How To Be Popular—The Backwards Way

Next Wednesday afternoon, at the Women's Panhellenic perennial backwards dance, many things will happen—new feuds for olds, as 'twere. This is rather early to be giving advice to those poor saps who will be forced to attend, but at least you can't say we didn't blow our horn.

Fellows, it's like this. Most of the girls you're going with have never dated nice boys, so loosen up, scatter sunshine, and please be as thoughtful as they are when your date drives up for you, whether it be a chevy or Elise Smithwick, be waiting on the front door step, with your hat on ('That's a gentle reminder she's not supposed to come in.)

On the way to the dance, be talkative, so as to give the driver an opportunity to concentrate on the road. Upon arriving, be sure and put your coat under everybody else's in the checkroom so it'll take you an hour or so to recover it at the end of the dance. Then, during the dance, chew gum with your mouth open, smacking it if possible. This gives such a charming undertone to the orchestra's music. If you don't know the tune being played, hum it in your date's ear.

Aside from these pointers, you don't need to know another thing. I'll bet you're the hit of the show.

K. A. To Entertain Saturday Night

Johnny White To Play For A Fair; House To Be Decofated In Frat Colors

Kappa Alpha fraternity will honor its pledge group Saturday night at a dance to be given in the fraternity lodge. The house will be decorated with the lighted crest and the fraternity colors. Music will be furnished by Johnny White and his orchestra. During intermission refreshments will be served.

Among the members planning to attend are: Hotchkiss Young, president, with Martha Moore; Fred Dickson, vice-president, with Jane Leavell; Wendell Whittemore, secretary, with Lillie Roberts Walker; Mac DeMere with Dorothy Miller; Wallace Moore with Catherine Hollinger; Jake Niehuss with Dorothy Fabrin; George Griesbeck with Mary Louise Burkle; Oscar McDaniel with Linda Catherine Terry; Richard Chauncey with Sarah Greer; William Marshall with Ellen Bronsing; Warren Prewitt with Bernadine Taylor; Pyne Tucker with Mignonne Cates; Neal Brien with Ethel Merrin; Rowland Darnell with Ouida Robinson; Van Downie with Virginia Mangum; Henry Walker with Mary Jane Warden; William Murreh with Betty Jane Claffey; Harris Patton with Harriet Pond; Jac Ruffin with Marion Dickson; P. S. Weaver with Carolyn Carroll; William Jemison with Geryl Allen; William Derrick with Ann Tuthill; Alfred Page with Margaret England.

AUDACIOUS COED ARRAIGNS SOUTHWESTERN'S MANHOOD!

By PRISCILLA COED

There are almost three times as many men attending Southwestern as women. Is it any wonder, then that this "mere handful of males", aware of their "value", are taking advantage of the all-but-powerless females? Poor girls!—victims of circumstances. These men daily becoming more arrogant and insufferably conceited. About what is a minor mystery. They fritter away their time courting campus favor or loafing in the Lair or "S" Club room.

Now these boys have the common bond of conceit to bind them together into one group. But since their methods differ so markedly, they must be classified, or at least distinguished nominally.

The most prominent and prevalent type of conceited male on this campus is the "physical powerhouse". His brute strength and athletic prowess entitle him to be the center of the stage. Second type is the "personality plus" gentleman who generates his own light and struts like the proverbial cock. Third place is occupied by the "intellectual snobs" who speak to everyone, almost.

Orley Nettles Will Captain Lynx Team Next Year

Junior End Elected Last Night At Banquet

SMITH IS ALTERNATE

Richard Parker Voted Most Valuable Player

Orley Nettles, towering end, was elected captain of the 1938 Southwestern football team at the annual banquet held last night at Hotel Claridge. Gaylon Smith was chosen alternate captain, and Richard Parker was voted the most valuable player for the 1937 season just ended.

Nettles succeeds George Jennings, a senior, as leader of the Lynx and has been first-string end for two years. In 1936 he teamed with the brilliant Henry Hammond to give Southwestern two of the best ends in the whole south. This year Nettles was bothered with an ankle injury and could not play the kind of ball he is capable of.

Smith assumes Clay Nickells' role of alternate captain. Nickells, like Jennings, is a senior. Smith was leading scorer in the Dixie Conference during the 1937 season and was rated one of the hardest driving backs the Lynx had ever put on the field. Smith will probably be chosen on the all-conference eleven.

Parker was a varsity guard for three years and played almost every minute of every game Southwestern played this year. He, along with Smith, will probably be chosen on the all-conference eleven.

Club Plans Speakers

Will Conduct Services At Sanitarium, Plans Thanksgiving Basket

Speakers to be heard soon by the Ministerial Club were announced by Bruce Crill, vice president, at the meeting last Monday at 1 o'clock in the Bell Room of Neely Hall. The Rev. Alfred Loaring-Clark, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, will address the club next Monday. Judge Camille Kelley of the Juvenile Court will be followed on the next week by Dean Israel H. Noe of St. Mary's Episcopal Cathedral, who will lead a discussion on some aspects of "Mysticism".

Activities of the club in the next few weeks include providing a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family and conducting services at Oakville Sanitarium and at the Crippled Adults Hospital.

Last Sunday, the club sponsored a service at the county jail with the members taking part. Robert Montgomery led the devotional with William Bobo furnishing some special music.

MANY SOUTHWESTERNERS WILL TAKE TRIPS ON THANKSGIVING

Southwesterners are making the most of their one-day Thanksgiving holiday and planning flying trips hither and yon. Mississippi claims most of the travellers with the Ole Miss-Miss. State football game, attracting lots of attention. Mary Elizabeth Harsh, H. R. Holcomb, Mary Hunt, and Shepherd Tate are going to Oxford together for the fray. Ann Williford, Billy Hasselle, Emily Lee and Jack Terry will also make the trip together.

Gerald Burrow's nome in Tunica, Miss., will also be the scene of a Southwestern get-together. Sis and Mary Ann Owens, Ward Archer, Ralph Turley, Nan Bloodworth, Richard Jones, Lucille Coleman, Bob Foley, and Profs. Boeker and Lee will spend the day there. Minna Deen Jones is planning to visit in Jackson, Miss.

Tennessee seems to have its share of attractions, too. Elise Smithwick is driving to Nashville for the Vanderbilt-Alabama game and Harry (Snake) Phelan will take in a family reunion at his home, Trenton. He plans to supply the banquet board with quail potted by his trusty .12 gauge. Susan O'Brien is journeying to Sewanee for the dances in progress there, but sleuth as we might, the man in question remains a deep, dark mystery.

Ila Joy Lenti is visiting Mildred Lou (Phil) Hubbard in her home at Blytheville, Ark. They will not divulge their plans for entertainment, either, so something must be afoot. Dictator McDonald is anticipating a high and hilarious Thanksgiving. He insists he will spend the day working. Such is the life of a student body president.

Picture Contest Planned By Club

Camera Club Will Award Prizes For Year's Best Pictures; Membership Closed

The Camera Club exhibition, displaying enlarged photographs of the Southwestern campus, athletic events, extra-curricular activities, and portraits, will be opened to the public before the Christmas holidays. Any member of the student body who has taken pictures this year which might be of interest to Southwestern is invited to submit the prints or negatives to Prof. Ogden Jaine, director of the club, or to Shepherd Tate. Any clear print, provided the negative is accessible, is eligible to be hung in the exhibit.

Valuable prizes will be awarded for the best pictures entered in the exhibit. Photographs submitted by any member of the student body will be as eligible for prizes as those entered by members of the club. In addition to prizes, the enlarged reproductions will be given to each contestant.

Prof. Baine announces the selection of James Carpenter as a new member of the club. The membership, limited to ten, is now closed.

Non-Sorority Group Elects

Ardelle Livesay Will Head Newly Organized Women

Non-sorority women on the campus have organized and elected the following officers: Ardelle Livesay, president; Joy Newburger, vice-president; Nancy Millen, secretary; and Harriet Foote, treasurer. Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock has been set for the regular meeting hour.

Lunch in the Bell Room and a matinee party to see Victoria the Great on Dec. 14 will be the first social function of this group. As yet no sponsor has been chosen.

Rhodes Committee To Meet

Dec. 16 Is Date; Two Will Be Chosen For District Competition

The state committee on selections for Rhodes scholarships to the University of Oxford will meet at Southwestern on Dec. 16 to choose the representatives from Tennessee. Two will be selected from the state to compete for the district nominations. Four students are chosen annually from the eight districts throughout the United States.

Clark McDonald and Lewis Donelson, members of the senior class, have made their applications as residents of Tennessee and will appear before the state committee here.

Former Coed Heads Cast

Doris Bowden Has Lead In L.S.U. Speech Department Play

Doris Bowden, senior at Louisiana State University and former student at Southwestern, will have the feminine lead in Karel Capek's play, "R. U. R.", to be presented soon by the University's department of speech.

Miss Bowden was a member of the Southwestern Players while here and a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

DIRECTORY OUT SATURDAY

The Southwestern Student Directory will be on sale Saturday, Nov. 27. This directory, published by the Student Service Club, will contain the names and addresses of all students and will be sold for the price of 10 cents.

Men's Panhellenic Will Give First Formal Tonight

Peabody Continental Room To Be Scene

MISSOURI ORCHESTRA

Grand March To Be Feature Of Tri-Annual Event

The Men's Panhellenic Council will give the first of its three formal dances of the year tonight from 9 until 1 o'clock in the Continental room of the Hotel Peabody. The University of Missouri orchestra will play for the event and there will be three no-breaks and three specials. A feature of the evening will be the grand march led by the Panhellenic Council and their guests.

Members of the Panhellenic Council who will receive with their guests are: James Breyspraak, president, with Elizabeth Jones; Fred Dickson, vice-president, with Doris Cullings; Sam Hill, secretary-treasurer, with Roberta Smithwick; Erskine Falls with Claudia Yergler; Ewing Carruthers with Mary Nell Porter; Hotchkiss Young with Marie Bender, Val Huber with Priscilla Schumaker, Steve Frazier with Hazel Burns of Birmingham, Ala.; Jack Terry with Emily Lee, Ward Archer with Olive Owens, Levon Self with Harriet Pond and Clark McDonald with Elizabeth Cobb.

Teams Will Debate Dec. 15
Coeducation Is Topic As Drake Squad Meets Southwestern

The Southwestern debating team, under the direction of Prof. C. P. Lee, will meet four women, representing Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, on Wednesday afternoon Dec. 15, at 4 o'clock, in Hardie Auditorium. The team, consisting of Herbert Bingham, H. R. Holcomb, Steve Frazier, and Norman Shapiro, will argue the side "Resolved: That Co-Education is Undesirable." Two members of the team will open the debate, and the other two will make the rebuttals.

Lynx Cats Complete Season

Another football season has been completed and the barber shop quarterbacks are well supplied with material for another nine months of "Well what they should have done was..." The Lynx Cats' record of six victories and four defeats has been more than a little disappointing to many students, because so much was expected of the team which beat Vanderbilt in '36.

In the first place then they were at a disadvantage for having a lot expected from them. It is the usual thing for the highly touted to bite the dust in this paradoxical pastime football.

In the second place there were a great many casualties. This is probably nobody's fault but somehow or some way those boys ought to take better care of themselves or have better care taken of them. Mr. Wilson Murrah, the Commercial Appeal sports writer, says that our boys are delicate and not near so brawny as they look. Maybe this is the reason for all the injuries.

The losses to Vanderbilt and Centre were by no means ignominious. Vanderbilt, of course, is a football power in a higher domain than Southwestern and Centre proved itself the strongest team, on one particular day at least, that the Lynx met all season.

The Hendrix misfortune was purely the result of bad psychology on the part of the team if not the coaches. The Howard game proved that knowing when and how to kick the prolate spheroid through the decorated uprights at the end of the field may be tantamount to a Dixie Conference Championship. And the first period touchdown against Centre would also have meant a tie if there had been an educated toe on the field.

So you see that all four losses can be explained away. Next year will be another year.

Economic Convention Held

Prof. R. C. Hon Attends Gathering At Knoxville, Tenn.

Prof. R. C. Hon attended the economic convention of all the Southern states at Knoxville, Nov. 5 and 6. "The convention was of much interest to me," said Prof. Hon, "as many of my professors from North Carolina and a former student of Southwestern, Henry Oliver, were present."

Among the speakers were Calvin Hoover of Duke University who gave the presidential address, Prof. S. K. Huber of Emory University who read a paper on "Some Aspects of Changing Relations Within the International Price Structure", and Mr. David E. Edlenthal, an official of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

C. U. Plans Xmas Tree

Committee To Conduct Campaign For Organ In Chapel

George Jackson, Betty Wells, Janet Tucker, and Bruce Crill were appointed as a committee to make preparations for the annual Christmas tree sponsored by the Christian Union Cabinet. The Christmas tree is held every year for some underprivileged children of the city. Contributions are received from the fraternities, sororities, and various other organizations on the campus.

A committee composed of Harriet Pond, H. R. Holcomb, and George Jackson was appointed to begin plans for a fund to buy an organ for the chapel.

A $10 donation was sent to aid students in China.

The Men's Panhellenic Council requests that no tickets be given or sold to any one not a student or an alumnus.

Prof. Tuthill To Chicago

Will Attend Meeting of National Music Association

Prof. Burnet C. Tuthill will leave Friday to attend a two-day meeting of the executive committee of the National Association of Schools of Music in Chicago.

Before returning he plans to visit Western College, at Oxford, Ohio, and the University of Kentucky, at Lexington, to study the music departments.

ORIENTAL RECORDS ADDED

A group of Oriental records have been added to the collection owned by the music department. The selections include interesting examples of modern and classical drama from China and Japan, sung out in the native language. Representative music from India, Bali, Tunis, Egypt, and Persia comprises the rest of the numbers.

Go to THE ALAMO On the POPULAR PIKE

Party Line

Friday night drew some of our most eligible males to the High-School Pan, where they found that their superior college "line" was received pleasingly with many bashful smiles—among those who found delight in this were Erskine Falls, Cecil New, Bobby Ackerman, Waddy West, and Harry Webb (a college graduate and still at it). The few college girls who were there had to listen to all the raving going on about all the beautiful adolescents.

Strangely enough, the most popular person at the game proved to be Mr. B. P. Holloway, the dietitian, who showed his Boy Scout instinct by bringing along a little charcoal stove. . . . Freddie was apparently thoroughly enjoying Eugene Grissom's company while Sasser was giving all he had to the pigskin. Only those behind the scene would understand why that night the radio dedicated "Everything You Said Came True" to Jimmy and Freddie. . . . Lou Faquin's showing up with Elizabeth Tidwell showed it can last. . . . After what was said in chapel about Pat Davis not being able to get a date he tried to prove he could by talking up his stock to Lulu Coleman all during the game. He even went Sir Walter one better by giving Lulu his blanket; this explains the icicles dangling from his ears. . . . Granville seems to be keeping his love life well balanced between two blondes—Stoltzenburg and Bronsing—at the game the weight of his attentions were on his date, Ellen.

At the Zeta dance damsel Steuwer was thoroughly enjoying the feud between Buddha and "Old Man" Dabbs for the privilege of the leadout. . . . We would like to express our deepest sympathy to Floozie over the loss of his "One Love"—that HAT!!! It seems that Floozie made his mistake by handing it to Bob Lee, who was deprived of riding the campus of this blight by Rex. With a swift movement Rex had the hat and was heading for the fire. By the time Floozie got there black smoke and a satisfied expression were on Rex's face. . . .

We thought that the Tri-Deltas were giving a "Big Apple" party, but under the leadership of Greer the crowd began to give competition to the name of Nijinsky. The main followers in this graceful exhibition of the Russian Ballet were Billy Derrick, Jane Harsh and Billy Murrah. . . . Up in the balcony were Ruth Nixon and Eugene Massey having a private trucking party of their own.

Rumors are out that "Girl Shy" Carruthers (No, not Ewing!!) has broken down and gotten a date for the Pan—Congratulations, Henning. . . . An apparently progressive romance worth mentioning is that one between Clois and Annie Few. . . . The way Draper dominates Fred Gage is obviously turning him into one of those "hen-pecked" things. . . .

Kitty Face Morton thought he could bring his out-of-town girl to a nice quiet Sunday supper in Neely Hall. The rest of the diners, however, thought otherwise, and by popular demand he had to introduce her to the assembled populations of Stewart, Calvin, Robb and Evergreen Halls.

BAND PRACTICES NEW PIECES

The Southwestern band, under the direction of Prof. Burnet C. Tuthill, began practice on three new concert pieces yesterday. The selections consist of "Prelude and Fugue", by Bach; "The Heavens Are Telling", by Haydn; and "The Bayou Song", by Bloom. Prof. Tuthill also announced that the band will march in the Spirit of Christmas parade Friday.

REVIEWER COMMENDS TATE IN REVISION OF HIS POEMS

"SELECTED POEMS" by Allen Tate Reviewed by Hillsman Taylor, Jr. (Ed. Note: This book is a recent addition to the College library.)

From three previous books of his poetry Allen Tate has selected fifty-four poems which have been brought out this month by Scribners in the volume "Selected Poems." Although Mr. Tate gives us no new poems in this book, some of the poems have been rewritten, and changes have been made in lines of his popular "Ode to the Confederate Dead."

From the volume "The Mediterranean and Other Poems" (1936) he has retained all but one poem. And the title piece of that book he appropriately places first in this volume. Accordingly all of the poems are placed in the book in a reversed order from which they were written. This is significant in considering the importance of this collection. Mr. Tate's later poems are, to an extent, fuller expressions of "the ideas" behind the more fragmentary, earlier ones. To say the least, such of his poems as "The Subway" can be grasped more quickly if the reader is acquainted with "The Mediterranean."

Student Recommends Brooks Art Exhibit As Culture Exercise

By GEORGE GAGE

There are only three days left to pay a visit to the bestiary of Anna Hyatt Huntington at Brooks Art Gallery. Put it on your must list if you want an exercise in culture, for the sculpture on exhibit is a complete expression of an individual technique and of an idea for art. Animated life with the emphasis on physiological correctness if not aggrandizement makes up the core of this idea. Her result is a candid camera shot of an animal (tiger, greyhound, zebra, jackass) in hard action; it is the quintessence of the American tradition, the esthetic of the Hartford Fire Insurance calendar.

Mrs. Huntington inherits her physiology and naturalism from her father, a star pupil of Agassiz, and her art would gladden the heart of any papa scientist. Her animals really look like animals; there is no need to stretch the imagination to see the resemblances. The piece labelled "Greyhounds Playing" is fine. It has all the features of her technique: strained muscles, idealized shape and structure, minute details, action caught for an instant, a carbon copy of animal emotions, and, in short, a delicate handling of the very difficult material of bronze. The crouching and stalking tigers are good studies in lines; the amusing monkeys are likewise worthy of respect in this category. There is a large work called "Youth Taming the Wild," a young man breaking a Norman horse, which is vilely vulgar. It is the object of supreme admiration for most of the exhibition-goers.

"Joan of Arc," "El Cid Campeador," and an oh so chaste "Diana of the Chase" are Victorian-romantic, overly reminiscent of cut-glass casters and Lady Baltimore cake. Except for these very statuesque pieces the exhibit is a remarkable example of homogeneity. It is entertainment for the whole family.

Going Places

with Hammond X.

With all due respect to the product of Neely Hall and to the amazing consumption of Mrs. Holloway's peanut crackers, your earnest snoop still believes that the students of Southwestern have an appreciation of good food. Also, it is believed that they would possibly be interested in a variation on the show, dance, and soft drink form of nocturnal entertainment. Hence, from time to time, the more interesting dives, joints, and hang-outs about town will be visited for the purpose of compiling an encyclopedia gastronomica.

Chili and Castanets

First on the list is the "Sombbrero", located on Lamar, half a stone's throw and two Suzie Q's from the carline end. The place is run by an amiable person from the south of Texas. Mexican food is served for the American palate, but seasoning is applied on request. If it is requested, be sure to order some cooling liquid also. The food is well-cooked, the crowd mannerly. Music is supplied by a lethargic string band. Chief entertainment, and a welcome relief from swingaroo, is supplied by a sinuous, dark-eyed senorita, answering, probably, to the name of Carmencita, who sings in Spanish such ballads of old Mexico as, "Mexicali Rose", "Ya No Soplas", "La Golondrina", etc.

Any Port After Three

One is impressed by this changing world. Chiefest example is the sandwich-and-beer emporium which many of you will perhaps remember as the "Log Cabin", "White Way", "Broadway Inn", "Dutch Mill", etc. ad nauseam. This institution has undergone another renovation and is now "The King's Court". Let it be said that it has stepped up at least half a notch with the facial.

Uptown

If you like Iridium-and-Red Leather scenery while you munch, we recommend Conley's Tavern, situated on Madison, between Main and Front Streets. It is not, as its name implies, exclusively dedicated to the bibulous delights, but offers the usual collection of uninspired sandwiches, soups and salads. By serving Mikelob, the Tavern wins a place, if not in heaven, certainly in the hearts of the malt-and-yeast devotees. Nice place, fairly nice people.

Football Season Ends With Lynx Winning 6 Games

Team Shows Power Though Losing 4 Tilts

TWO 1-POINT LOSSES

Howard, Centre Capitalize On Extra Points

Corraling only six victories out of a ten game schedule, the Southwestern Lynx football campaign for 1937 can hardly be called a success. And yet, this in-and-out team created almost as much interest as last year's immortal eleven, the team that beat Vanderbilt.

Opening the season against Arkansas State Sept. 18, at night in Fairgrounds Stadium, the Lynx rang up a 67-0 victory over the hapless Indians, whose lack of practice and preparation was quite evident. Some 4000 fans witnessed the rout and were thrilled by the Lynx' strong running attack.

On the night of Sept. 25, Southwestern annexed her second triumph, trouncing the Bulldogs from Union University, 32-0, at the Fairgrounds on a muddy field. The score at the half was only 6-0 in favor of the Lynx, but the insertion of Gaylon Smith at the start of the second half turned the close struggle into a near rout. Sparked by Smith, the Lynx scored three touchdowns in the first seven minutes of the third quarter. The highlight of the game was Smith's 65-yard return of a Bulldog punt for a touchdown. Some 4000 fans attended.

Playing their third successive night game and their second on a slippery field, the Lynx beat the Millsaps Majors 14-0 in Fairgrounds Stadium on Oct. 2. The game was played in the rain and only a handful of spectators sat in. Gaylon Smith scored both Southwestern touchdowns.

With three victories under their belt the Lynx marched into battle with the Vanderbilt Commodores on Oct. 9 in Crump Stadium and suffered their first defeat, 17-6. Showing a surprising weakness against passes, the Lynx fell prey to the short, bullet-like heaves of Bert Marshall and Lonnie Hollins. In the waning seconds of play, "Kite" Morton passed to Gaylon Smith for the lone Lynx tally in the most thrilling play of the game. About 12,000 fans looked on.

Weakened by injuries suffered in the Commodore game—four ends were on the shelf—and the victim of over-confidence on the part of the coaching staff, the Lynx lost their second verdict of the season the following Saturday to Hendrix College, 21-7, in Little Rock. Expecting a "breather" and suffering a letdown from being keyed too highly for the Vandy fray, Southwestern was at the mercy of the alert, tricky Warriors from Hendrix. In this game, Gaylon Smith failed to score—the only team during the year to hold the Beebe gun who hits like a 16-inch shell.

Smarting from the two successive defeats, the Lynx journeyed to Birmingham Oct. 23 to begin a new winning streak at the expense of the Birmingham-Southern Panthers, 26-7, in a night game played at Legion Field. Jimmy Sasser, Gaylon Smith, Clay Nickells, and J. P. Cavender scored touchdowns as the Lynx rang up their first triumph on Birmingham soil since Coach R. C. "Shorty" Propst became mentor.

Returning home, Southwestern ran her new winning streak to two and dispelled her second jinx in a row when the Lynx toppled the Chattanooga Moccasins, 20-13, in Crump Sta-

Figures Give Edge To Prayin' Colonels

Passes attempted: By Morton, 4, completed 1 to Smith for 2 yard loss, 2 intercepted, 1 incomplete; by Sasser, 3, completed 3, 1 to Bergfeld for 29 yards, 1 to Jennings for 3 yards, 1 to Jennings for a 2 yard loss, 1 intercepted, 1 incomplete; by Neal, 3, completed 2 to Smith, 1 for 5 yards, 1 for a 2 yard loss, 1 to Nickells for 10 yards, none incomplete or intercepted. Punts: By Morton, 5 for 172 yards, average punt 34.4 yards, return of 10 yards; by Sasser, 4 for 159 yards, average punt 39.7 yards, return of 34 yards; by Pitt, 1 for 35 yards.

Times ball was carried: By Morton, 1 for 2 yard loss; by Sasser, 11 for 21 yards, average try 1.9 yards, loss of 21 yards; by Smith, 7 for 20 yards, average try 2.8 yards, loss of 2 yards; by Nickells, 3 for 2 yards, average try two-thirds yard, loss of 2 yards; by Wilson, 6 for 4 yards, average try two-thirds yard, 1 loss 8 yards.

dium. The "hide-out" pass from Morton to Sasser which resulted in a Southwestern score was the stand-out thrill of the day. The Lynx victory was the first any Southwestern team had ever scored over Chattanooga.

With the championship of the Dixie Conference at stake and a chance to put to flight their third jinx in a row, Southwestern's place-kickers were off form on Nov. 6 and the Lynx Cats bowed to the Howard Bulldogs, 13-12. It was a heart-breaking decision to lose. The Lynx were stopped on the Howard 6-inch line by the final whistle. If Southwestern had won, it would have been the first time a Southwestern eleven had vanquished the Bulldogs.

Coming back strong after the Howard defeat and with only two days of practice, Southwestern showed her real strength on Armistice Day-Homecoming Day and walloped the inexperienced Wolves from Loyola of the South, 40-0, in Crump Stadium. The Lynx played inspired football before the alumni. The blocking was better than it had been all season. Jimmy Sasser brought the crowd to its feet with a 90-yard run to a touchdown on the opening kickoff.

Closing the season last Saturday against Centre College's Prayin' Colonels, Southwestern's weakness in the point-after-touchdown element of football appeared again and the Cats were beaten 7-6. The day was cold but some 5,000 fans turned out to see the Lynx close their disastrous season.

In the course of the ten games the Lynxcats gained some 2,148 yards to 1,433 yards garnered by the opposition. Gaylon Smith was leading ground gainer with 568 yards. Jimmy Sasser, with 317 yards, was second. Smith was also leading scorer with 14 touchdowns for a total of 84 points.

Some sort of Southwestern record should be claimed for Gaylon Smith. His point-total and yardage-total are higher than that any other Lynx back has achieved in one season. And his feat of scoring in nine of ten games should also be a school record.

The Daily Texan is waging an intensive campaign to clean up the campus "eating joints." Cooperating with the Texan is the state board of health, which found the "joints" with very antagonistic attitudes.

Centre Defeats Lynx Cats 7-6 In Final Game

Southwestern Ends Season With .600 Record

SECOND 1-POINT LOSS

Smith Scores Fourteenth Touchdown In Vain

Ending a .600 season the Lynx were defeated 7 to 6 by Centre College last Saturday afternoon at Crump Stadium before a crowd of 5000 shivering spectators.

The score does not indicate the superiority of the Praying Colonels over the outclassed Lynx. Southwestern was outplayed the entire game with the exception of the first eight minutes when the Lynx, on a pass from Sasser to Bergfeld, put the ball on the Centre 6 yard line, and Gaylon Smith in two attempts went across the goal for his fourteenth touchdown of the year. Nettles' attempt to place-kick he extra point was wide. For the second time this year failure to convert cost the Lynx a game.

In the second period the spectators were treated to a rare sight when they saw a team which could come back. A pass from Herrington to German with the conversion put the Lynx on the short end of a score which turned out to be final.

It was easy to see that the Lynx had met a superior team in the last three quarters of the game. Time after time the Colonels were within scoring distance, but their offense failed to click, and they were held for downs.

The Lynx attack was bottled up and only a few passes were effective. Sasser and Smith played well in the Lynx backfield but were overshadowed by German and Herrington of Centre. Harry Morris and Buddha Hammond were the stars for the Lynx line and Davis of Centre was a pillar of strength until he was removed from the game in the last quarter with an injured knee.

Southern Will Play Howard For Title

On Thanksgiving Day a Dixie Conference title hangs on a bitter inter-city rivalry between Howard College and Birmingham-Southern of Birmingham, Ala. Howard will be battling for a third consecutive title. Howard's record for the present season against conference opposition shows four victories without a setback while Birmingham-Southern has five victories and a lone reverse.

If Southwestern is to finish undisputed second in the race Howard must emerge with the victory sending Birmingham-Southern down to third place. However, it is the consensus of the Southwestern team that Birmingham-Southern showed a superior aggregation against the Lynx in dropping a 26-7 game than did Howard in eking out a 13-12 triumph.

If Southern wins the Lynx will tie for second with Howard.

Sports Shorts

By JACK PILKINGTON

It was mighty hard on the eight seniors to lose their last game, but it should not hurt them too much because Centre is undoubtedly the best team with the exception of Vandy that the Lynx met this year. . . the line was on par with the one Vandy exhibited here, but the backfield was not quite as good. . . Some impressions from the season: The prettiest block of the year was Harry Morris hitting Davis of Centre last Saturday; the prettiest run of the year was Jimmy Sasser's return of the kickoff against Loyola; the hardest tackle of the year was the one with which Carl Hinkle knocked Morton out in the Vandy game; the prettiest pass was from Morton to Sasser on the layout play in the Chattanooga game; the Lynx were at their best against Loyola and Southern; at their worst against Hendrix and Howard; for the most consistent and best all round back, we nominate Jimmie Sasser; for the unluckiest guy in football we guess Morton; the most underrated player on the team and the best end we have is Buddha Hammond; the best kick of the year goes to Gus Pitt on his 65 yard boot against Howard from behind his goal; the toughest break was losing the Dixie Conference title to Howard by six inches; our nominations for prospects for the all Dixie Conference team: Arnold Hebert; Richard Parker; Jimmie Sasser; Gaylon Smith.

The prospects for a winning basketball team are bright with such stars as Smith and Neal, All-Dixie team last year, Self and Garrison returning, along with Virgil Cox, a newcomer to the ranks who is counted upon to fill the vacancy left by Billy Lapsley. The team should be able to hold its own against all opposition. Practice is scheduled to start Monday.

The Turkey Day tussle in Nashville between Alabama and Vanderbilt is a sure sell-out, but Alabama is a favorite to win not on its showing lately but on its unblemished record.

DR. DIEHL TO RETURN FRIDAY

President Charles E. Diehl will return Friday from Belton, Tex., where he represented Southwestern officially at the inauguration of G. G. Singleton as president of Mary Hardin-Baylor College on Nov. 24. He has been gone since Monday.

K. S., K. D. WIN PRIZES

Kappa Sigma and Kappa Delta won the McLean Pharmacy prizes in the recent contest announced in the Sou'wester.

Wicket Practice To Begin Monday

Propst, Hug To Be Co-Coaches Of '37-38 Basketball Team; 4 Regulars Back

Planning to handle the coaching duties jointly, Coaches R. C. "Shorty" Propst and Paul Hug issue the call for basketballers next Monday.

With most of last year's team returning and with good material coming up from the frosh, the co-coaches have what appears to be another winning team. Last year's team went to the finals of the Dixie Conference tournament.

Clois Neal and Gaylon Smith, all-conference selections last year at guard and forward respectively, return this season and Propst and Hug plan to build this year's Lynx quintet around these two men. Smith, a three-letter man, is one of the sharp-shooting forwards a Southwestern basketball team has ever boasted. Neal, also a three-sport man (football, basketball, track), handles his guard position in first-class style and runs Smith a close second for court honors.

With Levon Self to take care of the center duties; Virgil Cox and Clois Neal at the guards; and "Red" Garrison and Gaylon Smith at the forwards, Southwestern should have one of the strongest teams in the conference. Up from last year's freshman squad are John Slaughter, John McGrady, and W. J. Hearn. These three men with Alvin Wunderlich, reserve guard last year, are conceded the best chances to crash the starting lineup.

The Lynx schedule is far from being complete with only two games with the Sewanee cagers being definitely set. And the dates of these two games have not been settled.

Sigma Nu Downs S.A.E. In Soccer

Lou Faquin Scores All Goals In 3 To 1 Final Round Victory

Kicking out a well deserved triumph over Sigma Alpha Epsilon 3-1 in a rough and tumble soccer final, Sigma Nu annexed their first intramural championship yesterday. In the final consolation round Kappa Alpha needed only to register an appearance to take off the title as the Non-Frats failed to place a full team on the field.

In the semi-finals Sigma Alpha Epsilon turned back the Kappa Sigmas 4-1, and the Sigma Nus repelled Alpha Tau Omega 2-0 as they gained the championship bracket.

Louis Faquin led a fast first period attack for Sigma Nu and they jumped into a 2-0 lead as Faquin booted two goals in the first five minutes. To start the second period Waddy West made a free kick good for the lone Sigma Alpha Epsilon tally. Faquin counted again shortly before the half.

Credit should be given the Sigma Nus for displaying the best brand of soccer seen in the tournament. Their goals were primarily the result of excellent team play in bringing the ball within scoring distance where Faquin was able to ram it through the goal. Otho Collins and Justus Edrington were instrumental in carrying the Sigma Nu offense.

"Epic Of America" Over Radio Sunday

The radio premiere of James Trustlow Adams' "Epic of America," will be presented by the Radio Division of the WPA Federal Theatre over Station WOR and the complete Mutual Broadcasting System Sunday evening from 8:00 to 8:30 o'clock.

Dr. Adams granted gratis to the WPA Federal Theatre the radio rights to his book. For more than a year "Epic of America" headed the best-seller lists in this country, primarily because of its popularization of the little-known causes of history, rather than the well-known effects.

Alfred Wallenstein will direct the Simfonieta Orchestra in the musical background for "Epic of America." Leo Fontaine adapted the book for radio.

The Educational World Pennsylvania Officials Establish Institute To Study Government

Realizing, perhaps, that the caliber of government officials has deteriorated in other ways than morally, the University of Pennsylvania has established an Institute of Local and State Government, made possible by an anonymous gift of $240,000.

The new institute will enable the university to place increased emphasis upon training for citizenship and public service. One of the objectives is to collect information pertinent to government, and to conduct research into problems which the development of its program and consultation with local and state officials may indicate as most important.

Courses for the Undecided
 A new educational opportunity for students undecided on their life plans and for those not working for degrees, arranged by the college of arts and sciences at Ohio State University, went into effect this autumn quarter.

Under this program most of the customary requirements are waived until students have the opportunity to explore various fields under the guidance of experienced counselors. The plan is expected to benefit:

Students planning to remain in college only one or two years with no expectation of completing a course leading to certificate or degree.

Students who can remain only a year or two because of limited finances.

Students desiring to try out different courses before making final selections of a college curriculum. When the selection is made, these students will transfer to one of the regular curricula leading to a degree or certificate.

The state of Pennsylvania is looking for college men to fill some of the 500 vacancies in the motor police force. "There is quite a good future in this force for young college men," said Commissioner Percy W. Foote.

Many coeds of the University of Kansas (where the quota system is used) are up in arms over the present rush situation on the campus. They favor deferred rushing to allow girls to become better acquainted with the students and houses during the first semester. Deferred rushing, they think, would make it ridiculous to get a lone rushee in her room and unloose to her arguments mixed with sobs and tears. One coed called rush week "The most barbaric thing ever invented in modern times."
