PRAYERS AT WORK April 14-18, 2008

Monday, April 14, 2008 -- (Meditation: Jeremiah 29:11)

Dear God and Father of mankind, lead me where You will, just go with me. Place any care upon me, just help me to bear it. Give me any task, just give me the strength to do it. Take from me what You will, just keep me close to You. Fill my days with whatever You will, just give me a heart of thanksgiving. Do with my health as You will, just give me an accepting heart. Do with my property as You will, just make me a good steward in every circumstance. I yield myself to You and Your will for my life. Through Jesus Christ, my Lord. Amen.

Tuesday, April 15, 2008 -- (Meditation: Romans 13:6-7)

God, it's tax time again. Even though I gripe about having to pay taxes, I am grateful for the many services they provide to make life better. As I write the checks to pay my taxes, I pray for those in our armed forces, for those who deliver the mail, for those who represent our country in embassies around the world, and for all those who work hard in government jobs to serve us. How blessed we are to live in America. Add to our commonwealth of talent a commonwealth of compassion, and revive us again as one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

Wednesday, April 16, 2008 -- (Meditation: Matthew 11:28-30)

Dear Lord, Your words to me, with outstretched hands, were, "Come unto me." I heard Your words and I believed. I came to know the joy of life in You. In spite of my stumbling, my doubts, and my fears, I can still hear Your words, "Come unto me." Today, that is my prayer -- come unto me, Lord Jesus. Come into my heart. Reign, unchallenged, on the throne of my life. Rule. Guide. "Come in today, come in to stay. Come into my heart, Lord Jesus."

Thursday, April 17, 2008 -- (Meditation: Philippians 4:9)

God, I'm reluctant to tell others about what You have done in my life. I don't want to be called a "Jesus-freak" or a "fanatic." But I know that when love goes unexpressed, it dies. God, help me to share Your love and the good news of the gospel. Make me a sower of the seed of life-in-You. Through Jesus Christ, my Lord. Amen.

Friday, April 18, 2008 -- (Meditation: Philippians 4:6-7)

Dear God, I lose perspective when my faith in You is not as real as my problems. Help me to see beyond my worry, to let go, and to trust in You. Through Jesus Christ, my Lord. Amen.
