Higgason Named '56 Grid Captain

Southwestern's football team has elected Jim Higgason as captain for the 1956 season. Co-captain will be Bill Young. Both boys were named to the Little All-American football team recently, Higgason making the third team and Young receiving Honorable Mention.

The two captains were announced at the football banquet Tuesday night. Coach Rick Mays also announced letter winners for the season. Mays was the recipient of an all-expense paid trip to the Sugar Bowl game on January 2 for he and his wife. The trip was presented him by the Southwestern alumni in recognition of his efforts this season.

Carl Snavelly, head coach at Washington University in St. Louis, was the speaker. Snavelly, who also has coached at the University of North Carolina, which subsidizes its athletes heavily, related the advantages of non-subsidized football.

"That's the way the game should be played," he said. "Football . . . has become a big, involved operation, in which alumni proselyte athletes, presenting them gifts to attend their colleges. Education is too often neglected in bigtime football. Sure, I want my boys to win—but first I want them to get educations."

German Club Views Weihnacht Customs

The second meeting of Southwestern's German Club will be held Monday night at the home of Professor Goessling at 1753 Peach. Professor Goessling is the club's faculty advisor. A Christmas program has been planned, and carols will be sung in German. John Findert will tell the group something about German Christmas customs.

Nancy Carter Newest STAB

Sophomore Nancy Carter is the latest member of S.T.A.B. This organization is one of the two intersororities on the campus; the purpose of each is to recognize outstanding sorority women and to promote friendly relations between sorority women.

While only a freshman, Nancy was active in many organizations. She was the student council representative from her class and was chosen as "Most Typical Frosh Coed." As a Kappa Delta, she was selected Outstanding Pledge from her pledge group and now serves as chaplain of that sorority. She is a student counselor, and a member of the choir.

Congratulations, Elizabeth

Elizabeth Rodgers was named Thursday as one of 23 finalists in the National Maid of Cotton Contest. Elizabeth, a sophomore, was the winner of the Sou'wester's campus M-C contest.

AOPI Observes Founders' Day

The alumnae of Alpha Omicron Pi and active members and pledges of the Southwestern chapter celebrated the sorority's national Founders' Day with a banquet Tuesday night in the Louis XIV Room of the Peabody.

Miriam Heard of Leland, Miss., president of the Southwestern chapter, welcomed the guests. Toastmistress of the evening, Mrs. Joseph B. Faust, Jr., president of the Memphis Alumni Chapter, read the traditional greeting from the founders.

Following the greeting were toasts to the founders by Mrs. Frank Hitchings, vice-president of the alumnae chapter; to the alumnae by Miss Heard; to the active members by Beth LeMaster, president of the pledge class; and to the pledges by Marymax Williamson, vice-president of the active chapter.

Marymax Williamson was named the Outstanding Senior of the year. She is the Kappa Alpha Rose, a member of S.T.A.B. intersorority, and was an alternate winner in the recent campus Maid of Cotton contest.

SC Plans Informal Dance After Drury Game Friday

Friday, December 16, the Student Council will entertain with its traditional dining hall Christmas party. Entertainment will begin at six o'clock.

There will be a basketball game here that night with Drury. After the game there will be an informal dance in Voorhies Basement. Admission will be twenty-five cents, stag or drag. Proceeds from this dance will be applied to a fund for obtaining a "name" band for April Fool.

KD Presents Annual All-Sing Tomorrow

All-Sing, sponsored annually by Kappa Delta sorority, will be held on Saturday night, December 10, at 7:30 in Hardie Auditorium. Tickets will be on sale in the cloister Saturday morning and may be purchased outside of Hardie tomorrow night. The proceeds will go to support the Kappa Deltas' foster child, a Korean war orphan.

After an opening skit by the KD's, each sorority and fraternity on campus will sing two numbers. Delta Delta Delta will sing "Way-faring Strangers" and "The Continental"; Chi Omega will sing "Clair de Lune" and "Mood Indigo"; Alpha Omicron Pi will sing "Summertime" and "Joyous Christmas Song"; and Zeta Tau Alpha will sing "Holiday for Strings" and "Shortnin' Bread."

The fraternities and their numbers are as follows: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, "Careless Love" and "Gaudiamus Igatur"; Kappa Alpha, "This Is My Country" and "Green-sleeves"; Pi Kappa Alpha, "This Is My Country" and "Halls of Ivy"; Sigma Nu, "Ship Ahoy" and "The Old Ark's A-Moverin"; Kappa Sigma, "Mary Had A Baby" and "There's Nothing Like A Dame"; and Alpha Tau Omega, "The Sea Gypsy" and "We Kiss In The Shadows."

The judges for All Sing will be Nick Causey, Chalmers Walker, and Tommy Lane.

Delegates Named To Ohio Meeting

At a special meeting of the Protestant Religious Council Wednesday night Sue Robinson was elected as representative to the student volunteer movement, quadrennial, of the World Student Christian Federation. This international conference will be at Ohio University, Athens, Ohio, from December 27 to January 1.

Westminster Fellowship has selected as their representatives to the conference Chung Sook Pai, Sara Lee Ford, and Billy McLean. John Quinn is being sent as a representative from Evergreen church.

One thousand two hundred fifty overseas students, 1250 American students and 500 leaders will make up the conference.

Some collectors for the PRC drive still haven't turned in money. To date collections total $381.68. PRC estimates that 230 to 250 people have contributed.

The PRC will sponsor a caroling to precede the Christmas holidays. The sings will be Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday at 7 o'clock A.M. in the ATO lodge.

Senior Dick Gilliom Reads Honors Work

Senior Dick Gilliom presented a paper at a meeting of the Memphis chapter of the American Chemical Society last Saturday. The paper was a result of his honors work and was titled "Halogenative Decarboxylation of Some Pyroles." Other college students giving readings at the meeting were from Memphis State, Mississippi, and University of Tennessee (Memphis).

Dick was aided in his laboratory work for the paper by Dr. Webb of the chemistry department and Robert Threlkeld.

Freshmen Adopt Own Constitution

"We, the members of the Freshman Class, in order to establish a firm basis upon which the class may function, to define the powers and duties of the class officers, to secure better organization within the class, and to assure ourselves of a fair and consistent policy in class government, do hereby ordain and establish this constitution for the Freshman Class of Southwestern at Memphis."

Third Constitution

Thus begins the newly adopted constitution of the Freshman Class. At their first meeting, the class officers recognized the need of a constitution for the class, and began work on the document which is the third class constitution in the history of Southwestern. The first two were for the Freshman classes in 1948 and 1949.

With the class officers, a student committee of Hal Henderson, Bill Hackleman, Anne Morrison, Lee Gibbs, Michael Lupfer and Elaine Donelson, discussed the class organization as it should be, worked out the problems, and with the help of the two constitutions on file in the Student Council office, formulated the work that was presented to the Freshman class last Saturday and was adopted as the official class constitution.

Council Formed

A new feature provided for in the constitution is the Freshman Class Council which has as its purpose "To originate and direct the activities of the Freshman Class, to act in behalf of the class, promote legislation for the class, and in every way possible to execute the will of the class." The members of this council are all the class officers and elected representatives, but all Freshmen have the privilege to and are invited to attend the council meetings.

Though the council carries on many of the affairs of the class, the "supreme legislative power" belongs to "the assembled Freshman Class." The president has veto powers, but the class maintains its paramouncy as it may override this power by a two-thirds majority vote of the entire class.

KS Plans Founders' Day

The Mothers' Club of Kappa Sigma Fraternity will honor the members, pledges, and their dates with a Christmas party and Founders' Day celebration Thursday, December 15, from six to eight o'clock at the fraternity lodge. A supper of turkey and all the trimmings will be served.

A National Scholarship Award has been won by a member of the fraternity and will be presented at the party. Jim Eikner, president, will make the presentation.

Five Seniors Named ODK

In a tapping ceremony Wednesday, five seniors were admitted to membership in Southwestern's circle of Omicron Delta Kappa. ODK is a national leadership fraternity which recognizes outstanding men in the junior and senior classes. Membership is based on achievement in one or more of the six phases of campus life: scholarship, athletics, religious

Campus Carolers Sing at Hospitals

Sunday afternoon, December 11, the Southwestern Carolers will launch forth on a schedule of part-singing in hospitals, including Le Bonheur Children's and John Gaston Hospitals. Anyone who enjoys singing, whether student, teacher, or friend, and who can read music a bit is invited to join the group. Rehearsal is held briefly just before boarding cars for the caroling. All interested should meet at the College of Music, 1822 Overton Park, at 2:00 Sunday on the third floor.

The caroling will continue to about 4:00 and then the singers will return to one of the faculty member's home for refreshments.

Last Sunday, the carolers showed up in local hospitals as among the first of the season's choral groups. They visited the Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat Hospital and the Baptist Hospital. Afterwards they proceeded to Southwestern faculty homes; the afternoon was highlighted by a visit to the home of President Emeritus Charles Diehl where the carolers sang some of his favorite songs.

This is the second year the carolers have formed a group representing Southwestern.

Pianist Lois Maer Presents Concert On Tuesday Night

Continuing its series of faculty recitals, the Music Department of Southwestern at Memphis will present Miss Lois Maer, pianist, on Tuesday evening, December 13th, at 8:30 at Bohmann Hall, 1822 Overton Park Avenue. The concert is open to the public without charge.

Miss Maer has chosen a demanding program made up of familiar masterpieces and interesting works which are less familiar. Among the former are the great Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue by Bach with which the recital is to begin; the Sonata Opus 22 by Robert Schumann, which is being played in commemoration of the centennial of its composer's death; and a Nocturne and Scherzo by Chopin. Not so often performed are the Variations on an original theme, the Opus 21 of Johanne Brahms.

Quite new to Memphis is a work by the Swiss Arthur Honegger, Prelude, Arioso and Fughetta on the notes which represent the name B A C H. We must remember that in German B means B flat and H means B natural. It is a pure coincidence that news of the unexpected death of Honegger was printed in the Memphis papers of November 28th. He was one of the great among 20th century composers.

SOUTHWESTERN GRILL

635 North McLean

As in the past, Saturday night is going to be rolling around again this weekend, which means that every high-spirited on-the-towner will be out seeking frivolity and excitement, or reasonable facsimiles thereof.

Topping the list of 'things to do' on Saturday night for many of the troops is the Kappa Delta All-Sing Contest to begin at 7:30 p.m. in Hardie. After sneaking around to listen to the groups practice, we guarantee that (even though every group may not offer the quality of a Walter Shuman effort) there will be a lot of singing Saturday night.

Perhaps you will have time after the All-Sing to hit a flick, so listed below in orderly fashion are the latest flicks featured on Main Street, which together enhance the usual combinations of violence, murder, and love.

Wild Movies

For a change you might enjoy a story about juvenile delinquency such as the one which is showing at the State entitled, RUNNING WILD. It is about a group of wild rebels without causes and is pretty violent. Mamie Van Doren may possibly be the reason this is a violent movie.

Showing at the Palace are a couple of oldtimers. One is BILLY THE KID, with Robert Taylor who plays (you guessed it!) Billy—the cowboy kid without a cause. Portraying a typical, terrible, teenager, he wears a black leather jacket, black leather boots, black leather holsters, and rides a black leather horse. Generally speaking, he gives everybody a pretty rough time. This show is in technicolor though, and is a top-flight western.

Promising Newcomers?

The other feature is HONKY TONK with two promising young starlets to keep your eye on, Clark Gable and Lana Turner. Clark plays a drinking, swearing, gun-toting hero and Lana plays right along with him. The two shows are well worth the change if you like "roughhouse" and "shoot-em-ups."

Underlining the combination of love, murder, and violence, is THE NAKED DAWN. This movie is 'raw,' wild, and violent, bursting with the passions of the old west. If this appeals to you, then hasten on down to the Strand.

There are a couple of movies at the Sunset in W. Memphis, that look questionable, but are not banned, so they probably would not be worth the trip.

Beginning next Tuesday, the theatrical group "12" is doing another play at the King Cotton Theatre entitled "The Beautiful People," by William Saroyan. Professor Hill, who is in the play, spoke very favorably of it, and since it is running through the 18th, we will all be able to see it. Among the characters in this play are a girl who adopts mice and a boy who writes one-word novels.

Seasonal Events

After getting in shape for the All-Sing, a good deal of this enthusiasm will probably be carried over to Sunday afternoon when a group will gather at school to go a-Caroling. Then later Sunday, at 8:00 p.m., there will be a fine choral presentation of "The Messiah" at Calvary Episcopal Church, to enliven the Christmas spirit of all those attending.

For all of you who are going to dig the Peabody this Saturday night, please note that George Rank and his band are playing there. From what everyone is saying, including Richard, the headwaiter, George is "real George," and has a fine band.

As usual, the Ritz has imported a couple of foreign-type films; GREEN MAGIC, which is pretty thrilling, is one of them. A gentleman named Fernandel stars in THE LITTLE WORLD OF DON CAMILLO. You may enjoy this second movie. Playing at the Warner is the same show that was there last week and the week before that, featuring the same characters. It's about a rebel.

Last but not least is A LAWLESS STREET at the Malco. Randolph Scott really gets with it as a rootin', tootin', gun-toting sheriff. Hi-ho Silver!

And so, in winding up this here now column, here's wishing you the best in your caperings around, about, and ON THE-TOWN.

Lynx Drop Two, Then Beat Union

Pinpoint accuracy at the free-throw line was the key to success for the Lynx last night as they beat Union University 73-56 in a rough and ragged basketball game. Leading by only one point at intermission the Lynx gradually widened their 30-29 margin to pile up a safe lead midway through the last half. The Southwestern cagers netted 25 of 34 free throws in the second half and totaled 31 for 43 in the game. Neither team could hit well from the field.

Loss of Jim Winslow early in the game via the foul route cost Southwestern rebounding and scoring strength. Winslow went to the bench with eight points scored. Four players hit in double figures, with captain Bob Jackson's 21 joints topping all marksmen. Guard Bill Young, playing his usual fine floor game, racked up 16. Dick hit for 12 and Joe Boals scored 11 points.

The Lynx cagers made an unsuccessful trip to Louisiana last weekend, losing to Tulane and LSU. Both teams are SEC powers.

Last Saturday night in New Orleans the Greenies of Tulane ran away with a 95-50 victory. Leading the Southwestern scorers was Jim Winslow, who dropped in 14 points. Other Lynxcats hitting double figures were Billy Young with 13, and Bob Jackson with 12.

Monday night the team dropped a 72-59 decision to the LSU five. The Lynx made a comeback in the last half, outscoring the Bayou Bengals 30-26, but this was not enough to catch LSU. The play of Dick Gilliom at center was outstanding. He not only led the Lynx offensively by pushing 17 points through the nets, but held the Tiger center to just three points. Jackson made 12 and Young and Winslow both had 10.

MAKE IT A BIG RED LETTER DAY.
