home this summer quite a few Southwesterners saw the sights of the world, and from all accounts had a number of varied experiences.

President and Mrs. Diehl sailed from Montreal about the middle of July for a month in England. Landing at Liverpool, they week-ended in north Wales and then went to London which they used as a base for visits to Oxford, Cambridge, Greenwich, and Windsor Castle. While returning from an excursion to the George Tavern, London's oldest and quaintest, where

3 New Members Increase Faculty For Fall Term

Boeker, Liston, Wolf Begin Teaching Here

BOEKER FROM ABROAD

Rhodes Scholar Fills Place Of Prof. Caspari

Prof. Alexander Boeker, Robert Todd, Lapsley Liston, and J. Q. Wolf are the three new instructors who bring the total of faculty members to 34.

Prof. Boeker, new assistant professor of modern languages, is a German who only last summer took his B.A. degree at Oxford where he studied for three years on a Rhodes Scholarship. A native of Heidelberg, he attended school there with Prof. Fritz Caspari, who taught here last year.

Unlike Prof. Caspari though, he did not study at the university in Heidelberg but went first to Munich, thence to Berlin and to Keenigsberg, spending 3½ years at the universities in these cities. At Oxford his studies comprised politics, economics, modern philosophy and other subjects in this field.

Asked what clubs he belonged to at Oxford, he refused to be pinned down to an enumeration insisting that "one belongs to so many clubs which amount to nothing more than a good dinner once or twice a year." He did admit, however, to the presidency of the international club and the German Club.

When asked as per custom in interviews for his impressions of the college, he begged off smiling and suggesting that it was too hot an afternoon for impressions. He is, though, thoroughly impressed with the library which he says is "frightfully good." A friend of Prof. C. P. Lee at Oxford, Prof. Boeker and Prof. Lee have taken together a house at 675 Adams.

Prof. Liston, new associate professor of Bible, has a background of four years at Davidson College, four years at Union Theological Seminary, and one year at the University of Edinburgh. He received his A.B. degree from Davidson, a B.D. and T.H.M. (Continued on Page 3)

16 SCORE HIGH ON FROSH TEST

Psychological Examination Is Given Annually

Sixteen freshmen and transfers of Southwestern made high scores on the American Psychological Examination given during the orientation period.

Freshmen scoring high were William Murphy, 328, of Memphis; William Bobo, 319, of Clarksdale, Miss.; Ruth Nixon, 311, of Jacksonville, Ark.; Rothrock Miller, 297, of Memphis; Ralph Alperin, 271, also of Memphis; John Kier, 271, of Lexington, Miss.; Nancy Millen, 266, Evanston, Ill.; Robert Price, 263, Joy Newburger, 262, Orville McMinn, 251, and Jack Ruffin, 250, all of Memphis.

Transfer students with high scores were Betty Orgill, 297, William Southworth, 277, Sarah Boothe, 276, all of Memphis; Jean Abel, 263, Lexington, Ky., and Richard Jones, 254, of Montgomery, Ala.

Charles Dickens dined, they were run over by a speeding bicyclist and knocked unconscious. Rushed to a hospital in an ambulance, they recovered, though Mrs. Diehl, who suffered several head injuries, was unconscious for an hour. The president received a badly cut knee and a black eye which he says was a dandy. But he declares that they had a "lovely time and returned quite refreshed."

Dr. W. R. Cooper, dean of men, reports that he "ran over a lion in the jungle" while on his way to Mexico City with Chester Carden. The details of this feat are unknown. (Continued on Page 3)

College Admits 38 As Transfers

Geographically Varied Group Includes Hawaii, Mexico In List

Southwestern has received thirty-eight transfers this year from colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Annie Few Work, a Memphis resident who last attended Mills College in California, has matriculated here. From Belhaven College come Minna Deen Jones of Mileston, Miss., and Mary Louise West of Grenada, Miss. Donald G. Ross, also of Grenada, attended the University of Mississippi last year.

Edwin Thompson last year attended the University of Miami, while Anne Tuthill matriculated at Gulf Park and Adrienne Laurenzi went to Rosary College. All these students, residents of Memphis, now attend Southwestern.

Fairmont Junior College in Washington, D. C., is the former alma mater of Isabel Metcalf and Betty Orgill both of Memphis, now in Southwestern.

Two other Memphians now at Southwestern are Sarah Boothe, last year at Vassar, and William T. Porter, who was at Ohio State and also attended the summer session at the University of Mexico in Mexico City.

Thomas Osakoda is a junior from the University of Hawaii.

Jo and Martha Meux of Brownsville, Tenn., were freshmen at Ward-Belmont last year.

Other transfer students are, Jean Abel of Lexington, Ky., who attended her state university; Walter B. Hunter of Water Valley, Miss., who went to Delta State Teachers College in Cleveland, Miss.; Robert Porter of Jacksonville, Ala., who matriculated at the Junior College in Decatur, Miss.; Eli B. Rogers of Sumner, Miss., who went to Copiah-Lincoln Junior College; David W. Schulherr of St. Louis, who attended Washington University; George A. Stokes of Winnfield, La., who went to State Normal, and Marion Longenecker of Amory, Miss., who attended Beaver College, Jenkintown, Pa.

DIEHL ADVOCATES LIBERAL EDUCATION

President Officially Opens Sixty-Third Session

Dr. Charles E. Diehl, president of the college, redefined the Southwestern ideal as the liberally educated gentleman in his convocation address at the formal opening of the sixty-third session last Saturday.

After a procession of the faculty in full academic regalia had marched into Hardie Auditorium to the accompaniment of the Southwestern Band, the devotional exercises were held.

Dr. Diehl, in agreement with Dr. R. M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, from whom he quoted, found the fault of American education to lie not in the educational system, but in the ideals of the nation. When the emphasis is placed on the ability to make money by the average American of today, it is not surprising that vocational techniques are being taught in the colleges to the exclusion of the fundamental intellectual disciplines of grammar, logic, and mathematics.

Lynxcats Face Off Against Bulldogs Tomorrow Evening

Frazier To Head Elections Council

Falls is New Vice-President; Barnard New Secretary; Elections Soon

Steve Frazier was elected president of the Elections Commission at the first meeting of that group on Tuesday morning. Other new officers are Erskine Falls, representative of Alpha Tau Omega, vice-president; and Rose Lynn Barnard, Chi Omega, secretary.

Frazier is a Sigma Nu. Other representatives are: Lewis Donelson, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Ardelle Livesay, non-sorority; John Spence, Kappa Sigma; Herbert Bingham, non-fraternity; Lillie Roberts Walker, Zeta Tau Alpha; Bernadine Taylor, Delta Delta Delta; Elizabeth Cobb, Alpha Omicron Pi; Chester Carden, Pi Kappa Alpha; Hotchkiss Young, Kappa Alpha; and Marion Keisker, Kappa Delta.

Nominations will be made Tuesday; preliminary balloting will take place on Wednesday, and the run-offs will be held on Thursday.

Election of a president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the freshman class will take place probably during the week beginning October 4.

YWCA To Give Dinner Wednesday

All Women Students Are Invited To Banquet Preceding Membership Drive

The Young Women's Christian Association of Southwestern is planning to open its year's activities with a dinner in the Hugh M. Neely Hall on Wednesday, September 29, at 6:45 p.m. This dinner is to be given in honor of the new women students and cordial invitations are being mailed to all women on the campus. A novel program will be presented. Every girl is asked to reply to the Registrar not later than 5 p.m. on Tuesday of next week.

This dinner will precede the opening of the membership campaign on Thursday morning. There will be a table in the cloister Thursday, Friday and Saturday, where a cabinet member will be present to receive the membership dues of fifty cents a semester, or $1 a year. Invitations to membership are extended to all girls. Regular meetings are held every third Wednesday, and are to be supplemented by special events throughout the year.

The Y. W. C. A. has planned its program for the year in accordance with its purposes of realizing a more creative life through a growing knowledge of God, of fostering the religious and moral ideals of the College, and of cooperating in campus activities. The organization plans to continue sponsoring evening devotionals in the girls' dormitory, to arrange transportation to churches of the dormitory girls' choices on Sunday, to participate in philanthropic projects at Thanksgiving and Christmas, to sponsor visits to places in the city of civic and cultural interest, and to assist with the four college vesper services.

The officers for this year are: President, Dorothy Givens; vice-president, Elizabeth Cobb; treasurer, Harriet Pond; committee chairmen, Frances Gladney, Margaret Kyle, and Martha Moore. Emmie Vida Slaughter has been nominated by the Cabinet to fill the office of secretary which was left vacant by the withdrawal of Jane Alvis from the College, and will be subject to election at the first regular meeting.

Red and Black Are Favorites Against Union

Last Week's Showing Rules Out Jackson Team

GAME AT FAIRGROUNDS

Southwestern Squad Eager On Eve Of Battle

Boasting a 67-0 win over the Arkansas State Indians in last week's opening game, Southwestern seeks to add another link to its victory chain when the Lynx battle the Union University Bulldogs at Fairgrounds Stadium tomorrow night at 8 p.m.

Since the Indian game Southwestern has been bolstered on the ends and will present an even stronger array against the Bulldogs than they did against Arkansas State. Orlie Nettles and "Red" Bergfeld, ailing ends, are off the shelf and ready for action. Gaylon Smith, ace halfback, injured a shoulder in Monday's blocking session and though in condition to play will be used sparingly.

Union opened its season last Friday night with a 0-0 tie with the Millsaps Majors. Though the score indicates a non-too-strong eleven, the Bulldogs pack power in both the backfield and the line and should prove at least pesky. Excepting last year's 32-3 win by the Lynx, the Bulldogs have always been tough for Southwestern to handle.

In preparation for tomorrow's tussle Coaches Propst, High and Hug have concentrated this week on the several weaknesses that cropped up in the Arkansas State rout. Tackling, covering of punts, and returning of punts have occupied much of the Lynxcats' time. In Saturday's game these three departments showed they needed polishing.

Leading the attack on the Bulldogs will be the triple-threat "Kite" Morton, as well as Clois Neal, Rex Wilson, Captain Jennings, Jimmy Sasser, and perhaps the injured Gaylon Smith. In the line Nettles, Frank Morgan, Levon Self, and Porter Chappell will be in shape to hit hard and accurately.

Two men definitely will not see action. They are Clay Nickells, quarterback, and Will Rhea Winfrey, full. Nickells' shoulder is rounding into shape but he will not be used for fear, a too-quick return to action might reinjure it. Winfrey is out of uniform. A small bone in his right leg, broken before the season opened, will keep him out for some time. Captain George Jennings will do most of the quarterbacking with "Floozie" Littlefield taking over Winfrey's fullbacking duties.

Probable lineup for the Lynx: Nettles and Chappell at the ends; Croom and Gardner at tackle; Morgan and Dabbs at guard; and Levon Self at center. In the backfield will be Jennings at quarter, Morton and Sasser at the halves, and Littlefield at full.

CASPARI VISITS CAMPUS BRIEFLY

Former Professor Is En Route To Germany

Mr. F. E. Caspari, who taught German and French here last year, visited Southwestern for five days as he was returning to Germany from a vacation in California. He left Monday for New York, where he will take the Europa for Liverpool. He intends to visit Oxford University before returning to Heidelberg.

In Germany all men must serve a certain time in the army, varying with the current law. It was to keep his standing as a German citizen that Prof. Caspari resigned his position here.

His vacation was a pack trip into the Sierra Mountains, a rocky, coastal range, and lasted several weeks.

SOUTHWESTER POLICY

In turning over to Volume 19, the Sou'wester is turning over a new leaf as well. The constant goal of your editor and staff throughout the year will be journalistic excellence, a quality which, we remark with malice toward none, has not distinguished the Sou'wester of the past.

The general policy of the paper, if you care about such things, is outlined.

Inasmuch as a weekly is limited in the freshness of its news, its function becomes largely that of chronicle. We will, therefore, worship the god of accuracy. Our facts will be checked and rechecked, our syntax will make sense, and our names will be spelled right. If for no other reason, read the Sou'wester to get the exact truth about everything.

Again inasmuch as a weekly is limited in the freshness of its news, we resolve wherever possible to uncover new angles on our stories. You already know the score of last Saturday's football game, but you may be interested in the statistical low-down on each back which appears on the sports page.

Of course, we intend to cover all the news as completely as possible and to advocate the best interests of the college in our editorial column.

This is our policy. Our hope is that we will not bore you.

OBITUARY FOR JOE COLLEGE

This fall on the Southwestern campus we are witnessing the last dying gasps of a once virile species. This animal is or was the Collegiennis Rah-Rahiennis popularly called the rah-rah or Joe College. He was in his highest development in the middle of the last decade when he wore raccoon coats to football games, stood up in the stands with a flask in one hand and a pennant in the other and shouted his demands for touchdowns. He thought he was a modern and a revolutionary, but he was not at all actually, because his gods were the same that were worshipped in the hated Gilded Age, which he was supposedly reacting from. He really loved his money and its power and his yellow roadster even more than his touchdowns and his banners.

The peculiar fact is that his persecutors have crucified him in the name of his own ideal—college spirit. We are at this moment bystanders at the destruction of Joe College's last lingering institution, freshman hazing; and it is done ostensibly for the sake of college spirit. The rah-rah's point in this case is not that freshman hazing is barbarous, but that the freshman who has been hazed and the sophomore who has hazed him are bound to have what most people call college spirit and what Henry Mobley calls "it." Dumping the high priest of the Sanhedrin in the pond necessarily bred more esprit de corps in one night than three weeks of polite relations between frosh and upperclassmen.

Make no mistake, this paper is not in its opening editorial advocating barbarism. The extinction of hazing is intellectually a commendable forward step. We are merely nostalgic enough to remark that there may come a day when polite and dignified and possibly stuffy college students will yearn for the good old days of exuberant and undignified college spirit.

A MATTER OF HONOR

The new system of explaining the honor system is undoubtedly adequate. After new students have heard a thorough oral explanation and all students have been handed a summary of the working principles of the system, there can be no plea of ignorance as a reason for a loose moral conscience on the campus.

The individual conference system of last year seemed best in theory; but practically, some of the Honor Council members, themselves, proved unable or unwilling to give lucid and accurate explanations to the freshmen. That the splendid record of last year of no honor convictions proves a higher sense of honor, can be questioned. There may have been only a less vigilant council.

With a relentless council which will have no qualms about expelling the guilty when they are discovered, and a thorough understanding of the system, it is a certainty that the general moral conscience of Southwestern, already considered above the average, can be heightened.

THE QUOTA SYSTEM

An experiment which may have greater significance than is generally realized is being made by the sororities this week. Each group will be allowed to offer pledgeship to only sixteen women, or one-fifth of the available freshman class. It marks the first attempt to equalize the sororities by what may be called artificial regulation. Heretofore, the groups have varied in prosperity of members, but the situation changed frequently enough naturally to prevent any one group from getting the permanent upper hand. This, it seems to us, is the only proper state for the sororities to exist in.

External regulation is foredoomed to have its complications. It must be remembered that women are not sheep and will certainly refuse to be herded into any fold which is not to their liking. The lesson of the University of Kansas may be pointed out here. This year under the quota system, 205 freshman women came into the university for rush week. Previously the result of rush week was general satisfaction, but this year fifty-four of the 205 went home angrily before classes even began. Included was the daughter of the governor of the state.

True, the fault was largely with the women but the fact remains that it is difficult to appeal to a woman's reason with a quota.

Torch Selects 7 Senior Women

Givens, Barnard, Tucker, Leavell, Keisker, Taylor, Livesay Are Honored

Five senior women, Dorothy Givens, Rose Lynn Barnard, Janet Tucker, Jane Leavell, Marion Keisker, Bernadine Taylor, and Ardelle Livesay were tapped by the Torch Society at a service held during the last week of the 1936-37 school year. The society is an honorary organization formed to recognize women students who have attained a high standard of leadership on the campus.

Members are required to be in the upper fifty per cent of the school in scholarship rating. Offices are awarded according to the highest number of activity points. For the coming year Dorothy Givens will be president, Rose Lynn Barnard vice-president, and Janet Tucker secretary-treasurer.

Dorothy Givens, president, won third scholarship honors her freshman and sophomore years and is now secretary and the only woman member of Alpha Theta Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity. She is president of the Y. W. C. A., having formerly been the organization's secretary for two years, and is for the second year secretary of the Christian Union Cabinet. For three years she has been a student assistant in the Greek department, and was a pledge to Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Rose Lynn Barnard, vice-president, is president of S. T. A. B. intersorority, secretary-treasurer of the Elections Commission, vice-president of the Women's Panhellenic Council, treasurer of Chi Omega, and Y. W. C. A. member. She was feature editor of the Sou'wester last year, editor-in-chief of the Co-ed Edition of the paper, elected to the April Fool Carnival Court and the Beauty Section of the Annual, and chosen football sponsor for two years. In her freshman year she was secretary-treasurer of her class.

Janet Tucker, secretary-treasurer, is president of the Episcopal Club and president of the Women's Athletic Association. She is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority and captain of the sorority's basketball team. She was chosen for the Girls' All-Star Basketeers last year.

Jane Leavell is president of the Women's Undergraduate Society which now includes former Sanhedrin powers, is a member of the Women's Panhellenic Council, the Southwestern Players, and is president of Chi Omega.

MALCOLM PARKER WINS FELLOWSHIP

Graduate Of 1936 Will Study Biology At Georgia

Malcolm Parker, class of '36, has been awarded a graduate fellowship in biology at the University of Georgia. Parker, who graduated at Southwestern with distinction in biology, has held a scholarship for the past two summers at the Reelfoot Lake Biological Station, of which Dr. C. L. Baker is the director.

During recent years, Parker has centered his attention upon an exhaustive collection of frogs, snakes, turtles, and salamanders of the Tri-State, from which he has gathered data for a monograph on reptiles and amphibia to be published in the near future.

While acting in the capacity of research assistant in biology at Southwestern, Parker wrote two articles, one on amphibia and reptiles and one specifically on snakes and snake bites. The articles were published in the Annual Report of the Reelfoot Lake Biological Station, which is distributed to the leading libraries and scientific institutions of the world.

CARLSON TO BROWN

Maurice Carlson, who graduated in 1936 with honors in English and Greek, has been awarded a fellowship at Brown University in Rhode Island where he will teach English while studying for his doctorate.

At Southwestern, Carlson edited the Journal for two years. Last year he got his M.A. degree from Vanderbilt.

Sigma Nu Opens Campus Lodge At Frosh Dance

Dedication Ceremonies Held Last Friday

DIEHL MAKES ADDRESS

Fraternity National Officer Also Present

Opening celebrations for the completion of the new Sigma Nu lodge were terminated last week with an open house for the student body on the afternoon of September 20.

Other festivities included a freshman dance on the night of September 14, the formal dedication on the afternoon of September 17, and a dance for the alumni and active chapter that night. Mr. Malcolm C. Sewell, general secretary of the fraternity, George Tomlinson, inspector of the twentieth division, and Dr. Charles E. Diehl, president of the College, made dedicatory addresses at the afternoon ceremony.

Erection of the lodge, which was designed by Herbert M. Burnham, was begun nearly a year ago. The delay in construction was due to rains and freezing weather last winter. The floor plan includes a living room, stair hall, bedroom and bath, pantry and kitchen on the ground floor; chapter room, study room, recreation room, and shower room downstairs, and space for five or six bedrooms upstairs. The upper part will be used for the present as a pledge meeting room.

The entire financial proceedings were carried out by the Sigma Nu House Corporation of Memphis co-operating with the active chapter and the national offices. The Sigma Nu Mother's Club, an organization composed of mothers and wives of Sigma Nu's in Memphis, has completely furnished the lodge in oak furniture.

Three New Members

at Union Theological, and his Ph.D. at Edinburgh.

This is the first teaching he has done in nine years. His last post as instructor was at Union Theological Seminary in 1928. He has been preaching in Tazewell County in Virginia for the past nine years, where he first began preaching. He has been instrumental in starting three churches in a county where there was none.

He is jovial and interesting to talk with. He has a well-modulated voice with a southern inflection. He is tall and athletic.

He likes fried spring chicken "very much." He "tries" to play tennis, but so far hasn't found any Southwestern professors who play.

Professor Liston was born in Aniston, Ala., but has called Virginia "home" for the past seventeen years. He likes Southwestern "very much" and is sure he is going to enjoy his stay here.

Prof. Wolf, who will teach English, is a native of Batesville, Ark. He took his A.B. degree at Arkansas College in Batesville, where he was first interested in chemistry. While a junior assistant there he taught elementary chemistry to Prof. J. R. Meadow, now professor of chemistry here. Prof. Wolf later became interested in literature and took his M.A. degree at Vanderbilt.

Since then he has taught at Arkansas College, at Johns Hopkins University and at Goucher, a women's college in Baltimore.

His two specialties in English literature have been the modern period and the seventeenth century. He is particularly interested in the drama.

An ardent collector he has exhibitions of stamps and butterflies which were gathered several years ago and is now chiefly interested with his father in a wild flower collection which is among the largest in the state.

Student Council Controls Frosh

Sanhedrin Abolished; Council Appoints Mobley To Govern Men

Abolition of the Sanhedrin Council and the placing of freshman discipline into the hands of the Student Council was announced in student assembly last week. All freshmen are directly responsible to Miss Jane Leavell, president of the Women's Undergraduate Society. The freshmen are under the supervision of Henry Mobley, vice-president of the student body.

The revised regulations are as follows:

1. Freshmen must not walk on the grass.
2. Freshmen must enter Palmer Hall by the front door only.
3. All freshmen must wear placards bearing their names in letters at least one inch in height.
4. Freshmen must know the first and last stanzas of the Alma Mater by Thursday morning.
5. Freshmen are to wear the freshman cap, and freshettes are to wear the school colors in ribbon from shoulder to waist.

Freshmen who fail to comply with these rules will be reported to their fraternities for discipline, or in case of non-fraternity men, to the S Club.

There will be an opportunity for freshmen to lift these regulations during the half of the Vanderbilt game, October 9, by winning a tug of war with the sophomores. If the freshmen win, they are free; if they lose, they are under discipline for another week.

Though Chester asserts that the Aztec pyramids, the floating gardens and a gory bull fight were the high points of the trip for him, Dr. Cooper says that Chester was partial to the serenitas and Sanborns, the restaurant where the date during their two week stay in Mexico City.

"I didn't like France," said Fred Dickson who spent two months in Europe, after telling about his arrest, for reasons unrevealed, by a French gendarme. Following this meeting with th law, he says, "Then I flew to England" which he toured in an Austin, visiting kinfolk in Wales. Before the Paris episode, he was attending the University in Heidelberg, Germany. While there, he met Anne Williford, Louise Donelson, Richard Chauncey, Jim Merrin, and H. R. Holcomb.

Prof. M. E. Porter spent a quiet month in northern Canada, visiting Prof. C. L. Townsend and studying the French Canadians of Trois Pistoles, a " quaint " village on the St. Lawrence. The nearest movie was 40 miles away, the icy temperatures of the river made swimming impossible, and dancing in the village was forbidden. He found this section of the country, where the French flag is flown above large pictures of their Majesties, George VI and Elizabeth of England, an excellent place to study the French language which is spoken almost exclusively. The coincidence of the trip happened in New York. While looking through the Tennessee directory on top of Radio City, he happened across the name of Jane Alvis, who attended Southwestern last year.

Spending the greater part of the summer working on his Arkansas novel in Kent, England, Prof. C. P. Lee also visited the Casparis in Germany, "looked at an Alp" in Switzerland, went through Paris, and returned to America. The book may be finished during the winter and

McDonald Appoints Committees to Investigate Driveway, Other Projects

The first meeting of the Student Council for the 1937-38 session was held last Monday at 1 o'clock. Clark McDonald, president, appointed committees to investigate and carry out motions made by the members.

The pictures of James Hughes ('32) and Harvey Drake ('33), do not appear in Southwestern's Hall of Fame in the Library of Palmer Hall. Charles King was asked to investigate and secure their replacement. McDonald placed Jim Breyspraak in charge of arrangements for a new cabinet, which will hold the pictures of the five seniors who were selected for the Hall of Fame last year.

Gerald Burrow is chairman of the committee with Sam Hill and Jane Leavell to draw up a new oath which will be used every year in the future for the installation of officers.

In the interest of campus beautification and improvement, two committees were appointed, one to investigate the possibility of a road encircling the fraternity houses and one to estimate the cost of planting a hedge

"will probably be on the spring list." Accompanying Prof. Lee to England, Richard Chauncey went on to Holland and Germany where he took part in the Southwestern reunion at Heidelberg. While there he rejoined Prof. Lee and went to Switzerland and France. One of his most interesting experiences was singing American songs with 21 girls from a New Jersey finishing school while crossing the English Channel.

According to authentic reports, all that Anne Williford remembers about Germany is that she took a bath while there, and that it costs extra. Another story told about her is that she bought dozens of postcards and then couldn't remember where they were from.

After crossing the Atlantic on a three-week freight boat, playing bridge with the crew in the fozzie, and three months on the continent, H. R. Holcomb, globe trotter extraordinary, returns to Southwestern and his public with the statement, "Everything in Europe is so foreign." Accompanied by Jim Merrin, he toured Scotland, England, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and France. He met Anne Williford in London and went on the Canterbury pilgrimage "in the steps of Chaucer and Harry Bailey." Calling Jim a prevaricator, he says, "I disagree with anything that Jim has said about Europe."

Undergraduates Give Tea

Jane Leavell, And Mrs. Townsend Receive

The Women's Undergraduate Society entertained last Saturday evening with their annual tea complimenting both old and new women students. The tea was held in the cloisters of Palmer Hall from 3 to 5.

The receiving line was headed by Jane Leavell, president of the society, and Mrs. M. H. Townsend, dean of women. They were assisted in receiving by Marion Keisker, vice-president; Dorothy Givens, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Janet Tucker, president of the Women's Athletic Association.

at the side of the tennis courts. The road committee consists of Ward Archer, chairman, Sam Hill, and Fred Dickson.

Sam Hill made a motion that the Student Council appropriate funds for a monthly luncheon for Service Club members. Jim Breyspraak is chairman of the committee to ascertain the cost. Sam Hill and Fred Dickson are his committee members.

McDonald will discuss with President Diehl the advisability of affiliation with the National Students' Federation of America. The entrance fee is $25.

Jane Leavell's motion for the appropriation of $12 rather than the customary $10 for this year's undergraduate tea was passed.

Henry Mobley made a motion that the Student Council appropriate sufficient funds to buy a rope for a tug-of-war during the half of the Southwestern-Vanderbilt football game. The funds were granted.

Freshmen have been turned over to the "S" Club for discipline during rush week by the passage of Sam Hill's motion in favor of the medium.

Herbert Bingham reported that a committee appointed by the Christian Union Cabinet will investigate the possibility of allowing the Student Council to sponsor dances in the gym. The suggestion will be presented at the next synod meeting here in October.

Plans are being made and will be discussed at the next meeting of the Student Council for a Student Directory.

"BAND IMPROVED" STATES TUTHILL

Membership Has Been Increased To Between 40 And 50

"Southwestern has a somewhat better band than last season's," says Professor Burnet C. Tuthill, director of music, and adds that "several excellent players from the freshman class and an experienced new drum major, a transfer student, have been added to the band, bringing the total membership up to between 40 and 50. Professor Tuthill urges all capable players to attend band practice and invites those wishing to learn to enroll in his instrumental classes.

The musical score of a new Southwestern song, "Onward Southwestern" by Benny Davis, is being prepared, and the song will be taught to the student body in chapel at an early date.

The names of the new members of the Southwestern band are: William Moorehead, Charles Gallagher, Allan Fischer, J. A. Costello, O. Collins, Bill Bobo, Bland Cannon, J. W. Wood, Johnson, and Rodgers, the new assistant drum major.

IZZY'S MOVES Izzy's Shoe Store has changed locations. The new Izzy's is situated at Madison and Second, announces Ewing Carruthers, campus representative.

Lynx Impress Fans in Debut Against Indians

Backs Run Wild To Score 10 Touchdowns

SMITH STARS AGAIN

Junior Halfback Gains 85 Yards In 10 Tries

Running roughshod over the Indians of Arkansas State, Southwestern opened the 1937 football season last Saturday night at the Fairgrounds Stadium with an impressive 67 to 0 victory.

Scoring ten touchdowns, the Lynx backs proved their offensive power. Not so capable as the backs, the line nevertheless worked well enough to hold the Indians to two first downs.

The lightness of the State team as well as its short period of pre-season practice must be taken into account as handicaps.

Statistics for Southwestern:

Passes attempted: By Morton, 7; by Sasser, 4; by Neal, 2. Passes completed: By Morton, 1 to Perry for 19 yards, 2 to Smith for 60 yards; by Sasser, 1 to Wilson for 26 yards; by Neal, 1 to Wilson for 30 yards, 1 to Sasser for 30 yards.

Passes incomplete: Morton 3, smothered once for 10 yard loss; Neal, none; Sasser, 2, smothered once for 20 yard loss.

Punts: By Morton, 2 for 98 yards; by Sasser, 1 for 17 yards. Average punt 38 yards. None blocked. None returned.

Times ball was carried: By Smith, 10 for 85 yards; by Neal, 13 for 85 yards; by Sasser, 7 for 18 yards; by Morton, 7 for 55 yards; by Wilson, 3 for 56 yards; by Pitt, 2 for 2 yards; by Jennings, 7 for 64 yards; by Perry, 1 for 3 yards.

Touchdowns by running: Wilson 1, Morton 2, Neal 2, Smith 2.

Touchdowns by passing: Sasser 1, Smith 1.

Touchdown by falling on kickoff: Neal.

Extra point: Hebert 1, Wilson 2, Chappell 2, Porter 2.

Passes intercepted: By Perry, 2; by Sasser, 1.

Yards lost by running: Sasser 4, Neal 2.

Fumbles: Sasser 1, recovered; Chappell 1, lost; Smith 1, recovered.

Penalties: Southwestern 4, Arkansas State 2.

Yards gained: Southwestern 293, Arkansas State 45.

Yards lost: Southwestern 6, Arkansas State 37.

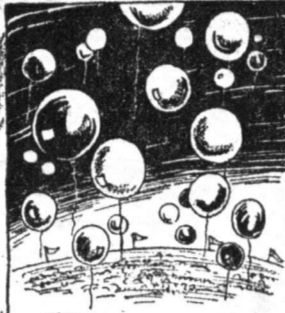

Arkansas State attempted 10 passes, completed 3, incomplete 4, intercepted 3.

FRESHMEN ATTEND 2-DAY ORIENTATION

Prof. Rhodes, Monk, Atkinson, McIlwaine Speak

Freshman Orientation began Wednesday morning in Hardie Auditorium at 8:30 o'clock when more than two hundred new students were greeted by members of the faculty. Devotional exercises led by President Charles E. Diehl were followed by addresses from Prof. P. N. Rhodes and Prof. S. H. Monk. All officers of administration were introduced by President Diehl, including the Bursar, the Registrar, and the Librarian.

Classification tests and measurements occupied the two hours from 10:00 to 12:00. At 12:30 each student met his faculty advisor, with whom he dined at 1:00 in Neely Hall. Physical examinations for men and women consumed the rest of the afternoon.

Illness Keeps Both From College Duties

The Rev. S. E. Howie, director of public relations at Southwestern, and Dr. Robert W. Hartley, professor of mathematics, both absent because of serious illness, are convalescing.

Dr. Hartley suffered an attack of appendicitis while on an automobile tour of the West and was forced to remain in a hospital at Salt Lake City, Utah. During his absence, Dr. Ogden Baine is conducting his classes.

Mr. Howie, also suffering from an appendectomy, is recovering at the Methodist Hospital in Memphis. He ercises were conducted by Dr. W. O. Shewmaker, followed by addresses by Prof. A. S. McIlwaine and W. R. Atkinson. Physical examinations for women and classification of all new students completed the two days of orientation.

Sports Shorts

Did you know that Alabama's captain and alternate captain for this year were classmates in high school . . . that Sam Agee, fullback at Vandy last season, would not be back this year . . . that Coach Propst smoked about five cigars a game . . . that he doses the boys up on chewing gum before the game and gives them a lump of dextrose (sugar to you) at the half . . . that a football player's menu before a game is one poached egg, dry toast, and hot tea, and after the game a steak supper . . . that the Saturday night crowd was the largest opening game crowd that the Lynx ever played before . . . Porter Chappell had a brother who starred at Alabama several years ago?

Our choice opening game in the South is the Vanderbilt-Kentucky encounter in Nashville Saturday; we pick Vandy . . . the biggest thrill of last Saturday's game was Rex Wilson's 45-yard dash for a touchdown. . . . Gaylon Smith's old knee injury of last year was apparently forgotten in his touchdown dashes. . . . The band displayed itself elegantly in its debut this year—nice work, Maestro. . . . After Lou Faquin's successful tennis tour this summer, we are mighty glad to welcome him to Southwestern this year. . . . We were mighty glad to see our stars of yesterday at the game, notably Bob Lee, Scott Chapman, Cy Williams and Dorsey Barefield. . . . Congratulations to the Student Service Club on the way in which they handled the crowd. . . . Did you notice Mobley's assistant water-boy Propst carry water to the team at the time-outs? . . . Coach Propst says he will put his backs up against any in the country. . . . Sasser carries the ball like Dixie Howell of Alabama. . . . Don't forget to follow your favorite back in the statistics at the end of the football story. . . . Don't miss the Union game Saturday night at the Fairgrounds. . . . Hope we can handle Union easier than Roosevelt does the C. I. O. . . . Our stock certainly dropped Monday afternoon when Smith left the field with a sore shoulder which was thought to be a split collar bone but later proved to be only a slight bruise; he will be ready to go Saturday. . . . Our corps of blocking backs continued to be riddled when Childress dropped out because of guys like Byron, Keats, and Shelley. . . . Winfrey is still using

Dooley Broadcasts Again

Dartmouth's All-American Star Opens New Series

It's a sure sign the football season is on again. Dartmouth's famous All-American quarterback, Eddie Dooley, is back on the air over the Columbia coast-to-coast network every Thursday and Saturday with his last-minute football news.

In addition to firing away each Thursday with his uncanny predictions of the week-end results and reviewing the highlights of the games each Saturday, Dooley plans to have leading football coaches and authorities as guests on his programs from time to time.

And speaking of authorities, Dooley himself is considered by football followers as one of America's outstanding experts on the game. Jock Sutherland, the well-known Pittsburgher, once remarked that Eddie Dooley had done more for the game of football than any former college star he knew of. At the present time, in addition to being constantly in demand for magazine articles on football, Eddie Dooley is holding down an important berth in the sports department of the New York Sun in association with well-known sports writers like Grantland Rice and George Trevor. His training and background as one of the outstanding field generals the East ever produced, has given him remarkable insight into the whys and wherefores of football plays and his judgment on football news makes his broadcasts far beyond ordinary interest.

the crutches, so it looks like Littlefield has quite a job by himself. . . . Hammond is doing well with the Bears of Chicago, we hear. . . . The papers are putting the pressure on Major Sasse at Mississippi State by picking his team as number one down in Dixie. . . . The cheering section sounded like a morgue after the third touchdown. . . . Ole Miss has taken to the air as a means of transportation this year. . . . The freshman team has a wealth of material on it and looks mighty promising.
