Forego Talkfest In Crisis, NAACP Bids Sen. Russell

Marshall Says 14th Amendment Voids Jim Crow

NAACP Counsel Addresses Fisk Relations Group

NASHVILLE—An exhaustive analysis of the historical background of the 14th Amendment shows that the PLESSY v. FERGUSON decision of 1896, setting up the "separate but equal" racial doctrine, was in direct opposition to the true intent of the Amendment, declared Thurgood Marshall, special counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, in his address delivered here this week before the 7th Annual Race Relations Institute at Fisk University.

Mr. Marshall outlined this historical background in discussing the significance of the recent unanimous Supreme Court anti-segregation decisions in the Sweatt, McLaurin, and Henderson cases. Shortly after the ratification of the 13th Amendment, the N. A. A. C. P. counsel asserted, "it became clear that it was too limited in scope to insure that the (Continued On Page Six)

Sec'y White Asks Ga. Solon For Patriotism

Nation's Need For Fullest Use Of Manpower Cited

NEW YORK—An appeal to Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia to abandon the Dixiecrat filibuster against the FEPC bill, in view of the nation's need for the fullest use of manpower in the current Korean crisis, was made Friday in a wire from Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

A vote on the motion to take up the bill is scheduled for July 12. In the last attempt to involve cloture on this motion on May 19, cloture was defeated by a vote of 52-32 (64 votes being needed for cloture), with Senator Russell leading the anti-cloture faction. The complete text of Mr. White's wire follows:

"Our country is faced with a crisis which may turn the protracted cold war into a global shooting boys are dying in the rice paddies of Korea. In such a crisis unity based on justice and equal rights for all is essential on the home front. Equally vital to our success is the maximum use of all available manpower at the highest skill and top morale of every serviceman and industrial worker. In view of the nation's imperative need, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People appeals to you, as a leader among southern senators, to forego the disastrous luxury of a filibuster against the FEPC bill. As you know, a vote on the motion to take up that bill in the Senate is scheduled for July 12. Such an expression of patriotism by you and your colleagues would be a major contribution not only to national unity but also to national well-being and national productivity in a period of grave crisis."

New Housing Position For Former Forrest City Man—McClinton Nunn

McCLINTON NUNN

After a successful career in public housing in Detroit where he has served as management assistant of the Detroit Field Office of the Public Housing Administration, McClinton Nunn will leave the Motor City shortly for near Toledo, Ohio to take over the Toledo Metropolitan Housing Authority as Executive Director. The prominent housing executive is a native Arkansan and before going North lived in the vicinity of Memphis at Forrest City.

Mr. Nunn will replace Raymond A. Kirby, white, as Executive Director of Toledo Metropolitan Housing Authority. Mr. Kirby resigned a month ago, and Nunn is scheduled to take office on August 1st under a five-year contract with the Toledo Authority.

The Toledo Housing Authority operates six permanent low-rent housing projects, totaling 1440 family dwelling units.

Mr. Nunn has spent 13 years to government service, including 7 years in the housing field. His administrative experience has included management of both large and small housing projects in Bauxite, Arkansas, Lima, Ohio, Muskegon, Mich. He is 43 years old, married and a veteran of World War II. He holds a degree from Arkansas Baptist College, Little Rock, and has done graduate work at Fisk University, Nashville.

For the past two years Nunn was assigned by the Detroit Field Office of the PHA as a liaison man for management to the Detroit Housing Commission

Funeral Rites Held For Craig Fatally Shot On Street Corner

RICHARD CRAIG

Final rites were held for Richard Craig, gunshot victim, Sunday morning of this week from Bethlehem Baptist Church. His sensational death at the corner of Swift and Silverage the previous Monday night around nine o'clock had given the River-side community its worst shock since it began taking on the tempo of urban life.

Revs A. J. Campbell and Clinton Allen officiated, and interment took place in White's Chapel Cemetery (Boxtown) N. J. Ford Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

In the meantime Craig's slayer, David T. Johnson, 33, of 200 Silverage was being held in jail on a charge of murder in carrying a pistol. Both Craig and Johnson were well known in the neighborhood. The shooting, according to police reports, was the aftermath of money trouble.

Craig's mother, Mrs. Georgia Craig, of 327 Modder, had only a few days ago gone to St. Louis, Mo. to bring him back to Memphis as he was in ill health. Johnson and Craig had gone over to Arkansas the week end, and the two men became involved in an argument over money matters. Craig reputedly went to Johnson's house on Silverage to make a payment, or discuss the matter further. In the meantime Johnson reported to police headquarters which he had lying on his refrigerator. Police officers arrested Craig but released him Sunday. Johnson and Craig met the following Monday night at Swift and Silverage not far from their respective home.

And under the bright lights of the street corner, Johnson fired five shots from a .38 calibre pistol, one bullet fatally striking his victim Craig died instantly.

He leaves his mother and one sister, Miss Rosie Craig, who lives with her mother at the Modder St. address.

Supreme Court Rulings Figure In S. C. Primary

Candidates Johnston And Thurmond Magnify Race Issue

By ROBERT H. DENLEY COLUMBIA, S. C.—A social snub by President Truman plus three U. S. Supreme Court rulings are leading factors today in States' Rights Champion J. Strom Thurmond's chances to win a U. S. Senate seat.

The South Carolina governor, whose name last appeared on a ballot as the States' Rights Presidential candidate against Mr. Truman in 1948, opposes incumbent Senator Olin D. Johnston in Tuesday's primary.

Thurmond backers claim that two recent events in Washington are "sure vote-getters" for the governor. They are:

President Truman's failure to invite Thurmond to a luncheon for Democratic Party Governors, and the High Court's decisions involving segregation in railroad dining cars and universities.

LARGE VOTE SEEN The Johnston-Thurmond fight has been so bitter that Democratic Party State Chairman W. P. Baskin has predicted a record-smashing vote of 400,000.

South Carolinians also will nominate a governor, six congressmen and state officers. Victory in the Democratic primary is equivalent to election in one-party South Carolina.

Rapid Change Need Not Upset Apple Cart

NASHVILLE, Tennessee—We have to convince the average citizen of the fact that rapid improvement in the position of minorities in our Society "can come faster than he thinks, without upsetting any really important apple cart," said Mr. Saville R. Davis, Editor of the Christian Science Monitor, in explaining the proper roles of the specialist in public relations in handling minority issues to the 7th Annual American Missionary Association Race Relations Institute at Fisk University recently.

"I have found," he continued, "that the public as a whole has no (Continued On Page Six)

People's Call Grows; "Save Willie McGee"

With less than three weeks remaining to save the life of the innocent Mississippi Negro, Willie McGee, a people's call, "SAVE WILLIE MCGEE," is growing both inside and outside the United States.

Every day messages come in from all parts of the U. S. and from foreign countries calling on the Governor of Mississippi to grant McGee executive clemency until justice can be obtained in the case.

The Civil Rights Congress, which has conducted a four and a half year fight to save McGee from a "legal lynching," has announced the following messages:

CIVIL RIGHTS UNION, TORONTO, CANADA—"We have been shocked to follow the trial and conviction of Willie McGee in our press. He is innocent of the charge of rape. This is just one more case of anti-Negro discrimination."

"People in other countries are aghast at the continuation of such acts against Negroes and such apparent gross miscarriages of justice."

VETS' VOICE, PUBLISHED BY AMERICAN VETERANS OF WORLD WAR II—"There's nothing more important the first 28 days of July than saving the life of our former buddy, 35-year-old Negro vet Willie McGee."

"Victim of one of the worst frame-ups in American history, McGee's young life is due to be snuffed out in a Mississippi electric chair on July 27 for a crime of which he is as innocent as we are."

PHOENIX, ARIZONA—"We, 500 Phoenix, Arizona, residents in public meeting gathered in Eastlake Park, strongly urge Governor Fielding Wright of Mississippi to use his executive powers to extend clemency to Willie McGee."

"If he is allowed to go to the electric chair, his blood will be on the hands of those who subvert and violate the rights of 15 million Negro Americans."

EASTON, PENNSYLVANIA BRANCH, NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLES—

"We call for a wave of popular indignation to force the freedom of Willie McGee and the Martinsville Seven. We urge letters to Attorney General J. Howard McGrath asking the federal government to intervene."

McGee is one of 27 innocent Negro men and boys facing death on Jim Crow frame-ups in ten different American states.

He is facing the electric chair for allegedly attacking a middle-aged white woman in November, 1945. The woman, Mrs. Troy Hawkins admitted in court that a sick child was in bed with her at the time of the alleged attack and that her husband and two children were in the next room. She never identified McGee as her "attacker."

Many Memphians To St. Louis To See Dodger-Card Game

Scores of Memphians will pour into St. Louis, Mo., this week end to see the series of games between the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers. Although the Cards had a four-game lead on the Dodgers at this writing, sports dopsters believe that the boys from Brooklyn will pull out of their slump early enough to be on top of the National League by the close of the season in September. At any rate, it's the lure of Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella, Don Newcombe, and Bankhead that will pack hundreds of sepa Memphians into the Red Bird's den on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

The Frisco is providing special aid-conditioned chair cars for the trip, and fans will have an opportunity to leave either Friday or Saturday, July 14 or 15. The train is being sponsored by the Frisco Colored Employees Boosters Club and tickets are purchasable at the Frisco downtown office at 79 Monroe Ave.

Many other visitors will motor to St. Louis as they have done during the past three seasons. Other (Continued On Page Six)

State S S-B T U Congress Gets Underway Tonight; Dr. G. O. Taylor Speaker

Following Monday evening's pre-Congress musical at Booker T. Washington High School under direction of Miss Elizabeth E. Wallace and Mrs. Jeanie S. Brodnax, the State Baptist Sunday School S-S-B-T-U Congress will move tonight into the Public Program with Dr. Gardner O. Taylor, youthful pastor of Concord Baptist Church, Brooklyn, New York, as the guest speaker. The prominent minister is coming to Memphis at the invitation of Dean A. McEwen Williams, Congress President and pastor of St. John Baptist church.

Greetings will be extended by local representatives of entertaining churches of Memphis and Shelby County. There are expected also a number of civic leaders of the community, and the public at large is invited to hear the message of the dynamic churchman from New York.

Dr. Taylor, whose church is 102 years old and represents one of the historic landmarks to church life in Brooklyn, is the only Negro representative of the Baptist of America scheduled to preach during the World Baptist Alliance which will convene in Cleveland, Ohio July 21-7. This marks the first time in the history of the Alliance that a Negro minister has been honored to preach one of the principal sermons to that august body of Christians.

Holding the A. B. B. D., and D. D. Degrees, Dr. Taylor has forged ahead as one of the most outstanding scholar-ministers of the Baptist Faith. He holds memberships in numerous organizations, civic, religious, and fraternal. Before coming to Brooklyn Dr. Taylor, pastor of Mt. Zion Baptist church, Baton Rouge, La., having succeeded his father, who headed the church for 30 years.

Classroom registrations are being held at Washington High School. Ministers' seminars and the State Convention Board meetings will be conducted at First Baptist Church. The Woman's Auxiliary Board is meeting at Mt. Vernon Baptist Church on Mississippi Blvd., near Wellington and the Baptist Laymen will meet in the basement of First Baptist Church. Meals will be served all day long in the cafeteria of First Baptist. Rev. H. C. Nabrit is pastor of the host church. WEDNESDAY, JULY 12 Wednesday night, July 12, the Youth Rally and Parade will take place at Washington High School Stadium. Participants are asked to meet at the corner of Orleans and Tate Wednesday evening at 6:30. Members of Seminole Division, Boy Scouts, will head the parade which is scheduled to proceed north to Vance Avenue. West to Lauderdale Street south on Lauderdale to the stadium. THURSDAY, JULY 13 President Williams will deliver his annual address Thursday evening, July 13th. An "Honor Hour" will be observed in tribute to Mrs. Jennie S. Brodnax, whose outstanding contribution to the Congress and the general field of religious education has made this organization one of the greatest of the Baptist Faith. Mrs. Brodnax is a member of St. John Baptist, pastored by Dean Williams, State President of the Congress. FRIDAY, JULY 14 "Sunrise services will be held in Lincoln Park Friday morning, July 14. Breakfast will be served by the City Baptist Congress at Metropolitan Baptist Church, Walker Avenue and McDowell, Dr. S. A. Owen, pastor. Later in the day a motorcade will be made to the new Baptist School site at Vance and Orleans, presently the site is still being occupied by St. Agnes Academy and Sienna College, the two Catholic Schools from which the Baptists are securing the property. Circling The Bases With The Red Sox

We are leaving the Cleveland paw. Buckeyes after defeating them seven straight games. We played the Houston Eagles here last night and won 9-4 behind the tight pitching of Clarke. He was real light last night, allowing only five scattered base knocks.

Thanks to the wonderful job that was done by Dr. B. B. Martin on ole' pro (Neal Robinson) bringing him back to himself. He used his highest and most powerful methods on Neal to get him in tip-top shape. Robinson is also sprouting a new tooth but not in the usual way. It is from the hands of Dr. Martin because Neal cannot sprout a tooth at the age of 27?

Majority Of Teen-Agers Have Oily Skin; Women, Dry Skin

By HELEN JAMESON
Different ages bring different good-looks griefs. The majority of teen-agers have oily skins; the majority of women have dry ones.

they take on adipose panniers—are victims of the dry skin. And that's just too bad. The dry skin wrinkles early, it looks scaly when powder is applied, and there is no health in it.

MART OF THOUGHT

Because many of us do not understand the laws of radio, wireless, television and other technical discoveries, shall we refuse to accept them as truth? Because we have not seen the land at the North Pole, should we refuse to believe that there is such a place? Only a small part of knowledge in the universe is given to each of us.

BLOOD OF THE STARS

CHAPTER FIFTEEN
THE WIDE wooden door leading into the garage was closed. Shayne turned off the street and stopped with his front wheels on the sidewalk. He got out and found a button on one side of the door with a metal plate above it that read, "Night Bell."

He put his finger on the button and held it down until the door slid open enough to let a man come through. He wore grimy overalls and a greasy mechanic's cap. He scowled muzzily at the man who had disturbed him, blinked in the glare of the single headlight of Shayne's car and said, "Yeh, Whadya want?"

"I don't care about the cost," Shayne had his wallet out and began pulling out twenty-dollar bills. "How much to fix me up with a new fender and headlight?"

"I'm not paying for a lot of questions," Shayne countered. He added another twenty to the four in his hand, then, more slowly, another. He closed the wallet and returned it to his pocket. "It won't be hard to match this new paint job of mine. He smoothed the six bills together, folded them lengthwise, and slapped them against his palm.

"I am for the South, all right," said Lee. "I was born South and share its opportunities and great future and have here many dear friends among the upper-class whites. I believe in interracial work and harmony, but I can't permit Johnson to use me to impose on either International or readers of his service.

LOOKING THINGS OVER

BY HELEN CALDWELL BAKER

Every time I try to write, my son, Butch comes to me and wants to play. I don't really mind, despite my objections because it gives me a chance for that indoctrination of which I was speaking before, even in play. A mother's first task on the racial as on any other front is with her child. She is the principle one who will give tomorrow's citizens the ideas and ideals, the faith by which they leave expecting of course God and His Grace. Thus the Negro mother has no mean role in the guiding of the future.

Looking around, one is filled with sadness, a hurt too deep for tears—ours having long since dried from daily humiliations and untold intimacy with suffering at the failure of so many of our mothers to get the best out of this role. A failure due largely, I think, to ignorance and fear of the too well known. What are our children's ideals? How do they regard themselves in the scheme of things? What faiths have we given them? What race consciousness?

Not long ago, I took a group of children, including my son and some small neighbors, to the zoo. All were either pre-school age or in the first grades, so their attitudes could but reflect those taught by parents. Yet already they knew about race; about being colored; already they had been taught to submit meekly to injustice and to seek for and take the lowest place.

There's Johnny there who lives with Mrs. Sniffles. He steals. We know we have no right to do it. Yet Johnny takes what does not belong to him and what he can not restore. So it is with grown ups, sometimes. They know racial hate and discrimination are wrong. They know it is wrong to deprive a man of his rights as a free citizen, but like Johnny, some do it anyway.

At last I said "let him alone" and the child obeyed me, though he kept looking with fear at the young man. Who can not see the tragedy of this—that a five-year-old child should already have become so color conscious that fear of a white skin should make him tremble in a situation like this; that he should already have lost his impetuosity and become "prudent." That is our American tragedy.

But what can we do and teach? This much we can know, do and teach. The thing that makes Johnny steal and the thing that drives the southern fanatic for white supremacy is the same thing. Sometimes it is fear, insecurity or need. Then we have to bend our own will and every effort to build a world where fear and insecurity are at a minimum because people have learned to share of their abundance and fulfill the needs of those whose needs are greater. Sometimes it is ignorance, he doesn't understand what he is, nor what others are in relation to God and each other. Then we have to teach him those things by our word and example. Sometimes the cause is weakness; then we help by our strength, our courage and our inspiration. This is the thing the Negro mother teaches her children. This is the faith and ideal she gives them.

For this is a case of learned fear, of fear taught by a mother too careful of her child—and what Negro does not know of countless cases where a child is deliberately taught by a parent to bow and scrape, to lie and wheedle, to compromise in uncounted ways his self-respect and dignity before a white person for the sake of a transient calm that masquerades as peace? They say that a Negro has to be like this to get ahead or live in peace in the south. They say "he may as well learn now what he can't do so he'll know. He may as well accept the fact now that he is black. They say "A white man don't like a fresh nigger" and I want my son safe." They say a lot of things which all boil down to compromise and a built-in cowardice and unwillingness not only to fight for rights that are his, or justice but even to ask for these things. We take from all but the very strong the courage to exact justice or seek truth; we give them bitterness and inferiority feeling and call that prudence. I think it the same prudence that would lead a man to cut off his leg to keep from breaking it.

Who can not see the tragedy of this—that a five-year-old child should already have become so color conscious that fear of a white skin should make him tremble in a situation like this; that he should already have lost his impetuosity and become "prudent." That is our American tragedy.

What then shall we teach our children? The dual racial system the double standard, exists—shall we close our eyes and pretend not to see? Of course, not, that would be rank stupidity. What then shall we teach them? We teach them of southern bigotry as we might teach them of morals and immorality, in a way that does no violence to their conscience, self-respect or courage. We teach them of the dignity of the human person and of the brotherhood of man. We teach them to pity (not hate) those "white supremacists" who are enslaved by the blindness of their own vision to truth. We teach them by illustrations and examples which they can understand.

New Benefits For Men Fighting In Southern Korea

American servicemen called into action in Southern Korea might be eligible for several benefits administered by the Veterans Administration, it was announced today. Those who suffer injury or disease in line of duty may be entitled to disability compensation pay at full wartime rates, despite the fact that this nation is not at war. Also, if they carry National Service Life Insurance, premium payments may be waived in case of injury or disease "traceable to the extra hazard of service"—and any action in South Korea could fall under that category. Dependents of those who might lose their lives in action may be

YMCA GIVES FAREWELL TESTIMONIAL TO M. W. BONNER

HETHIRING CHAIRMAN—Director of Lauderdale Branch YMCA honored its retiring chairman, M. W. Bonner, with a Testimonial Banquet just a few days prior to his departure from Memphis for Cleveland, Ohio where he will take up residence with his daughters, Mrs. Katherine B. Cook, and her husband, Culbert Cook, joining with the directors were members of the Woman's Auxiliary of which Mrs. Edward R. Kirk is chairman. Special guest at the reception was Earl Whittington, Sr., executive director of all the YMCA Branches, and secretary of the Metropolitan YMCA on Madison. Mr. Whittington, in appreciation for the contributions Mr. Bonner had made to the development of Lauderdale Branch since its formation in 1937, said that he was going to recommend that Mr. Bonner be made a life member of the board. He invited Mr. Bonner to come back to Memphis and preside as chairman when the new Lauderdale Branch Gymnasium is dedicated. Mr. Bonner promised that he would. Shown seated at the table, from left are J. T. Lanier, secretary of Lauderdale Branch; Board of Directors, Prof. E. L. Washburn who served as master of ceremonies, Mr. Bonner, E. P. Nabors, vice-chairman of the YMCA, who will now preside over future meetings until the next election; Prof. Hunt, chairman of finance for the branch, and Mr. Bonner's pastor at Mississippi Blvd. Christian Church; Dr. E. Walker, who has been associated with Mr. Bonner since he organized Universal Life and even figured during their connections with the old Mississippi Life Insurance Company; and Mrs. Kirk, chairman of the Woman's Auxiliary. Standing immediately behind the table are Mr. and Mrs. Cook, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. Bonner. Secretary of Lauderdale Branch C. R. Lawrence, Sr. J. T. Chandler, Sr., nephew of Mr. Bonner, Prof. J. Ashton Hayes, brother-in-law of Mr. Bonner, Mrs. Aline Franklin, Prof. J. W. Whittaker, Sr., Dr. A. W. Jefferson, T. H. Coleman, Charles Johnson, and Jack Roland, and Mr. Whittington. Among other directors present were William Weathers, Lewis O. Swinger, Jesse Springer, Colorado B. Johnson, Henry W. Beecher, and A. L. Cotton. Music was rendered by Powell Thornton, violinist, shown left end of front row, Charles Johnson, with Prof. Whittaker as accompanist.

CLUBS

The East End Community Flower Club held its monthly business meeting June 29th at the home of entitled to death compensation benefits at wartime rates. Full wartime rates for disability and death compensation, arising under conditions similar to the Korean situation, are authorized by Public Law 359, 77th Congress, passed 12 days after the attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941. Under the law, wartime rates are payable for disability of death resulting in line of duty (1) as a direct result of armed conflict, or (2) while engaged in extra hazardous service, including such service under conditions simulating war, or (3) while the United States is engaged in war.

The Korean action brings the first and second categories into play. Peacetime rates of compensation, V-A explained, are 80 percent of wartime rates. V-A pointed out that those taking part in action in Korea would not be entitled to GI Bill benefits as a result of that service. They would otherwise have to be eligible because of military service in World War II, further, they must meet all eligibility requirements set forth in that act. The GI Bill, V-A added, was designed primarily for the readjustment of World War II veterans.

12-Year-Old Boy Held On Charges Of Housebreaking

With the arrest of Leo Crutcher, 12, of 2124 Erie St., investigating police officers and deputy sheriffs believe they have solved the recent wave of housebreaking incidents. The youth, pupil in the county school, was arrested at Cobb and Copper by Inspector J. K. Caughley along with squad car officers McEhee and Forte, on charge of investigation. This charge was later changed to Housebreaking and larceny. Leo has been referred to the Juvenile Court where his case will be handled, according to Inspector Hines' Office. The boy has been connected with the following incidents of housebreaking and larceny:

1960 South Parkway Mrs. John Allstadt on May 3rd reported that a boy entered the house and took a billfold with about $25.00 in it. 689 Rozelle Mrs. William T. Arrington reported that a boy entered the front door and took a white beaded purse containing $5.00. This was June 27.

1692 Netherwood Clarence Williams Grotewiel, on June 28, stated that a boy entered the house and took a Bulova Watch valued at $75.00.

1654 Netherwood Mrs. John T. Nutt, on June 26, reported having missed her black billfold with three $10.00 bills. She did not report the loss to police department because she thought she mislaid it. Mrs. Nutt stated:

1369 Chadwick Mrs. W. K. Archer, of 1369 Chadwick Circle, reported that a boy entered the unlocked door and took from off the piano in the front room a wrist watch valued at $55.00. This was June 26.

Mrs. John Taylor reported that she surprised a young boy rambling through her house Crutcher, when he was arrested, had three $10.00 bills and two wrist watches in his possession.

Women urged to seek new political professional roles.

YOU CAN BE HAPPY

When I say that you can be happy here and now, I mean just that. That there are innumerable books on how to be happy, is to put it quite mildly. We are told by some of these authors, all that we have to do is to follow their instructions and happiness would be ours. Some of course are right, however I am elated to say "For they lead us to the Bible. And we well know that the Bible is the one book that does not fail us. In it, we are able to find the necessary teachings that will enable us to be truly happy if we would follow its instructions. Again, we have been informed that happiness is a "state of mind." I do agree with that statement. For happiness is found within the person. He alone must bring about his happiness. If he is to be happy in the final sense of the word "Oh! why can't persons seem to realize and understand this? Let us go to wise old Solomon of the Old Testament. "For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he." This is true. Then, for one to be happy, he must think—in terms of happiness.

And too, happiness comes to us as a by-product. That is to say: try making others happy, and you will be made happy by so doing. Another important factor in being happy is to forget about things over which you have no control and will come to pass in spite of all that you might try to do. Read Psalms 37:1-8. I Peter 3:9-14. A. NATIONAL SCENE

The AMERICAN LEAGUE All-Star line up was released by manager CASEY STENDEL last Thursday July 6 and as expected it was loaded with YANKEES—inside from the regular starter STENDEL picked seven other YANKEES—they were pitchers. TOMMYE BYRNE, VIC RASCHI and ALLIE REYNOLDS— infielders GERRY COLEMAN and TOMMY HENRICH outfielders Joe Dimaggio and Dom Dimaggio. Jimmie Turner will serve as batting practice pitcher—the coaches will be Bill Dickey and Frank Crosetti aside from the starters picked by the fans. The American League roster will look like this: Pitchers—Tommye Byrne, Vic Rashi, Allie Reynolds of New York, Bob Feller and Bob Lemond of Cleveland, Art Houtteman and Ted Gray of Detroit, and Ray Scarborough of Chicago. Alternates: infielders, Gerry Coleman, Tommy Henrich, Farris Parn, Vern Stephens and Cass Michaels outfielders, Dom Dimaggio and Joe Dimaggio catchers—Jim Hexan and Sherman Lollar—the National Leaguers seem to be having a bit of difficulty—manager Bert Shotton thinks that his charges won't have a chance without the services of a regular center fielder—the National League squad has three regular left fielders in the starting lineup—Hank Sauer, Ralph Kiner, and Enos Slaughter, Bert stated that he would start his regular centerfielder Duke Snider, but he was promptly over ruled as Ford Frick, president of the National League and Happy Chandler, commissioner of baseball, concurred and rendered the action invalid.

Negroes To Enroll At Univ. Of Missouri

ST. LOUIS, Missouri — Missouri University's board of curators announced yesterday that Negroes will be admitted to the University and to the schools of Mines at Rolla this fall.

Board chairman Roscoe Anderson said this applies only to those who wish to take courses that are not available at Lincoln University, the state-supported college for Negroes at Jefferson City, Mo.

Brotherhood Beats Trainmen's Union On Santa Fe R. R.

CHICAGO—A signal and significant victory was won by the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters over the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the National Railroad Adjustment Board, stated A. Philip Randolph, International President in the Midwestern headquarters of the Organization in Chicago, Judge L. T. Bay, Federal District Judge of Chicago, handed down the decision order against the displacement of Negro train porters on the Santa Fe by white brakemen a permanent injunction, Friday, June 30.

"It was on the Santa Fe Railroad where she second attempt was made by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen to drive Negro train porters, who perform the work of brakemen as well as that of porters, off the head end of the trains. They had succeeded in talking job from the train porters on the Southern Pacific thereby reducing them to the status of chair car attendants at a lower wage. But the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters halted the march of the white trainmen against Negro train porters on the Santa Fe up-to-date. Of course, white trainmen may yet appeal from this decision to the United States Supreme Court where the Brotherhood would be compelled to face them," concluded Mr. Randolph.

SENTENCE SERMONS

By Rev. Frank Clarence Lowry FOR ANP

WHAT HAVE YOU DONE TODAY?

1. Just how did you start off your part of the World today; did you say anyway you chanced to live, it would move along some way?

2. That then would be really and perfectly true, if nobody cared and did just like you.

3. It would certainly be a miserable place in which to live if you avoided me and I avoided you, for fear of something we would have to give.

4. Yet this sort of practice for the most part, in our land has subtly been gaining ground, until now real friendship among men is seldom to be found.

5. Isn't it a shame, when our world could be beautiful, comfortable and warm, we withhold sincerity and kindness, and allow it to become cold and torn.

6. Is it not quite time, despite what daily we see, for all honest, to goodness men and women to work together and find the best in the old world tree?

7. She is suffering from a terrible complication of envious, hate and deceit, and no head trained,

William Blocker Dies In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Mo — William W. Blocker, field representative of Howard University, Washington, D. C., died at St. Louis, Missouri, on July 1.

Mr. Blocker had spent three months traveling through the east and midwest contacting distinguished Howard graduates. He spent three weeks recently in the Chicago area and had moved on to St. Louis where he was stricken with his fatal illness.

The deceased was a graduate of Morehouse College, and Howard University School of Religion. He is survived by a son, William, Jr., a student of Howard University School of Engineering; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isiah Blocker, of Jacksonville, Florida; two sisters, Mrs. Ann Brock of Institute, W. Va., and Mrs. Sarah Dageau of Jacksonville, three brothers, I Sloan and Joseph C. of Chicago, Ill., and Fred of Detroit, Michigan.

Dentist Rebuilds Bombed Home Under Police Safeguards

BIRMINGHAM, Alabama — An armed guard and police are watching over rebuilding of a Birmingham Negro dentist's home which was dynamited last April.

The nearly completed residence-office of Dr. Joel A. Boykin and his schoolteacher wife was blasted during an outbreak of violence against Negro homes in area formerly zoned whites.

Boykin hired an armed watchman to guard the construction at night, and he has placed a series of floodlights around the building. He said police chief Floyd Eddins promised protection.

Negroes Apply To Louisiana State Univ.

BATON ROUGE, Louisiana — Louisiana State University Thursday gave blank application forms to nine Negroes seeking admission to engineering and agricultural courses.

University President Harold Stoke said "the question of the rights of Negroes to be admitted to LSU under the recent Supreme Court decisions will be placed before the board of supervisors at the next meeting."

Stoke said the next regular meeting is scheduled for Aug. 5, but indicated they may meet sooner.

A spokesman for the Negro group declared that they are willing to go to court if their applications are refused.

Order Name On Arkansas Ballot

LITTLE ROCK, Arkansas — A federal judge Thursday had ordered the Democratic party to place the name of a Negro on the primary ballot as a candidate for the Little Rock city council.

The Arkansas Democratic Party had rejected Rev. J. H. Gatlin's petition as a candidate, asserting party rules barred Negroes.

Federal Judge Thomas C. Trimble held that a Democratic nomination is tantamount to election and that Gatlin was being denied his right of representation.

The party said it will abide by the judge's order.

Groveland Petition Turned Down

TALLAHASSEE, Florida — A petition for rehearing the case of three Negroes convicted of criminally assaulting a young Groveland white woman last year was turned down Wednesday by the Florida Supreme Court.

The court previously had affirmed a lower court's decision giving two of the Negroes the death sentence and the third a life prison term.

The attack set off a wave of terrorism in the Groveland-Tavares Area shortly after it was reported.

The court did not write an opinion in turning down the petition.

Chicago's Comiskey Park Scene Of 17th Annual All-Star Game

CHICAGO, Illinois, July 8 — The Major League All-Star Baseball game comes home to Chicago's Comiskey Park Tuesday for its 17th renewal.

Players like Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Jimmy Foxx, Lefty Grove, Carl Hubbell and others who performed in that first game have long passed from the baseball diamond. But Connie Mack, the American League manager, at that contest, will be present to throw out the first ball as the honorary manager of 1935.

Old man time is slowing the performances of at least three members of the current squads. This game may be the farewell for Joe Dimaggio of the New York Yankees, Walker Cooper of the Boston Braves and Marty Marion of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Dimaggio is the granddaddy of the contest. This will be his 11th. Cooper is the veteran of the National League with seven games in his past. Marion has played in six.

Not since 1944 has the National League defeated the American League and the overall record shows just four victories for the former compared to 12 for the junior circuit.

ATLANTAN WINS COVETED M. A. DEGREE IN SPEECH

BY ALICE H. WASHINGTON ATLANTA, Georgia — (SNS)—A talented Atlanta public school teacher is the third person in the state of Georgia to receive the Master of Arts degree in Speech Correction! She is Mrs. Cecil Long Edwards, who until last year taught seventh grade at the Croghan Elementary School.

Entering a comparatively new field, Mrs. Edwards, the recipient of a joint scholarship provided by the Junior League of Atlanta and the Atlanta University Women's Club, studied at Northwestern University where her speech correction pursuits were coupled with a master's in audiology—the checking of hearing defects.

VARIED EXPERIENCES

Quered as in supplementary activities, the artist-musician-teacher told of visits to several schools for the handicapped. These included the Spaulding School for auditorially handicapped one of the largest and best equipped of its kind in the world, the Christopher School for orthopedics and cardiacs, and the Washington and Montrose School for emotionally maladjusted. These field trips and supervised observations were a definite part of the training program and were regular hours at the University's speech clinic, Children's Memorial Hospital and Cook County Hospital in Chicago.

As a benefit gained, Mrs. Edwards replied, "You see what needs to be done to help children—and then, as you look in retrospect over a teaching career, you see dozens

Exercise For Fitness, Miladies Are Warned

BY HELEN JAMENON BEAUTIFUL FIGURES are as priceless as beautiful faces, but how many of them do you see among your friends, among the people you pass on the street? Not many. Think of the attention women give to their complexion, the money they spend for cosmetics and treatments in beauty parlors. Consider how carefully they lay on the rouge, lipstick and mascara. And all the time their figures may be losing, youthful contour, if they happen to be edging along toward the forties—often before.

There is just one way to keep the svelte shape youthful, and that is to keep the musculature in form. You can't do that unless your muscles have a certain amount of work to do. If you let them go slack, fat cells can't get there fast enough.

Girls have gym work in high schools and colleges. If calisthenics would go on after graduation, if they were a daily habit, departments for "stylish shouks" would go out of business; rounded slenderness would be the common joy and satisfaction of the sisterhood.

There are women who go into a tizzy at the mere thought of exercise. They fancy that, after a fifteen-minute workout, they have to go to bed to get rested. Silly. A brief term of exercise is exhilarating to body and spirit, makes you feel younger, happier.

The need of physical fitness should be uppermost in the mind of every intelligent woman, whether she be a home body or a career girl. With greater vitality one is a more efficient worker, less likely to give away to emotional stress. Health depends fundamentally upon posture and good body mechanics. Unless muscles are resilient and strong, posture will not be correct.

Here is a simple exercise that you can do in odd moments. It brings practically all the muscles into action, is good for reducing fattened calves, slenderizing the waist, developing the chest:

Stand tall, tummy in, feet five inches apart. Up on your toes, at the same time lifting your hands over your head, touching the backs of your hands together. Down on the toes, hands down at the sides, and repeat.

Even the laziest girl could endure that much exercise. It is not exhausting; it is delightfully exhilarating. It rings the bell for the blood streams up to attend to their business. Go up on the toes slowly, pulling on the leg muscles. Come down on the heels slowly.

There is a cradle-rock exercise that is good fun, will limber you in short order. Lie on your back on the floor. Bend your knees up over your body and clasp your hands around them. Rock your body side to side. If you keep at this long enough, you'll rock the fat should be uppermost in the mind of from your hips.

Public Conduct Campaign Urged To Aid Fight On Train J'Crow

(Special Correspondence) NEW YORK — A militant young lawyer here declared this week that if community groups representing social, fraternal, religious, political and labor organizations would take a firm hand now, racial discrimination on trains and busses could be completely eliminated within two years.

The attorney, Jawn A. Sandifer of 101 W. 125th St., added that in large cities like Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, Detroit, Chicago and Cleveland, the campaign for human dignity and transportation control should be led by the nation's ministers and the millions of men and women who believe in the brotherhood of man.

Sandifer, who was the only Harlem lawyer to participate in the argument in behalf of Elmer W. Henderson whose case was carried to the Supreme Court of the United States before Negro America was accorded the legal right to eat in dining cars without being shooed behind Jim Crow Curtains, made his suggestion after reading last week's newspapers concerning a new $200,000 Federal Court suit involving seven women and a man riding an Atlantic Coast Line train North.

"Let's face it," said Sandifer, who had just turned down an opportunity to enter the State Assembly race in Manhattan's 16th A. D. "In gaining, though too gradual for me, some of the legal rights all human beings are entitled to enjoy, we have got to realize that there is a moral responsibility involved."

MUST PREACH CONDUCT

"We must understand also that those of our people have not yet been trained properly, so far as public behavior is concerned. We have got to preach and teach that good conduct during an evening out will make more friends in a day than we'll be able to make otherwise by the use of loud, profane language on busses, street cars, subway trains and other interstate means of travel.

"Rowdiness holds us back in many cities of the North, and the only way to do something about it is to start doing. Classes to instruct adults in public behavior might well be launched in any of the numerous political and social clubs, in our lodge halls and in the churches.

"We should solicit the cooperation of our newspapers, and, if it is necessary, allow the community editor to sponsor such a program in cooperation with the various community organizations. Details of the moment are not really important. What we need to do right now is start something.

"In Harlem, for instance, we'd slash the felonious assault and homicide cases overnight. If we'd approach our business men, especially tavern owners, with a concrete plan to drive rowdiness out of the community, I, for one, am willing to help start the drive."

Exercise For Fitness, Miladies Are Warned

BY HELEN JAMENON BEAUTIFUL FIGURES are as priceless as beautiful faces, but how many of them do you see among your friends, among the people you pass on the street? Not many. Think of the attention women give to their complexion, the money they spend for cosmetics and treatments in beauty parlors. Consider how carefully they lay on the rouge, lipstick and mascara. And all the time their figures may be losing, youthful contour, if they happen to be edging along toward the forties—often before.

There is just one way to keep the svelte shape youthful, and that is to keep the musculature in form. You can't do that unless your muscles have a certain amount of work to do. If you let them go slack, fat cells can't get there fast enough.

Girls have gym work in high schools and colleges. If calisthenics would go on after graduation, if they were a daily habit, departments for "stylish shouks" would go out of business; rounded slenderness would be the common joy and satisfaction of the sisterhood.

There are women who go into a tizzy at the mere thought of exercise. They fancy that, after a fifteen-minute workout, they have to go to bed to get rested. Silly. A brief term of exercise is exhilarating to body and spirit, makes you feel younger, happier.

The need of physical fitness should be uppermost in the mind of every intelligent woman, whether she be a home body or a career girl. With greater vitality one is a more efficient worker, less likely to give away to emotional stress. Health depends fundamentally upon posture and good body mechanics. Unless muscles are resilient and strong, posture will not be correct.

Here is a simple exercise that you can do in odd moments. It brings practically all the muscles into action, is good for reducing fattened calves, slenderizing the waist, developing the chest:

Stand tall, tummy in, feet five inches apart. Up on your toes, at the same time lifting your hands over your head, touching the backs of your hands together. Down on the toes, hands down at the sides, and repeat.

Even the laziest girl could endure that much exercise. It is not exhausting; it is delightfully exhilarating. It rings the bell for the blood streams up to attend to their business. Go up on the toes slowly, pulling on the leg muscles. Come down on the heels slowly.

There is a cradle-rock exercise that is good fun, will limber you in short order. Lie on your back on the floor. Bend your knees up over your body and clasp your hands around them. Rock your body side to side. If you keep at this long enough, you'll rock the fat should be uppermost in the mind of from your hips.

DAN FERRIS OUR OLD OPONENT NEW YORK - (ANP) - THE CRACK MEN IN THIS SECTOR seek us out for nifty chats on Daniel Ferris, bigwig in the Amateur Athletic Union...

"You know, Al, you had this chap Ferris, as right as rain all along the line. I recall some years back when you wrote an article that was given wide publicity by the editor of the now defunct 'N. Y. Evening Mail'..."

Leaving the greatest of America's 1950 athletes on the shore-line just because South Africa regards Negroes as not fitting of her hospitality, stamps Mr. Ferris as a top executive who ought to read the life story of Branch Rickey, Bill Veeck, and many others who place fairness, ability and citizenship above class lines and pigmentation."

THE "EASTER" STORY Al we write this, Luke Easter has just slammed out two homers to bring his 1950 total to 16. As you read this, he may be the recipient of rave notices like the sensational slugger received while playing for Bucky Harris in San Diego with Pacific Coast league last year.

When Manager Lou Boudreau of Cleveland benched flashy Mickey Vernon and placed big Easter on first base, even Hank Greenberg seemed to blow his topper. Now the giant Easter has more than vindicated the judgment of the handsome player-manager of the Indians.

The Sports Grill

By PAT ROBINSON - For International News Service

NEW YORK, N. Y. - It's a good thing that coaches have a Gene Tunney, a Bobby Jones, an Earl Combs, a Bob Mathias, or a Whizzer White to hold up as models for the youth of the land to emulate.

These heroes of the ring, the gold links, the diamond track and field and the gridiron were models of deportment, who trained conscientiously and always were in condition.

On the other hand, and to say, some of the greatest stars the sports world ever saw were play boys who laughed at all training rules. These fellows always reminded us of Frank Danieks, old-time comedian, who used to advise all in song that "to live while you're living and don't be a clam, was the sensible motto of Omar Khayyam."

Ofhand, we can recall the happy-go-lucky days of Babe Ruth and Paul Waner. Harry Greb and Mickey Walker. Walter Hagen, Jim Thorpe and George Gipp.

On one occasion before a World Series game the Yanks were worried because they knew The Babe had been out all night on a gay party. But The Babe played, hit a homer and a pair of doubles, and played a nice game in the field.

As for Waner, there were many days when pitchers were afraid he wouldn't see a fast ball in time to get out of the way. They had reason to fear, but for themselves rather than Waner.

Because Paul used to knock their brains out. And when we saw him recently with a gathering of old-time players in Yankee Stadium, who do you suppose was the trimmest, youngest-looking man of the lot? Right, Paul Waner.

As for Greb and Walker, they thought nothing of walking from a night club right into the ring and on one memorable occasion Jimmy Johnston had to hold up a fight until Greb was found and rushed to the ring in a taxi. He won the fight.

Greb and Walker, on another occasion, fought a terrific battle against each other, moved on to their favorite night club and then continued to battle out in the street.

Hagen, one of the best beloved of all sports champions, never was adverse to staging a big party before an important match. And on a never to be forgotten occasion he gave his tonsils a good drenching and then gave the immortal Bobby Jones a 12 and 11 beating.

Jim Thorpe could take his training rules or leave them alone, and he preferred to leave them. As for George Gipp, he used to have Knute Rockne tearing his hair.

These fellows were all marvelous but we must stress two points about them: least any youngster be foolish enough to think he can break the rules and get by with it.

First, they were all naturally great athletes who were gifted with phenomenal constitutions.

Sometimes he was the guy who kicked her out into the snow and took over the old Homestead Again, he was the fellow who led her to the railroad tracks with the train approaching and, when handsome Harry, le hero, showed up at the last split second to save her, the villain went of stage snarling: "I'll get yuh yet."

We recall the old fellow putting his hand on our shoulder as he said: "son, those hisses are music to my ears, just like cheers for the hero. I've been listening to them for 30 years and the more they hiss the better I like it. Sometimes one of my six kids drops in to see me and if I don't do so well, he'll say, 'Pop, you weren't so hot tonight.' They didn't hiss you much."

We thought of that old trouper today when listening to some of the fight mob talk about middleweight champion Jake Lamotta, who will defend his title against Tiberio Mitri in the garden next Wednesday.

Everybody seems to hate Jake and he knows it. In fact he glories in it like the old stage villain because the more they hate him, the more eager they are to see him lick ed.

It will be the second CIAA team which has met the Eastern Shore eleven, although several have entertained the Raiders on the basketball court.

If you'll recall, the '48 season started off with the Virginia Panthers playing their opening game against the Raiders and setting them back for their only defeat in three years.

And, fellows, you might check the report that the Pejs Grounds may be the site of the Raiders' second debut in the big time, if the game that's being cooked up between the Raiders and the Famous (Florida A. & M.) Gators comes off.

What's Behind Newcombe's Bad Showing This Season?

By ALVIN E. WHITE NEW YORK - (ANP) - What really is the trouble with Don Newcombe?

Sportswriters and baseball followers last winter predicted great things for Don this year, based on his performances last season after spending a month in the minors before coming up to Brooklyn.

Don, himself, fully expected a big season and was "ready" when the call came to go to training camp.

Came that training period at Vero Beach and the tough spring exhibition schedule and the opening of the season, when every game began to count.

Suddenly Don found himself of no value to the team as a pitcher and ever since the opening game in April, Don has been in-and-out. His last four starts have ended disastrously and right now he has a won and lost record of 1 and 4. Hardly impressive for a man for whom stardom had been predicted with the season half gone too.

Greb and Walker, on another occasion, fought a terrific battle against each other, moved on to their favorite night club and then continued to battle out in the street.

Hagen, one of the best beloved of all sports champions, never was adverse to staging a big party before an important match. And on a never to be forgotten occasion he gave his tonsils a good drenching and then gave the immortal Bobby Jones a 12 and 11 beating.

Memphis Red Sox Triumph Over All-Stars; 5396 Fans

First Negro All-Star Diamond Classic

MEMPHIS, Tenn. - The Memphis Red Sox eked out a close 6-5 triumph over the Negro Southern League All-Stars in Memphis' first Negro All-Star Diamond Classic staged before the largest crowd of the season numbering some 5,396 fans.

Special pre-game ceremonies marking the Inaugural All-Star Game here featuring several Memphis radio entertainers including Dewey Phillips, WHBQ, Beulah Fields and George Mooney, WHHM, and George Faulder, WMPB, Dr. W. S. Martin and B. T. Harvey, President and League Commissioner respectively also participated in the pre-game festivities.

Lyle "Toni" Stone, the only Negro girl baseball player, walked twice and doubled to left field in her six inning appearance. She also handled two chances faultlessly at field Casey Jones, Red Sox Catcher exploded a home run in the second frame to win a $25.00 cash award from the Patrick Henry Beverage Committee.

The game was a nip and tuck affair with the Red Sox pushing the game-winning marker across in the bottom of the eighth on two singles and a pair of walks, the All-Stars and the Host left following the game for contests thru Georgia and Alabama during the coming week.

The Score: Negro Southern League All-Stars 000 002 000-5-9-3 Memphis Red Sox 122 000 01X 6-9-1 Hollinsworth, McCary (3) and Long Branley, Woods (4) and Jones-30-

Looking at Don in action he seems to be pitching in a damned - if I care manner. Is it a sore arm? Was his wrist badly hurt when he got plunked on it the other day? What the dickens is it? If Don is not doing his best, regardless of how little Branch Rickey is paying him (reportedly $13,000 - slightly more than the Yankees but boy gets) then Don is certainly letting down millions of fans who want to see him become one of the great names of pitching, not only for what it means in terms of sociological returns, but for his own sake and his pocketbook.

Ugly rumors have seeped out that Don is unhappy for more than one reason. Certainly these things would affect his pitching. But, if as Jimmy Powers insists and other writers feel, Mr. Shotton is not the best influence as a manager for the team Rickey has built, then... it is up to Mr. R. to make the move before Mr. S. completely ruins every ballplayer on the club.

Folks are noticing it more and more that Jackie Robinson seldom goes to the pitching mound to encourage Don as he did last year. And they are asking why. The millions who look at the games via television are getting impressions that are not helpful at all.

Beau Jack In Atlanta Bout

ATLANTA, Georgia - (SNS) - Beau Jack, former Augusta, Ga., shoe shine boy, will make his first major boxing appearance in his native state Monday, July 17, when he meets Johnny Edinkinton of Youngstown, Ohio in a ten-round non-title bout at the Atlanta City Auditorium.

Jack, born Sidney Walker, is the former lightweight champion of the world and one of the most rugged campaigners in the game. His brilliant career under the glare and sparkle of Broadway madaxis is one of the top boxing stories of all-times. Jack has always drawn top crowds, established tip-top gate receipt records, and remained one of the best crowd-pleasers in the business.

Jack bolted into the bigtime when Sammy Angott retired back in 1942. His notable battles with Tippy Larkin, Bob Montgomery, and Henry Armstrong were unmatched by sheer savagery.

Jack is scheduled to arrive in Atlanta Tuesday to begin training. Fans and the general public are invited to watch the training sessions.

another night game at Hampton on November 4; Morgan State at Baltimore on November 11; and Virginia Union in the Homecoming game-for the first time, scheduled at the end of the season-on Armstrong Field on November 18.

Coach Harry Jefferson hopes for better new material than he received in 1949. He has lost about half of the nearly two dozen letter-men he had last year, but among the returnees are such men as Captain Jim Dillard, Al Brown, and Alphonso King, in the backfield (plus the promising James Taylor, who didn't win a letter because of injuries); and in the line, lanky Bob Ayres at end, Josiah Young, Dave Williams, John Parson, and Joe Hicks - Lloyd Poole, back, is another mainstay.

Another hopeful sign for the Pirates-though not for the CIAA in general is that the veterans who have made the going so rough since the war for the most part will be missing from the grid ranks through graduation. That will throw the scramble for some of the higher rungs in the conference ladder more wide open than ever.

It was nothing unusual for some half baked citizen to ask me (I managed and so forth): "Say, manager, where's the funny fellow?"

I'd look up in amazement and ask, "What do you mean, the funny fellow?"

"You know," the usual reply came, "the clown, the nut?"

"Oh, yes, 'I'd glare back at him. 'That's me! I'm the clown and the nut for ever getting in to something like this. And shrubly, like the pig treated the shrub in the gutter, they'd walk away looking at me pityingly."

Years ago, I had a semi-pro football team. We traveled thru the adjoining areas, Connecticut, Massachusetts, up-state New York, New Jersey and around. We never made any fortunes, but we had a hell of a lot of fun. Nearly every where we went, it marked the first time an all-colored team had ever been seen in that place. They had seen one or two players on a team, but 11 at a time-never.

So the team was an attraction (and the booking agents got fat while we got leaner). Before game time, the townspeople, in the small towns and in the big ones, too, for that matter, would come to look the colored boys over. They'd see some big cats, some small ones (they liked fast cats-backs-and of course, some medium boys. Fellows like "Big Booker" Pierce, "Big Bear" Jeff Lamar, Dave Meyers, "Greenie" Giles, Earl Peterson, Sam Dunlap, Tom Sanders, Sodie White Ralph "Count" Garner George Stevens, Guy Pultz, Allen Jackson, George Gilmer, Ted Bolden, Ed Graham, Ray Vaughan, "Goo-goo" Livingston, H. H. Gill and scores of others were with the team at one time or other.

It was nothing unusual for some half baked citizen to ask me (I managed and so forth): "Say, manager, where's the funny fellow?"

I'd look up in amazement and ask, "What do you mean, the funny fellow?"

"You know," the usual reply came, "the clown, the nut?"

"Oh, yes, 'I'd glare back at him. 'That's me! I'm the clown and the nut for ever getting in to something like this. And shrubly, like the pig treated the shrub in the gutter, they'd walk away looking at me pityingly."

But no one ever could say they were like the chaps named here would trade their ability as first ball players of caliber for some silly stuff to make white folks laugh.

So I wonder how those fellows feel who tog out in that stupid regalia, call themselves all kinds of names, feel about the thing. And other clowns too, whether they dress the part or merely let it, to line somebody else's pockets with folding money.

It has been Okay for white promoters to ask colored basketball players to cut-the-fool on the court and act like fools to give the give the crowds laughs and outwit the other players.

The surefire draw of these colored outfits led to the formation of one or two white groups using the name of clowns and performing in clown suits and make-ups-but they didn't seem half as natural or as funny to white audiences as colored folk in action. Wonder why?

The failure of the Renaissance team maybe due to Bob Douglas' everlasting insistence that his men play basketball and act like men, not monkeys. Imagine Johnny "Casey" Holt cutting up some tomfoolery on the floor. Imagine Eyre "Bruiser" Satch playing Uncle Tom or giving a pretty fair imitation of the old gent, or William "Pop" Gates doing any of this stuff. Remember "Casey" Holt?

Well, one night in a holly contested game, a super-Celtic forgot himself and spit, at or on Johnny. Folks at the Renny that night remember what happened. Of course, that wasn't in fun. Then when Pop Gates played rd in the old basketball league with an up-state team, some fresh opponent hurled an epithet at "Pop" and do you know what happened? The player woke up in the hospital with a broken jaw. They were Douglas trail-

And Now For The Draft

President Truman Friday directed authorities to make use of the Draft Law in order to bring military forces to needed strength for the Korean War. Speedily following his order the Congress of the United States voted full backing to the order. Thus, according to the Defense Department, the overall ceilings on branches of the armed services, which heretofore had restricted their expansion, have been lifted and that we may obviate the necessity of sacrificing the lives of too many of our men because of insufficient numbers, as has been the case in the first week of the war.

The act, which only a week ago was renewed, calls for registration of men between the ages of 18 and 26 years' old. This means that thousands of Draft Boards must be strengthened throughout the country. For each county in Georgia, for example, a Draft Board will be needed to receive enlistments and to process the drafting beyond its present strength.

In the last war Negroes sought vainly to have representation on these boards. In some places, like Jacksonville, Florida, to mention only one, had an all-Negro Draft Board. What authority and influence it had we do not know. In many other places across the South, Negro advisory boards or committees were set up. Both of these, it seems to us, are worthless and can never mean what Negroes expect nor what the Government requires—integration in the broadest sense of that term. So we are under obligation to make it clear here and now, to say that Negroes will seek their proportionate representation on these boards and will not be satisfied with a mere token number.

The emergency of the world crisis demands this and the government policy of integration without regards to race and color, requires it. For these boards are passing upon the very life and future of not white youths only, but Negroes as well.

On Writing Me Down

BY WILLIAM HENRY HUFF

Be mindful should you wish to write me down,
As you might accidentally write me up
And thereby make yourself a baleful clown;
To write me down would be a bitter cup
If you or any one could do it.
Take care to count the cost before you try,
For those who've tried have found their efforts vain
And no one has to guess the reason why
They quit nor why they don't renew it.

SEEING AND SAYING

Unhappy War News

IT SEEMS that we are in the preliminary stages of a large-scale war.
A prediction of such a scary and destructive situation may be quite distasteful, but there are many developments that bear it out. Korea is no little island out in the sea. It is a peninsula of Earth's largest continent, Asia, presently dominated by Soviet loyalists or subjects. They have swarmed large-scale forces against our men and material and have appeared victorious in the first stages. They, of course, have yet to face the full fury of American forces, which have not yet lost a war, neither short nor long drawn out.

One wonders what will happen if and when the Reds pour their hordes from Mongolia, Manchuria and Siberia into the conflict. It may spell the real beginning of World War III with a conglomeration of atom, H and ultra mystery bombs.
It is not happy news for man who has developed his material forces to the point that, with proper and equitable distribution, no man, woman or child should suffer for food and nourishment, medicine and the common needs of life. The only trouble is that man's thinking and tolerance have not developed along with his mechanical precision and ingenuity.

POTPURI ONE WOULD GATHER from the announcement of former Governor Caldwell that the Regional Education promoters and organization will disregard the Supreme Court ruling in regards to segregation in education. Caldwell says in effect, the court didn't rule Southern states must stop their practice of separate and unequal education and that the Southern Regional will continue. Southern diehards are the section's greatest holdbacks to progress.

Over in Louisiana, nine Negroes have been given application forms to the engineering and agricultural schools, the question to be placed before the board of supervisors at the next meeting. The attack on the system continues.
Further proof that exclusion of Negroes from the Democratic party is illegal came last week when an Arkansas judge ruled that the name of a race candidate must be placed on the ballot in the city council race. The party said it would abide by the judge's order. It only takes strength in legal ruling to change things which are holding the South by its throat.

state and presidential adviser. He is the leading candidate for governor in a comeback from political retirement.
But chief interest has flamed in the senatorial campaign, where the pivot has been the race issue.
Thurmond, 48-year-old ex-officer of the 82nd Airborne Division in World War II, has hammered away at the idea that "A vote for Johnston is a vote against segregation."
Johnston, World War II combat veteran and former governor who has served in the senate since 1944, has fought that allegation vigorously.
Most 1950 primaries have brought out a theme of "Pro-Truman vs. Anti-Truman." The issue exists to a larger degree in the Palmetto State, since Thurmond is States Rights and Johnston advocates settling difficulties within the national Democratic party.
FEPC ISSUE
Both Johnston and Thurmond have made much of being opposed to such Federal administration proposals as FEPC and other so-called "Civil Rights" legislation. The upshot has been a campaign heavily based on the race issue.
Johnston has fired away at Thurmond's appointment of a Negro physician to the State Advisory Health Board. Thurmond's defense has been that the law requires the governor to appoint the five doctors nominated by the State Medical Association.
The senatorial aspirants almost came to blows at a rally in New Negro would be able to achieve the equality and freedom from discrimination which were among major purposes." Congress, in setting out to combat the so-called "black codes" passed by southern states to limit the rights of Negroes, enacted the Civil Rights Act of 1866, but became so involved "in a complicated semantical debate over the meaning of the term 'civil rights' (that) the bill itself emerged as a specific corrective only to certain named abuses and failed to resolve the general problems of equality and segregation." Hence, Mr. Marshall noted, it became apparent that a new constitutional amendment was necessary if discrimination was to be eliminated.

UNEQUIVOCAL OPPOSITION

The extended debates of Congress prior to the adoption of the 14th Amendment are of great value, Mr. Marshall said, "in determining the contemporary views and 'constitutional intent' of the men who drafted the Amendment." He pointed out unequivocal opposition to the "separate but equal" theory as expressed by Senators Sumner of Massachusetts, Pease of Mississippi, Boutwell of Massachusetts, and Frelinghuysen of New Jersey. Citing a 26 to 21 vote by which the Senate of the 42nd Congress concluded that "separate but equal" schools, if established under the protection of the state or by force of state law, were a violation of the 14th Amendment, Mr. Marshall stated: "This judgment since it came from the man who best knew why the Amendment was drafted and what they intended it to accomplish, should be highly persuasive. It should certainly cast doubt upon the soundness of the PLESSY decision."

Rapid Change

Idea of how easily these changes can come about. He has been taught usually to expect dire results from this or that concrete step in establishing equality. The people as a whole are much too fearful of progress—this is an unnecessary fear" according to the speaker.

Looking to the future, Mr. Davis suggested that we must look for the "much advertised big post-war depression—and a mishandling of our relations with the other races who happen to inhabit many of the backward countries of the world." The speaker stated that there is no good in creating fear of either of these but it is important to be ready for both. He expressed confidence that we can meet the challenge successfully and stated his view of our role and responsibility.

"For me, these are magnificently exciting times in which to live and carry a spear. There is a great tide of social and economic ferment rolling through the world, and it is sweeping our way. We have spoken of the equality of man too many times and too loudly, not to have our words catch up with us. The peoples of the more crowded and less fortunate parts of the world have heard what democracy promises, and are demanding that democracy make good on its pledge. There is a vast compulsion of events in the air—in the very technical circumstances of this rapidly moving world.
We, as a society, can no longer afford to live with our economic sins.

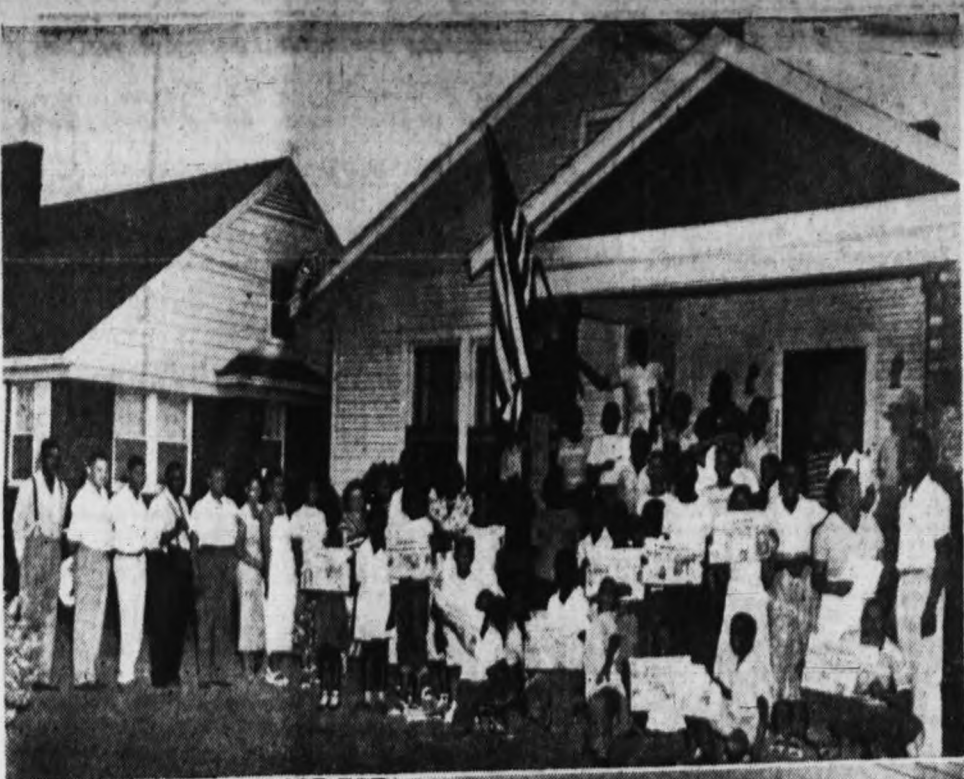

Appearing on the same program, P. L. Pratts, Executive Editor of the Pittsburgh Courier stated that the "Negro newspapers are engaging berry, S. C. Johnston interrupted a Thurmond speech at one point to say:

"I want to tell you, you are a lie."
Thurmond replied:
"If he wants to meet me in front of the courthouse after the meeting, I'll be standing out in front waiting."

The two approached each other after the rally, but were separated. Johnston, according to political observers in Columbia, is expected to get a large slice of the Negro vote, mostly cast as a vote against the governor. Negro registration is estimated to be more than 70,000.
But, observers believe that Thurmond's chances depend upon cutting into Johnston's vote in the textile centers. Johnston, who worked his way through Wofford College in Spartanburg, S. C., textile mills, has been assured the support of organized labor's leaders. The senator is said to be the strongest in the industrial Piedmont section.

MEMPHIS WORLD AGENTS ENJOY PICNIC AT EDITOR'S HOME—Three youngsters, carriers of the MEMPHIS WORLD, got a jump on "most everybody" last week when they celebrated the Fourth of July a day ahead of time. Because the "Fourth" was paper day with them, arrangements were made for the news agents to have a gala outing on the lawn of Editor and Mrs. L. O. Swingler at 284 West Fay Avenue. A number of parents came along with the carriers and joined in the fun-fest which included chess-playing, softball, games horse shoe pitching, and a number of old-fashioned games dear to the hearts of kids.

Top scene: Just beforechow was served all the picnickers gathered on the front lawn and repeated the oath of allegiance to the American Flag. Bottom scene: These boys have just devoured their share of barbecue, and hot dogs and now are in the mopping up process with cold drinks made possible by Dilly's Bottling Company. In the background is Calvin W. Rolark, circulation manager.

Among parents who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Evans Bradshaw, of 773 Alaska, son and daughter; Mr. Gayther Myers, Gayther, Jr. and Mr. Myers' twin girls; Mr. William Trout, and son, William, Jr., and Mrs. M. Gray, of Kennedy Street (Photo by Earl Williams)

On The Reel

By Rev. Taschereau Arnold

We are happy to present to our many, many readers throughout the country an article from the brilliant pen of Dr. A. L. Guerdar, pastor of Mt. Zion Baptist church, Shelbyville, Tenn. His discussion of dancing will prove to be interesting to you as we are freely predicting in most cases.

THE SOCIAL DANCE

I have thought so little concerning this topic, until I have always been loath to write about it. To say that my mind is already made up as to my attitude against it, I will say very little as to its merits (as though it had any). But for the sake of argument, I will advance a few reasons as to why some say there is no harm in it.
"First, it is a form of recreation in which one might engage."
"Second, it appears to be a source of out let for the young people resort that they might dispense with their pend up energies."
"Third, it has been said that a dance properly supervised there will come no harm out of it. But I wonder as to whether you can properly supervise the thinking of persons when they are dancing?"

Again they say, it takes the young people off the streets, and gives them somewhere to go. Those reasons may sound all right to some, but I regret I cannot become a candidate of such ill-advised thinking. I firmly believe that persons will be far better off should they not dance.

"The social dance has been the basis for many a divorce case. It has served for many a young girl and boy going to no good end. Many a girl has lost her life having met the wrong boy at a dance. Took a few drinks, went riding and wrecked the car.

"I know there are those who will not agree with me. But however these are my convictions, and I refuse to change until I shall have been properly convinced otherwise. And I don't think that can be done successfully.

"Permit me to quote Mr. Cox in the Western Recorder: "The social dance owes its property to sex appeal and stimulates illicit lust. It is a child of the brothel, a companion of drunkenness, adultery and every other base sin, a favorite of the most vicious circles of society."
"The dance has been introduced into respectable society as a whole some recreation for our young people. The most brazen worldlings would not suggest that the modern dance is a decent exercise for preachers of the gospel, nor for devout Christians; but our schools and colleges, even some Baptist schools, have agreed that this pastime of the underworld is a proper cultural asset, valuable training for the men and women of tomorrow. Comparatively few preachers ever risk their popularity by speaking against this wholesale education of our young people in the school of lust. The first Baptist preacher got his head danced off." (The devil will suggest that this statement is narrow and old-fashioned.—R. B. J.)

There are those who will say that they danced during Bible times. That may be true but it was a holy dance. The reason for their dancing found in the Bible was designed to honor God. It was not a worldly affair. There may be instances in the Bible no doubt that dancing was instituted for a worldly purpose. As when the woman danced before King Herod and John was beheaded. This affair, I am sure God frowned upon. (This dance was in honor of Herod's birthday; read Saint Mark 6:21-22.)

"What I have said here may not convince anyone to stop dancing. But however this is how I see the dance problem.
"Note: The origin of dancing may be traced to a universal desire of expressing emotion by action. In its earliest forms among simple races it is a mode of outward expression for joy and sorrow, love and rage, and fervent religious feelings. Everywhere in ancient religious dancing was one of the chief acts of worship. Among the ancient Jews, Miriam danced to a song of triumph—it self an act of worship, and David danced in procession before the Ark of God. Romans in general considered it disgraceful for a free citizen to dance, except in connection with religious ceremonies.—New Standard Encyclopedia.

OPINION POLL

Don't forget to send in your opinion on: "Why Are So Many Preachers' Sons Entering the Ministry?" This poll will be somewhat incomplete without your opinions. So hurry up and send yours. Our mailing address is: 685 Kendall St., N. E. Atlanta 5, Georgia. One lady writes that she thinks it is perfectly all right for ministers' sons to follow their fathers in doing ministerial work. Others are quite critical of the practice intimating grave doubt of sincerity.

We are pleased to acknowledge letters of opinions from the following: Rev. C. J. Glover, Route 3, Box 114, Vienna, Ga., care of Varnadoe; Mrs. C. V. Varnadoe, Route 3, Box 114, Vienna, Ga., and another letter addressed to Brother Billie from Cornelia Anderson, Route 12, Box 180, Atlanta, Ga. Your letters will be considered along with many others. Thank you for writing.

REVIEWING THE NEWS

Big Business In Politics

There are strong indications everywhere that big business interests, which held a controlling hand over American affairs prior to the great depression during the early thirties may be getting ready once again to take charge of the destinies of the United States.

Those of us who are familiar with the history of this country now that the reforms initiated by the late Presidents Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt, were necessary to heck the greed of certain big business interests in this country.

With the collapse of the nation's economy, following the crash of the stock market in 1929, big business during this period was public pinion.

The people of the United States ought as well keep their eyes open in the field of political affairs. It is not beyond the realm of possibility that business interests will provide funds for candidates favorable to their schemes. It might also be a good idea for intelligent Americans to weigh carefully the presumptuous claims put out by, for and in behalf of big business.

The trend of American reactionary forces may be traced to mahogany desks and money interests bent on high profits for selfish use. The power of big business has been grossly misused in many respects. The fact that big business as been able to make money over period of years is not enough for many of the big money tycoons. There is always that tendency for more power and influence. The fact that all things dealing with our present economic order is based on the value of the dollar sign, the intent of big business to acquire more dollars. The one sure way to carry out this desire is to control the country's political strength.

Progressive forces in this country will have to organize in the proper fashion if we intend to move forward as a nation not controlled by dollar politics. The future of this country is based on the success of the present administration and other administrations operating in the interest of the people at large.

OVER 5,000 AT BETHUNE BEACH, FLA., JULY 4

BETHUNE BEACH, Fla. — Life-guards at Bethune Beach counted over 5,000 persons enjoying the Beach on Tuesday, July 4. Autos were parked for a half-mile over the Beach and the pavilion area was jammed with rollicking, frolicking vacationers from many parts of Georgia and Florida. There were over 100 persons from Jacksonville, who chartered buses, with Sanford, Daytona Beach, Deland, and New Smyrna Beach having the largest crowds present. Visitors were noted from such far-away places as Miami and Tangerine, Florida, Raleigh, N. C.; Atlanta, Ga.; Birmingham, Ala., and New York City.

The highlight of the day's activities was a bathing Beauty Contest sponsored by the Corporation. So many beauties were present on the Beach that the Judges found it difficult to select a winner. However, all were in accordance that the job was well done when the decision was announced at the Coronation Ball, held Tuesday night at the Cypress Street Recreation Center in Daytona Beach.
Miss Mildred Jones, of Sanford, and Miss Joan Tooley, also of the Celery City, had the unanimous approval of the Judges and spectators for first and second prizes respectively, and Miss Jones will reign as "Queen of Bethune Beach" for 1950.

The Bethune-Cookman College Summer School was present en masse, which accounted for over 800 persons. Picnic lunches were served this group by the college. Dr. Mary M. Bethune and President Moore were present. G. D. Rogers Sr., president of the Bethune-Volusia Beach Corporation, was present, with Mrs. Rogers, their daughter, Mary, son, Kenneth, and two grandchildren.

The July 4th attendance set the total of bathers at the Beach, since opening day, May 20, at over 20,000 with no casualties or accidents. According to lifeguard captain, Oeo. Moseley, only two children were reported lost in the crowds, but were quickly found and returned to their parents.

Ancient 'Con' Games Still Fool Public; Woman Loses $560.00

Classic confidence games, some of them so old the whiskers are white, are still being employed to fleece the gullible public according to reports from the Memphis Police Department.

The "Pigeon drop," "smack racket," and "charity bunco," continue to find easy victims even though they have been used hundreds of times before by unscrupulous confidence men, preying upon anxious strangers.
Latest victim in Memphis was a colored woman who asserted that she was taken to "the cleaners" for $500.00. She was approached by a man between the ages of 30 and 40 at the Post Office Building, who told her that he had found $2,100.00 and that if she would put up $500.00 until he could get the money changed he would give her $700.00. The man carried her home in an old model, black car and she got $500.00. She turned over this money plus $60.00 she already had in her possession when she was first approached.

Working with this man was an unidentified woman. The couple told their victim to wait for them at the Post Office on Front Street, while they went to the Union Planters Bank to get some change. He told the woman that he worked at the bank. They never did return.
This pair of 'pigeon droppers' are still at large and the public is warned to be on the lookout.

Many Memphians

Memphians who will not be able to attend the games in persons are expecting to turn to their television sets. Events as far as St. Louis can now and are being channeled to Memphis.

Immediately after the Dodgers-Cards series, the Red Birds will play host to the National League leaders, the Phillies, while in the American League the St. Louis Browns and Boston Red Sox will play their schedule of games during the middle of next week.
