The Tennessee Historical Commission

This is to certify that

National Cotton Council Building has been entered on

THE NATIONAL REGISTER OF HISTORIC PLACES

by the United States Department of the Interior upon nomination by the State Historic Preservation Officer under provisions of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 (P.L. 89-665).

The National Register is a list of properties “significant in American history, architecture, archaeology, and culture — a comprehensive index of the significant physical evidences of our national patrimony.” Properties listed thereon deserve to be preserved by their owners as a part of the cultural heritage of our nation.
