COURSE OBJECTIVES

This course will introduce students to some of the main historical developments in the British Empire and Commonwealth during the period 1713-1970. During this time Britain gained, and lost, an empire unrivaled in human history. It is the objective of this course to understand some of the main reasons for British imperial expansion in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, and the retreat from empire in the twentieth century. The impact of empire on British political, social and economic life will be considered, as will be the influence of British culture and institutions on the colonies. Imperial ideas, the growth of racial attitudes, and other intellectual issues and social problems associated with the empire will also be addressed. It is intended that students will leave the course with a firm understanding of the nature, extent, and importance of the British empire.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

This is a lecture course with substantial reading. Students will be expected to attend class regularly (no more than three unexcused absences are allowed), to pay close attention to lecture materials, and to be prepared to discuss all assigned readings. There will be a mid-term and a final examination, both of which will be largely essay. A research paper (8-12 pages long, using a minimum of 4 sources) must be completed by November 23. Students will also be graded on the basis of classroom participation, including one discussion session conducted over the Internet by a guest professor from South Africa. Students unable or unwilling to participate in class discussions may keep a journal of the assigned readings which may be turned in to be graded. Final grades will be determined as follows: journal/class participation - 25%; mid-term examination - 25%; research paper - 25%; final examination - 25%. All assignments must be handed in by class time on the date specified. All late papers will be automatically reduced by one letter grade.
