Admission is Free

In this one-man show, alumnus Charles Holt will portray 20 characters as he tells the story of Richard Wright, one of America's greatest black writers, who grew up in the South during the early 20th Century. Based on Wright's 1945 autobiography, Black Boy, the play is adapted by Wynn Handman, founder of The American Place Theatre in New York. Holt has performed on Broadway in The Lion King, on television in Law and Order and in such films as Autumn in New York.
