CLASS OF '55 SETS NEW HONORS RECORD

Seven Seniors have been named to Southwestern's Hall of Fame for 1955. They are Margaret Carter Jones, Francis Hollingsworth Mitchell, Truman Donour Nabors, Claudia Owen, Mary Gertrude Rodriguez, Louise Mayo Rollo, and Esther Jane Swartzfager.

In selecting the large group, this year's Hall of Fame committee broke all precedents. Six members were named in 1931, the year the honor was first established. Since then, there have never been more than five, and often as few as three.

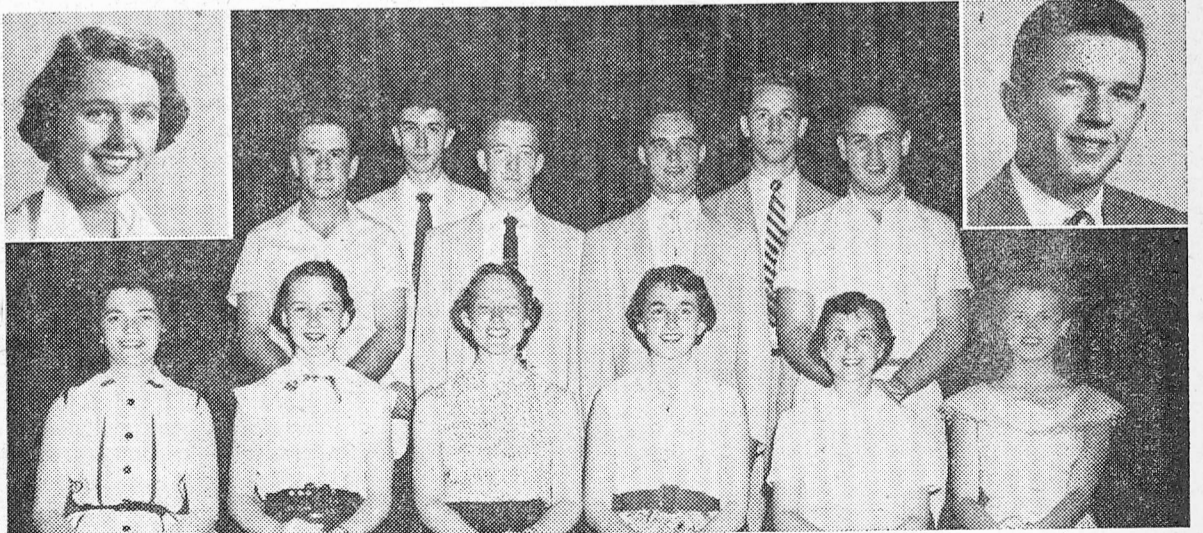

This year's members represent a wide variety of activities, and are among the leaders in campus political, scholastic, and social affairs. In spite of the record-breaking number, only four fraternal organizations and four States are represented. All are listed in "Who's Who Among Students In American Colleges and Universities."

Pictures of the 1955 choices will be hung on the second floor of Palmer Hall. The new members join a distinguished group which includes Dean of Men Charles I. Diehl, '31, and Jameson Jones, '36, who will join the Faculty this summer as Academic Dean. Among other members of the Hall of Fame familiar to the present student body are Paul Tudor Jones, '32, now Pastor of Idlewild Presbyterian Church, Julian Nall, '43, former professor of physics, Anne Caldwell, '51, Assistant to the Dean of Women, and James E. Roper, '48, Assistant Professor of English.

Complete lists of the collegiate activities and honors of the new Hall of Fame members are on page 3 of this issue.

Rules Made To Be Broken

The Student Council Handbook is to be revised this month. There are a number of instances where things stated in the present edition do not agree with current practices.

Two different kinds of items are set forth in the Handbook: those things over which the students have complete control, and those things over which the students have no control. Unfortunately, in most cases the distinction between the two is only understood, and not written.

Two Sections

For the purpose of clarity, the new Handbook should be divided into two sections telling what is controlled by whom. Further, the Student Council should be granted the powers necessary to regulate that which is within its jurisdiction, and must be assured of the cooperation of all parties concerned.

An issue of each type is now before the Student Body. The Hall of Fame, announced today, lists seven new members in spite of the fact that the Handbook sets the maximum at five; and the student library committee has met strong opposition in its efforts to compromise the more reasonable two-cent-a-day overdue book fine listed in the Handbook with the five-cent fine now charged at Burrow.

Two Examples

Inasmuch as the Hall of Fame Committee is made up of more students than Faculty members, it would seem that the students control the selections. If such were definitely stated and the committeemen bound to respect the rules of the Handbook, criticism could be avoided.

The library fine, on the other hand, is an example of regulations which must be made by someone other than students. If this is to be true and penalties are still to be assessed without regard to student protest and suggestions, the Handbook must not be misleading as to where the power lies.

Start Now

A strong Student Body depends upon an active Student Council. The new Council has many potentialities, the first of which may determine the strength of its work during the coming year.

The revision of the Student Council Handbook must be clear, accurate, and pointed.

Cater and Carter Seminar Chairmen Writers Hope For Publication

The Religious Seminar officers were elected last week and installation ceremonies will be held Saturday.

Lawrence Cater moved up from junior chairman of last year to this year's senior chairman. Nancy Carter was elected junior chairman. Sue Robinson was selected as the Seminar's representative to the P.R.C. while Don Parker and Stella Wilson were elected co-chairmen of publicity.

Students in the creative writing class led by Mr. Lydel Sims have entered manuscripts in the Atlantic Monthly's 34th annual creative writing contest. The competition, divided into three categories: short stories, poetry, and essays, is sponsored by the magazine for college students all over the country. The grand prize is a scholarship to Bread Loaf Writers Conference in Vermont for the winning student and his instructor.

Announcement of the awards will be made late in May.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Students Propose Social Changes

It is proposed that the student council take steps in having legislation passed for the improvement of the social calendar for the coming years.

In keeping with this proposal we hereby present this plan for the student body's information and consideration:

1. That four main dances be held each year.
 - (a) One dance to be the Homecoming dance.
 - (b) Second dance to be a Christmas dance.
 - (c) Third dance to be the April Fool Carnival.
 - (d) Fourth dance to be a Senior Prom which will be in honor of the Senior Class.

Four Events

2. That week-ends be set aside for school functions such as Stunt Night, All-Sing, Talent Night, and the "S" Club Dance. (This dance is usually held for the purpose of awarding letters to the previous year's spring athletes and to introduce the coming year's football squad).
3. The nights on which the above mentioned events take place will be reserved.

In Both Semesters

These week-ends will be split up between the first and second semester, which leaves free week-ends for the following proposals:

1. That every other week-end will be allotted to the fraternities and sororities respectively. On these free use, but not for announced week-ends the fraternity and sorority houses will be open for parties. Fraternity and sorority dances can still be held but either fraternity or sorority houses will be open on those dance nights for students who do not attend the dance.

Frat Parties

2. To explain the above in plainer words, one week-end all the fraternity houses could be open for free use in their respective houses. Then the following week-end the sororities could do the same and so on.

The advantages of these proposals are:

1. That there will be a place for the students to go who do not wish to go to the dances, movies, stay in the dorm, or do not have the ways and means to go elsewhere.
2. Open Houses give opportunity for town students to become more a part of the student activities on the campus.

Improve Spirit

3. It will help improve school spirit since the campus will be the center of the students' social life.
4. It will help improve co-operative spirit within the individual fraternity and sorority.

Reserved Nights will be made exclusively for the school functions mentioned in the first of the article and for no other event.

These proposals are not put forth as a perfect solution of the social problem that we believe to be prevalent on this campus, and they are open to any helpful suggestions to better them.

Sincerely,
Sarah Adams
Moe Bollinger

They do not sell cotton belts at Phil A. Halle's because the cotton belt is an area in southern United States especially devoted to raising cotton.

Most of the cotton grown in the U.S. is one of two types: Upland cotton, with a short staple, and Egyptian cotton, with a long silky staple.

Ol' Man Most On Stonedhenge Bop

Hi Kiddies:

This is your ol' dad, Ol' Man Most in the Bopster's Corner comin' on like a migraine. Thought I'd sit in for five with the Lynx Cats this week and see what's flippin' on the campus. The place is the ballest, but your nomenclature's square. Might I suggest a few names that might suit campus a tad better.

For a cool instance:

Southwestern—Stonedhenge
The Lair—Leastville
Evergreen—The Glad Pad
Science Hall—The Pickle Pad
McKinney—The Click Kick
Speech Shack—Mumble Manor
The Music Department —The Note Pad
The Gardens—The Botany
Fargason—The Play Pasture
Poochie's Auto—The Shortest
The Bursar—The Breadman
Palmer—Weirdsville
Dining Hall—The Scarf Room
Cotton Council Speaker — The Threadest

Hope you can use this bit, kiddies. It's been real, goofin' the titles. Remember, keep your chin up, a smile on your face, a spring in your step, and you're nowhere.

Yours coolly,
Intravenous de Milo.

Comps Begin May 21, Exams Start May 27

Comprehensive examinations for all seniors planning to graduate will be given on May 21, 23, and 25 from 9:00 to 12:00 in room 101 of Science Building.

Regular second semester examinations will begin May 27 and continue through June 3. An examination schedule is posted on the bulletin board outside of chapel.

Campus Challenges

An ancient religion, Jainism, fast fading out of existence, has a doctrine of "Wu-Wei"—non-striving, indifference to persons and things. Its indigent adherents hold up non-striving as a virtue, which may account for the rapid decline of Jainism as a world religion.

New Virtue

Though we may never have included "Wu-Wei" in our list of virtues, it seems that it is ever trying to push its way into our lives to frustrate all of our well-planned schedules and disciplined time allotments for hard work. This is very common among individuals in the Church (a general term), and makes itself felt in the form of a huge unadmitted unconcern for the spiritual and material welfare of other people, and in the form of outrageous neglect of those rich personal spiritual "habits" which we had earlier acquired and which had meant so much to us before.

Goofing Off

Even on the Christian College Campus which is dedicated to Christian attitudes and hard work, the very antitheses of "Wu-Wei," we find that we are not immune to the non-striving doctrine which in practice we label with the colloquialism "goofing off." This weakness is due in part to the fact that our natures are human and in part to the fact that our lives may be undisciplined (a very hard word). There are signs in the air that examinations are in the offing, that time when all of our semester's non-strivings are pointed up in a blinding light. This revelation makes us feel very guilty, so much so that we stay up all night in order to atone for our sin.

Not Too Late

Yet, for some of us, it is not too late to make our libation for our Jainistic tendencies. St. Paul admonishes us, "Whatever you do, do it heartily, as unto the Lord."

This seems to suggest two things: that our studying is put in a sacred category, and that hard work and discipline must take the place of non-striving and indifference.

Student Council Votes to Center Social Activities

When the Student Council met last night they worked hard on several proposed items which were fostered by students. The first item, which was introduced to the council by Mo Bollinger and Sarah Adams, contained several proposed changes in the social calendar. (See letter to the Editor on page 2). The point of the plan is to center activities here on the campus and thereby to build up school spirit. The motion was made and seconded that the proposal be presented to the student body.

President Joe Eades reminded the council members that there was at the present time a movement about to have the Lair stay open until midnight on Saturday and fraternity and sorority houses remain open until 9:00 p.m. without there being a necessity of chap-erons.

SWC Votes

Monday afternoon the Student Welfare Committee will vote on the proposal before it that each organization will be given one free week night each semester to have a party or other "get together" without having to have a petition go before the committee.

Don Parker, Commissioner of Social Activities, announced that he thought the student body party this year should be different from what it has been in the past. He had investigated the idea of having a mid-afternoon cruise on a pleasure boat down the Mississippi, stopping off on a sandbar to swim and enjoy a picnic lunch. Dancing would be available on the boat. The cruise

PRC Drive Lacks Sufficient Funds

The P.R.C. elected its new officers at its last meeting Wednesday, May 29. Suzanne McCarroll as Commissioner of Religious Activities will serve as president. Lawrence Cater is vice-president, Joan Womack is secretary, Tom Huff is treasurer, and Jerry Wittmann was elected assistant treasurer for the PRC drive.

As of Wednesday only two hundred dollars had been collected for the PRC Drive. This is enough to satisfy only one of its three projects. The proposed projects were: a $200 scholarship to LeMoyné College for Negroes, penicillin and other medical supplies for refugees in East Germany, and money for the International Christian University of Tokyo, Japan.

French Teacher Becomes Author

By Diane Worthington

Dr. John Pierre LeCoq, John Hay Whitney Visiting Professor of Romance Languages, has recently finished a French text-book which goes to press in June and should be on the market by September. The publishers are D. C. Heath and Co., Boston, Mass.

Original Idea

French Life and Ideals is the title of this French text which will be used by second-semester, first-year French students. Dr. LeCoq's theory behind the text is original and the methodology is a little different from that used in most books. A sociological problem is dealt with, and the material presented therein—the stories and translations—all are meaningful of French life and ideals, and are intended to convey a real understanding of French life to its readers.

Years of Work

"Monsieur" LeCoq, wrinkling his nose in a modest manner, smilingly explained, "I have worked on it for a good many years—and the publishers think—and—hope—that it will sell well." Those of us who know Dr. LeCoq, his interesting, unique method of teaching, as well as his enthusiastic, cheery personality—agree with both. We think—and we hope so, too!

Also, in this month's Modern Language Journal, is featured an article by Dr. LeCoq on "The Function of Language." Need more be said? Except—Vive French Life and Ideals! Vive l'auteur, Monsieur LeCoq!

Stylus Will Choose Eight New Members

Stylus will have its spring tapping ceremony during chapel time the first part of May. Approximately eight people will be tapped. These eight have qualified for membership by writing a prose or poetry article that will be published in the Stylus literary magazine. After the tapping ceremony these magazines will be stacked in the cloister for distribution among the students.

Stylus hopes to make their magazine the center of literary interest on the campus. This past year they have sponsored a series of successful authors as speakers to their group. First in the series of speakers this year was Shelby Foote, who recently received a fellowship to further his literary career. Stylus will continue this series of speakers next year.

The exhibit was first shown in Explorers Hall at the National Geographic Society Building in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Jay Stein said last week, "The exhibit is one of the finest of its kind I have ever hung." He praised the great variety of subject matter and the skill of amateur photographers in capturing the precise moment when the subjects were at their best.

Foreign Trees

Sam Nickey, member of the club's conservation committee, said that he also can provide trees from 20 foreign countries.

Funds to finance the only arboretum in the three-state area were appropriated after a letter from Dr. Peyton N. Rhodes, president of Southwestern was read offering cooperation in the project.

This is the second time that Margaret Ann has participated in Cotton Carnival Festivities, having represented the Ford Motor Company last year at the Crown and Scepter Coronation and Coronation Ball.

Transfer

Margaret Ann is a graduate of Miss Hutchison's School for Girls, where she was a member of Sigma Kappa Sigma and Pannettes. She entered Southern Methodist University of Dallas, Texas, in the fall of 1954 before coming to Southwestern this semester. At SMU Margaret Ann was pledged to Pi

Beta Phi Sorority.

During the Cotton Carnival Festivities, Margaret Ann will be escorted by Hervey Aycock, Jr., of Millington, Tennessee.

Neville Frierson

Miss Neville Frierson, who is a freshman at Southwestern this year, will represent Jonesboro, Arkansas, in the Memphis Cotton Carnival. Neville is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Frierson of Jonesboro, and she has resided in Jonesboro all of her life. She is the niece of former Governor Francis Cherry of Arkansas. Neville was graduated from Jonesboro High School with honors, where she was Band Queen. She received the DAR Good Citizenship Award while at Jonesboro High.

Singers

Since coming to Southwestern, Neville has been initiated into Chi Omega Sorority. Among her many campus activities, she is a member of the Southwestern Singers.

Neville will be escorted during the Cotton Carnival by Dick Crawford, also of Jonesboro.

Southwestern Coed Is Cotton Carnival Queen

Sherrye Eileen Patton Spreads College's Fame

Southwestern at Memphis is indeed lucky to have as one of its outstanding students Miss Sherrye Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lee Patton of 2758 Central. Lucky because this vivacious, lovely young lady, who is not only an Honor Roll Student, but also is active in a number of campus activities, will reign over the 1955 Memphis Cotton Carnival as Queen!

Queen Sherrye, along with King Jerry Creekmore, Jr., was crowned as Queen of the Cotton Carnival at The Crown and Sceptre Coronation at Ellis Auditorium Saturday Night, April 16, 1955.

Arkansas

Queen Sherrye is a native of Memphis, and has a background liberally sprinkled with cotton. Her grandfather, the late H. C. Patton, was president of the Little Rock, Arkansas, Cotton Exchange. Her father is head of Patton Bros. Cotton Company, and a former president of the Memphis Cotton Carnival Association.

Sherrye is in her junior year at Southwestern. She transferred here this fall from Sweetbrier College, and is majoring in history. She is a member of Chi Omega Sorority, and is active in the Canterbury Club and YWCA.

High School Activities

Queen Sherrye attended Miss Hutchison's School for Girls, and was graduated from Lausanne School. She was vice president of her high school sorority, Sigma Kappa Sigma, president of Four Seasons, and member of La Jeunesse and Junior Cotillion. Queen Sherrye made her debut last year at the Memphis Country Club.

Kept Big Secret

Queen Sherrye has known since last summer that she was to be the 1955 Cotton Carnival Queen, and has had quite a time keeping the secret. As queen, she will reign with King Jerry Creekmore during all of the many festivities of the coming Cotton Carnival Week, and, as always, will find cotton cropping up wherever she goes.

Coed Queen

Social Calendar Being Planned

Last Monday the Social Committee met and began the confusing task of planning the social calendar for next year. Don Parker reported that dates had been set aside for all sorority and fraternity dances, however, definite dates for Kappa Sigma and Sigma Alpha Epsilon formals have not been set.

Nights have been chosen for the Kappa Delta All-Sing and the Alpha Omicron Pi Stunt Night.

The committee talked over the idea of combining two sorority or fraternity dances such as was the case of the Kapp Sigma and case of the Kappa Sigma and also the AOPi-KD formal of that same year. The members of the committee were asked to take this idea back to their respective groups.

Other new officers who were installed this week are Jim Turner, Grand Procurator; Jim Napier, Grand Master of Ceremonies; John Farris, Grand Treasurer; Joe Rhodes, Grand Scribe; Dick Gil-liom and Carl Walters, Guards.

The new officers were announced at the Kappa Sigma Spring Dance last Saturday.

Poochie's Patter

Can you believe it? I'm writing my column, instead of Teddy Bear. First of all let me answer the question I've been asked so often lately. The question—"Who is Ted Bear?" Ted Bear is Robert Gillespie. Bob acquired the name "Teddy Bear" from me because I think he looks exactly like a teddy bear—a large one, I admit, but nevertheless a teddy bear. Bob has one big gripe about this—he's afraid the word will follow him to Marine camp and he will be addressed as Lieutenant Ted Bear. Don't worry, Bob, we think it's cute.

On to the news—Tomorrow night Alpha Omicron Pi will have its annual Red Rose Ball at the King Cotton. The dance is from 9-12 and all married students and spouses and males and faculty are invited to attend. It's the last dance of the year and the very last for the seniors, so y'all come—I'll see you there.

Congratulations

Congratulations to Charlie Burnett and Ann Sizer who got pinned last Sunday. Heard the KA's did a little vocalizing for Ann—and a few of the boys were not properly dressed.

Teddy Bear offered this little bit of news—the S.N.H.B.R. have been holding meetings frequently this week, and the meetings have been quite noisy, but after all, that's their purpose since they are the Society of Neely Hall Bell Ringers.

Congrats to Marty Judge, Kappa Sigma's newest pledge.

Had a flock of visitors on the campus last week. They were John Gay, Biloxi, Miss.; Pat Oberbillie, Minneapolis, Minnesota; Buck Mossal, Canton, Miss.; Lucy Joan Jarvis, Potosi, Missouri; Tucker Hart, Camden, Ark.; Betty Jane Cleveland, Jackson, Miss.; Denton O'Dell, Austin Jones, and Charles Ames, all from Holly Springs, Miss. Welcome, y'all.

Three cheers for Buster Carlisle who won second place in the calf roping contest at the Flat Creek Ranch Rodeo at Denton, Arkansas, last week. The hero will be in Melbourne this week.

Dr. John's Fad

The latest fad at Southwestern is legible writing. Dr. John Davis, long notorious for his scrawl, started this new madness when he printed his blackboard notes in English History this week. It seems that someone gave Dr. John a Penguin Book on old English italic script, and he liked it. This could have repercussions. Some students' grades might drop a couple of points if the profs could read what the exam papers say. Then again, if we could read some of the notes the profs put on our papers, we might discover their weaknesses, too.

Charlie Kennon has made headlines for his quote of the week. It refers to Senior Bible class and tests, "Thou shalt love thy Dodd with all thy heart, and thy Niebuhr as thyself." And as a Senior Bible scholar, I admit it's the best advice I know.

There has been word that a senior's life is wonderful, especially the last month. Don't you believe it—the only thing our senior thinks of is—"Comprehensives." It's become a naughtier word than Communism.

Well, that's all the news for this week. I must run back to my studies—graduation's almost here, my love—I may smile May 25.

Classmates

Queen Sherrye Patton works in order to merit her position on the Honor Roll. She is often seen busily engaged in study in the reading room of the Library. She also

Southwesterner Shirley Polk Named RaMet Society's Queen

Miss Shirley Polk was proclaimed Queen of RaMet in ceremonies at the University Club last February 18th, RaMet being one of the five secret societies which are annually represented in the Memphis Cotton Carnival. It is in this official capacity that Shirley will participate in the 1955 Cotton Carnival Festivities.

Transfers From Hollins

Shirley is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Greenfield Quarles Polk, and is a native of this area. She was graduated from Miss Hutchison's School for Girls where she was a member of Sigma Kappa Sigma, La Jeunesse, We Moderns, Decem Club, and Les Debs. After her graduation from Miss Hutchison's, Shirley entered Hollins College at Roanoke, Virginia, as an English major. She transferred to Southwestern last fall, and is a member of Chi Omega Sorority.

Days Gone By

Cotton has played a big part in Shirley's life. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee B. Wilson of Helena, Arkansas, and of Cadwallader Leonidas Polk and the late Mrs. Polk of Old Town Plantation near Helena, from which cotton was once shipped to Memphis on the Old Kate Adams.

Queen Shirley will attend many of the Cotton Carnival functions and parties in her official capacity and will be at those times escorted by her official entourage. At other times she will have various escorts, among them Bob McKnight, formerly a Southwesterner and now at U.T. Medical School.

RaMet Queen

Shirley makes her first official appearance as Queen Maat XIV of RaMet at a gala dinner dance for members at the University Club. She enters through a giant heart sprinkled with silver, wearing her official queen's robes and crown and carrying the Ra-Met sceptre. Standing guard are two masked members of Ra-Met wearing the official secret society uniform.

Miss Virginia Steele, editor of Mademoiselle Magazine, will be in Memphis to cover Cotton Carnival, and this Fashion Parade in particular, so we may well see some of the costumes in future issues of Madameoiselle Magazine.

Sophomore Party In Voorhies' Basement

The Sophomore party will be Friday the 13th in Voorhies Basement. It's rumored to be the biggest class party this campus has seen in a long time.

Couples will begin to arrive about 7 and dancing will continue until 10.

The theme of the dance will, of course, be in keeping with that one lucky day in the year, the thirteenth of Friday. Music for the occasion will be provided by a jukebox.

Suzanne McCarroll is in charge of refreshments. Hurricane lamps will furnish light at the refreshment table with punch bowls at end, and a huge black cat as the center piece.

Friday the Thirteenth

Next week's SOUTHWESTER will be published on Friday the thirteenth.

Do any of your friends — or enemies — have pet superstitions? Let us know so we can tell the world in the feature stories next week.

The SOUTHWESTER will defy every jinx in the book on Friday, May 13.

Runoffs End As Two Classes Pick Officers

After more than a week of runoffs, Dick Crawford has been elected vice-president of the junior class, and Mary Ann Lee has been elected the publications representative from the sophomore class.

New Honor Council members from the class of 1958 are Charlotte Robinson, Richard Dortch, and Jack Burge.

Louis Zbinden and Mike Cody were re-elected president and vice president of next year's sophomore class. Neville Frierson is the new secretary-treasurer, and Polly Howie is the new Student Council representative.

Three Reap Honors At Literary Meet

The 1955 Assembly of the Southern Literary Festival at Delta State last week, was attended by eight Southwestern students, Mary Francis Files, Anne Hixon, Bennie Ann Haven, Scott Byrd, Kenneth Holditch, Bill Seeds, Mary Wood McClintock, and David Lee Wood. Our students were among the more than 200 students and creative writing teachers from twenty southern colleges who participated in the program of speeches, conferences, and entertainment. The featured speakers of the morning session were Mr. Cecil Scot, the senior editor of Macmillan Publishing Company, and Dr. Bell Irvin Wiley, Emory University professor of history, and author of "The Life of Johnny Reb," and "The Life of Billy Yank."

The afternoon session was devoted to conference groups in four major fields: poetry, non-fiction, plays, and short stories. During the discussion, led by outstanding men in the various fields, the winners in the annual contest associated with the festival were evaluated.

Banquet

The night session was opened by a banquet presided over by Mr. Paul Flowers of THE COMMERCIAL APPEAL. Mrs. Kate McAlpin Crady, dialect poet, entertained the large assembly with readings from her work. Following the banquet the students and teachers present gathered in Broom Memorial Auditorium for a business session and the final address of the day, "Poetry and Modern Life," by Mr. Paul Engle, poet, critic, and instructor of creative writing at Iowa State University.

Awarding of the prizes for the best manuscripts submitted in the festival competition climaxed the day's programs. Three of the Southwestern entries won recognition: Edith Jean Cooper was awarded third place in the informal essay division for her essay, "The Best Man Won"; Anne Hixon won honorable mention for her informal essay; and Kenneth Holditch received honorable mention for his short story, "The Voice Lessons." The sweepstakes award of a savings bond, awarded annually by the Commercial Appeal, was presented to Miss Fayrene West of Delta State for her informal essay, "Detectives of the Dust."

Lynx Golf Team Takes State Championship

Trailing by 17 strokes after the first nine holes, Southwestern's golf team made a great comeback to win the Tennessee Intercollegiate Golf Championship last Saturday.

The Lynx team total for the 36 holes was 615, eight better than the host Sewanee team's 623. Far back of the champions were Middle Tennessee with 666, David Lipscomb with 702, Lambuth with 704, and C.B.C. of Memphis with 714.

Lynx Beat Memphis State After Loss To Arkansas

The booming bats of Arkansas State and the misfortunes of the Lynx fielders resulted in the Southwesterners falling to the Staters by the score of 11 to 2 here last Saturday. The Lynx bounced back on Tuesday, downing Memphis State 4 to 2.

For the Lynx Andy Gandy started on the mound but lasted only until the top of the fourth when Lynx errors plus two State hits brought across four runs. Bobby Rose was brought in the game and remained until the ninth when Neil Denley came in to finish up the game.

At the plate for the Lynx, Andy collected two singles to lead the Lynx attack. The longest blow for the Southwesterners was a triple for John Dunlap. Gandy and Dunlap drove in the two runs for the Lynx who left seven men stranded on base to eight for the Staters.

Memphis State

The City College Championship series is all tied up at one a piece after Tuesday's game in which Southwestern downed Memphis State 4-2.

Freshman Bobby Rose turned in the victory, allowing eight hits, but fanning seven Tigers, over Marty Cleary of State. Cleary won the first game last week at State 2-1 in 11 innings over Rose and the Lynx.

The two coaches, Johnson for the Lynx and Rikard for the Tigers, are working on a playoff at the present time, probably on a neutral field and maybe at night.

Gandy Triples

Southwestern picked up one run in the second on a walk by Gandy who scored minutes later on Bill Young's single. In the third Roxie Lee was safe on an error, stole second, and scored on a single by Catcher Jim Gillis. Andy Gandy, the clutch man for the Lynx all year, belted a triple scoring Gillis and giving Rose a working margin of three runs.

In the fourth Tiger's first run came on walk, a single, and a sacrifice fly.

Insurance

In the sixth the Lynx picked up the insurance run on a single by Bowen, who advanced on Young's high bouncer, and a single by Gene Maddux.

Memphis State managed another run in the eighth on a single by Cross, a grounder advancing the runner, and another single by Ginnaven.

In the ninth State loaded the bases with two out, but Rose calmly forced Cross to pop to Maddux to end the game and bring victory back to the north side of town.

Low Man

Southwestern's No. 1 man, Frank Cothran, took the individual title with a 146.

Sewanee led by 17 strokes after the first nine holes, but the Lynx cut it to 12 on the second nine. The third time around the nine hole course was an even par round for the Southwestern team, and left Sewanee with a one stroke lead.

Billy McLean, whose second round 70 was the lowest medal score, shot another 45 as the Lynx pulled away to win. Their second 18 hole total was 33 strokes better than the first round.

The new Tennessee Champs now have a 6-3 record in match play. Their only loss to a Tennessee opponent was to Memphis State. Memphis State won the TIAC Tourney the last time it was held (1953), but did not defend its title this year.

KS-Ind. Strong In Softball League

The Independent-Kappa Sig's are still leading the strong softball league. They have not lost a game since their 3-2 defeat at the hands of SAE. SAE is still in second place despite a loss to Sigma Nu. It looks like now that it will be a two-way fight between the Ind.-KS's and SAE though SN and ATO have an outside chance.

KA can be the spoilers in this league. KA is in fifth place but it has come close to beating three of the top four teams. They lost to Ind.-KS, 20-18; SN, 20-16; and SAE, 10-8.

The standings through Wednesday, May 4th, are:

Ind.-KS	7-1
SAE	5-2
ATO	4-3
SN	4-3
KA	1-6
PiKA	0-7

In games of the past week, Ind.-KS won their second game from ATO in a real squeaker 5-4. ATO was leading 4-3 when in the last half of the seventh inning with two outs and two men on base, Buck Wade hit a double that drove in the tying and winning runs. That same day SAE beat PiKA 30-3. SN avenged their earlier loss to SAE by outblasting them 16-9. KA won a forfeit from PiKA.

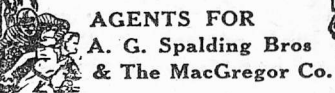

In yesterday's only game, Sigma Nu beat KA 16-4. PiKA, scheduled to meet Independent-Kappa Sigma, forfeited.

Ark. State Downs Sou'western Team

The Southwestern Cinder Men lost a dual meet this past Wednesday with Arkansas State 78-53. The meet was a good showing with several Lynx men giving good performances. In the broad jump Bob Jackson and Jim Turner turned in their best performances of the year. Jackson jumped twenty-one feet, four inches, while Turner took third with a jump of better than twenty feet. Also Jackson won the high jump at six feet, one and one-half inches. The point scoring was divided mainly between four men: Jackson, Turner, Mike Cody, and Higgason. Jackson took one firsts and one third; Cody, two firsts and Higgason, one first and one second.

The final meet for the senior team will be a dual meet against Howard College here next Tuesday at Fargason Field. On May 14th, Southwestern will host the first annual Delta Invitational Meet. So far, such teams as Mississippi State, Arkansas State, Memphis State, William Carey, and others are expected to enter. This should prove to be one of the outstanding track and field events held in the mid-south.

Run Down

Summary: Pole vault 11-6 (Tacey, Barre, Prescott); mile run (Kunz, Higgason, Cole); 440 Dash 54.5 (Turner, Turley, Browning); high jump 6 feet-1½ inches (Jackson, King, Falls); Shot put 46-5 (Armenio, Walls, Kunz); 100 dash 10.5 (Kunz, Higgason, Cole); high hurdles 17.8 (Barre, Hillburn, Turley); 880 dash 2:10.7 (Fisher, Tosh, Shaneyfelt); discus 115-6 (Armenio, Jackson, Kunz); 220 dash 24.0 (Higgason, Stovall, Cole); javelin 165 (Wills, Jackson, Kunz); 2 mile run 11:05.4 (Cody, Poe, White); low hurdles 28.2 (Turner, Street, Hillburn); broad jump 21-7½ (Falls, Jackson, Turner); mile relay 3:41.3 (Turley, Falls, Fisher, Browning).

Racquet Squad Baffled By Ole Miss and Sewanee

The Lynx tennis team started the week with a very 'Blue Monday' which lasted through Tuesday. Monday the netmen came out on the short end of the stick to Ole Miss by the score of 5-4. Tuesday we came out on the long end of a short stick by losing to Sewanee 7-2.

Upper Hand

After splitting the singles with Ole Miss, we dropped two of the three doubles. Buford, Wellford and Biedenbarn being the winners in singles and Buford-Morris in doubles. The Ole Miss team was strengthened by last year's number one man, Leighton Pettis, who didn't make the trip to Memphis when the Lynx won 7-2. Pettis picked up two points. Where the fifth came from, I don't know; but the Ole Miss men claim it's easy to find a fifth there—must be.

More Blues

Tuesday, Monday didn't look as blue as Tuesday as Sewanee handed us a 7-2 decision. Jack Biedenbarn romped to be the only winner in single. He and Welford combined to win the other point in doubles. No further comment.

Maybe all this bell ringing has been causing our boys to lose too much sleep. No comment whatsoever.

Golf and Horseshoes Will Keep 68 Players Active

Intramural golf and horseshoes began Tuesday. There will be individual and team trophies in golf while horseshoes is strictly individual. In golf each player will play 36 holes and the scores of the four lowest men in each fraternity will be counted for the team trophy.

Horseshoes is set up as a tournament like tennis, pingpong, and badminton. There are 46 men entered in the horseshoes tournament and 22 in golf.

A GOOD PLACE TO EAT

Re-Pate-tion

We've all heard the tale of the funny little man who wasn't there. Southwestern isn't privileged to have one of those, but we come close. We've got a little man who USUALLY isn't there. His costume is white on dark and his natural habitat is the back room of the Lair where he retreats whenever some cigarette-starved Zoo denizen desperately desires change for a dollar.

The little man appears only at unexpected intervals to snatch half-empty pop bottles from the unway and to sweep under the feet of some hot-shot bridge player as he frantically tries to make the seven no-trump he shouldn't be in. The first practice is, of course, only sound economics since, there being no water available, the Lair addict, particularly the female version, must invest another nickel or perish in thirsty agony.

The Southwestern League of Subversive Music Haters has at last been dealt the death blow. This group of tone-deaf dichards has long attempted to make its dislike of music universal. The League's most ingenious plan, formulated by its shrewd and unscrupulous leaders, was to have individuals play the same records over and over at full blast on the Lair's jukebox.

The dastards got their comeuppance when the price per play went up to a dime. The slot was stuffed with paper instead of coins, and the owners of the nickelodeon bore it off into the night while their screams of agony drifted back on the still, calm air. (Get the picture?)

The other day, being in the mood for something sporting, we inquired as to whether any Southwestern team was indulging in competition anytime during the afternoon. Receiving a universal "no," we wandered on about our business. Comes the next dawn we discover the baseball set had indulged in a little altercation, only no one had bothered to inform the students. Rumor has it that his fellow team members neglected to inform Bobby Rose of the event and Coach Johnson had to pitch the first three innings. The game didn't count though; nobody told the umpires to come. Didn't the athletic department ever hear that it pays to advertise?

THE LAIR PHILOSOPHER says: The two schools of thought advanced about preparing for exams and/or comprehensives are:

1. Have a good time, enjoy yourselves instead of studying, and be relaxed for the events.
2. Spend the two or three weeks before hand in diligent study.

In general the first is held to by those in Cotton Carnival; the second by those who aren't.

Next the council voted to standardize the selection of cheerleaders. There will be five girls and four boys chosen this year. The try-outs will be held next Thursday in Hardie from 1:00 until 2:00. Richards Addresses Literary Devotees

The second program in this year's literary series sponsored by Stylus was a talk by Robert Richards, book reviewer for THE PRESS SCIMITAR, and the author of numerous short stories and one novel, "I Can Lick Seven." The group gathered in Burrow Library basement recently to hear Mr. Richards explain the problems and hardships that face writers in the modern world. The decline of the importance of fiction in magazines, the possibilities for publication, and the fate of such fiction forms as the short story and the novel were among the topics mentioned by Mr. Richards and discussed by those present. Students interested in publishing their work received encouragement from Mr. Richards, who assured them that if a writer has anything to say and knows how to say it, he will find a market for his material.

War Correspondent

"One of the greatest things a good writer can do," he said, "is to make a few characters live. Some writers can only create one good character. Very few authors create more than three or four. Dickens may have been the exception." He told several interesting anecdotes concerning Ernest Hemingway. Mr. Richards was in the correspondents corps with the famed novelist during World War II.

The group was interested to learn from Mr. Richards that Shelby Foote, the first speaker in the series this year, has been awarded a Guggenheim award, one of the greatest honors an American writer can receive.

Future programs in the series have not been announced yet, but John Turpin, editor of the magazine published by Stylus, announced that the publication had gone to press. It will be ready for distribution in a few weeks.

Cancer Crusade Now Under Way

"The greatest thing you'll ever do in your life is what you do for suffering humanity."

This was the thought Bascom Jones of Nashville, Immediate past president of the Tennessee Division of the American Cancer Society, expressed in putting punch into Memphis and Shelby County's current crusade to raise $65,000 to continue the fight against cancer.

"There is no disgrace in cancer," Mr. Jones said. "Through a widespread program of public education, the American Cancer Society has impressed upon the minds of thousands this fact coupled with the importance of early detection.

"We are engaged in a crusade to help humanity," he continued. "Someday a cure will be found for cancer . . . the second greatest killer of Americans."

Month-long Drive

The Cancer Crusade is being held in cities and towns all over the nation during the month of April in an effort to raise $24,000,000 to carry on the local, state and national programs of the American Cancer Society.

Edward F. Barry, chairman of the Memphis and Shelby County Crusade, has announced that 100,000 letters telling of the need for funds to continue local work will be sent out early next week. Mr. Barry has appointed Postmaster A. L. Moreland to head solicitation of city and government agencies. In addition, volunteers will call on business and industries in the city.

Memphis and Shelby County's Crusade will close May 2 when 10,000 women call on their neighbors in a twilight Women's Crusade.

The local program of cancer control revolves around work at the West Tennessee Cancer-Clinic at 787 Jefferson, where more than 8,363 persons have been treated in the less than seven years the clinic has been in operation.

Contributions should be mailed to Cancer Crusade, Albert S. Woodridge, Treasurer, Manhattan Branch, Union Planters National Bank, Memphis.
