Contribution Deadline For Stylus March 31

The deadline for contributions to Stylus is March 31, John Turpin, president, has announced. Short stories, essays, one-act plays and poetry may be turned in to any member of Stylus before that date.

Contributors are requested not to put their names on the work. But they will receive a number from the member who accepts the contribution.

Publication of the magazine is planned for the first week in May.

STUNT NIGHT DRAWS NEAR

Sororities and fraternities on campus are preparing skits to be presented at the annual Alpha Omicron Pi Stunt Night, which will be held in Hardie Auditorium Saturday, March 12, at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are fifty cents and will be on sale Wednesday in the cloister. Special sections are reserved for each sorority and fraternity until Saturday morning, when remaining tickets can be sold to anyone. All proceeds go to the Frontier Nursing Home, the AOPi national philanthropic project.

Last year Kappa Delta won top honors among sororities and Kappa Alpha walked off with the fraternity prize. Again this year the sorority and fraternity judged as giving the best performance will be presented with a gold loving cup by the president of AOPi.

KD and ATO Top Scholarship List

The Dean's Office has released the grade averages for the first semester of this school year. The scholastic averages for sororities give the lead to Kappa Delta with a phenomenal record of 3.0051. Zeta Tau Alpha ran second with a score of 2.9527. The entire sorority average was 2.8436.

Of the six fraternities, Alpha Tau Omega had the highest average with 2.7063. Second was Pi Kappa Alpha with a record of 2.4341, with Sigma Nu running a close 2.4260. The all fraternity average for the first semester was 2.3447.

The class averages ran thus: Seniors (94), 2.970; Juniors (101), 2.863; Sophomores (127), 2.397; and Freshmen (173), 2.295. As usual, the coeds excelled over the men by about half a point.

Kefauver Against Pact With Chiang

"It would be a horrible mistake and a poor moral and legal action to become involved in a Chinese civil war."

United States Senator Estes Kefauver, speaking before the students in the ninth Free World issues talk, presented this view of the Far Eastern situation.

"Japan and India are two great bastions of democracy in the Far East," Kefauver said, adding that the United States should be devoting utmost efforts to strengthen these countries against the advances of Communism.

Against Mutual Defense

Explaining why he voted against the mutual defense pact with Nationalist China, Senator Kefauver said: "Chiang (Kai-Shek) is a sinking star. He represents colonialism, which is on the way out in the world.

"We know he doesn't have a chance of getting to the mainland (held by Red China) without U.S. aid. And other nations of the world are not going to stand behind us if we render this aid."

Isolationism

Senator Kefauver also pointed out a resurgence of isolationism in this country, and asked for "support of a unified program enabling the nation to play a part among unified nations of the world. The time has come for a long-range, far-seeing policy for all America, regardless of party. If we can stand together, things will come out all right, somehow, in the Far East."

Radioactive Dangers

As Civil Defense Administration Committee chairman, Senator Kefauver is especially concerned with the threat of atomic war. He commented on the present force of nuclear weapons as compared to the bombs which fell on Hiroshima and Nagasaki. A radioactive fallout from a test explosion in Nevada caused a manufacturing concern in Kingsport, Tennessee to shut down operations two days later. (Radioactivity ruins photographic plates.)

Because of the great danger from radioactivity and other effects of an atomic blast, Senator Kefauver stressed that "young people may be called upon in civil defense."

Senator Kefauver was introduced by Professor David M. Amacker. Edmund Orgill, Memphis businessman and close personal friend of Senator Kefauver, also spoke briefly.

Runoff Candidates Chosen For Lynx April Fool Royalty

The initial balloting for the April Fool Court was conducted last Wednesday in chapel. Each male student was asked to vote for six coeds, and each girl was asked to vote for six men. The results of this ballot determine these twenty-two finalists: Ladies: Mary George Beggs, Marcia Calmer, Marian Cobb, Dot Henning, Margaret Jones, Claudia Owen, Mary Rodriguez, Lisa Rollow, Robin Sprague, Esther Jane Swartzfager, and Marymax Williamson. Gentlemen: Joe Eades, Bob Jackson, Dave Kaylor, John Lawhorn, Roxie Lee, Holly Mitchell, Truman Nabors, Smokey Russell, Gerald Smith, Tom Tosh, and Lee Weed.

The April Fool Court King and Queen, plus all the little princes and princesses, will be chosen by student body election from these finalists next Wednesday in chapel.

SAE Will Name 1955 Sweetheart At Annual Dance

Sigma Alpha Epsilon will entertain with its annual Black and White Ball from 9 to 12 tomorrow night in the Panorama Room of the King Cotton. Bill Justis and his orchestra will provide the music.

The retiring sweetheart, Marcia Calmer, wearing a corsage of white orchids, will present the 1955 sweetheart with a bouquet of red roses and the SAE "Sweetheart" pin.

Date List

Officers and their dates will be Joe Parker, president, with Janice Mullins; Lee Weed, vice president, with Mary Rodriguez; Charles Wiese, recorder, with Martha Jane Morrison; Garland Cherry, treasurer, with Kathryn Smith; and Billy Jon Woods, correspondent, with Carolyn Milton.

Inter-Fraternity Council Proposes Rush Changes

During the past several weeks, the members of the Inter-Fraternity Council have committed themselves with untiring effort to the drawing up of a fraternity rush equity for which an overwhelming majority of the fraternity men of our campus have implored.

According to the Council, a survey of the volume of broken pledges predominantly indicates that the present system is at fault. They also believe that the lack of freshman class spirit may, to a certain degree, be traced back to "one week rush." The representatives of the fraternities attribute this to the fact that the "frosh" had already pledged before they had been thrown together enough.

Purposes Defeated

The Council says this: A dissatisfied pledge is of little value to the fraternity; likewise, that the fraternity, which is supposed to help the new student become secure in his new environment, is of even less value to the pledge. The proposed three week rush would give the freshman more time to take stock of both himself and his proposed fraternity. This year's one week rush forced the frosh to rush pell mell into orientation, pledging and adjustment to college life as an aggregate, whereas each should have special attention unto itself.

Because almost the entire male enrollment of Southwestern is working during the summer months, the Council does not feel that it is right to compel the fraternity men to come a week earlier than they would ordinarily have to do in order to rush.

Suggested Improvements

The Inter-Fraternity representatives point out that in comparison with fraternities on many other campuses, the rush system on our

"Hotel Universe" Try-outs Tuesday

Try-outs for the forthcoming play, "Hotel Universe," will be held in the Speech shack next Tuesday from 1 to 4. Prof. Ray Hill has announced that he invites all those interested in dramatics to come over.

Choir To Give Sacred Concerts

At the end of this month, the Southwestern Singers, under the direction of Dr. Burnet C. Tuthill, will present a series of sacred concerts in Tennessee and Alabama. Following their fifteen-year-old custom, the Singers, a 107-voiced group, will make a concert tour of churches and high schools in Southern states. This year some 40 choir members will visit Ripley and Covington, Tennessee; Tuscaloosa, Spring Hill, Mobile, Montgomery, Selma, Birmingham, Huntsville, and Florence, Alabama.

Matches Available in Lair; Funds To Cerebral Palsy

Got a match? The Lair now has a supply of this often scarce commodity, and there is something special about these lights.

There is no price tag on these blue covered match books. Students are requested rather to contribute to the worthy cause advertised on the front. Gifts received in return for matches will help support the Les Passees treatment center for cerebral palsied children in Memphis.

Cerebral palsy is not a disease but a disabling condition. It is caused by damage to the brain but does not necessarily affect intelligence. Approximately thirty-five cerebral palsied children are born in Memphis every year and about one half of those afflicted are educable and, with special training, can live happy, useful lives.

Les Passees Center gave over 4,500 treatments last year. By contributing in the Lair, Southwesterners can help double this number this year. Light a match for cerebral palsy.

A Fourteen-Day Trial

After two weeks of debate over the powers of the Student Council, it has become evident that the real sore spot was originally not even a part of the first editorial. The distress rather has arisen from the tense of the headline used. The editorial's head stated that the Student Council is now usurping power, but the article itself warned only that such action as had been taken, if applied to other areas of student government, would be an incorrect interpretation of constitutional authority.

We regret any ill feeling caused by the implications of the erroneous headline, and hope that the differing opinions which have subsequently been expressed concerning the basic issues will not be forgotten at times of decision.

Et Tu, Senator?

Senator Kefauver was even more embarrassed than we were amused by his faux pas the other day. As the speaker on one of Southwestern's Free World Issues programs earlier this week, the Tennessee leader stated that what the world needed was "a few more Memphis States."

Last week, the Tiger Rag, our neighbors' student publication, editorially called upon the Memphis Street Railway Company to change the name of one of its busses to read "Memphis State." The Tigers thought that would be wonderful publicity. Those of us on this side of town would suggest that the Tigers forget about their paltry local publicity. We know where they can get a pretty fair country agent: address the Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.

And while we're there—how about some busses named "Southwestern," "LeMoyne," "East High," "Miss Hutchinson's," "Second Presbyterian Church Day School," "William R. Moore School of Mechanics," et al . . . So we laughed that day, anyhow.

Re-Pate-tion

Words seep out that the sweet young things of Evergreen have formed a new knitting club with the euphonious cognomen of "Southwestern Sweater Girls Incorporated."

Joining to the last eager young woman the girls have pledged to knit at least three sweaters each before the end of this semester: one to add to the wardrobe, one for needy college professors, and one for some underprivileged elephant.

Now everyone knows how long it takes the average novice knitter to finish even a pair of argyles. So the enterprising femmes have adopted a set of resolutions giving up time-consuming distractions that might hinder their needle-working aspirations.

1. Sitting in parked cars with young male friends is silly and should be stopped. Obviously no male could be expected to discuss knitting intelligently, and since it is usually dark when one sits in a parked car with a young male friend, and since one can't knit when it's dark, and anyway, just what CAN one do while sitting in a parked car with a young male friend when it's dark, and—oh well, you see what they're driving at.

2. Kissing, holding hands, and other similar distractions should not be practiced in the social rooms since one can in no wise knit while performing them, and one would be much better off discussing knitting methods as practiced in Siam, Glocamourra, and Timbuctoo, and anyway, why aren't you upstairs knitting?

3. Kissing goodnight at the door is to be discouraged since one doesn't want the neighbors to know that one wastes one's time in such fashion, and one doesn't want to acquire germs while indulging in such an unsanitary act because one's knitting must be germ free and anyway, since that bulb above the door puts out plenty of light—WHY AREN'T YOU KNITTING?

No kissing—no sitting in parked cars—no holding hands—we'll say one thing: looks like this freshman class will turn out some of the KNITTINGEST old maids this town ever saw.

The good old Lynx Lair, having run out of types of machines to install, except possibly a water fountain, has come up with a new twist for the amusement of the student.

Two "out of order" signs have been obtained and are moved to new machines each day. Only one person knows where they are to be placed each day, and free straws are given to those who submit entries giving the correct solution as to where the signs will appear the following day.

Looks like this might rival the "Puzzle."

THE LAIR PHILOSOPHER says:

Maybe the Evergreen girls, and all other interested female types, should read Robert Herrick's poem, "To the Virgins, To Make Much of Time"—"specially that line about 'Gather ye rosebuds while ye may.'"

Campus Visitors

Prospective students who visited the campus this week were: John Ozier, Memphis; Joe Sullivan, Memphis; Jimmy Pitts, Mobile; Martha Earle, Bay Minette, Alabama; Ellza Cunningham, Jackson, Miss.; Helen McDonald, Montgomery, Alabama; Patsy Patten, Gulfport, Miss.; Nora Peterson, West Helena, Ark.; Lillian Cooper, West Helena, Ark.; Rae North, Donelson, Tenn.; Peggy Adams, Nashville, Tenn.

The Medes and the Persians were Zoroastrians, that is, fire worshippers.

with Scott Byrd

I really can't think of any way to begin my column this week; but I don't suppose that really matters since any beginning is at least a start.

At the movies you'll find a wide variety of choices to choose from. (It is nice to choose from choices, isn't it? So logical.) THE LONG GRAY LINE at the Malco stars Tyrone Power and Maureen O'Hara and is a story of West Point in its younger days. It was directed by John Ford in Cinemascope, and I think you'll enjoy it thoroughly. Another new movie about military tactics is JUPITER'S DARLING at the State in which Esther Williams goes from bath to worse and manages to stop the advances of Hannibal. If you like colored elephants, you'll love this picture. It also has Howard Keel.

Without Howard Keel

FORBIDDEN GAMES at the Ritz was the winner of the Venice Film Festival grand prize and was named best foreign film of 1954 by the New York film critics. It also has war, revealing its effects on two imaginative and death-obsessed children. You won't go wrong to see it. BATTLE CRY (another war picture!) is in its fourth week at the Warner. My advice is to ignore it, and maybe it will go away.

If THE FAR COUNTRY will exeunt from the Palace, PRINCE OF PLAYERS will enter with the story of one of America's greatest Shakespearean actors, Edwin Booth (brother of John Wilkes Booth, who disgraced the family by shooting Harriet Beecher Stowe, or someone). Richard Burton, Maggie McNamara, and Raymond Massey lead the cast through both a picture of theatrical life in Civil War America and a sampling of some of Shakespeare's greatest scenes.

That picture which adorns my column is of Russ Carlyle who opens at the Peabody Skyway on March 4. He is billed "The Romantic Style of Russ Carlyle," for what it's worth, and he features the girl singer, Frank Clark (What's in a name?), and the pianist Mike Carorda.

Long and Short Hair

Chamber music devotees will be deliriously happy to know that Tuesday night the Southwestern music Faculty will perform a Beethoven Quartet and a Ravel Trio at the School of Music.

The Horace Heidt Show will be at the Auditorium on March 9. Besides some local talent, it will feature The Ink Spots, Charlene, Rita, Kay, Cookie, Dorie, Mitzi, and many, many others whom you probably have never even heard of.

PAPA IS ALL will be performed Friday and Saturday nights at Memphis State. It's a play.

Players Incorporated of Washington, D. C., will present Shakespeare's JULIUS CAESAR Saturday night at LeMoyne College. This drama follows right along in this week's gay war motif. The Players Incorporated are probably the outstanding semi-professional theatre company in the U. S., so their burying and, praising of Caesar should be well worth watching.

The Unusual

Another outstanding dramatic presentation will take place Saturday at Goldsmith's auditorium. It's called "The Seven Rings of Capezio," and Rita Cox is involved in some subversive way.

Except to tell you to watch for the "12" production of AMPHITRYON 38, later this month, I can't think of any special way to stop this column, so I'll just say go ON THE TOWN! and let it go at that. And I do mean go ON THE TOWN!

Tri Delta Names Officers For 1955

The new officers of Delta Delta Delta sorority were announced at the sorority's Sugar 'n Spice Ball last Saturday night at the Gayoso.

Ann Barr, president, was presented with a bouquet of yellow roses, by the retiring president, Vera Watson.

Following the announcement of officers a trophy, presented to the Ideal Tri Delta elected by the chapter each year, was awarded to Jean McLean by Bettie Worthington, last year's Ideal Tri Delta.

Other officers include Robin Sprague, vice president; Sallie Myhr Thomas, recording secretary; Sandra Ellis, corresponding secretary; Jane Burns Campbell, treasurer; Elaine Vickrey, marshal; Frances Van Cleave, chaplain; Anne Hixon, Panhellenic representative; Betsy Bell, historian; Martha Jane Morrison, librarian; Carolyn Townes, publicity chairman; Joy Hays and Betty Andrews, house chairmen; Jane Barr and Sarah Adams, service projects chairman; Diane Worthington, social chairman; Sarah Jane Sessinger, recommendations chairman; Laurel Speir, rush party chairman; Mary Ada Latta, scholarship chairman; Harriet Byrd, music chairman, and Kathryn Dean Thompson, WAA representative.

Margaret Jones has been elected as the chapter's nomination for the national Tri Delta Leadership Award.

Chi Beta Phi Picks Officers

At its regular meeting last February 25th, Chi Beta Phi, honorary scientific fraternity, elected its new officers for the coming year. The new president of Chi Beta Phi, replacing John Mays, is Malcolm Whatley who was initiated into the fraternity last fall. He is a physics major, and is in his junior year.

The new vice president is the same as the old vice president, Tommy Richardson. Tommy is a junior chemistry major, and was initiated into the fraternity in the fall of 1953. The new secretary, succeeding Mary Rodriguez, is Jenny Hurst, a junior math major. Jenny, also, was initiated into Chi Beta Phi last fall. Sallie Myhr Thomas is the new treasurer, replacing Peggy Crocker. She was initiated into the fraternity last fall, and is a math major in her junior year.

Luncheon Will Climax Sorority Delta Week

The Tri Deltas began their annual Delta Week with the Trident Degree on February 22. The following Thursday the Stars and Crescent Degree, the final degree of initiation, was given the pledges. Last Saturday night, the members entertained at a Sugar 'n Spice Ball. The highlight of the dance was the presentation of the new officers and the Ideal Tri Delta.

A supper was served honoring the new initiates Monday night at the Sorority house.

The climax of the week will be tomorrow, when the big sisters compliment their little sisters at a luncheon at King's Court Smorgasbord. At this time the pledge awards will be made to the Most Outstanding Pledge, Best Pledge, and Pledge with Best Scholastic Average.

Saunders Named President of KD

Kappa Delta sorority celebrated the election and installation of its new officers last night with an open house at the sorority lodge from 6 to 8.

Nita Saunders will serve as president with Dot Henning as vice president. Other officers will be Nancy Howe, secretary; Clara Ann Marmann, treasurer; Nancy Clements, assistant treasurer; Rita Cox, editor; Mary Jane Crutcher, social chairman; and Joanna Kindig, membership chairman.

The house was decorated with spring flowers. Refreshments were served to the guests. Music was provided by Southwestern's student combo.

Lab Fire Brings Five Fire Engines

The Southwestern campus was the scene of much excitement last Thursday as twelve firemen and five fire engines rushed to Science Hall to extinguish a fire in the organic chemistry lab.

The cause of the fire was a bottle of benzene which was tipped over into boiling water.

Immediately Claude Trusty dashed to the telephone and called the fire department, but almost before he could hang up, Gene Fowinkle, whose desk is near the carbon dioxide extinguisher, and Henry Mosley had put out the fire.

Sororities Pledge 5 In Open Rush Period

Sororities extended bids to five girls in second semester rush Tuesday.

Two girls, Pat Fritz and Katherine Curry, accepted Kappa Delta bids. Shirley Polk and Elaine Dies wear the Chi Omega pledge pin. The new addition to Delta Delta Delta is Lorraine Rayburn.

Pledging services were held by the sororities this week.

Rush Changes—

They also add that although the program has been changed in the past several years, it has not been drastically changed in the past three years. The new proposed rush rules, listed in last week's Sou'wester, will, the Council contends, lessen the number of broken pledges, promote more freshman class spirit, allot time in which students may more fully discern their prospective fraternities, add another week to the working student's summer, and contribute a feeling of more well-being in the fraternities.

The Council realizes that a "utopian" rush will never be established, but they do believe that the proposed three week rush will be another step forward in more fully and adequately meeting the needs of our fraternal organizations for a more satisfactory rush period.

Choir Itinerary Planned

(Continued from Page 1) This year's tour program includes music of four groups. The first spans a period from the mid-sixteenth to the eighteenth century, and is chosen from the sacred literature of the Roman Catholic, Lutheran, and Protestant faiths: William Byrd's "Ave Verum Corpus," Luca Marenzio's "O Sacrum Convivium," Orlandus Lassus' "Jubilate," and J. S. Bach's "O Sacred Head Now Wounded."

The second is a series of three motets by Brahms—"Create in Me, O Lord, a Pure Heart," "O Cast Me Not Away," and "Grant unto Me"—which, while romantic in style, show (in the last two) the use of the fugal forms of the eighteenth century.

Summer Session Dates Announced

Registration for the first six-week term of the Summer Session will be conducted during the week of March 7 through March 12 in the Registrar's Office. Fees may be paid at the time of registration or later; but if they are paid before June 13, the student need not report until Tuesday, June 14, the day that classes actually begin.

A penalty for late payment will be assessed if fees are not paid by 5:00 P.M. on Monday, June 13.

More Added

It is most important that all prospective summer session students now attending Southwestern register during this period, as after March 12 courses for which there has been little or no demand may be dropped from the schedule. It may also be possible to add new courses to the schedule if pre-registration shows a sufficient need for them.

If a student has any doubt as to his eligibility for the courses he expects to take, he should consult his major professor or faculty advisor in advance. Bible 51-52 is not open to students whose total semester hours at the close of the present semester are less than 86.

SAE Date List

New Marker On Campus

A new marker has been placed on the college campus at the corner of Parkway and University by the Tennessee Historical Commission. The sign has print on both sides so that it can be read by many. The brief history reads as follows:

Southwestern At Memphis

Its progenitor was Montgomery Masonic College, founded at Clarksville, 1848, with Dr. W. M. Hopkins president. Renamed Stewart College, 1855 when the Nashville Synod assumed control, it became a college of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., 1861, being incorporated as Southwestern Presbyterian University, 1875. It moved here in 1925.

Raymonds Express Thanks

Professor and Mrs. Raymond would like to express their appreciation of the many inquiries and offers of help during the hospitalization of Professor Raymond. The sympathy and aid of faculty and students alike have been important factors in his recovery.

Friends of the Burrow Library Hold Meeting

The first official meeting of the Friends of the Burrow Library which was inaugurated last November at the Burrow Library Book Festival met in the Burrow Library Faculty Lounge on February 24. About forty-five book enthusiasts came to order under Chairman Edward Thompson of the Union Planters National Bank.

President Rhodes welcomed the guests and head librarian Dr. Jay W. Stein presented the main talk of the evening, "The Role of a Friend" in which he outlined the many reciprocal benefits which Friends' membership brings. He pointed out the creative potential that can come in providing and encouraging the use of adequate study materials and library resources in a fine academic library of a progressive liberal arts college. The librarian then introduced the staff of the library and conducted a short discussion after which a constitution was adopted.

Miss Mary Rodriguez is the Chairman of the Student Committee on the Library and Mr. Stein hopes that the students will show a vital interest in the Friends which are really students' friends. He says, "We judge our friends more by their character than by their numbers. The essential of a library friend is a dedication to the growth and improvement of the library as a repository of knowledge and literature and a service center for students, teachers, researchers, scholars and other creative minds. The destiny of a library is determined by its . . . Friends."

There are no fixed dues for membership, the only requirement being an interest in books and the Burrow Library. A voluntary annual gift of $1.00 or more is suggested to help cover association expenses. All are invited to join.

Loss To Howard Closes Disappointing Season

Saturday night's loss to Howard 69-63 left the Lynx with a record of 10 victories and 13 losses for the entire season. At the end of the first semester the future looked bright with a record of nine wins and seven losses. When play resumed, however, the boys were only able to stop winless Millsaps while losing to Northeast Louisiana, Mississippi College, Sewanee, Arkansas State, Mississippi College again, and Howard. Southwestern just didn't look the same although every one of the losses was to a very strong ball club and three defeats came on the opposing hardwood.

After dropping the season first two ball games on the road to Birmingham Southern and Howard, the Lynx came to life as they edged Sewanee, scared Ole Miss, and pummeled Davidson, all in home games. Then after slipping a four-point victory over Missouri School of Mines at the beginning of the Christmas road trip, they fell before Westminster and Drury and lost to Mississippi College in the Jackson Invitational tournament. Startign with a victory over Howard to take third in the same tournament, the Lynx won six of their next seven games and ending the first semester going strong. They beat Union, Millsaps, Arkansas State, Delta State, and Birmingham Southern at home and lost to Union on the road.

Lose Lead

After leading practically all the way in the Howard game Saturday night, the Lynx were unable to stop a late Howard surge in the fourth quarter. As it was Southwestern outscored the Bulldogs from the field with 24 field goals to Howard's 22, but Howard had 25 of 31 free tosses to 15 of 19 for Johnson's men. The visitors had more chances and made them count.

Center Bill Karrh and guard Marvin Breeding, who had 21 and 26 each for the night, came back strong the second half, and the Lynx' 30-29 halftime lead folded. Buster Carlisle, in his last game for the Lynx, led the team with 14. Gilliom and Winslow meshed 12 and 10 respectively.

The Southwestern freshmen won their third game of the year with a 69-43 stomping of a Memphis independent team.

All-School Basketball Tournament Decided

The all-school basketball tournament has been won by the Four Roses and a Bud. On this team were Eric Mount, Lewis Bledsoe, Tommy Buford, Jack Biedenharn, George Morris, Frank Cothran, and Earl Browne. The 4 R's and a B were unbeaten in the double elimination tournament.

The best game of the tournament saw the Old Men beaten by the 4 R's and a B by two points, 50-48. The score was close throughout the game. With less than a minute to play the Old Men had a four point lead but the 4 R's and a B poured in six quick points to win. Buford was high scorer for the game with 18 points and Tom Tosh was high for the losers with 16 points.

4 Roses and Bud Advance

The 4 R's and a B beat Carter's Pills 58-37. Mount was high for the game with 19 and Carlyle was high for the losers with 15. The same night the Wrecking Crew was beaten by the Goof-offs 46-38.
