

THE PAUL BARRET, JR. LIBRARY

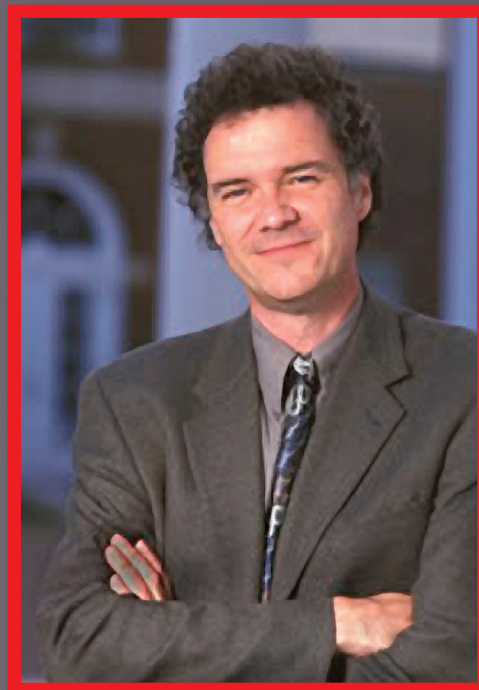

THE BARRET LECTURE SERIES

PRESENTS

EDWARD AYERS

“What Do We Need From American History?”

Featuring a Panel Discussion with students who participated in the Hoxie, Arkansas school desegregation in 1955

NOVEMBER 17, 2005, 7:30 P.M.

MCCALLUM BALLROOM

BRYAN CAMPUS LIFE CENTER

RHODES COLLEGE

Dr. Edward Ayers is dean of the College and Graduate School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Virginia and one of the nation's foremost Southern history scholars. His authoritative Internet archive “Valley of the Shadow: Two Communities in the American Civil War,” has garnered several awards for its contributions to education.

The presentation is supported by FedEx Express and their commitment to education and the Memphis community.

THE BARRET LECTURE SERIES commemorates the opening of the Paul Barret, Jr. Library with a year-long, celebratory schedule of events.

Free and open to the public

Rhodes College

—1848—

2000 NORTH PARKWAY